Dear Dr. Price:—My husband wrote to you about a month ago requesting prayer for me. At the time my leg was covered with black, cancerous spots. I had an operation on the leg last May for the removal of a malignant tissue in a mole. This healed well, but in October the black spots appeared and amputation seemed necessary. However, we decided to trust the Lord completely for healing. The natural anxiety and fear have been overcome by His grace. The Lord has certainly been answering your prayers, for which we praise Him. The spots are slowly disappearing, and the skin seems to be returning to normal. Thank you for your wonderful prayer warriors who are praying for me.—Mrs. W. R. (Easton, Pa.)

The Rector will preach at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Bethlehem, Sunday, March 15th at 7:30 P.M. He will preach at the Noonday services at Arch Street Methodist Church on Monday and Tuesday, and St. Paul's Church, Englewood, N. J. on Wednesday evening. He will appear on "Guidepost" program, WFIL-TV—Channel 6, at 7:10 A.M. March 17th.

Our guest preacher at the Noonday Services Monday through Friday, March 16th - 20th, will be the Rev. John E. Large, D.D., Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York. The preacher on Saturday, March 21st, will be the Rev. William Elwell, Rector of St. Clement's Church, Philadelphia.

CONFIRMING OUR FAITH

Christians who have made up their minds about their Savior, are morally bound to make a public profession of their faith; for no one is mature who is not willing to decide the great issues of life, and declare his convictions in public. In the Sacramental act of Confirmation, a Christian stands before a Bishop in Church, and makes public profession of his faith in Jesus Christ, thereby taking upon himself all the responsibilities for the promises made on his behalf at his baptism. The result of this commitment is the gift of the Holy Spirit, which flows through the hands of the Bishop, through whom the vows are made to God.

We hear a great deal today about social responsibility and the effects of heredity and environment on personality. We are apt to forget there is such a thing as personal responsibility, and that we must take sides on the great issues of life because God is a God who takes sides. Confirmation is a personal commitment to God and Christ and the Church, and those who do so commit themselves receive God's special grace.

Bishop Roberts will visit St. Stephen's Church for the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation on Sunday morning, April 12th.

The Prelude: "The Royal Banners Forward Go" ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Glory of the Cross lies in its expression of the great Love of God and Christ for men. The shame and disgrace of the Cross were transformed into honor, because sacrifice was raised to the highest level. Its Glory is evident in transformed lives and in the blessedness and peace brought into hearts that have experienced its saving power. We thank Thee, Jesus Christ, for Thy supreme sacrifice on the Cross. Thou hast given us a better insight into the loving heart of our heavenly Father because of it. Grant unto us the power of the Cross as an experience in our lives, so that we may glorify Thy Holy Name. Amen.

WEAPONS OF LOVE

Jesus was spending this night with His good friends, Mary and Martha and Lazarus, in Bethany. In the moments when He was alone, He must have been in deep meditation, seeking God's guidance for His "attack" on Jerusalem. How could He make known His purpose by the very way He entered the holy city? His mind must have searched patiently through God's Word (our Old Testament) which He had learned as a boy in Nazareth. Suddenly the answer came to Him out of the Book of Zechariah.

Zechariah had prophesied in the stirring days when the armies of Alexander were advancing relentlessly, sweeping the Persian hosts before them, awakening hope of release in the hearts of the Jews. Zechariah saw in that triumphant advance the working of the mighty hand of God. One by one he names the proud cities which would come next on Alexander's line of march—Askelon, Gaza, Ekron, Ashdod, then, suddenly, in verse nine, there comes a complete surprise. The prophet sees Alexander's army only as a tool in the hand of God. Riding invisibly with it is the God of Israel, who is about to restore the spiritual glories of the kingdom of David. But this conquering God is no warrior. He will come, not riding on a war-horse, but upon an ass, which symbolized a nation at peace.

We can also hear Jesus' deep sigh of gratitude to His Father when He recalled this ancient prophecy which so perfectly expressed His purpose. In solemn joy He arranged to borrow the ass from a friend. This kind of an entrance into the city would proclaim His real intent to all who really wanted to know.

So, by the manner of His riding, He served notice that He had no weapons save the weapons of love. He had no other plan, in case love should fail. For He knew that, ultimately, love never fails. It can be thwarted, delayed, rejected, but it keeps on loving, even in the face of hard-boiled, incredible cruelty. Even then, even when cruelty grows sarcastic, love prays, "Father, forgive them . . ." And goes on triumphantly loving.

Many of us resist the Love of God for a time. We turn away from the Cross, unable to watch His suffering for us, and close our ears to His prayer, knowing its power. But, sooner or later, we look just a little too long, and we listen more than is safe—and then we surrender to that Love. For this is a Love which will never stoop to compel us. God, with all the thunder-bolts and earth quakes in His hand, will not use them to bully us; for He wants only our willing, glad caring for Him. Once we see that Love, we give ourselves to it, in humble gratitude. Perhaps that same Love, now dwelling in us, may speak through us, and save others from the death of self-love, and self-trust.

"Fear not . . . Thy King cometh." What an amazing King He is!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I should like to share some good news with you and your wonderful Prayer Fellowship. All during my husband's emotional illness and then during his period of unemployment you have been praying. He now has a wonderful position due to God's help and guidance. Your prayers on our behalf have helped us and inspired us.—C. I. C. (Charlotte, N. C.)

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Lord is the Almighty Victor because He conquered sin and death by His death and Resurrection. Because of His Victories He promises us victory over sin and death. As He overcame, we can also overcome, and enjoy His fellowship eternally. Dear Lord, so often we grovel in the dust, defeated by our doubts, fears, anxieties and cares. Raise us up to a life of victorious faith in Thee, by Thy great power. May we, also, overcome, and be with Thee forever in glory. Amen.

Thou hallowed chosen morn of praise, that best and greatest shinest; Fair Easter, Queen of all the days, of seasons best, divinest! Christ rose from death; and we adore forever and forever more. Rise, Sion, rise! and looking forth, behold thy children 'round thee! From east and west, from south and north, thy scattered sons have found thee; And in thy bosom Christ adore forever and forever more. O ye who bear Christ's Holy Name, give God all praise and glory: All ye who own His power, proclaim aloud the wondrous story! The Love, the Wisdom, still adore forever and forever more.

Dear Dr. Price:—We are so happy to tell you of the wonderful answer to your prayers at St. Stephen's. You have been praying for my husband, who has had a very severe form of rheumatoid arthritis. After four months of hospitalization he is now able to return home. It has been a wonderful experience to see the various bones of his body such as his ankles re-appearing out of a misshapen mass. My husband will not be crippled and at 72 is walking and moving with almost perfect freedom. We are thankful to you beyond words.—W. B. (Highland Park, Illinois).

DEATH, THE OPEN DOOR TO LIFE

As Lent began, much of our land lay silent under a deep blanket of snow. In a world of trees and shrubs and grass, there was no sign of life. And now, as Easter Day breaks, that same world is bursting with new life, ablaze with color and song. As the sun set over Jerusalem on Good Friday, long ago, the hopes of Jesus' friends lay silent and buried under the chill of despair. Then Easter dawned, and suddenly they were dazzled with the wonder of the news—He was alive, and their hearts sang with joy.

Life is like that—look back and remember those night-mare moments when your world was silent and dead. It seemed that you had come to the end—the end of living in a place you love, the end of companionship with the person you loved, the end of your usefulness, the end of a dream (of being married), the end of a wonderful piece of work, the end of victoriously joyful living as you found your horizon narrowed to a bed. Your heart was laden with disappointment.

And then you made one of the greatest discoveries a human being can make—that God planned death as the open door to life. Just as He led Jesus through the grim death of Calvary to Easter Day, so He leads us through many a death into life more wonderful than we have ever known before. This is the secret way of God—THROUGH DEATH TO LIFE! All that He requires is that we face each death with Him. Jesus on the Cross, in His agony of body and spirit, felt utterly forsaken and dead of heart for one dreadful moment. But He faced that death with His Father—and the door opened into the endless life which He lives today, in millions of His friends.

There was once a teacher—W. Cosby Bell—who was loved by the young men he helped to prepare for the ministry. He taught those young men that they would pass through many a death into new life, and, finally, through death of the body into the eternal life of the spirit. Their one need was to pass through every death with God. One day, shortly after he had finished his great book on life eternal, he was struck down by a heart attack. When he was told he was dying, he sent this message to the young men he loved:

"Tell the boys that I've grown surer of God every year of my life, and I've never been so sure as I am right now. Why, it's all so—it's a fact—it's a dead certainty . . . tell them that I say good-bye—They've been a joy to me. I've had more than any man that ever lived, and life owes me nothing. I've had work I loved, and I've lived in a beautiful place among congenial friends. I've had love in its highest form and I've got it forever . . . I can see now that death is just the smallest thing—just an incident—that it means nothing. There's no real break—God is there—and life—and all that really counts in life—goes on!"

In that faith—that death is always the open door to life—I wish you a radiant Easter!

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—In a specific sense sonship with God depends upon accepting Christ. The indwelling Spirit enables us to come into the possession of a power that brings triumphs over the temptations of life. With God we are always able. We can do all things through Him. Forgive us, O Master, whenever we have resisted Thy gracious invitations to us. When Thou dost approach us in the moments of this day, grant us receptive hearts. Thou art anxious to come into our hearts to become a living reality, a vital power. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—On February 7th I had a minor operation and my surgeon discovered a small cyst which showed positive cancer cells. On February 9th we phoned you for prayers on my behalf. On February 11th the surgeton did a mestectomy and to his great surprise not a single cell in the last removal of tissue showed any cancer whatever. He says I am 100% cured! I am sure this is due to your intercessions and I am giving God all the credit for my healing.—A. H. S. (Mt. Holly, N.C.)

HOW TO REPLY TO JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

The Canadian Church has published an official card—the text is the work of the Rev. Fr. R. F. Palmer, SSJE; and householders who keep a copy by the door find that when it is read Jehovah's Witnesses invariably depart without argument.

"YOU PREACH A CRUEL GOD"

The card reads:—"I admire your zeal in trying to forward your beliefs. I am sure you are a sincere person. But I cannot accept your literature. You preach a cruel and unreasonable god who is going to sweep most of his children away in a horrible battle of Armageddon while you Witnesses stand aside and look on.

"I don't believe that you will really like to look at such a wicked thing. You are too kind for that. Yet you make out that God is not good and kind. He destroys His own children, not because they are morally bad, but rather because they do not join Jehovah's Witnesses. You would not treat your children like that. So you are better than the god you preach.

"For ages he has known, according to you, that he was going to have this horrible battle of Armageddon, and yet he has gone on making more children to be destroyed. I want nothing to do with such a god. If you go on preaching him, you will get to be like him, cruel and unreasonable. You Witnesses consider this world hopeless and so you leave it to perish. You make no effort to help the suffering by supporting hospitals, orphanages or other works of mercy. You take no part in seeing that we have good, honest government.

GOD OF LOVE

"I believe in the true God, the God of Love, not in your old god of hate. I believe in the Gospel—that means the good news that God loves us and cares for us. I do not believe your message of bad news. I know what the true God is like. Your unreasonable god is not one bit like Jesus, who went about doing good, healing the sick, feeding the hungry, and Himself died for us on the Cross instead of destroying us. You are too good a person to be a Jehovah's Witness. Be a witness for Jesus and the God of Love. Spread His good news of the gift of eternal life here and hereafter.

"Thank you for calling and for listening to me. I shall be pleased if you will read this. Good day, and God bless and convert you."

BEBATE ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Recent years have witnessed an increasing effort to end capital punishment in the United States. Arguments in support of its elimination fall into two main categories: those that emphasize its repugnance to the Christian faith and those that believe its retention violates concepts of modern penology.

At the time America was colonized there were at least 200 crimes punishable by death. Today eight States have abolished capital punishment. They are Delaware, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin and Alaska.

On Tuesday evening, April 14th, at 7:45 P.M. the Rev. G. Hall Todd, D.D., Minister, Arch Street Presbyterian Church, will debate this issue with Thorsten Sellin, Ph.D., Chairman, Department of Sociology, Wharton School, U. of P., in St. Stephen's Community House. The debate will be under the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Diocese of Pennsylvania. There will be opportunity for questions from the floor, with refreshments and informal visiting afterwards. You and your friends are urged to come.

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Roberts will visit our parish on Sunday, April 12th at 11 A.M. to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the parish will be held on Sunday, April 12th at 12:15 P.M. in the Community House. At this meeting twelve men will be elected to the Vestry. A film of the Induction Service of our new Presiding Bishop, which took place in the Washington Cathedral, will be shown. Refreshments will be served.

The Prelude: "Adagio" ..... J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION: "Have I been so long time with you and yet hast thou not known Me?" It is not always easy to see God in Christ. Even long acquaintanceship and familiarity with the Gospel may blur our vision. We need a new revelation, a fresh approach every day, to behold the brightness of His Glory. Lord, give us the grace of recognition. May we see Thee in every experience of our lives, no matter if the sun shines brightly on our path or if the clouds of sorrow hang over it. May we never doubt Thy presence as a Living Savior. Amen.

Following the presentation and rebuttal by the Rev. G. Hall Todd, D.D., Minister, Arch Street Presbyterian Church, and Thorsten Sellin, Ph.D., Chairman, Department of Sociology, Wharton School, U. of P., audience participation will be welcomed. Light refreshments and informal discussion will follow the meeting. You and your friends are urged to come.

The Rector will speak to the students and faculty of the Berkeley Divinity School, New Haven, Connecticut, on April 14th and 15th.

GOD IS ALIVE

A veteran (of World War I) recalls an old French lady who could not imagine living anywhere except her little, familiar village, and who stayed on, even when the fighting-line came within a mile. At evening the soldiers would see her leading her two cows up the village street, and would greet her with kindly voices, loving this peasant-woman who clung to her little world. One terrible day there was a heavy bombardment, and a shell tore her two cows to pieces, and wounded her. Some soldiers found her, sitting by the roadside, wiping her wounded face, and crying out through her tears, "The good God, He is dead!" The Good God, He is dead!"

J. B. Phillips (that great English soul who has put the Bible and Christian faith into simple, understandable words) points out the same despair in our day: "Is God dead? A lot of people seem to think so. After all, they say, God doesn't seem to do very much, and nobody ever sees Him."

Then he goes on to remind us that one of our deepest Christian convictions is, not that God is dead, but that He did once die. He had decided to reveal His character in a way that men could understand, by making a personal visit to this planet. A few recognized Him, and a few others realized that when Jesus talked about God, He spoke with a ring of truth in His words—He sounded like an expert speaking on His own subject. A few bitterly resented His exposure of their pride and greed and hypocrisy, so they engineered a judicial murder. They managed to get the Man who claimed to be God killed. Nothing exciting happened—there was no celestial rescue party. After suffering agony, He died.

But we have learned from His teaching that His life and death were necessary "to expose the nature of sin and to build a bridge between God and man." For most people know that there is an unpleasant gulf between them and God, caused by their own and other people's sin and selfishness. It is because of this gulf that God often seems so far away, or even dead, and, however hard we try, we cannot bridge it. All serious religions attempt a kind of bridge-head toward God, but only Christianity builds the bridge . . . nothing we can do can close the gap between the terrifying purity of God and the sinfulness of man. But what we could never do, God has in fact done. The Bible says, "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself." (II Corinthians 5:19). Once you drop your own attempts to make yourself good enough to get into touch with God, and accept this tremendous act of reconciliation as something done for you personally, then the picture miraculously clears. Now you can see God, not as a terrifying Judge, but as Someone who came right down into the sweat and pain and squalor of human life to win you to Himself. Millions of people have found that, once they drop their own pretensions and accept quite simply this forgiveness, God becomes real—He becomes your Friend and not your enemy . . . One who would go to that length to bring you into friendship with Himself.

Yes, God is alive! And He can be alive in you, day by day, the Risen Christ bringing love and victory into every day living.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the parish will be held on Sunday, April 12th at 12:15 P.M. in the Community House. At this meeting twelve men will be elected to the Vestry. A film of the Induction Service of our new Presiding Bishop, which took place in the Washington Cathedral, will be shown. Refreshments will be served.

GOD AND COUNTRY AWARD

Robert P. Morley, member of our Troop No. 2, Boy Scouts of America, and one of our Flag Bearers will be presented with the God and Country Award at the Confirmation Service on April 12th.

Robert has fulfilled the rigid requirements of Christian Study, Christian Worship, Christian Fellowship, and Christian Service which will help a Boy Scout fulfill the Scout Promise and obey the Scout Law, in accordance with the Faith, Worship, and Work of the Episcopal Church.

Robert has met the requirements of a general knowledge of the contents of the Bible, the Book of Common Prayer, and the Hymnal. He has a working knowledge of the Church, the Sacraments, and the history of the Church. He has become acquainted with the organization and work of the Church in community, nation, and world.

The Insignia of the God and Country Award for Boy Scouts who are members of the Episcopal Church is the Episcopal Church Seal. The Seal is a Red Cross on a White Shield with white crosslets on a blue field in the upper right hand quarter of the shield.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Upon being asked to perform some service, our first question often is, "What shall it profit me?" The Apostle Paul reminds us that Godliness inevitably brings profit. In this world it assures peace, happiness and contentment; in the world to come, the greatest of all profits, life eternal. Dear Lord, make us conscious that to fashion our lives after the Lord is our most glorious task. Help us to overcome the temptations of this day and to walk in the Master's footsteps, ever keeping in mind our ultimate goal: eternity. AMEN.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mr. Samuel Ellinger.

ADVANCE PAYMENT

One day in Galilee a tax collector roughly demanded of Peter, "Doesn't your Teacher pay His taxes?" Jesus paid them—but imagine anyone wondering whether Jesus was willing to pay the full cost of anything! He had just told His disciples that, in order to bridge the awful gap which now separated men and God, He was going to pay with His own life.

That heroic Italian, Savonarola, had learned from Jesus the costliness of life committed to God. He found the citizens of Florence frittering away their precious lives in frivolities. So he challenged them with words that burn; and with a "bon fire of vanities." The comfortable Pope was so upset that he offered to make Savonarola a Cardinal, just to shut him up. But this committed man looked at the scarlet cap scornfully, saying: "I desire neither hat nor mitres . . . I desire nothing save what God gives to the saints — death; a crimson hat, a hat of blood, is what I desire." He was prepared to pay the cost. And he added this thought-provoking observation: "Are you desirous of a reputation for courage? You must risk your life. All this is paying in advance. Observe the other side of the picture; the bad things are paid for afterwards."

This is a truth that needs learning—that God requires advance payment for life's greatest treasure; while He allows deferred payments on the cheap and evil ones. Look about in life—you will see that this is true. The alcoholic has his hour or two of exhilaration and escape, and then pays afterwards in splitting headaches for himself and racking heart-aches for his loved ones. But the practical farmer spends his first strength in plowing, sowing, and cultivating—and then, afterwards, he enjoys the gathering of the harvest. Look back over history—you will find Hitler and Mussolini first enjoying their brief years of dizzy power and prominence, and then, afterwards, paying for it in wretched and shameful deaths. Jesus came to reconcile the estranged children of earth to their Father. He was first willing to pay with His crucified dying, and then He could rise into victory, to draw God's family close to Him once more.

Are you deep and earnest in wanting to follow Jesus Christ? Do you want to be used richly and gloriously by God, and thus find the "Peace of God which passeth all understanding"? The cost of that must be paid in advance. It is "dying" to yourself; surrendering your deciding to God's will. As John Wesley put it, "I'm no longer my own, but Thine: Put me to what Thou wilt . . . let me be full, let me be empty . . . I freely and heartily yield all things to Thy pleasure and disposal; and now, O Glorious and blessed God, Thou art mine, and I am Thine!"

The Rector will conduct Healing Missions in Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, April 20th-22nd, inclusive; Trinity Cathedral, Sacramento, April 22nd-24th, inclusive; All Saints' Church, Beverly Hills, April 26th-28th, inclusive and in the Church of the Incarnation, Dallas, Texas, April 29th-May 1st, inclusive.

The Rev. Dr. Stanley R. West will conduct the weekday services during the Rector's absence, and preach at the Sunday Services on April 26th. The Rev. Harold O. Boon will conduct the Thursday Healing Services.

The Spring In-Gathering of the Women's United Thank Offering will be held on Sunday, May 3rd. Blue envelopes have been mailed to all the women of the parish. This is a Missionary Offering which supports in large measure the women workers in the Church both in this country and in foreign fields. Mrs. Wilson Leithead is our Parish Custodian.

We are happy to add to the list of those who were confirmed last Sunday the name of Dr. Edith Jeanne Andrews.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I have been attending your healing services for about four years now. Knowing what great miracles it has done for me, I have persuaded many of my suffering friends to come with me, and they have marveled at the results. I have had a number of serious ailments cured, including a broken foot and arm, and, much to the doctor's amazement, I was doing all my work in four months. For years I had suffered with spasm of the heart and doctoring all that time. Thanks to your wonderful healing services I have not had an attack for over a year. No one can convince me that if you have faith and come and be inspired by the healing services, there is an illness that cannot be cured.—E. C. (Norristown, Pa.)

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—God speaks to us not only in Holy Writ but also through the wonderful book of nature. In this He reveals His power and His beauty. It is true that change and decay at times seem to mar this beauty; but even out of change and decay there comes new beauty to glorify the Creator. The beauty of God expresses itself in His handiwork, O Lord, our God, who hast made Thy name excellent in all the earth and who hast set Thy glory above the heavens, open our eyes to behold the expression of Thy glory in the beauty of nature. Amen.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME ADVANCES YOUR CLOCK ONE HOUR! It's THIS week—So, don't forget to make the change; don't be late to Church this Sunday!

UNITED THANK OFFERING

When we stop daily to thank God for our many blessings, we strengthen and develop our spiritual lives. When we drop a coin in our "blue box" while saying our prayer of thanks, we help our Church to grow and devolop the spiritual lives of our brethren in other parts of this world. In-gathering Sunday will be May 3rd.

THE WOMEN OF ST. STEPHEN'S

The women of St. Stephen's are all members of the Women's Auxiliary, which is changing its name, nationally, to Episcopal Churchwomen, or to The Women of St. Stephen's, locally. Through hearing reports of speakers at the Church House, members keep in touch with the work of the Church-as-a-whole, in its different fields.

Mrs. Alfred Price spoke recently, at the meetings on the new Missionary District of Central America, and on our Missions in Alaska. There will be a luncheon after the final meeting at 11 o'clock on Thursday, May 21st, to which all of the women of St. Stephen's who would like to join, are invited.

The Rector will be at All Saints' Church, Beverly Hills, California, April 26th-28th, inclusive, and at the Church of the Incarnation, Dallas, Texas, April 29th-May 1st, inclusive.

HE SAW HIM

In that amazing story in St. Luke, the hero is the father who waited with such patience. Its right name is "The Parable of the Forgiving Father." Five simple words sum up that memorable story—"And his father saw him."

This father had two sons. The younger one was full of life; full of restless, hungry desires; wanting them satisfied in a big way. Being self-centered, he did not stop to think of his father's feelings. He simply demanded his share of the property, and went his way. The older brother was cautious, a bit timid about taking chances, and relished the feeling of being righteous. So he stayed dutifully at home, thinking himself most superior to his wayward brother. Being self-centered, he had no idea of the chronic ache in his father's heart as the old man yearned for his attractive, high-spirited youngster.

One day this pious older brother heard music and laughter. When he learned that it was a party to welcome his brother home, he blew his top. Being self-centered in his own special way, he did not understand the radiant joy on his father's face, the first radiance since the boy had gone away. He just shouted angrily at the old man, saying, in so many words, "What's the use of being good when a rotter like my brother gets the Big Party and all the cheering!" And he wouldn't come in. He just stayed outside, and sulked; alone, as self-righteous people usually find themselves sooner or later. The trouble with him was that his self-centeredness made him so interested in himself that he was blind to those around him. He never really "saw" his brother at all.

But, even before the Prodigal had left home in the first place, his father "saw" him; saw his charm and his honesty, his youthful eagerness for adventure, and he knew that, underneath that lovable immaturity was a treasure of a man, waiting to become a fact. So he waited through the long weeks, waited and prayed and hoped! Then, one afternoon, far down the road, he saw a familiar figure—his walk not so jaunty now, but resolute and sure; "and his father saw him," saw the boy at last shaped and tempered into the man God meant him to be. So he welcomed him with a mighty rejoicing—for he had come home to live in the companionship of his father, in his ways.

The father in Jesus' story, of course, is God. Jesus is telling you that God looks into your heart with the sure eyes of love, and sees what you really are, underneath; the person you can be, if you make up your mind to come home and live in His wonderful companionship. You can't do it anywhere else, except at home with Him. And every day He waits, and looks up the road—for you!

The Episcopal Hospital asks that we make mention in our Parish paper that there are vacancies in admissions to the Harrison Home. Rates seven to eight dollars a day. Further information may be secured by calling the Hospital.

ONE OF THE BEST DOLLARS' WORTH in Church journalism is the completely revamped "Church News" of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Fearing the shock which would come to her 3-year-old son, unfamiliar with death, a mother finally broke the news of a distant relative's demise, and with dread awaited his reaction. It came, as the small one's eyes never wavered from the TV screen: "Who shot him?"

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Stanley R. West, D.D., who will conduct the Sunday and weekday services during the Rector's absence.

Again we wish to express our appreciation for Bulletin subscriptions, to these persons: Mrs. Philip A. Arnold, Elizabeth Corrigan, Mrs. E. M. Keys, W. LeVan Lawfer, James O. Lyman, Miss Christine M. Mosler, Mrs. Charlotte Paist, Isabella Pouton, Caroline L. Temme, Mrs. Herman Williamson, Mrs. Janie S. Claytor, Eva Hansen, Mrs. Edith Oliver.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Several months ago I attended your healing service. At that time I had been suffering from a stomach ulcer for several years and I'm frank to say I was a little skeptical, as I did not have the faith I needed so badly. After leaving Church, I suffered a bad attack and was sick all the way back to Henderson. However, I soon recovered and continued to pray for faith and healing. I have felt, and now know, my prayers have been answered. On February 10th I had another X-ray which showed the ulcer completely healed! My doctor was amazed. My faith grows every day now and I feel so much closer to God. I shall be eternally grateful to you, for I think you taught me how to pray and how to ask God's help.—P. P. C. (Henderson, N. C.)

The Prelude: "Air" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The stream of life flows softly on. Our days are quickly spent. Happy childhood days and the carefree days of youth speedily fade into life's noon. Then comes the mellow afternoon, when the golden sun melts into lovely eventide. Should God's mercy spare us for the eventide of life, there will be light for the trusting child of God. Loving Father, who carest for Thy children throughout their entire journey of life, grant that light may be ours at eventide. We can peacefully depart from these scenes if our eyes behold Thy salvation. Amen.

The Anthem: "Sing Praise To God Who Reigns Above" ..... Whitlock

Sing praise to God who reigns above, the God of all creation, the God of power, the God of love, the God of our salvation; with healing balm my soul He fills, and every faithless murmur stills; To God all praise and glory! What God's almighty power hath made His gracious mercy keepeth; By morning glow or evening shade His watchful eye ne'er sleepeth: within the Kingdom of His might all is just, and all is right: to God all power and glory! Then all my joyful way along I sing aloud Thy praises, that men may hear the grateful song my voice unwearied raises: Be joyful in the Lord, my heart! Both soul and body bear your part! To God all praise and glory!

The Sermon: "THE ASCENSION" ..... The Rector

Recessional Hymn 352 ..... Diademata

*The "Te Deum Laudamus" has been called "The most famous non-Biblical hymn of the Western Church." Scholars have not been able to establish either the exact date of its composition, or the name of its author. They generally agree that it was written between the years 400-450 A.D., perhaps by Niceta, a Dacian Bishop. Through the centuries it has maintained a high position as one of our great canticles, and some famous composers have used its text for some of their finest musical creations.

We are going to chant the Te Deum after the First Lesson for a period of time, with the hope that you, the members of the congregation, will want to join with the choir in singing this great hymn. You will find the words on page 625 of the Hymnal. We will use one Chant tune for verses 1-6, a second tune for verses 7-12, and return to the first tune for verses 13-16.

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. James Armstrong in memory of her husband; by Mrs. Ruth M. Martin in memory of her mother, Mrs. Martha Hartman; by Mrs. Barbara Mazzio in memory of her parents, Mary and Stephen Urasuk; and by Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr. in memory of his family.

IT WAS VERY GOOD

May is a good time to read, "And God saw everything He had made; and, behold, it was very good." For Spring is at full tide, breaking up through the brown earth everywhere; and there are songs in every orchard, and eggs hatching in every nest.

Spring gives us a hint of the glory of God, drawing us to Him for His grace. It recalls that memorable moment in Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," when she pours out what God's creation means to her. She is on trial for her life, accused of heresy. The Church has told her that "heavenly voices" are not God speaking through His angels and blessed saints, but evil spirits; that God speaks through the Church, and that she must repent, and depart from her error. As they hammer and threaten the simple peasant girl, she is shaken. Perhaps they are right. So she signs the paper, renouncing her "errors." And then, just when she thinks she is free, the Church condemns her to life imprisonment, on bread and water. Her spirit flames up in holy anger. She tears up the paper, and facing their threats to burn her at the stake, cries out:

"Light your fire: do you think that I dread it as much as the life of a rat in a hole? My voices were right. Yes, they told me you were fools, and that I was not to listen to your fine words nor trust to your charity. You promised me my life, but you lied . . . you think that life is nothing but not being stoned dead . . . but to shut me off from the light of the sky and the sight of a field and flowers; to chain my feet so that I can never again ride with the soldiers nor climb the hills . . . I could do without my war horse . . . if I could still hear the wind in the trees, the larks in the sunshine, the young lambs crying through the healthy frost, and the blessed Church bells that send my angel voices floating to me on the wind. But without these things I cannot live; and that your wanting to take them away from me or from any human creature, I know that your counsel is of the devil, and that mine is of God."

Some of you have looked across a country road, past a weathered barn, to a pasture and the woods beyond. You can see what Joan of Arc was talking about, and praise God for it. Others of you look out into the narrow chasms of city streets, but you can, at least, look up to the clean blue sky between, and do some praising yourselves. The Spring overflows everywhere, even into the hearts of men—and we glorify God because all that He made is very good!

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Mary's Church, Wayne, on the evenings of May 10th - 13th, inclusive. He will preach at the Marble Collegiate Church, New York, on Wednesday, May 13th at 12 Noon.

The Rector addressed a meeting of the Annual Session of the Eastern Keystone Baptist Association at the White Rock Baptist Church, 53rd and Chestnut Streets, on Tuesday night, May 6th.

RECTOR'S HEALING MISSION

The Rector preached to over 12,000 people on his recent tour of the West. Starting on Monday, April 20th at Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, he completed a three day Mission with the great Cathedral on Nobb Hill filled with eager and expectant people. During these days he spoke to some forty doctors and clergy at luncheon meetings. Some sixty persons were inducted into the Order of St. Luke.

At Trinity Cathedral, Sacramento, he conducted a two day Mission to splendid congregations.

At All Saints' Church, Beverly Hills, he conducted eight services including an inspiring service of the Spring in-gathering of the United Thank Offering of the Episcopal churchwomen. Some 4,000 attended the Mission services and sixty or more were inducted into the O.S.L. The Rector, Dr. J. H. Smith, was kind enough to write in his Parish leaflet "Many distinguished preachers have visited our Church during these past sixteen years but none of them has made a more profound impression than Dr. Price. We are indeed privileged to have a man of such spiritual stature and authority in this particular field come to us. The tremendous response on the part of so many indicates how anxious people are to know more about the Church's healing ministry."

On the way home the Rector had five services in the largest parish in Dallas, Texas, where large congregations filled the Church of the Incarnation. Dallas was named for a Vestryman of St. Stephen's Church—George Dallas, Vice-President under President Polk, and at various times Ambassador to England.

WOMEN OF ST. STEPHEN'S EVENING GROUP

On Monday, May 11th, 1959, the first meeting of the Evening Group of the Women of St. Stephen's Church will be held in the Community House, Second Floor, at 7 P.M. Dessert and Coffee will be served.

Speakers will be: Mrs. Alfred W. Price, on "The Function And Work of Episcopal Women"; and Miss Antoinette Adam, R.N., on "India."

All are invited.

The Prelude: "Come, Holy Ghost, Lord God ..... Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We, too, would now make this same declaration of an unbroken succession of Divine Deliverance and with Samuel give our testimony to the enduring faithfulness and mercy of our Lord. "He who hath helped thee hitherto will help thee all thy journey through." Dear Lord, whatever hath befallen us by way of trial and sorrow, we have never lost confidence in Thee, even though in our weakness we would have had it some other way. Give us ever the assurance that all things work together for good unto those who love Thee. Amen.

*The "Te Deum Laudamus" has been called "The most famous non-Biblical hymn of the Western Church." Scholars have not been able to establish either the exact date of its composition, or the name of its author. They generally agree that it was written between the years 400-450 A.D., perhaps by Niceta, a Dacian Bishop. Through the centuries it has maintained a high position as one of our great canticles, and some famous composers have used its text for some of their finest musical creations.

We are going to chant the Te Deum after the First Lesson for a period of time, with the hope that you, the members of the congregation, will want to join with the choir in singing this great hymn. You will find the words on page 625 of the Hymnal. We will use one Chant tune for verses 1-6, a second tune for verses 7-12, and return to the first tune for verses 13-16.

GOD SPEAKING

How shall a man get to God, and learn His will? Some will answer—"From the Church—God speaking through His Body-on-earth." Others will say, "From the Inner Light—God speaking directly to His child." This surely is a large matter; and one that has to be settled by each one of us.

The Christian way to search for truth is to look to Jesus Christ, and to seek His leading. As a child, Jesus did learn from the Church of His day. But as a grown Man He denounced that Church as blind guides of the blind. When the mature Jesus needed light for some vital decision, He went apart into a quiet place, and opened His mind and heart to His Father. And always, when He came back, He came in God's wisdom and strength. He bade us to follow His example.

This was the issue between Joan of Arc and her judges. With burning sincerity, she told them that her "voices" were her messages from God. And they, as angry as the scribes and pharisees of old, shouted, "She acts as if she herself were the Church . . . it is always God and herself." But an Earl, with shrewd insight, sees to the heart of the matter when he says, "It goes deep, my Lord. It is a protest of the individual soul against the interference of priest or peer, between the private man and his God." A fuss-budget Chaplain pops out with, "I know as a matter of plain common sense that the woman is a rebel; and that is enough for me. Let her perish. Let her burn."

Now this large matter is not a fancy debate to be settled by scholars. This concerns every man born into the world; and the quality of his life will depend on how he settles it for himself. If he be lazy-minded in his love for God, he may leave the matter to Churchmen, and give a lazy "Yes" to their decision. But if he loves Jesus Christ deeply and honestly, he will look to the Church to see if it has taken Jesus seriously in this matter, and speaks with His authority. But no true friend of Jesus can stop with any other man's answer. Having gained the best possible human guidance, he must follow Jesus' example—go apart quietly to listen for the Voice of God, speaking directly to His child.

Joan's judges sternly ask her, "If the Church Militant tells you that your revelations and visions are sent by the devil to send you to your damnation, will you not believe that the Church is wiser than you?" And Joan—quietly and confidently replies, "I believe that God is wiser than I; and it is His commands that I will do . . . I shall mind God alone, whose command I always follow." God grant that you and I may so hear God speaking in our hearts; and so obey Him with willing joy!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—My husband has had another wonderful month. He's at work every day and in wonderful spirits. We wish to thank you for your devotion and love on our behalf. May I tell you what a difference your services, receiving the laying-on-of-hands, trying to practice the teachings you put before us each week, and being a channel for healing for my husband, has made in my own life. I face life confidently and trustfully, and the fears and anxieties are receding.—D. H. B. (Phila.)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission at Trinity Church, Elmira, N.Y., on Sunday evening, May 17th, through May 19th.

Mr. Charles K. Hay, Principal of the John Bartram High School, has been promoted to Associate District Superintendent. Congratulations to our Vestryman!

"Talk Back," a series of films sponsored by the National Council of Churches, is being aired Sundays at 9:30 P.M. on Channel 6. Following each 12 minute film, there is a discussion on subjects it delves into. Gunnar Back is the moderator.

The Rector was interviewed on the TV program, "Wonderful Town," Monday last, at 10:30 P.M.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence wherever we may be and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—I feel deeply grateful. My sister sent my name to you for healing prayers last Summer. I recovered but came home from the hospital with an ulcer on my ankle. My doctor said he had tried everything to cure it. He said I must go to a surgeon and have the ulcer cleaned out and skin grafted. I told him I would think it over. So I went to one of your Thursday healing services. That night I had no pain. The ulcer has healed and no help from the surgeon.—E. M. M. (Downingtown, Pa.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission at Epiphany Church, Baltimore, May 24th-26th, inclusive. He will speak at the Faith At Work Conference in the Poconos on Saturday, May 30th.

The Rector dedicated a beautiful red pulpit drop and Lectern Markers, and stole, on May 17th, presented by Miss Hazel Bainbridge, in memory of the Rector's mother, Myrtle A. Price.

TRINITY SUNDAY

Men used to be terribly scared of God. They tried to keep just as far from Him as possible. Adam and Eve were hiding from Him, in the thicket, and they cringed when they heard Him asking, "Adam, where art thou?" Great leaders like David knew that God is the mighty Source of all good gifts, and were able to lift the people into high moments of loving gratitude to God. But, most of the time, people were very timid about God. They still are!

This is Trinity Sunday—that wonderful Festival which reminds men that they can know God in their own experience. What we mean by the "Trinity" is simply that there are three great open ways over which men have come to know God and love Him. First, we can know Him as Father, as the Creator of all things. We can approach Him through the glory of a flaming sunset, or through the miracle of a tiny seed we plant in our garden, knowing that it contains the pattern of a fresh green lettuce-head. Second, we can know Him—His character, what kind of Person He is—through His Son Jesus. For the amazing Jesus came and lived out God right before the eyes of men, so they could have no further doubt about His nature. Third, we can know God through the Holy Spirit—God's whisper in our hearts, of loving encouragement and forgiveness and guidance. These have been the three best-traveled ways into the knowledge and love of God, down over the centuries. They still are.

Many of you have already done what we are talking about. You have come to know and love God as the Creator who has filled the world with beauty; as the God-in human-flesh, Jesus making God so wonderfully to be loved; as the Spirit, God within you speaking to your listening ear. Your faces shine with the radiance of His Spirit at work within you. But so many, many people still keep God at a "safe" distance, like the men of old. As D. S. Cairns has said, "Man generally is under a kind of hypnotic spell about God, which is always contracting and chilling their thoughts of Him. The story of the growth of the disciples is the story of the breaking of that evil spell."

If you are running away from God, dare to stop, right where you are! Stop and remember a few simple, solid facts. Jesus trusted God, His Father, even through a brutal crucifixion—and God lifted Him into victory over evil and death. See, in the pages of history, what happened in the long run to all those who dared to put their trust in God. Faith works—it always has, because God's loving power is released whenever one of His children puts their confidence in Him. Perhaps you know someone who has found freedom from all night-mare and anxiety by trusting God through every day. Then let that friend lead you a bit on the path to knowing God. Once you are well started, you will continue on that wonderful Way for the rest of your days!

VESTRY REORGANIZES FOR THE COMING YEAR

The annual reorganization meeting of the Vestry was held May 12th, with the following results:

Rector's Warden, David L. German; Accounting Warden, Edwin S. Heins; Accounting Warden Emeritus, I. Smith Raspin; Clerk of the Vestry, Frederick Schmid, Jr.; Treasurer of the Burd School, Edward S. Morris.

Executive Committee: I. Smith Raspin, Chairman; Edwin S. Heins; J. Lewis Armstrong; James Lyman; Charles K. Hay; Elmer S. Carll; David German.

Music Committee: J. Lewis Armstrong; David L. German.

Community House Committee: Charles K. Hay; James O. Lyman; Clarence T. Garrett, Jr.; Frederick Schmid, Jr.

Insurance Committee: Wilson C. Leithead, Chairman; Edwin S. Heins; Elmer S. Carll.

Burd School Committee: I. Smith Raspin; Edwin S. Heins; Charles K. Hay; Wilson C. Leithead (Sec'y); Edward S. Morris; David L. German.

Chairman of Ushers: Harry J. Hauger.

On Friday, May 15th, there passed into the Presence of God and the Kingdom of greater service the soul of one of our most able Vestrymen, Mr. Edward Shippen Morris. Deeply interested in the work of St. Stephen's Church, the Burd School and the Diocese of Pennsylvania, he was blest of God in his business relationships. He brought to our councils that acumen and advice which were of tremendous value. He gave of himself unselfishly in the work close to his heart, the Burd School. Many and generous were the benefactions he afforded the girls over the years. He was gracious in spirit, friendly in conversation, and sincere in endeavor. As a steward of many personal talents, and a trustee of offices in Church, he strived to be faithful. To Mrs. Morris and her son, Roland, we extend sympathy. May God comfort their hearts.

"I like the QUIET Church before the Service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: A Solemn Melody ..... Davies
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind thus far in its march upwards and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to recognize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book, Page 15, Chant No. 644, Hymnal
Anthem: "Ye Who Now Sorrow" ..... Brahms
Ye now are sorrowful; howbeit, ye shall again behold Me, and your heart shall be joyful; and your joy no man taketh from you. Yea, I will comfort you, as one whom his own mother comforteth. Look upon Me; ye know that for a little time labor and sorrow were Mine, but at the last I have found comfort. Yea, I will comfort you.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—I have attended a number of healing services at St. Stephen's and have always left with genuine hope and comfort in my heart. I am a victim of Menieres Disease and have just been through 16 months of real distress—a maddening continuous noise in my ears and constant attacks of severe vertigo. Suddenly, on April 7th, the hearing of my left ear returned, and the noise stopped; I haven't had it since. Life is certainly different. It is just like living in another world. In deep gratitude, I remain, J. C.—(Vineland, N. J.)

THOU SHALT LOVE

William James, the philosopher, has written with wisdom and also a twinkle in his eye: "Every Jack sees in his own particular Jill charms and perfections to the enchantment of which we stolid onlookers are stone-cold. And which has the superior view of the absolute truth, he or we? . . . Is he in excess, being in the matter of a maniac? or are we in defect? . . . Surely to Jack are the profounder truths revealed."

Now I would concede that when Jack claims that Jill is perfect, he is becoming a trifle optimistic; but I would still agree with the philosopher that Jack is nearer to the real truth than the rest of us. For Jack looks with confident expectation growing out of discovery about Jill which he has already made. It's like one mid-April afternoon. It was one of those heavenly sun-warmed days, after weeks of snow and cold. May-flowers are not easy to find, unless you are familiar with their oval, soft-green leaves, barely edging out from underneath last year's dead leaves. And there I found them, with their delicate pink flowers tucked under those nearly invisible leaves. Jill's charms and talents often are like May-flowers—hidden under a lot of superficial debris, which is all most people see! You just have to know that those graces and abilities are there, and look for them with eager expectation. The uncaring passer-by never dreams either of Jill's charms or the May-flowers. He it is that misses the real truth. For under the plain, unexciting surface of many Jills, God has tucked treasures of understanding and tenderness and common sense that only the expectant, caring eye will find.

It is also true that Jack's love for Jill helps to release and develop Jill's charms. For Jack knows that she is capable of achievements and character no one else expects in her. And just because he sees this possibility in her, he helps to make it come true. Because he loves her, Jill will become more of a person, closer to what God meant her to be. Jack's belief in her is securely rooted in the truth.

William James finishes his thoughts about Jack and Jill as follows: "If you say that this is absurd, and that we cannot be in love with everyone at once, I merely point out to you that, as a matter of fact, certain persons do exist with an enormous capacity for friendship and for taking delight in other people's lives; and that such persons know more of truth than if their hearts were not so big."

Why were you and I so surprised and overjoyed when the philosopher teaches us a great spiritual fact like this! It is what Jesus taught 18 centuries before William James was born. Jesus revealed that, in order to live richly and truthfully, "Thou shalt love. . . ."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—Last February I attended your healing service. You prayed with me for my husband who was very ill in a psychiatric hospital. He was to start a series of shock treatments the next day, and I was frightened because of the danger involved. God spoke to me in reassurance and I left the service comforted and strengthened. Today, my husband is perfectly well. In fact he is in better health than he has been for several years. He has gone back to work and taken on the heavy responsibilities of his position with confidence. We are both so deeply thankful.

THIS IS MY CHURCH

It is composed of people like me. We make it what it is.
It will be friendly, if I am.
Its pews will be filled, if I help fill them.
It will do great work, if I work.
It will make generous gifts to many causes, if I'm a generous giver.
It will bring other people into its worship and fellowship, if I bring them.
It will be a Church of loyalty and love, of fearlessness and faith, and a Church with noble spirit—if I, who make it what it is, am filled with these.
Therefore, with the help of God, I shall dedicate myself to the task of being all the things that I want my Church to be.

PLAY THE ROLE

Richard Todd, the English actor, opening his mail one day, found a letter asking if he would be available to play the leading role in "A Man Called Peter." He replied that he would not consider the role until he saw the script. They sent it; and he turned the role down, after some thoughtful hesitation.

That sounds like so many hesitating Christians perhaps like you, once upon a time; or even now. A disciple, as Jesus points out in John 14, is one who lets God live in him, as Jesus did. For the Nazarene came to earth to show men what God is really like, in all His compassion. By giving over His will to His Father, Jesus let God live in Him day by day. Here was God in a down-to-earth Person. So, now, we know what God is like, simply by looking at Jesus. And He said that we could do this, and must! He gave us a terrific role to play, didn't He! But Jesus assures us that we can play this wonderful part if we say "Yes" to God. Will we take it?

Most people turn down the part, at first—as Richard Todd did. Most nice Church people never seriously consider it at all. "What, me?" "Live like Jesus? not I!" Yet Jesus promises that we can do it.

But, with that first refusal, Richard Todd was not through with "A Man Called Peter." The studio persisted. One day a flat package arrived from Beverly Hills—a tape recording of a Peter Marshall Sermon on the Crucifixion. A few days later, over the transatlantic telephone, Mr. Todd's excited voice told the produced, "I've played it over and over. Each time I'm more stirred. What an inspired word-painter that man was . . ." "You'll do it, then?" the produced asked. After a long pause, the actor replied. "I still can't commit myself. There's one more test I would like to make." And he did an amazing thing. Without any explanation, he rounded up some forty people at the studio—technicians, make-up people, some of the camera crew; even a hard-bitten blond off the street, with her boy friend. And, from a hastily constructed pulpit, Richard Todd preached that Sermon to the motley "congregation." When he finished, Catherine Marshall says, the hard-boiled blond was in tears, and so were several others. He cabled the studio that he would take the part.

You see, Richard Todd did not make his decision until he had really listened to the voice of Peter Marshall pouring out God's love; and until he had let Peter Marshall speak through him. Isn't that what we need to do, to decide whether we will play the great role God offers to us? We can think about this some more next Sunday. In the meantime, will you be thinking, and praying, about it? Whether you are willing to play the role?

The Prelude: Pastorale ..... Guilmant

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Friendship is one of the most satisfying experiences of life. That is what our relationship to God should be. He would not have us approach Him as cringing slaves who fear an over-Lord, but joyously, confidently, as a man speaks to a friend, tried and true. He wishes to share with His purposes for men. As we look forward to meeting a friend, so may our approach and friendship be with Thee, Thou Friend and Savior of our race. May our friendship ripen through the days and years to come, into a love that will do whatsoever Thou dost command us. Amen.

Text:—In Christ's own flock let love be surely placed, from Christ's own flock let concord hate expel: of Christ's own flock let love be so embraced, as we in Christ, and Christ in us may dwell. Christ is the Author of all unity, from whence proceedeth all felicity. O sing unto this glit'ring glorious King. Let heart and voice like bells of silver ring. LISTEN TO GOD

It's not easy to decide to let God have His way with your life. We want to make the decision as each choice arises. Sooner or later we find out that there is only one important decision to be made in this life—will we say, "Yes" to God, or "NO"? Will we let Him have His way with us? We hesitate a long time, as Richard Todd did over accepting the role of Peter Marshall.

We can learn much by the way Todd tackled the question. First he listened to the voice of Peter Marshall in the tape recordings of his Sermons—listened humbly, honestly. That voice was so full of the love of God that the actor found himself drinking it in. Then he let Peter Marshall speak through him, in that Crucifixion Sermon to the motley congregation of stage people. When he found that the voice spoke through him with power, that settled the matter. Somehow he was meant to play this wonderful, impossible part.

When people suddenly face the challenge of letting God speak through them, they can settle it only as the actor did. First they need to listen to God's voice in Jesus, listen with honesty and courage. They may read Him in a red-letter New Testament —quietly, prayerfully, slowly, until one day they begin really to hear Him. Then God begins to become alive to them through Jesus, so alive and so infinitely loving that they can no longer resist Him. To be certain, they have to make the second test. They need to let God speak through their lips to another person, speak His love to someone in trouble or great need. And always, without fail, if they are whole-hearted, they find that God speaks through them with a power that was never in them before. Then they accept the part!

How can we sustain such a daring adventure? Richard again gives us a clue. Once he began to train himself to be Peter Marshall in the moving picture, he had to fill himself with Peter Marshall constantly. "Each man is unique", he said to Catherine Marshall. "I'm not Peter Marshall. But I can saturate myself with the quality of the man's voice, with the inner essence, until something of the man's spirit shines thru' . . . I listen to Peter Marshall's voice for a while just before falling asleep. That way, perhaps, an impression will be made on my subconscious mind that will come out later." And when the time for shooting the picture came, Todd ordered a tape recorder brought to his dressing room. Often he would listen to one of the sermons between "takes."

It worked, and Peter Marshall lived through the actor, and transformed the lives of many. The same method will work with you. Listen to God's strong love speaking to you each night, just before you sleep. Listen in your working day, "between 'takes' ". Saturate your inmost spirit with the tender, compelling love of Jesus, and your voice will take on His quality of strength-giving love. Once you take on the part, you may often slip back, of course; but you will never be able to give it up. Life on the old, self-willed level is too dull and frustrating. Life on God's level is forever young, forever an adventure in life-saving and victory!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—About a month ago I had a visit with you in your study. You heard my confession, laid your hands on me then and again at the public healing service. Three days later I underwent an operation. The doctor was certain that I had cancer. The operation was successful. The last report said, "No cancer." I am now feeling much better and on the way to the best health in years. I am sure that much of this is due to the healing that came to me in St. Stephen's. I had a strong feeling that God wanted me to go to you. Thank you.—S. O. (Woodstown, N. J.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing at Trinity Cathedral, Easton, Maryland, Sunday evening, June 14th through June 17th.

Begin now to make your prayers in preparation for this Mission, and come to the services and join with many others who will kneel at the Altar Rail to talk with God about their problems. The Mission is a demonstration of the Gospel in action. The public is cordially invited.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 105 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. 11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the Service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Fantasia" ..... Pachelbel
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—So much of religion is a mild assumption or a pious wish, and for that reason it never becomes a transforming power in our lives. When we know for a certainty that Jesus lives, and that He will make us live, then things begin to happen; and our lives begin to mount upward. Father, cleanse us of fear, timidity and uncertainty; and give us the great conviction that "the best is yet to be, the last, for which the first was made." Make us to know that a glorious life is within reach of us all through Thy Son Jesus. Amen.
Processional Hymn 282 ..... Lauda Anima

Psalm 105, 1 to 20, Page 470
Te Deum Laudamus, Prayer Book Page 10; Chants No. 615 & 619, Hymnal
Jubilate, Prayer Book page 15; Chant No. 644, Hymnal
The Anthem: "God Is Love" ..... Matthews
God is love, and everyone that loveth is begotten of God and knoweth God. Love never faileth. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear.
The Sermon: "PROGRESS: PRO AND CON" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 524 ..... Mannheim
Recessional Hymn 597 ..... Ewing

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. Harry J. Hauger in memory of his mother; by Mrs. George Sinnamon in memory of her husband; and by Mrs. George M. Price in memory of her husband.

Flowers were provided on Thursday by the Catherine Kennedy Fund in memory of Walter James Coulter.

6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—Please remove my name from your Prayer List with thanksgiving, as my particular miracle has been accomplished. I asked prayers to help me become a more loving person. I felt incapable of being a truly loving person and could see my daughter growing up in the same way. In the small space of three months that has all been changed through the prayers of your wonderful Prayer Fellowship.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years; to repaint the interior of the Church, to air condition the Church, and to improve the lighting. To date over $30,000.00 has been pledged by 135 persons. We do want everyone to have a share in this our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mrs. Ida May Sullivan, in memory of her husband.

FELLOWSHIP

Once a person has honestly begun to let God live in him, how can he sustain that wonderful way of living? The prime necessity, of course, is to saturate our lives with the companionship of the living Jesus. That comes first. But you also need human help if you are to endure.

For God did not intend you to "go it alone" as a channel of His love. Read over those shining verses in Luke 24. The Risen Jesus did not appear to a lonely hermit. Rather, He first appeared to two disciples, walking together on the road to the village of Emmaus. They hastened back to Jerusalem with the gorgeous news, and "found the eleven disciples and their companions, gathered together." Even while they were announcing the great good news, the Risen Jesus appeared to that fellowship whose hopes were centered in Him. That is where He is most apt to appear! He has made it clear that He comes in full power only to such fellowships.

How do you find such a fellowship? Sometimes in a choice Prayer-Group in your own Church—people whose lives center in Him, and who love to meet together often. More often, however, you will need first to find your own fellowship with one other eager disciple—and you two will meet together, and share your victories and defeats, your discoveries of His grace, with each other, and with Him.

Your fellowship must be with someone who is honestly orienting his life about God, just as you are trying to do. Then you two can be close to each other because you are both close to God. If you happen to be a shut-in, or live in a back country road, you will need to turn to letter-writing to sustain your venture—exchanging letters with your fellow-disciple, between visits.

As Thomas Kelly has pointed out, such a fellowship of disciples "over-leaps the boundaries of Church membership entirely . . . The final grounds of holy fellowship are in God. Persons in the fellowship are related to one another through Him, as all mountains go down to the same earth."

The gayest, most truly Christian group I know is a working fellowship of people that I once visited. Their whole lives were individually so committed to Him that they are bound together by His cementing love. As one body they work at the irrigation of God's love thru' the deserts of today's materialistic, competing world. Their common venture is constantly sustained and renewed by the Almighty because, together, they are forever yielding "to the loving urgency of that Life which knocks at their hearts."

HEALING MISSION

On the four Sunday mornings in July the Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing. The Mission, of course, is for all—not just for the sick! Here is a special opportunity for realizing the power of God in your life. INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

St. Stephen's will be host to the International Conference of the Order of St. Luke, Sept. 13th - 16th, inclusive. The Rector is the Warden of the Order of St. Luke, which is a non-monastic Order for those within the Church who feel impelled to make the ministry of healing a part of their vocation. The Order embraces two classes of members: (1) Clergy members, including Bishops and Clergy who desire to promote the healing ministry as a regular part of the pastoral office; in the field of evangelism through parochial missions with an emphasis on healing; and by clergy functioning as Hospital Chaplains. (2) Lay Members, including those conscious of a special vocation or aptitude in this ministry, and desirous of developing their talent, such as physicians, surgeons, psychiatrists, nurses, others who minister to the sick, and those able to make special contribution to the healing ministry.

The Rev. Edward Winckley, of Natal, South Africa, and an Associate Warden of the Order of St. Luke, will be our headliner. Dr. James A. Stringham, a Christian psychiatrist of Rochester, N. Y. will give a series of three lectures on Resentment, Guilt and Rebuilding our Minds Through Faith. Dr. William S. Reed (Surgeon) of Michigan will give a series of three lectures on the Ministry of Healing. Mrs. Ethel T. Banks, Editor of "Sharing" Magazine will give a series of three lectures on "God's 'No', or Man's?" "Milestones of Faith" and "The Great Earth-Dream." E. Stanley Jones will give the final lecture. The noon-day preachers will be the Rev. Robert W. Young, Presbyterian of Pittsburgh, Rev. Thomas Hunter, Baptist of Albany, and the Rev. Larry Eisenberg, Methodist, of Virginia.

All interested in the Ministry of Healing are welcome to attend the four day Conference.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—I want to offer thanks for my healing and deiverance from my serious emotional problem. The spiritual therapy which I am still using is wonderful. Thank you so much for your help—and the prayers which have been offered on my behalf.—R. A. M. (Cape May, N. J.)

THE WALL OF PREJUDICE

"The eight-hour day in the dye-factory was over, and I turned my steps toward the little restaurant where I had been eating a hearty and delicious supper each night. But tonight it would be less hearty. Pay-day was three days off, and my cash-in-pocket had dwindled. No thick and juicy steak tonight, cooked to a turn by one of the two Jewish brothers, who were artists at short-order cookery. "Two shredded wheat biscuits," I ordered. One of the brothers asked how come no steak tonight; found out why; and bade me charge it until pay-day. When I wondered how did he know whether I would ever pay, he replied crisply, "Buddy, it's my business to know who will pay, and who won't—how do you want your steak?" "Medium," I said with a grin. I like Jews!

I'd grown up since childhood without prejudices. For, among my father's friends, were a Russian nobleman, a Roman Catholic Cardinal, an Episcopal Bishop who had tamed head-hunters, a distinguished Jewish artist, a Portuguese sea-captain, a negro college-president, a Ukranian mine-superintendent, and a Mexican chauffeur. Dad loved all sorts of people. He and mother brought us up knowing that Jesus had broken down the dividing-wall of prejudice.

Once in a while some smarty-pants starts spluttering, "I just don't like jews. Jews are . . . ." When they stop their spluttering I just tell this story. It's hard to argue with a story. It happened. Often a man who listens would never dream of taking a generous gamble like that. The story makes him blush a bit.

Jesus knew that His people considered themselves God's last word, and the rest of the world, "outsiders." So He never argued about it. But one day He told a story about a man who got badly beaten up by thugs on the road to Jericho—and He made a jewish Rabbi and one of his assistants the two villains of the story, and a Samaritan (a rank outsider!) the hero. I think His eyes flashed with piercing humor as He told that tale. It got under the skins of the scribes and pharisees.

Dad used to say that we Anglo-Saxons have one besetting sin—the arrogance of thinking ourselves better than other races; and that there is no sound basis for such an idea. I shall always be grateful to him for that. One finds friends anywhere, everywhere. For Jesus Christ smashed down the wall of prejudice. If you follow Him, there can be no barrier between you and anyone else in the world!"

(W. H. AITKEN, in "To Know God Better")

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We live in the present. The past is gone and cannot be changed. If we are anxious for the morrow, we attempt to live the future today. Why add the burden of the morrow to that of the day? "Cast all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you." We confess, heavenly Father, that we often commit the folly of being anxious and worried. Renew a right spirit within us and endow us with perfect trust. Give us assurance of Thy Wisdom and Goodness. For Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—I attended a healing service while visiting your city. I had high blood pressure. Since then my blood pressure has been normal. The doctor is amazed at my progress. I wish to express my gratitude to you and the Prayer Fellowship. I shall try to keep my healing and live a worthy life.—M. L. (Haleysville, Alabama).

ANNIVERSARY FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958, we set out to air condition the Church and two of our office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House and to improve the Church lighting, and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project, we asked our friends and members to underwrite the expense during a three year period.

The cost of this project amounted to $42,272.92. The air conditioning cost $19,204.00. The improved lighting and electrical work cost $6,500.00. The repairing of the pews and tile flooring cost $3,362.55. The painting and marble work cost $12,933.60.

One hundred and thirty persons pledged $31,265.78. Amount paid in is $25,386.28. We have borrowed the balance to pay for the completed work.

We have two more years to raise the balance of $16,886.64, $6,000.00 of which has been pledged.

We acknowledge a contribution towards the Improvement Fund in memory of Mrs. Charlotte H. Guenther.

The Rector will be interviewed on the Frank Ford Program, WPEN, on Monday, September 7th, at 11:30 P.M.

OUR GIFTS TO GOD

In the story of the feeding of the five thousand, we do not know the boy's name or his age, or where he lived or how he came to be among the crowd that had gathered to hear Jesus. What he had and what Jesus did with it has come down to us through the ages and is enshrined in God's Book. He was just a boy who gave what he had; Jesus took it and did such wonderful things with it that the people cried out that He was the Messiah they were so eagerly expecting. It all came from the gift of a boy who had nothing but the five loaves of bread and two little fishes. We do not know what he had intended to do with them. Perhaps he had planned to sell them to the hungry people, or maybe the fame of Jesus had led him to linger on his way home with food he had bought for the family. We know only that meager and ordinary things were taken that day and used in a wonderful way.

How little we know of how God uses our gifts. They may seem very little things; they are usually ordinary things. They may be material things like bread and fishes. They may be gifts from the heart, a word of hope and comfort or the grasp of a hand, silently listening to the outpourings of a broken heart, an unexpected letter. A minister, returning from a Summer holiday, met at his door the man who emptied his ash barrels. He extended his hand in greeting. The workman hesitated to take it, saying, "My hands are not clean, sir." "I know," replied the minister, "but your heart is clean." Years later, when the minister had died, that man called on his widow to tell her how, through the years, those words of her husband, and the way they were said, had been his inspiration to keep his heart clean.

How shall we measure the value of our gifts to God? By their size? The size of the canvas does not indicate the value of the painting, or the length of years the value of a life.

We are tempted to undervalue the good things we try to do and to refrain from action because we seem to have so little to give. We forget that Christian service is measured by quality, not by quantity. Life would be utterly unfair if the value of our gifts depended on the amount of our possessions, or the extent of our opportunities. Whatever our gifts, large or small, it is possible to put into them the best we have and then leave it to God to use them as He will.

As we turn our thoughts away from the Summer vacation to the work we are committed to, we can open and prepare our hearts by putting our possessions and our talents into God's hands to use. In this way we can ready ourselves to have the Holy Spirit dwell within each one of us. Wherever people put themselves and all they have into the wise direction of the Loving God, there is the heart-dwelling where God can feel at home!

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men; He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds, so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee. To doctors and nurses grant tender hearts and healing hands, and give health again in body and soul, for Thy tender mercy's sake. Amen.
(H. F. Tomlinson)

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—In 1957 I had a serious heart attack which was followed by another, and I became very weak so that I could not write a letter. In the Spring of 1958 I began to get stronger and about that time I heard of your healing services at St. Stephen's and decided to attend. My family was worried about me but I was not afraid. My Rector drove me to your service. It was all I could do to walk up to the Altar Rail. When I returned to my pew, a terrible darkness came over me and I felt I was about to die. Then, all of a sudden, came a heavenly light that was so bright, I thought I was in heaven. I then realized I was healed and I wanted to be alone and rejoice. A month later I was able to drive my car to Church. So many need Christian healing. I thank you.—Mrs. A. P. Q. (Ocean City, Maryland).

From a Washington, D.C. lady comes the following letter: "Do you still have the little booklet, 'Healing, The Gift of God'? If so, please send me a dollar's worth. I give them to sick persons. They help much more than flowers."

Nikita Khrushchev

Many people have asked the Rector about our attitude as Christians toward the visit of Nikita Khrushchev, to our country. My suggestion is that every Christian pause for a few minutes each day and give all your love to God in a little prayer of trust and gratitude, and then ask God to send a flood of His vast heavenly Love through you straight out toward all the forces of evil in this world both in this country and in Russia.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit and the true motive. WITH OUR GRATITUDE

Words are inadequate vehicles to express to all the women of St. Stephen's Church our appreciation for the wonderful help and service rendered to our guests at the recent International Conference on Spiritual Healing. To Mrs. Madeline Keller and her fine group of workers who were responsible for the Tea and Reception in the Community House on the three afternoons of the Conference, and for the expert handling of over 150 people who attended the supper on Tuesday night, and for the most important help given by members of the O.S.L. in the work of registration, ushering and information, we are deeply indebted. To Mr. George Riley of the Phila. Bulletin, who gave such good newspaper coverage and who sent a full report to the religious news service that will result in all the religious magazines and hundreds of newspapers throughout the country receiving the account of the Conference, we are deeply grateful. We express again, to one and all, our thanks, with the prayer for God's blessings upon us all as we work together.

PRAYERS—Cont'd from last week's Bulletin

Grace Before Food.—Father, we thank Thee for home, and for love, and for this food together. Amen.

For Peace.—Almighty God, from whom all thoughts of truth and peace proceed; kindle, we pray Thee, in the hearts of all men the true love of peace; and guide with Thy pure peaceful wisdom those who take counsel for the nations of the earth; that Thy Kingdom may go forward, until the earth be filled with the knowledge of Thy love, as the waters cover the sea; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
(Francis Paget)

Day Returns.—O God, as the day returns for us with the petty round of irritating duties, help us to perform them with laughter and kind patience. Let cheerfulness abound with industry. Give us to go blithely on our business all this day; bring us to our resting beds weary and content and un-dishonored, and grant us in the end the gift of sleep. Amen. (Robert Louis Stephenson)

Day's End.—Now may the blessings of the Lord rest upon all His people in every land, of every tongue. Lord meet in mercy all who seek Him. Lord comfort all that suffer and mourn. May the Lord hasten His coming, and give us and all His people peace, both now and evermore. Amen. (War Time Prayers)

BIBLE CLASS

Miss Yeakle's Bible Class will begin its Fall classes this Sunday, September 27th, at 4 P.M. in the Community House. All are welcome.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—I had a bad abscess in my ear which caused a punctured ear drum. The ear specialist couldn't promise that all the hearing would return in that ear. I was very concerned about it, and came down to your healing service. I was so sure that I would then be healed that I didn't even send my name to the Prayer Fellowship. My hearing became perfect, which is very unusual after having had a punctured ear drum. So now I would like to have my thanks offered up in your Church. I am very grateful and happy.—M. H. (Philadelphia).

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958, we set out to air condition the Church and two of our office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the Church lighting, and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our friends and members to underwrite the expense during a three-year period.

The cost of this project amounted to $42,272.92. The air conditioning cost $19,204.00. The improved lighting and electrical work cost $6,500.00. The repairing of the pews and tile flooring cost $3,362.55. The painting and marble work cost $12,933.60.

One hundred and thirty persons pledged $31,265.78. The amount paid in is $25,386.28. We have borrowed the balance to pay for the completed work.

We have two more years to raise the balance of $16,886.64; $6,000.00 of which has been pledged.

We acknowledge a contribution toward the Anniversary Improvement Fund from Mrs. Cora M. Cooke.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Spiritual Healing at St. John's Church, York, Pa., on Sunday evening, September 27th, through Tuesday, the 29th.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence whenever in need and wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

O Lord most holy, O Lord most mighty; O loving Father, Thee would we be praising alway. Help us to know Thee, know Thee and love Thee; Father grant us Thy truth and grace; guide and defend us. Rule Thou our wilful hearts, keep Thine our wandering thoughts; in all our sorrows, let us find our rest in Thee. And, in temptation's hour, save, thru' Thy mighty power; Thine aid O send us; hear us in mercy. Show us Thy favor, so shall we live and sing praise to Thee.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—A few weeks ago I attended the Thursday Healing Service, and as I went to kneel at the Altar Rail, I prayed God to forgive me of my sins, and make me a better wife and mother. You put your healing hands on my head and prayed. When you passed on to the next person, I felt something press down on my head with a terrible force. Then, inside of the back of my head something was torn apart. When I left the Altar Rail I felt an unearthly peace. For a long time back my head was in a very painful condition, so that I could not sleep on the back of my head. Now I can, thanks to God. And thank you for your healing hands.—M. H. (Camden, N. J.)

GOD'S RHYTHM

Jesus was never in a hurry. He began each waking day with His Father, and so picked up God's rhythm, the strong rhythm of seasons which move surely toward the harvest. You find no scurry-about where Jesus was. He knew where He was going, just as Summer moves steadily towards Autumn. He is always moving in the direction which pleases His Father—toward the harvest. And you sense Jesus' assurance that the Father will give Him the guidance and the strength necessary for the next step. This is one of the amazing secrets which the followers of Jesus learn. They begin each day with their Father, and pick up His rhythm, as Jesus did. They learn to have confidence that God will show the way through every event. They simply place each day in God's hands, for Him to order; and they know that His infinite power and love will flow into them as long as they keep on His way.

Evelyn Underhill writes: "If you have ever been down in the engine room of a great liner, you will have noticed the long, slow, smooth motion, the unhurried pace of the engine, and felt the sense of quiet, irresistable power with which the ship is driven on her course . . . there is no hurry, no fuss . . . and then, perhaps, you have been on deck when the ship is discarging cargo, and the air has been filled with the tug-tug-tug of the little donkey-engine, all bustle and fuss, with an air of tremendous importance lifting out a bit of luggage or a barrel . . . Do not use the donkey-engine for your prayers; or, if you really must, do realize that the donkey-engine does not move the propellers." The ship's engine has the rhythm of God, moving with unhurried power toward the goal.

Have you discovered this secret, and put it to work in your own life? Then you know that you have the strength, always, to become what God wants you to be. Deepen and fortify your discovery, read St. Mark's Gospel, thoughtfully. And you will find out how patient Jesus is with every disciple, including you! He never expects you to become all that He wants, this minute. So you need not be impatient with yourself if your progress is as gradual as the seasons, or as deliberate as the pace of the mighty ship's engine. All God's creations take a bit of time. As someone has written, "It takes nine months to make a natural baby, would it be surprising if it takes nine years to make a supernatural baby?"

Just pick up God's rhythm each morning, and go joyfully and strongly into the day. God's whole universe will back you up!

The Rector will give the opening prayer at the First Eastern Regional Institute of the American Association of Hospital Accountants, at the Ben Franklin Hotel, on October 5th.

We extend our heart-felt thanks to Mr. Edward W. G. Borer for his generous gift to the Burd School of an R.C.A. Color T.V. Set.

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P.M.

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the Annual Appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year, under the able leadership of Mrs. Anna W. Hauger, the Benevolent Society sent 6,446 pieces of sewing to the hospitals as follows: Episcopal, 396; Jefferson, 5924; Visiting Nurse Society, 126.

Six hundred dollars will just about cover the estimated cost for the Season 1959-60. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals which desperately need the finished articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers, whose contributions have come in during the past few months; part of the time in which the Bulletin is not printed: Sara Grabel, Miss Eva Hansen, Mildred Leach, Wilhelmina P. Sachs, Dr. & Mrs. C. Arthur Scott, Mrs. Edith S. Taylor, Nicholas L. Todd, Margaret G. Trim, Mrs. William F. Wahl, Mrs. Charles C. Wells, Mrs. V. S. Wells, Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Mrs. Earl A. Riggs.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly pray: "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "All things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that Thy will for our lives may be revealed to us in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine upon the walls of thine house; thy children like the olive branches round about thy table. Lo, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord. The Lord from out of Sion shall so bless thee, that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperity all thy life long. Yea, that thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

Dear Dr. Price:—Truly God led me to you last month. I had a talk with you about my serious inner conflict. I was at the point of nervous exhaustion. You gave me a series of meditations and prayers on healing. I began immediately to follow your instructions three times a day. I went to the Altar during your healing service. God has given me a truly spiritual healing. The relationship between my parents and myself has improved tremendously. There is no longer the constant frustration but instead I am accepting the tasks of each day as they come. My physical health has improved greatly and God has opened many doors of service to me.

—Florence Franke (Buffalo, N. Y.)

MAN'S INTERRUPTIONS

Jesus was never in a hurry. Even on that urgent trip to Jairus' house, He had time to pause and give healing and comfort to a woman who had long been sick. Jesus was forever being "interrupted"—stopping for eager Matthew up in the sycamore tree, pausing to answer the question of some eager seeker.

Robert Frost in "Time To Talk" pictures that capacity for pausing:

"When a friend calls to me from the road,
And slows his horse down to a meeting walk,
I don't stand still and look around

And shout from where I am, 'what is it?'
No, not as there is time for talk.
I thrust my hoe in the mellow ground,
Blade-end up and five feet tall,
And plod; I go up to the stone wall
For a friendly visit."

You see, the farmer did not think of his friend's appearance as an interruption at all, but as a welcome enrichment of the day; a refreshing chance for friendly talk, exchange of views, enjoyment of each other. That shrewd farmer may have discovered that there is always time in the day to do everything that God wants done. I often remember a wise friend, to whom I had insisted that I had more to do in a day than I could possibly manage. He simply observed that I must be doing a lot of things that God did not want done. That brought me up short!

If you live in the country, you know that on the farm, the chores are never completely done. But the seasoned farmer knows which are the vital tasks, which must be done—tending his crops, helping his wife, caring for his animals. He does these first, regardless of weather or his mood. The other chores he does if and when he can. By putting God's chores first, he has time to visit with his friend.

Jesus always had time to "visit." Do people think of you that way, as they thought of you? Have they found you as one who, when they approach, stops work with a warm welcome and smile? The friends of Jesus learned that His capacity to pause and "visit" to regard man's interruptions as God's opportunities. They know that one of these moments of friendly comfort can lift the visitor out of despair into courage, out of loneliness into the knowledge that God's love is close about them. Such a brief visit is often the most important chance that comes to you from God's hand in that whole, long day.

Mr. I Smith Raspin will address the women of St. Stephen's Evening Branch in the Parish House on Monday, October 12th, at 7:30 P.M.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958 we set out to air condition the Church and two of the office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the lighting, and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our friends and members to underwrite the expense during a three-year period.

We gratefully acknowledge a contribution toward this fund by Miss Margaret P. Tappen.

MEETINGS FOR WOMEN

There are three groups of women in this parish which will meet regularly for monthly meetings this year. The first is for those who are free to attend meetings during the day and Mrs. Elizabeth Price is the President this year. They meet on the third Thursday of each month at 11 A.M. The second group is for the business and professional women, for people who are not free to attend daytime meetings. This group meets on the 2nd Monday of each month. Miss Ann Snow is the President. The third group is for the Hard of Hearing women and meets on the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays at 3 P.M. Mrs. Theodore Bechtel is the President. All the women of the congregation are cordially invited to become a part of one of the groups.

The Rector will speak at the University of Life Series, held in the First Methodist Church, Germantown, Sunday, October 11th, at 7:45 P.M.

The Rector will speak to the New Brunswick District Methodist Preacher's Meeting at Island Heights, N. J. on Monday morning, October 12th.

ST. LUKE'S DAY is celebrated each year on October 18th. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician. We will have a special service commemorating St. Luke next Sunday at 11 A.M. We are extending an invitation to the doctors and nurses of our Mid-City hospitals to join with us in this annual service.

The Prelude: Blessed Are Ye Faithful Souls .....Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor and security and pleasure, and even life itself, for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost as we gain in our likeness to Thee. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—This coming Fall will be seven years since I brought my daughter, Marie, to your healing service. She had a malignant tumor on the brain. You placed your hands upon her head and prayed for her healing. The doctors gave her ten days to live. Now, after seven years, she is well, married and has two lovely children. We are Roman Catholics. I have broadened my view on life through much reading and trying to understand God's way for us. I am so pleased with the outcome of my daughter's health! Thank you for your help.—F. P. (Baltimore, Maryland).

WELCOME TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and nurses and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors and nurses in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body, that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of fellow has a germ than what kind of germ has a fellah."—Shattuck

"'Tis not the body, but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Emmanuel Church, Boston, Sunday evening, October 18th through Tuesday, the 20th.

STATEMENTS BY LEADING AMERICAN DOCTORS

(In Emily Gardiner Neal's Book "GOD CAN HEAL YOU NOW")

Dr. Howard Craven, Washington, D.C.—"If we are to be honest, we have to face the truth that a large number of remarkable healings appear to be taking place without medical or surgical intervention. Many of these cannot be categorized as purely psychosomatic. Experience seems to justify the belief that spiritual healing completes the chain that welds the patient into an integrated, whole, happy, well, unit."

Dr. Albert Reissner, Brooklyn Psychoanalyst.—"More and more of us are becoming convinced of two things: First, that man is a trinity composed of body, mind and spirit; and, second, that the underlying cause of most disease is spiritual. We have observed that unless a healing of the spirit takes place, the cure of the body or mind is not apt to be either complete or permanent."

Dr. William Reed of Bay City, Michigan.—"Today there is a new awareness that in the close co-operation between the Church and medicine lies a new, great kind of care of illness that brings Christ into His proper place in the thinking and activities of both groups. We are learning through spiritual healing that Christ has a message for physicians which must be listened to."

Dr. Evarts Loomis of Southern California.—"I have noticed repeatedly in my practice that the extent of a physical healing seems to depend on the change in the spiritual life of the patient which goes with prayer and meditation. On several occasions when a patient was not making satisfactory progress, I have prayed with him either verbally or silently, whether he be Catholic or Protestant, in office, or hospital room. Almost invariably improvement has followed."

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, who conducted an investigation on spiritual healing several years ago, reported: "Christian Healing has passed beyond the stage of experiment, and its value cannot be questioned. Spiritual Healing no longer is the hope of the few, but the belief and practice of a large and rapidly increasing number of persons."

The Prelude: A Mighty Fortress ..... Buxtehude

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Christian religion is one of joyful hope, not of helpless resignation; of ardent expectation, not of gloomy despair. This assurance comes from having "reverence for Christ in our hearts as Lord", as the modern translations put it. All questions and doubts are answered in Him. Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, we pray for that living hope which comes to us through the Resurrection of the Savior. Grant that through faith He may dwell in our hearts; and so enlighten our minds that we may help others to overcome doubts and fears. Amen.

Behold now, praise the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord. Ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord, even in the courts of the house of our God. Lift up your hands in the sanctuary; praise the Lord. The Lord that made heaven and earth give thee blessing out of Sion. Behold now, praise the Lord.

The Rector dedicated a lovely green stole on October 11th, given him by two friends.

The Rector will be a speaker at the Synod Meeting of the Province of Washington in Bruton Parish Church, Williamsburg, Virginia, on Tuesday, October 27th.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1959 we set out to air condition the Church and two of the office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the lighting, and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during a three-year period.

We gratefully acknowledge a contribution toward this fund by Mabel Meek.

THE WAY OF JESUS

Jesus led His friends into adventure. He still does. He has never had any use for trudging along in old ways simply because they were familiar and easy. He did not cling to known paths because they were safe, and the time came in His life history when He turned toward Jerusalem, willing to die if it were necessary; not knowing just what did await Him in the ancient city. So he took the path into the unknown. His friends and relatives thought He was mad!

Two weeks ago Monday was the anniversary of the discovery of the Western World. Christopher Columbus could easily have trudged along a safe path. Son of a weaver, he had followed his father's vocation. But his content was disturbed by the rumors of undiscovered lands. So he took to the sea, set sail from Spain in August, 1492, with a frightened crew who did not relish the idea of sailing over the horizon's rim. Most people thought he was crazy.

Each of us has opportunities to venture into the unknown. Deep within us struggle two desires, the first, the old human liking for familiar paths; the other, a child's eagerness for exploration. Both desires have their rightful places in God's plan, for there must be those who stay home and tend shop while others launch forth; and God also expects every adventurer to walk part of his time in the familiar paths.

One thing is sure—the Way of Jesus always leads to adventure; sooner or later. It may be adventure of the spirit within the narrowness of the sick bed; or in the small country town where you are born. Or it may take you clean away from familiar faces and places, to tackle a new life. Adventure you will have if you follow Jesus!

After all, why did they crucify Him? Simply because He challenged the old and cherished ways. For centuries people had been trained to observe certain special, strict rules of cooking and eating and fellowship. Now Jesus declared that these ancient rules were outgrown, and He bade men to follow Him, into rich, undiscovered areas of public kindness and trust.

People may say that you are "cracked" if you courageously practice the gentle compassion of Jesus and love unlovely people, or trust God through thick and thin. When they show their scorn of your "Kingdom-ways", just remember that you are in the very best company! They called Columbus "crazy", and they called your Master and Savior a crazy devil. Howard Thurmen has clearly pictured that the adventurer is the really practical man:

"It is madness to sail a sea that has Never been sailed before,
To look for a land, the existence
Of which is a question.

If Columbus had reflected thus,
He would never have weighed anchor,
But with this madness he discovered
A new world."

1517 — REFORMATION DAY — 1959

On October 31st, 1517, a young Augustinian Monk named Martin Luther, posted on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgencies by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as the Reformation. The Anniversary of this event is observed among Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon the fundamental Christian conviction. October 25th will be observed throughout the world as "Reformation Sunday."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote you from Jamestown, R. I., requesting prayers to Almighty God by your 105 dedicated persons in your Prayer Fellowship, for my husband's badly infected eye. The doctor said that he had Iritis, and might lose the sight of his eye and that it might be necessary to administer an artificial fever to burn out the infection. Several days after I wrote you, his eye began to heal—and it was not necessary to give him a high fever. At present his eye is completely well! I cannot express in words how grateful to Almighty God and how thankful I am for your Mission of Healing.—Mrs. C. R. P. (Philadelphia).

You are invited to attend the Bohlen Lectures, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday evenings at 8 P.M., October 27th - 29th, to be given by the Most Reverend and Right Honorable The Archbishop of York, Arthur Michael Ramsey, D.D., who will lecture on "The Bible Today" at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse Square.

The Prelude: O What Their Joy ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"I believe in God, and the life everlasting" is a most marvelous statement of faith. The two parts of it are inseparable; one is meaningless without the other. To doubt God's willingness or power to give us eternal life is to limit Him so that He is no longer God. We cannot fight the good fight of faith except we first "lay hold on eternal life." Eternal Father, we are Thine, now and in eternity; and those whom we have "loved and lost awhile" are both Thine and ours, if we are Thine. Strengthen us in a healthy hope of everlasting life through our confidence in Thee. Amen.

Anthem: There Shall Be No Night There ..... Wood

And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. In the midst of the street thereof and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. There shall be no more curse, nor pain, nor death. But the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein, and His servants shall serve Him, and they shall see His face. There shall be no night there; and they need no lamp, nor light of the sun; for the Lord God shall give them light and they shall reign forever and ever.

MOTHERS' MEETING ANNUAL BAZAAR AND LUNCHEON

Mrs. Elizabeth Hallowell wishes to announce that on Thursday, November 5th this annual affair will be held this year; starting at 11:30 A.M. Come one, come all, and help this worthy part of St. Stephen's work.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening at 7:30 P.M. He will speak to the clergy of Pottstown on Monday, at 11 A.M. He will address the Married Couples Club of All Saints' Church, Wynnewood, on Friday night.

WHAT IS A SAINT?

This Sunday is All Saints' Day. But what is a "saint"?

To a modern Church member, a saint is someone pictured in a stained glass window, probably a heroic life, a shining figure in Christian history. But St. Paul thinks of all members of the Christian community as saints—every Christian a saint! He considers them all as called to holiness by the love of God.

The revised version translates the first verse of Ephesians, ". . . to the saints who are all so faithful." In other words, some saints were faithful to their calling, and some were not—just as in our own day. But all were saints, for in accepting membership in God's Church, they had responded to His love, and had committed themselves to the great calling of living under His command, in His way of loving-kindness, of holiness. Some really worked at being saints; and some did not—just as in 1959! But all were called saints, for they had accepted His way.

On All Saints' Day you and I look back gratefully to especial older people in our childhood; and their memories shine like stars in the night sky. Some shine brighter than others—those who let God's love shine purely through their lives. They are the first-magnitude stars in our skies. One remembers a father and mother who loved God so much that we were all in Church together every Sunday, worshipping Him with joy. One remembers meeting God's love, through the week, in their kindness and patience. One remembers the minister in those childhood days, who loved humble people just a little more than he did the mighty; and so he gave us a glimpse of Jesus. Or a school-teacher, with compassion; or a friendly gardener, who always had time for a small boy; or a store keeper, or a postman, or a maiden aunt. They were people who made a child feel like a person they respected and loved—just as Jesus did. Back of these choice of saints was the caring God who lighted their lives.

Katharine Marshall, in writing her husband's biography, came to a point where she was stuck. She just wasn't telling the living story of Peter Marshall. After deep thought and praying, she "saw immediately what was wrong . . . the hero of the biography had to be God—not Peter Marshall . . . what Peter Marshall alone had done was not important; what God had done through him—a man with faults like the rest of us—was important. Jesus Christ would have to tower as the central Figure of the book I saw that the life of no human being has lasting significance apart from his relationship with God."

On All Saints' Day we shall especially thank God for those saints who were so close to God, that, through them, He became real to us.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—You may be wondering about my condition since my phone call to you. On Sept. 21st I had a blood test and the sugar content was 250. The doctor said, "You are definitely diabetic." The normal content is 80-110. After your Prayer Fellowship started praying for me, and with my own spiritual efforts, this is what happened—16 days after, when I had my 2nd blood test, it was 104. So, I am normal. I shall always be thankful to our dear Lord, who led my feet to St. Stephen's in February, 1955, and shall ever hold, with deep affection, your kindly hand, that unlocked for me the City of God's healing power, and led me in.—Rev. J. D. (Michigan).

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from all conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace of which Jesus said, "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this gift. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—I want to thank your Prayer Fellowship for their prayers two years ago for my endurance through testing, and for my family. I want to witness to the complete transformation of my 17 year old daughter, who had been held in bondage by terrible phobias, obsessions, interferences which had threatened to destroy us all for more than 12 years. Also, I want to witness to our Lord's work in sustaining in radiance (after curing her of asthma) our younger daughter, aged 11, during this period.
—Mrs. H. C. (Marietta, Ohio).

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1959 we set out to air condition the Church and two of the office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the lighting, and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during a three-year period.

We gratefully acknowledge a contribution towards this fund by Mrs. Kate Wurster.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE FOR THE PARISHIONERS OF ST. STEPHEN'S

"If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them."—St. John 13:17.

Many of us wonder honestly, and ask objectively,—"Why should I give money for the support of St. Stephen's?" The statement below, if read carefully, will help to provide an answer for each of us in his or her own conscience!

When we do find the answer we are sure to realize that it is related to our own personal interest and participation in the Church's work. The future of St. Stephen's will be a most happy one when all of us have worked out the answer individually as well as collectively.

WORSHIP

Let us see today if we fully understand and appreciate the significance to others, as well as to ourselves individually, of the services of worship which our support is making possible at St. Stephen's.

"The Chief End of Man", wrote St. Augustine, "is to worship God and enjoy Him forever." There is no activity at St. Stephen's that is more important than worship. Here, at your Parish, prayers and offerings are raised to God 365 days every year. There are few Parishes in the entire Church that maintain as varied and intensive a schedule of worship services as does St. Stephen's. A few statistics may be interesting!

In one year, 1958, we had:

190 Holy Communion Services
424 Non-Communion Services; i.e. Morning Prayer, Evening Prayer, Noonday Preaching Services, Healing Services, etc.
48 Private Communion Services in homes and hospitals.

These figures make us realize the tremendous importance that St. Stephen's places on worship. All of us realize how important these services are to us individually. All of us bring the burdens, joys, questions, and gratitudes of our lives before God in these moments. Yet, we at St. Stephen's are more than a Parish Church—We are at a crossroads of the world. We are proud and grateful for the great spiritual tradition of America which St. Stephen's so uniquely symbolizes for the constant and increasing flow of our own people as well as those from abroad. Literally thousands have been part of our life here through these services—people known and loved by our Lord though anonymous to you. Fifty-five thousand people attended our worship services in 1958.

Behind the statistics is something of profound importance—the definition of worship! Worship is a compound word composed of

WORTH + SHIP = WORSHIP

That to which we really give worth in our daily lives is what we worship. To what are you devoted?

What occupies your silent thoughts and meditations?
What would you work and sacrifice for?
What do you willingly spend your money on and gladly give your money to?
Answer these questions and you will show yourself what you really worship!

It is the Church's joy to point out energies, devotions and resources to the will of God. This we seek to do in worship at St. Stephen's. How important is our worship to you? Is it worth your support?

We wish to express our thanks to these helpers of the Benevolent Society's work: J. Lewis Armstrong, Mr. & Mrs. James Ashbrook, Mrs. Gertrude Berger, Miss Rita Catalano, Mrs. Jean Dillon, Mrs. John C. Funck, Clara Gettlemoyer, M. E. Gilbert, Martha Guillermet, L. Hamilton, Mrs. Rex Herder, Mr. & Mrs. Johnson, Mr. & Mrs. Wilson Leithead, F. Mangold, Mr. & Mrs. B. Miles, Nellie V. Miller, Mrs. Mabel B. EVENING BRANCH of the Episcopal Churchwomen will have their meeting in the Parish House on Monday, Nov. 9th, at 7 P.M. Important business and speaker.

The Chapel for the Hard of Hearing wishes to thank all who helped and contributed in making this year's Bazaar a success. The profit from the Bazaar is $1,870.31.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We live in the present. The past is gone and cannot be changed. If we are anxious for the morrow, we attempt to live the future today. Why add the burden of the morrow to that of today? "Cast all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you." We confess, Heavenly Father, that we often commit the folly of being anxious and worried. Renew a right Spirit within us and endow us with perfect trust. Give us assurance of Thy wisdom and goodness. Dear Dr. Price:—For almost ten years I have had increasing poor hearing in my right ear. Somehow this did not enter into my prayers as I knelt at the Altar at the healing service last week—most of my prayers were directed towards other persons whose names I gave your Prayer Fellowship. Now I must witness to the change and cure of my deafness. Thursday night I wakened—a stirring in my right ear! Something cleared up. I just thought something sort of popped—and soon went back to sleep. The next day I realized I was hearing fully with my right ear. It is now four days and I still do. God's mysterious ways! Thank you for your ministry which brought a blessing to me. I needed that blessing. I sell books—and must hear.

—L. LeB. W. (Arlington, Mass.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing at St. Stephen's Church, Wilkes-Barre, Sunday evening through Tuesday, Nov. 15th-17th, inclusive.

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 15th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by pledges, the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1960. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the annual rededication and pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

YOUR PLEDGE IS A RELIGIOUS ACT

Our Lord talked about money because it is important. Nothing reveals the state of your mind more clearly and more accurately than your attitude toward your possessions.

Your money is, in a very real way, yourself. Let me put it this way—If you earn $10.00 a day—a $10 bill is a day of your life, much more than just symbolically. It represents a day of your skill, intelligence, energy, a day of YOU . . . Put it in a slot machine—the day is wasted. Lay it on the Altar—it is your offer of a day of yourself to God.

The leaders of our Church at a recent General Convention held in Florida have urged every Episcopalian to consider the Biblical practice of tithing. You may ask "What is Tithing?"

Tithing is an open-hearted act of living gratitude. It is the result of a Christian decision to say: "Thank You, Lord" each day in a faithful way for the countless blessings which come from Him—including the precious gift of life itself.

The ancient Biblical Tithe was a straight ten percent of all that a person received.

The modern Tithe asks each Christian person or family to give: five percent for the Lord through the Church, as an act of self-giving in obedience to the first and great Commandment. And, five percent to charity for the needs of others—in Christian obedience to the second and great Commandment.

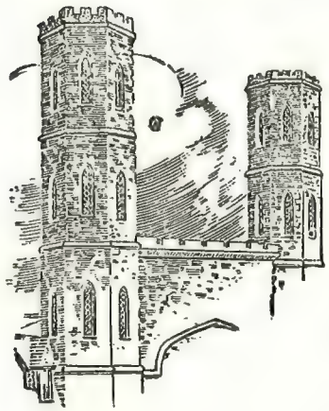
NEXT SUNDAY EVENING at 8 O'Clock, A SPECIAL MUSICAL SERVICE

St. Stephen's Choir, augmented, together with an instrumental ensemble of 11 members of the Philadelphia Orchestra, will render one of the finest and deeply moving Cantatas of J. S. Bach. The Choir alone will sing a beautiful Advent Anthem called "He Comes To Us." The music that these two compositions represent is designed to prepare all of us for the coming of Christ at Christmastide. Bach's Advent Cantata "Sleepers Wake!" is based upon Hymn No. 3 in our Hymnal, a mystic poem by Philip Nicolai. It, in turn, is based upon several passages in the Bible, namely, Matt. XXV, 1-13; Rev. XIX, 6-9; I Cor. II, 9; Ezek. III, 6-7; Isaiah LII, 8 . . .

We hope you will take advantage of this unusual opportunity to participate in a beautiful, religious experience. Bach's greatness rests, basically, in his love for and devotion to the Church, and his tremendous output of music for the Church must be considered one of our most priceless treasures. It is unfortunate that the institution for which he lived and worked so nobly (The Church) knows and understands him the least. Won't you help us to correct this grievous misunderstanding by attending the service next Sunday evening. You will help yourself to a better understanding of the music, and of the Advent and Christmas Seasons if you will read and think about the above mentioned hymn and passages of Scripture.

And, keep in mind another Special Musical Service for Advent—on DECEMBER 13th, at 8 P.M. Mr. Henzel has arranged another fine musical treat for us.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING holds its Fall In-Gathering Wednesday, November 18th, 8 P.M. at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse Square. The Rt. Rev. J. B. Bentley of the National Council is the speaker. Purchase tickets for the dinner just preceding through the Church House; reservations at $1.50 must be made. Mrs. Wilson Leithead will present the offering of this Parish.



The Rector addressed the students of Penn State University last Sunday night, and the Presbyterian Clergy of the Philadelphia area at Monday noon.

SPECIAL SERVICE OF MUSIC FOR ADVENT

8:00 P. M.

The Prelude: Choral Prelude—"Sleepers Wake" ..... J. S. Bach

Processional Hymn 544 ..... St. Cecilia

Opening Sentences

Lord's Prayer

Anthem: "He Comes To Us" ..... Jane M. Marshall

He comes to us as One unknown, without a name, as of old, by the lakeside He came, to those men who knew Him not. He speaks to us, He speaks the same word: "Follow thou me!" and sets us to the tasks which He has to fulfill for our time. He commands. And to those who obey Him, whether they be wise or simple, He will reveal Himself in the toils, the conflicts, the sufferings, which they shall pass through in His fellowship, and, as an ineffable mystery, they shall learn in their own experience who He is.

Apostles' Creed and Prayers

Offertory Hymn 391 ..... St. Flavian

Cantata No. 140 ..... J. S. Bach

Stanza I (Choral Fantasia)

Sleepers wake! for night is flying
The watchmen on thy walls are crying;
Awake! Thou city of Jerusalem!
Hear ye now ere comes the morning,
The midnight call of solemn warning:
Where are ye, O wise virgins, where?
Behold the Bridegroom comes
Arise, and take your lamps. Alleluia!
Yourselves prepare, Your Lord draws near,
He bids you to his marriage feast.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Come, Savior of the Heathen ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—To pray for the coming of God's kingdom is to dedicate your self to the task of bringing it about. The first duty is to bring your own personal life into conformity with the principles of the Kingdom, then to use your God-given talents in His service. Lord, help us to make our prayers genuine and not a mere repetition of words. Amen.

Processional Hymn 462 ..... Munich
Kyrie, Hymnal No. 709 ..... Willan
The Anthem: "Father, Once More Within Thy Holy Place" ..... Matthews

Father, once more within Thy holy place we bring the sins which, kneeling, we confess, not worthy yet to look upon Thy face, yet loath to rise until Thy hand doth bless. Father, once more within Thy house of hope, we turn to find a glad release; in Thy forgiveness there is strength to cope with all that robs the spirit of Thy peace. Father, once more within Thy house of prayer we kneel before Thee at the open way; and leaving both our hopes and burdens there, we wait till Thou shalt teach us how to pray. Father, once more within Thy house of praise, we bring our gifts to Thee, from whom they came; we lift our hearts, and our hasannas raise to welcome Him who cometh in Thy name.

Growth is progressing, and no operation nor medical treatment is required. May I take this opportunity to thank your Prayer Fellowship for helping bring God's and Robby's lives closer.—P. S. SPECIAL ADVENT MUSICAL SERVICE — DECEMBER 8th at 8 P. M.

Our organist, Mr. John H. Henzel, will present the John Bartram High School Concert Choir in a rendition of "St. Nicolas" by Benjamin Britten. Accompanist at the organ will be Richard M. Marcus.

THIS ONE THING

You can go out today and joyously say to a friend, "I'm so happy,—I have only one thing left to do before Christmas!" How?

Hosts of nice people are right now in a most awful dither. Christmas cards to send; presents to get; a major house-cleaning before the super-tidy aunt and uncle arrive. And a Christmas dinner, plus . . . It sounds pretty heavy; and it is, if you look at it that way.

But you and I have decided to put God at the center of our Christmas. After all, we should be more concerned about Him than about the aunt and uncle who keep their home so lily-neat, and expect us to also. Supposing you say to Jesus, "Will you please go over my Christmas-card list with me?" You will find yourself crossing off half the names, and sending only to those who are lonely or suffering or forgotten, and those with whom you have shared God's love, and a few beloved relatives. And that list of presents you are going to give in Jesus' name—you will cross off a few people who are already rich in things. And, at Jesus' prompting, you will add a lonely shut-in (you know just what magazine he wants), and a bereaved family having rough sledding (a box of clothes); and for one who looks to you for God's strength, just the right book of victorious faith.

And that Christmas dinner. God may whisper to you the names of a couple of people who deeply need your invitation—a stranger in a foreign land; an old, old lady whose loved ones are dead; a very shy soul who is unattractive to most people but loved by God. Once you look forward to their coming, you'll find yourself preparing Christmas Dinner with eager joy. And all through that dinner, these people will be touched by the warmth of God's love through you.

Perhaps your Christmas is going to be spent in a bed or a wheel chair. When you ask God how you can please Him by your Christmas, He will show you something that no one else can do for Him—perhaps a letter forgiving someone for an old hurt, or just a gay and friendly note overflowing with true loving kindness.

Think of little old you, saying as St. Paul did, "This one thing I do!" And finding the same wondrous release from sinful clutter and fussiness in your Christmas. The world is confused and upset with many anxieties. It can be saved only by the saving love of God, through those who let that love be made flesh and blood in them, always reminding themselves, "this one thing I do!"

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958 we set out to air condition the Church and two of the office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the lighting, and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three years.

We gratefully acknowledge a contribution toward this fund from Mrs. Susan H. Rinkers.

The Rector presented Mrs. Clara M. Whiteley for Confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on November 23rd.

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

The Instruction Class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10:00 A.M. The Rector would appreciate hearing from adults who would like, or think they would like, to be confirmed. Attendance at the classes does not obligate one to be confirmed.

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, D.C. on Sunday at 7:30 P.M. He will speak to the Baptist Clergy of Philadelphia on Monday at 11 A.M.

St. Paul goes further; the Spirit of Christ must dwell in the true Christian. Christ is the Master. The disciple must seek to be like Him. SPECIAL ADVENT MUSIC TONIGHT

Saint Nicolas was a Bishop of Myra in Asia Minor. He is known as a Patron Saint of children, seamen and travelers. Benjamin Britten, a contemporary English composer, has written a fascinating piece of music based upon the life of St. Nicolas. It will be presented in St. Stephen's Church this evening at 8 o'clock by the Concert Choir of the John Bartram High School. We sometimes need to be reminded of the spiritual and/or religious background of many of our modern institutions (Santa Claus, for instance). The young people who sing the music deserve the encouragement of a large congregation. There are approximately 110 boys and girls in the group, and their presentation is guaranteed to fill your minds and hearts and ears with much that is eminently worth your while. The Tenor Soloist is Victor Sjostrom, and accompanists are Richard M. Marcus and Joseph Parsells.

We are deeply grateful to these people who have contributed towards our "Christmas Dinners" project for this year: Florence Appel, Hazel L. Bainbridge, Mrs. Lillian Barlow, Wm. Stevens Bean, Jr., Mrs. E. S. Carll, Miss Elsie Dahl, Mrs. Lena E. Eissler, Mrs. Paul Erdman, Clarence T. Garrett, Jr., Mrs. M. La Brislin, Adele M. Lewis, Mrs. John Ludlow, Anna M. C. GOOD NEWS

Christmas isn't going to be a weary struggle for you this year. With all the resources of Almighty God at hand, you "can do all things" that need to be done.

See how it works. The early Church had a tough problem. The Romans celebrated the pagan feast of the sun-god on December 25th, a hard-drinking, unlovely feast. What could Christians do about it? Since no one knows the exact date of Jesus' birth, they made an inspired decision—they chose December the 25th for the Day. They put Jesus Christ at the heart of that day which had been so shameful; and, year by year, people turned from the sun-god to worship the Savior. The Christians stopped wearily struggling against this drunken celebration, and gave the Day into God's strong hands. He took care of it. He always does when we center on Him!

So St. Paul could declare, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." He had been inwardly exhausted by a turmoil of civil war within him—whether to hate Christ or love Him. Then he had put his brilliant mind and heart under Christ's direction, and the risen Christ worked miracles through him; made him able to do anything that neded to be done. In place of his own will, he had put the will of God. And his life became an army with banners.

And someone who reads the Bible reminds us, "But St. Paul also said, 'For the good that I would, that I do not; and the evil that I would not, that I do'." Yes, he did. The very human Paul had his moments of weakness, even after his conversion, when he slipped back into depending on his own strength. But he learned to recognize, right away, what had happened, just as a mechanic can tell why the engine of your car is running badly. St. Paul would then ask God's forgiveness, receive it; and march on again, in a strength greater than his own.

This is the good news of Christmas—that God came to earth to give us real freedom. If we are ready to go His way, we are free from slavery to evil and despair and fear. We are free from the weariness of a Christmas that leaves Christ out. For we have learned that we can do all things through Christ who strengthens us. Even in a night-marish world of today, we can approach Christmas with confident joy. For in our hearts is the gayety of those who, in place of their own blundering wills, have put the wise and wonderful will of God.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—One month has gone by since I received healing at your Altar and I am happy to report that I have been able to cut down my insulin injections by 10 units. I am hopeful that your continued prayers and my constant thanksgiving for God's healing power will completely cure my diabetes. I am grateful for the enrichment of life that has come through your ministry.—Rev. W. R. V. (Wakefield, Mass.)

Our thanks, also, to these contributors to the work of the Benevolent Society: Helen Challenger, Robert Keller.

and for Bulletin Subscriptions: Mr. & Mrs. John A. Shimp, Mrs. John C. Braun.

CONFIRMATION

There are two ways to become a member of this parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of this parish by asking the Rector of the parish where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church. The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of instruction are now under way in the Rector's study 10 A.M. Sundays. The Rite of Confirmation will be held on Sunday, January 24th, 1960 by the Rt. Rev. Oliver J. Hart, D.D., Bishop of Pennsylvania.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Greensleeves ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We are "Sons of God", for God in Christ has redeemed us. As we enlist in and for Christ's cause, we are His and therefore must live up to this profession. This sonship, in which we claim God as our Father, is a free gift of grace. As children of God we have confidence in, and dependence on Him. We thank Thee, Father, that we can, as Thy children, call Thee Father. Because we are sons we have in us all kinds of possibilities. Christ, our Brother, stands beside us as our Ideal. We need power to become "more like the Master." Grant us this strength; in Jesus' name. Amen.

Processional Hymn 2 ..... Veni Emmanuel

The Venite, Prayer Book page 9; Chant No. 608, Hymnal

Psalm 103, Page 466

Te Deum Laudamus, Prayer Book page 10; Chants 615 & 619, Hymnal

Benedictus, Prayer Book page 14; Chant No. 640, Hymnal

The Anthem: O Thou the Central Orb ..... Wood

O Thou the central orb of righteous love, pure beam of the most high, eternal light of this our wintry world, Thy radiance bright awakes new joy in faith, hope soars above. Come quickly, and let Thy glory shine, gilding our darksome heaven with rays divine. Thy saints with holy lustre round Thee move, as stars about Thy throne, set in the height of God's ordaining counsel, as Thy sight gives measur'd grace to each, Thy power to prove. Let Thy bright beams disperse the gloom of sin, our nature all shall feel eternal day, in fellowship with Thee, transforming day to souls ere-while unclean, now pure within. Amen.

The Sermon: "THE GREATNESS OF JOHN THE BAPTIST" .... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 153 ..... Ratisbone

Recessional Hymn 5 ..... St. Thomas

THE GOOD NEWS

The glory of Christmas is the joy of people who have been freed from ancient fears.

The Old Testament is shot through with those ancient fears which circled every man's heart like buzzards. Above all, there was a cowering fear of God! Men liked to think of Him as dwelling safely far away above the heights of Mount Sinai. They were willing to have Moses go there, to learn God's commandments for men. But these frightened men and women say to Moses, "You speak to us and we will hear; but let not God speak to us, lest we die." Men's skies were darkened by hovering fears—and God was the worst fear of all!

So it was natural for Mary to be afraid when the angel of God came to her with the terrifying news that with her body she would give a body to God on earth. But Gabriel reassures her, "Fear not," telling her that this was a sign that God loved her especially, and looked on her with favor. When the Shepherds looked up into the night sky to see the shining angel of the Lord, they shook with fear. But the angel quickly said, "Fear not . . ." And declared that he brought good news, of a Savior sent from God, who would free them from their fears.

Once more in the world men's hearts are today failing them for fear—and new night-mares, like the atomic bomb, are added to the old ones. Men do not know which way to turn, lest their world blow up tomorrow.

Once more the Good News sings across the night—"Fear not!" And God reminds men that, in Him, they can find a security stronger than the most dreadful threats. For God came softly and tenderly among men, as a Babe. Sigrid Undset points out that anti-Christ is always pictured as a full-grown man, who dares not stoop to make himself little and weak. But Jesus came as a Baby; and "who can be afraid of a tiny baby? . . ." He has chosen to come to us so weak and so naked in order that we may each one do something for Him. Then Jesus grew through boyhood into manhood—with a flaming anger that frightened proud and hurtful Very Important People; and a tenderness which drew boys and girls and all the humble "little people" close to Him. Sinners came and looked into His eyes, and the found forgiveness and new strength. And a transformed Paul could look at the whole pack of fears and shout, "If God be for us, who can be against us!"

Good News—God is loving. Good News—God is the Giver. "He has given us all green things and everything that blossoms and bears fruit—and all that we quarrel about and have misused. And to save us from our old foolishness and from all our sins, He came down to earth and gave Himself!

We wish to thank these contributors to "Christmas Dinners": Mrs. W. C. Bentler, Harry H. Bush, Samuel H. Chestnut, M. I. Daley, J. Phyllis Davis, Mrs. Lillian Delaney, Mrs. Mildred C. Faris, Mr. & Mrs. R. N. Fishburn, Mrs. Laura Fuir, Charles Glockner, M. Guillermet, L. Hamilton, Mr. & Mrs. Harry J. Hauger, Jim B. Herder, Mrs. R. Horsley, Frances T. Kalich, Dorothy E. THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—In August I began writing you regarding praying for B. G. (Harvard Divinity School) conversion, and later wrote that there was no sign of change. Only this week (Dec. 7th) I discovered that at the time of your prayers Bill surrendered to the Hound of Heaven. You wrote then that you "knew his every need will be met", and, of course, I too was puzzled at seemingly no change. But it did happen then and I just didn't find out until now. Praise to Him who is able to do all things!

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958 we set out to air condition the Church and two of the office rooms; to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House; and to improve the lighting and tile the floors of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three years.

We acknowledge with gratitude contributions to this fund from Mr. R. H. McCloskey in memory of Annie Lilley, and Lilley M. McCloskey (A Burd School Girl).

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "A Child Is Born" ..... Titcomb

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Sanctify them through Thy truth: Thy Word is truth." (John 17:17). We should rejoice in knowing that Christ prays for His people. These words are His prayer, uttered on our behalf. In this prayer He seeks God's favor for us that we may be endowed with divine Light and Wisdom to do God's will. Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the intercessory prayer of Thy Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ. Help us to pray with Him this prayer which gave Him strength and power to do Thy will. Teach us to say with Him: "God, I sanctify myself." Amen.

The Anthem: "The Three Kings" ..... Willan

Who knocks tonight so late, the weary porter said. Three kings stood at the gate, each with a crown on head. The serving man bowed down; the inn was full, he knew. Said he, in all this town is no fit place for you! A light the manger lit; there lay the mother meek. Said they, this place is fit: here is the rest we seek! Come in; they loosed their latchet string, so stood they all unshod. Come in, ye kings, and kiss the feet of God.

CONFIRMATION

There are two ways to become a member of this parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of this parish by asking the Rector of the parish where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church. The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of instruction are now under way in the Rector's study 10 A.M. Sundays. The Rite of Confirmation will be held on Sunday, January 24th, 1960 by the Rt. Rev. Oliver J. Hart, D.D., Bishop of Pennsylvania.

EXPECTATIONS

All men wake up in the morning expecting something. Some expect only the old, tiresome grind; some, a day boiling with worry; some expect a mixture of drudgery and joy; while still others look for a difficult but glorious march toward golden hopes. These last can look into the blackest storms with hope, because they look to the Father. As the old Psalmist put it, "My soul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from Him. He only is my Rock and my Salvation. He is my Defense. I shall not be moved."

As we grow older, there are days when we do face black clouds, and the storms pound against our souls. Yet, even there, our expectation can be from God. In 1892 young Robert Byers lay helpless in a tiny room in Adelaide, Australia. A college student of great promise as a musician, he had suddenly been stricken with paralysis. Worse than that, little by little his sight and hearing became affected, and in 14 years he was totally blind and almost deaf. All he could do was to lie motionless on his bed, and think; and talk in slow sentences with his friends who came to see him. One might think that he might stop expecting anything from life except despair. But as he faced the black night of his storm, he believed that God still had opportunity for him. One day he confided in a visitor, "I've got lots of friends, but there are other blind people (particularly children) who haven't. I'm going to see if I can't interest my friends in helping them." So he wrote to his friends, asking each to give some annual birthday gift for a needy blind child. In five years, Robert Byers, still lying motionless, blind and almost deaf, was receiving annual birthday gifts from 15 hundred friends and friends of friends; and was helping no less than eighty blind boys and girls in twenty-one different lands. And, when he died in 1926, his friends carried on that work. His expectation was from God—see what wonderful good came out of it.

January 6th will be the Feast of Epiphany, on which we remember how Jesus Christ came as the Light of the world, to shine in our dark skies with His infinite love. Dare to claim your right as a Christian—the right of expecting something glorious from God, no matter how dark and threatening your skies may be. "My soul, wait thou upon God, for my expectation is from Him."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: I am now home again from the hospital where I have been for a month of tests. The doctors say I am a medical mystery, as they can find nothing wrong. I am gradually taking up daily activities. Even though our home is in the East Sector of Berlin, I am grateful for the courage which has sustained me and my husband through two wars and many inconveniences, and many other trials. I am grateful for the sustaining influence of the spiritual assistance given by your wonderful Prayer Fellowship.—Mrs. Loepki (East Berlin, Germany).

Robert D. Morley, our flag bearer, has enlisted in the U. S. Army and is now stationed in Fort Knox, Kentucky.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report which each parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This report is made for the Calendar year. We would appreciate it if all our organizations would plan now to have such a financial report ready for the Rector not later than January 10th.

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins"—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Psalm XIX ..... Marcello

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—A thankful heart not only looks backward, but also forward with confidence. The metal mirror may dimly reflect the image or even distort it, but the perfect knowledge shall come when we see face to face. Our past and present experiences shall then appear in a new light. Heavenly Father, from Whom, for Whom and to Whom are all things, help us to realize anew that without Thee we can do nothing. Cleanse our hearts from all sin and impurity. Let us look forward hopefully to the fulfillment of Thy promises concerning those things that are to be. Amen.

Processional Hymn 22 ..... From Heaven High
Kyrie, Hymnal 708 ..... Willan
The Anthem: Darest Thou Now, O Soul? ..... Williams

Darest thou now, O soul, walk out with me toward the unknown region where neither ground is for the feet nor any path to follow? No map there nor touch of human hand nor face with blooming flesh, nor lips, nor eyes are in that land. I know it not, nor dost thou, O soul, all is blank before us, all waits undreamed of in that region, in that inaccessible land. Till when the ties loosen. All but the ties eternal, Time and space, nor darkness, nor gravitation nor any bounds bounding us. Then we burst forth, we float in time and space O soul, prepared for them, equal, equipped at last. O joy! O fruit of all! Them to fulfill, O soul.

The Sermon: NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 36 ..... Greensleeves
Sanctus, Hymnal 736 ..... Lutkin
Communion Hymn 213 ..... St. Agnes
Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal 739 ..... Old Scotish Chant
Recessional Hymn 323 ..... St. Bees

CHILDREN'S CENTER OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The Trustees of the Burd School (Rector and Vestry of St. Stephen's Church) announce that on January 1st, 1960, the Burd School for fatherless girls will enter into a three year trial period with three other Episcopal Agencies concerned with the welfare of children and unmarried mothers. Working under one management, the Burd School, The Church Home For Children, Episcopal Children's Service of Episcopal Community Service of the Diocese of Penna. (New name for City Mission), and the Sheltering Arms of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will jointly provide services for the care, maintenance, and general welfare of children and unmarried mothers, providing foster homes and adoption services, institutional care and such other related services as may be necessary. Although each of the agencies will retain its corporate form and control of its principal funds, there will be, as far as possible, common facilities and policies.

A Committee of twenty will serve as a Board of Managers for the Children's Center of the Episcopal Church. The Burd School will be represented by Mr. Edwin S. Heins, Mr. David L. German, Mr. Elmer S. Carll, Mr. Wilson Leithead and Mr. Charles K. Hay.

OUR WORLD IN MINIATURE

by Henry Smith Leiper

If in our imagination we might compress the total population of the world, now more than two-and-a-half-billion persons, into a community of one thousand persons living in a single town, the following is a picture of the contrasts we would then vividly see:

Sixty persons would represent the present U. S. population; the rest of the world would be represented by 940 persons. The 60 Americans would be receiving half of the total income of the entire community; the 940 other persons would share the remaining half.

Of the Americans in the town, 36 would be members of Christian Churches, and 24 would not. In the town as a whole, about 330 people would be classified as Christians, and 670 would not be so classified. Less than 100 in the whole community would be Protestant Christians, and more than 230 would be Roman Catholics. At least 80 people in the town would be believing Communists, and 370 others would be under Communist domination.

Classified as to skin color, 303 people would be white, and 697 would be classified as "non-white." The 60 Americans would have an average life expectancy of 70 years; all the other 940 would average under 40 years.

The 60 Americans would have 15 times as many possessions per person as all the rest of the people. On the average, they would produce 16% of the town's total food supply, but would consume all but 1.5% of what they raise and keep most of it for their own future use in expensive storage equipment. Since most of the 940 non-Americans in the community would always be hungry and would never quite know when they would get enough to eat, the situation created by this disparity in food supply and the existence of vast food reserves becomes readily apparent, particularly in view of the fact that Americans already eat 72% above the maximum food requirements. Because of the cost of storing their surplus food, they could actually save money by giving away any excess food; but many would regard that as the dangerous "giveaway" program of soft-headed "do-gooders."

Of the community's total supply of electric power, the 60 Americans would have 12 times as much as all the rest; 22 times as much coal; 21 times as much oil and gasoline; 50 times as much steel; and 50 times as much in general equipment of all kinds. Of the 60 Americans, the lowest income groups would be better off than the average in much of the rest of the town.

With the exception of perhaps 200 persons representing Western Europe and a few favored classes in other areas, such as South America, South Africa, and Australia, and a few wealthy Japanese, literally most of the non-American people in this imaginary compressed community would be ignorant, poor, hungry, and sick. Half of them would be unable to read or write.

Moreover, half of the people in this community would never have heard of Jesus Christ, or what He taught, or for what He lived and died. On the other hand, more than half would be hearing about Karl Marx, Nicolai Lenin, Joseph Stalin, Nikita Khrushchev, and other Communist leaders.

In view of these facts, it is interesting to contemplate that the average Christian American family would be indirectly (through taxes) spending at least $850 each year for military defense and less than 4 dollars a year to share their Christian faith with the rest of the people in the community.

Out of his average income of $2,500 per year, the gift of each American person for all purposes other than private and personal gifts would average less than $55 per year. This might raise a question as to how seriously he regards the Christian faith or the meaning of Christmas with the emphasis on "peace on earth and good will among men."

(Presbyterian Life, Oct., 1959)

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday night at 7:30 P.M., and will address the Manayunk Clergy Club at 5 P.M. on January 5th.

The Prelude: Prelude on "Chartres" ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Bible, as the Word of God, is man's best guide for life. It shows us the pitfalls of life, it unmasks temptations and evil, and it points out the things that are pure and of good report. This Guide shows the way home to the Father's house. O God, we thank Thee for Thy Word. Without the guidance of Thy Word the way to Thee would remain unknown, and the solution to our problems of life would be left to a blind fate. Teach us to follow more diligently the leadership of Thy Word in all things. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: Through The Dark The Dreamers Came ..... Daniels

Through the dark the dreamers came, Melchior, Balthasar, Caspar, following the flame of a Star; Via, De profundis via. But the way did not seem shadowy or long, it was brightened by a dream and a song, Gloria in excelsis, Gloria. It was worth the journeying to the weary end for they found their dream a King, a Friend. Maxima, Gloria Dei, Maxima!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It has been some time since I wrote to you for prayers. When I requested your prayers my blood pressure had been over 200 all Summer. Then it got worse and went up to 300 and I was full of sugar. Three days after hearing from you I went back to my doctor and there was no trace of sugar, and my pressure was down 100 points. It is still down and I have no sugar. However, I almost lost my eye-sight for about four weeks as a result of the high blood pressure. Now I am very thankful to say that I can see much better and am feeling fine. Thank you so much.

—M. McGee (Beaver Falls, Pa.)

The Rector will speak to the women of St. James' Church, Lancaster, Pa. on January 12th.

HEAVEN OR HELL

We are still in the midst of a long strike interrupted by an interim for further negotiations, in the steel industry. They call it a "two billion-dollar strike" because it is costing working people and management and industries outside, railroads, hardware, etc. in lost wages and dividends. Strikes are very costly. War—between nations, or in your home—is certainly a most wasteful way of trying to settle any problem. Jesus had the divine common sense of the matter when He bade His followers to have a lively concern for each other's needs and hopes—to "love thy neighbor as thyself."

As old Benjamin Franklin pointed out, "We must hang together, or we shall hang separately." Life is like that. Working-people depend upon capital, and capital depends upon working-people—and they can both prosper only if they will work intelligently shoulder to shoulder as partners. Jesus wasn't giving lovely advice—He was pointing out an eternal, hard-headed necessity when He commanded us, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

There is an unforgettable legend I like to share with you again and again—of a good man who died and went to heaven. On his arrival, he asked if he might go down for a brief visit to hell, just to look it over. Permission was granted, and a guide went with him. On their arrival, the guide took him to hell's dining room, and the good man was amazed to find a great banquet-table, loaded with food fit for a king. Then the people came in, ghastly thin like skeletons, shrieking in an agony of hunger as they saw the tempting food. Each had a long fork strapped to his right arm, and each plunged his fork into the roast beef and struggled to put it into his mouth; but it was impossible, and their dismayed groans shook the floor of hell. They were dismissed from the table, and went away, sobbing. The good man had had enough of hell; so he asked to be taken back to heaven. The guide had him there swiftly, and took him immediately to heaven's dining-hall. There the good man saw the identical banquet-table, loaded with the same rich food. And the citizens of heaven, as they strode into the hall, had exactly the same forks and knives strapped to their arms. But they were healthy, well fed, vigorous people, and were joking happily together. The good man was mystified, but his guide said, "Just wait and see." When the heavenly host was seated, suddenly each turned and faced his neighbor, speared a bit of food with the fork, and fed it to his neighbor. And the guide said, "You see, here we feed each other!"

Hell is simply that place where people think only of themselves. Heaven is any place where each thinks of his neighbor and cares for him. God grant that it may be said of your home, your town, your world, "we feed each other."

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958 we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the lighting, and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the three year period coming.

We gratefully acknowledge contributions to this fund from Mrs. Adelaide P. Shepherd and Mrs. Lillian K. Walker.

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 724 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of our States, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It cost, this past year, $40.44 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year, at a total cost, in 1959, of $1,941.12. Last year we received $765.05 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family would give $2.00 per year the cost would be met. Of course a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

We wish to thank these early subscribers: Mrs. Joseph Allen, I. D. Ponton, Russ J. Griffith, Mrs. Jay Knox, Adele M. Lewis, Mrs. Edith S. Taylor, Mrs. Adelaide Shepherd, Harry G. Thompson, Mrs. Hannah Ulrich.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind this far in its march upward and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to realize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

MR. HARRY J. HAUGER

The sudden death on Monday, January 11th of Harry J. Hauger, Vestryman, has brought sadness to St. Stephen's Church members, and takes from the parish leadership a man whose service and Christian character has contributed much to its life.

First elected to the Vestry, May 3rd, 1926, he has served as chairman of the Property Committee, Chief Usher, and acting Parish Treasurer. In the latter capacity he willingly gave a vast amount of time to his exacting task. Harry Hauger was almost indefatigable in his labors for the Church he loved. He lived and worked as though the Apostle's words, "You are not your own," were personally addressed to him. He passed from the field of earthly labor determined to serve the Lord to the end. All who knew him well recognize the loss which the Church has sustained. Our deepest sympathy goes to his wife, Anna.

The Burial Service was held in the Church at 1:30 P.M. on January 15th.

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Hart will visit our parish on Sunday, January 24th at 11 A.M. to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

LOVING YOUR ENEMIES

A very wise man once said, "The only way to get rid of your enemies is to change them into friends." Love begets love. Hate begets hate. Jesus commanded us, "Love your enemies."

This hard command was not given us by Jesus because it is "nice" to love enemies. Rather, because it is the only practical way to overcome their hostility. Gandhi proved that in India. He won freedom for his people through "love-force" alone. He transformed the former English rulers from enemies into surprised friends who loved and respected the Indian people and their leaders. We modern Church people too often forget that the way of Jesus is the only practical way, in the long run.

One night, down in Montgomery, Alabama, when the negro-bus-boycott was going forward with startling success, Martin Luther King got word that his house had been bombed. He hurried home, and, to his joy, found that his family were unharmed. But, outside, was an angry crowd, getting dangerously out of hand. Mr. King whispered a swift prayer, and went out on the front porch to those stormy-hearted people. He tells this story:

"In less than a moment there was complete silence. Quietly I told them that I was all right, and that my wife and baby were all right . . . 'If you have weapons, take them home . . . We cannot solve this problem through retaliatory violence. Remember the words of Jesus, 'He who lives by the sword will perish by the sword' . . . We must love our white brothers, no matter what they do to us. We must make them know that we love them. Jesus still cries out in words that echo across the centuries, 'Love your enemies; bless them that curse you; pray for them that despitefully use you.' That is what we must live by. We must meet hate with love. Remember, "I ended, if I am stopped, this movement will not stop. Because God is with the movement. Go home with this glowing faith and this radiant reassurance."

There was no violence in Montgomery that night, after that speech. Jesus, through Martin Luther King, had stilled the stormy anger of that crowd just as He stilled the waves on the stormy lake of Galilee.

The amazing result of loving your enemies is that you have peace in your heart. Even under oppression and suffering, your heart is filled with the Peace of God. In the early days of the bus-boycott, when the negro workers had been walking long distances to work for several weeks, an elderly negro woman was asked whether she was tired. She replied, "My feet are tired, but my soul is at rest."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: My daughter, Mary, for whom I have requested prayers frequently and upon whom you laid your hands at a healing service both in Pittsburgh and at Chautauqua, has been so improved this Fall. She is able to be in Carnegie Tech. She has gained weight, and her white blood count has improved 1000 points since her last check-up in September. (The best score since the onset of her disease—Lupus Erythematosis, three years ago). Truly God has heard and answered our prayers. May He continue to bless you and your work. —S. M. (Pittsburgh, Pa.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Church of the Holy Cross, Miami, Florida, Sunday evening, January 17th, through Wednesday the 20th, and in Christ Church, Raleigh, North Carolina, January 21st and 22nd.

The Prelude: "Air" ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit. May we be able to worship Thee as we ought, with the right and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. Make us faithful to all that is fine and noble. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—I thank God for you and for each member of the Prayer Fellowship. You have so wonderfully helped us over the past years, and during this past month I have made definite progress. For the first time in 8½ years I can stand, and take a few steps without help. The balance mechanism is greatly improved. I just cannot express what it means to be nearing the end of shut-in years, God has been with me every step of the way, and you and the Prayer Fellowship have encouraged me to go on towards restoration.—J. W. (Toronto, Canada)

PRAYER FELLOWSHIP REPORT

We have finished another year in our ministry of healing in St. Stephen's Church. Devoting at least a half hour each day to pray for a long list of people may not seem a great thing for an intercessor to do, but it is quite often just the link needed for God's power to reach the one in need. We remember, with deep gratitude, that it is just the daily acts of prayer of each of our 105 intercessors, which has made the work of the Prayer Healing Fellowship as a whole possible. They have shared with us at St. Stephen's the great burden of the need of those who write to us for prayer.

The number of our regular Prayer Fellowship intercessors has reached 105, and we now have a daily chain of prayers around the clock. We have each of the 24 hours taken three times over by our 105 members. Each intercessor is disciplined to give a fixed hour each day for his prayer activity. Each needy individual is lifted up in prayer to God 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. The patient is requested to keep us informed of progress. Chronic cases may be renewed for longer periods of prayer.

During the past year 18,573 persons requested our prayers. This means that 18,573 people were remembered 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks by our prayer helpers.

We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing cooperation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Has all the prayer, faith and devotion of intercessors and friends been worth while? No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector, an average of 80 per week, are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported at the monthly meeting of the Prayer Fellowship, and in the weekly report to the members, all progress and cures are reported. There is no limit to what God can do through prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidence of His love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . for, where two or three are gathered, in My name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of Prayer can never be over-estimated.

MILK CAN

In 1959 nine hundred and fifty-three dollars and seventy-five cents ($953.75) was contributed in the Milk Can on the steps of the Church, for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. It is used to share our surplus food with people in foreign countries who are hungry.

For every dollar contributed towards this Fund we can purchase twenty dollars worth of food. In other words, our Milk Can contributed $19,060.00 to the relief of the world's needy people. Our money paid for the distribution costs, administration and transportation. The food itself comes from the U. S. store of surplus commodities. For every dollar we give 300 pounds of life-giving food is provided for hungry people abroad—more than three pounds of food for a penny.

Two thirds of the world's population are chronically undernourished, seldom knowing a day without a pang of hunger.

The Women's Aid of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing is giving a Meat Loaf Dinner in the Community House, Tuesday, January 26th, at 6 P.M. at a cost of $1.25. Benefit, Welfare Fund.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our never ending task of being Christian is to fill ourselves in unending measure of such qualities of the spirit as strength in the inner man, faith in His dear Son, knowledge that comprehends the dimensions of Love; and Love itself, that passeth all understanding. Dear Lord, we are overwhelmed when, as we behold the smallness of ourselves, we realize that we were meant to contain Thy fullness. Unto that end may we strive to be immersed in Thy Truth and Goodness, but not until we have emptied ourselves so that Thou canst replenish our hearts with every grace of Thyself completely. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to express to you and the Prayer Fellowship my gratitude for your prayers offered on my behalf. Two years ago I was stricken with a nervous disorder, diagnosed as shingles, with complications. I was in the hospital for a while and under treatment but I did not improve. Some of your literature and messages fell into my hands and I began to study them carefully. Then I wrote to you, and you assured me of your interest and prayers. The thought comforted me, and all at once I suddenly realized that I am completely myself again, and gratitude surges within my heart. I am glad that I belong to a Church that is promoting Spiritual Healing.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in Grace Church, Utica, N.Y. Sunday evening, January 31st through Tuesday, February 2nd.

The Rector will participate in a Student Forum at the Eastern Baptist College, St. David's, Pa. on Wednesday, February 3rd, at 7 P.M.

NO FEAR IN LOVE

Today I want you to meet a friend of mine. She is 5 years old, and was born with cerebral palsy. The future looked dark for Helen. She could not walk, nor swallow her food easily, or even sit in a chair without arms on it. It seemed unlikely that she would ever talk clearly. Is there any wonder that her mother was confused, disheartened?

But she reached after God, this courageous girl with Scotish ancestors. She joined a class in Church preparing for mature membership. She began to understand, and experience, the Love of God in all its warmth and wonder. She read Dale Evans' priceless little book, "Angel Unaware." She began to see that Helen's condition might be an opportunity for God's Love to be manifested, in healing, in witnessing. Helen began to make surprising progress. Last Summer she and her family went to one of those glorious "Camps Farthest Out," founded by Glen Clark. There, for a week, the whole family felt the power of Love, and the power of Prayer. They became surer than ever that, with God, anything is possible. One day the two camp leaders laid their hands on Helen's head, and prayed for God's health-giving power. They gave Helen a little prayer to say again and again to the God who is always near every one of His children.

Since those Summer days, Helen's progress has been amazing. She has actually taken several steps without holding onto any hand. She talks clearly now, and freely (ask her mother!) all day long. She feeds herself and chews her food—and her appetite is enormous. Her capacity for loving other people grows steadily. At a Church supper, or in a crowded store, she greets complete strangers as if they were life-long friends, with a glowing smile that is contagious. She used to be fearful of falling, but, today, fear no longer darkens her path.

If a child can find release from fear, so can you! There is no fear in love. All you need to do is to discipline yourself to a habit of turning away from your troubles, and toward God and the joys and troubles of others. That is all that Jesus asks of you!—To learn to love God, and your neighbor, and yourself. Learning love is the way to victory over all fear.

For it was the God—who—is—love that gave victory to Helen. Through loving people, she learned to trust her Father, to know that He is always near, sustaining, caring. One day last Autumn, she got herself up into a straight chair that had no arms. Sitting there, happy and confident, she said to her father and mother, "I cannot fall. God is sitting beside me." There is no fear in love!

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "The Celestial Banquet" .....Messien

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee; in Jesus' Name. Amen.

Processional Hymn 318 .....Hosanna

Kyrie, Hymnal #708

The Anthem: "Let All The World . . . " .....Thiman

Let all the world in every corner sing, my God and King! The heavens are not too high, His praise may thither fly; the earth is not too low, His praises there may grow . . . The Church with Psalms must shout, no door can keep them out; But above all, the heart must bear the longest part.

The Sermon: "THE MOTIVE POWER THAT NEVER FAILS" ..The Rector

Offertory Hymn 556 .....St. Andrew of Crete

Sursum Corda, Hymnal #734

Sanctus, Hymnal #736

Communion Hymn 198 .....St. Flavian

Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal #739 .....Old Scotish Chant

Recessional Hymn 310 .....London New

Flowers on our Alter today are presented by Mrs. Charles E. Campbell in memory of her family and by Mrs. George M. Bridgeman in memory of her husband.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P. M.—Vesper Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: I'm the paralyzed nurse who needed your prayers, and I am rejoicing with all who know me that I am walking and doing all my work at home, and have every confidence that some day I will nurse again. Praise God! God bless you and your intercessors. —Mrs. M. L. H. (W. Orange, N. J.)

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958 we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three year period coming.

We acknowledge a contribution to this fund in memory of Miss Selina Wilder; and a contribution from Thelma M. Weeks.

WHAT GOD WANTS

During the weeks ahead, we are going to think of ourselves as part of God's plan, as candles to be kindled by Him. Now, in that light, what do we mean when we say that a certain action is "right"? This is a tremendous question. It has to be answered by every individual, by every community. For it is the basis on which we think and act.

Jesus settled this question for all Christians, in the Garden of Gethsemane. He knew, full well, what He wanted to do: to go on a while with the men he loved, strengthening them and training them for the building of the Kingdom. So He turned to His Father, hopefully, and His Father said, "No—go straight to the Cross." Unwilling to believe that He had heard His Father aright, Jesus asked again, adding, "Nevertheless, not My will, but Thine, be done." It was only after the third "No" from His Father that Jesus could accept the Cross. In His heart, the "right" decision was the one God wanted.

The test of "rightness", therefore, is whether a decision fits into God's plan, whether it is what He wants done. What you or I want is not especially important. After all, we do not know what will work out best over the centuries. God does know. To be right, therefore, we have to come back to God, as Jesus did, asking His desire for us.

Often it is difficult for us, in praying, to distinguish between what God wants, and what we want. In that case, we go honestly to Jesus' words in Scripture, we shall find God's will. Of course, if we try to "use" the Scripture to back up something we already want to do, we shall not find God's will! The only sure way to read the Bible is, as we read, to whisper constantly, "Not my will, but Thine . . . "

How about the rightness or wrongness of segregation—about which so many people are concerned today? Jesus' answer is simple, but very difficult; simple to see, and very difficult to carry out. It is for each one of us, and each community, to look into the eyes of the Father of all men, and say, "Not my will, but Thine, be done." Not the way of life that my ancestors and I like; not the kind of neighborhood I choose; not the kind of schools, or the kind of transportation, that I prefer—"not my will, but Thine, be done!" In every State of the Union, people are facing those seven fateful words. If we want to call ourselves Christians, our purpose is "Thy will be done . . . " And we cannot escape our solemn duty to ask Him what is His plan for my community. Not my will, but Thine! There is little question in any one's mind as to the kind of community that will please God. We know how Jesus felt about Samaritans.

It is better to face this great question now, and settle it, than to leave it unanswered until we face God to give account of our lives. I pray God that when that awesome moment comes, you and I can say to the God who loves all men as His children—"We ended segregation, for it was not our will, but Thine, that we carried out."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Nave ..... Mulet

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed, unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith, that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life, as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief of defeat, help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

The Anthem: Lord, Who Is My Guide But Thee ..... Schutz

Lord, who is my guide but Thee? Lord, who is my light but Thee? And there is none beside Thee that I desire. My soul and body, how did they fail! But God is my strength, forever comfort of my heart; and my portion, consolation and my portion.

The Sermon: "MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE" ..... The Rector

MEDIATED LOVE

Dr. Weatherhead sums up the thought of John's Epistle plainly: "Love, even the Love of God, is only mediated through persons." Look back in your life, and you will quickly see the proof of this statement. You learn what love is from people who loved you. It may have been a child saying joyously, "I love you! I love you!"; or a beloved physician, saying, "Your wife is going to live"; or a minister of the Gospel, calling on you before a major operation, passing on to you such a deep and sincere faith in God's Love that your fear was driven out. "Love is only mediated through persons." "In this the Love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent His Son . . ."

Dr. William R. Parker, in his thrillingly practical book, "Prayer Can Change Your Life," tells of Klaus, the epileptic, who honestly thought he was an atheist, whom medicine and psychology considered hopeless. But Klaus had the courage to join a group seeking to find God's healing through prayer. He was a bitter man, and could not believe that there is a saving Power. "One day he was felled by an epileptic seizure before the whole class. When he came to himself, his companions were not shrinking from him, not condemning or shunning him. Instead, he found that the entire group had stood by him and prayed earnestly for his speedy recovery." His growth, and his recovery, began right there, when he first experienced "love mediated through his fellow men." This he could see. With this tiny grain of faith in love expressed toward him by a handful of students, he went on to his complete healing.

Jesus bids us to do what He did—mediate Love, just as He did. Every day someone in great need touches our lives. We do not know that they are in despair, at their wits' end. But, for a moment, their lives contact ours, needing to find God's Love in us.

Dr. Parker tells this haunting story of the discouraged young man who started for the river to commit suicide. His landlady, suspecting his intent, and conscious of several weeks rent owing her, tried to dissuade him. "I tell you," he said. "If I meet just one person between here and the river who gives me a smile, or a word of hope, or a look of cheer, I'll come back. Life will seem worth living." He never came back, and the landlady didn't know what the outcome was. But what if he had passed us that day?

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Andantino ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly say, when they pray: "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "all things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that they will know Thy will for our lives and reveal Thy will in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Amen.

The Anthem: I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes ..... Sowerby

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: He that keepeth thee will not slumber. Behold, He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep. The Lord is thy Keeper; thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even forever more. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Often I have wanted to thank you for remembering my brother in your daily chain of prayers. He is from Minnesota. When I was home he was very nervous and found that he was losing his mind. Your prayers helped him to sleep better and regain his lost nerve vitality. We do appreciate very much your prayers.

—C. J. (Lutheran Student Center) (Formosa, Free China)

The Rector will give the invocation at a Washington's Birthday Banquet honoring Governor Lawrence at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, on Monday, February 22nd. He will speak to the Wives of the Students and Faculty of the Philadelphia Divinity School on Tuesday evening, and conduct a Healing Service at the Marble Collegiate Church in New York at Noon on Wednesday.

GOD'S PLANS

Where do we fit into God's plan? As a builder studies the blue print of the house he is constructing, so our part is to carry out God's design for us. Our first need, then, is to learn to trust God, as the builder trusts the architect. The architect knows best. For us, God knows best. Apply this to our praying.

In praying we must trust God for the right answer. So often we have complained, "My prayer was not answered." But it was. God may have said "No"; for the God who made the universe, and made us, is wiser than we. Love often has to say "No".

John Redhead recalls a day when his two-year-old son was watching him shave. As soon as he laid down the razor, the quick little hand would shoot out to take hold of the shiny "toy" he wanted to play with. His father, for love's sake, had to take it away from him; and the youngster cried and sulked. He did not like his father's "No", which really was "wait until you are older."

This simple illustration, though true, cannot explain all the mystery of men's suffering. But, after a while the boy learns to trust his father, even when he cannot understand, because his father is wonderfully wise and kind. So, even when the answer is "No" or "Wait", we can quietly trust God.

I John has the clue—"And this is the confidence which we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us." John had learned that God, because He is Love, can only give us what is best for us at that time. Looking back, we can now see how wise His "No" was, many a time; and how wonderful His "Yes!" Once you have begun to know it is God's goodness, and to trust it, you can take anything without despair.

The story is told of a young doctor and his wife who went to China as missionaries. God blessed them in their work there and gave them two children to make glad their home. But typhoid came, and the young doctor was taken. Two days after his death, the young wife wrote to friends in America, "As you know, these two years have been ones of perfect joy . . . and I praise God with all my heart for His gift to us of such Love . . . I cannot begin to understand; but I know our love for our little ones, and that God's love is infinitely greater. I can only trust that Love." And then she went on to witness for all grief-stricken people, that God grants our prayers when we ask for strength to meet whatever may come, when we ask what He is saying to us through this test. Thus, under His plan for us, our victorious suffering ministers to those who are storm-tossed. It is not easy to fall in with God's plans—but it is glorious!

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mr. & Mrs. Nicholas Coleman, Mrs. Joseph Coors, Mrs. Mary E. Gilbert, Mrs. A. L. Gold, Gertrude Hamilton, Mr. & Mrs. A. W. Ross, Miss W. P. Sachs, Dr. & Mrs. James H. Warner, Chris. Wyld, Miss Eva Hansen, Mrs. R. C. Johnston, Mary B. Richardson, Mrs. Vivian H. Weekes.

Our thanks, too, for Benevolent Society Work from Mrs. Edna Shaw, Mrs. Bertha Chappell.

Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, Head of the Department of Religion at Chautauqua, in a recent letter to the Rector said, "You will be interested to know that our questions to the patrons of Chautauqua last year showed that your lectures topped all the others in popular appeal."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Lenten Season is hallowed in the lives of Christians everywhere because in it we can see the completed work of Him of Whom John the Baptist spoke. Glorious Message: He takes away our sin! Heavenly Father, Thou hast sent Jesus into the world to grant us forgiveness for our sins, thus banishing our despair. Fill our hearts with trusting faith in Him, help us to forsake sin and live in obedience to Him Who gave Himself for us that we might live. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—After the consultation with you and the laying-on-of-hands at the healing service last month, great things began to take place in my six year old son Richard's life. As you may remember he had an emotional problem. He was placed in a private Nursery School. He just couldn't control his emotions, jumping and becoming very tense, unable to express himself any other way. His scholastic ability was nil. You told me how to pray for him while he slept. The literature you gave me was a great help and comfort. Two weeks ago my husband and I went to the Nursery School to have a conference with his teacher. Much to our amazement she told us of his many accomplishments in a short period of time. He has calmed down considerably, without the aid of tranquilizers. Richard can now recognize numbers, colors, and is able to crayon a picture. He also dresses himself more efficiently. All of these things wrought by our faith and prayers and those of your Prayer Fellowship. My prayers are with these unselfish people who take time to pray for others.

—M. E. R. (Drexel Hill, Pa.)

HIS VOICE

If we are going to trust God and respond to His plan for us, we need to be like yonng Samuel, saying, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth." We have to be ever alert for His voice.

Dr. Frank Laubach, the great Christian teacher of literacy for millions of people, tackled this job. In his diary he wrote, "God, I want to give You every minute of this year. I shall try to keep You in mind every moment of my waking hours. I shall try to let my hand write what You direct. I shall try to let You be the Speaker and direct every word. I shall try to let You direct my acts. I shall try to learn Your language as it was taught by Jesus and all others through whom You speak—in beauty and singing birds and cool breezes, in radiant Christ-like faces, in sacrifices and in tears. It will cost, not only much, but everything that conflicts with this resolve."

After a rough night on a train traveling across India, he wrote, "God, after a sleepless night, I open my eyes, laughing, for we are together! Sleep is not necessary. Disturbances like that man coughing below me all night are good for character if I do not let them keep me from You. If every annoyance can be made to remind me to turn and grip Your hand and ask You, 'What are you saying through this vexation?' then I can turn life's rough spots into Your vocabulary." It may be through each vexation; what He can make out of it that is glorious.

Later, Dr. Laubach says, "God, experience proves that a minute with Thee always brings fruit, often wonderful fruit; experience proves that a minute apart from Thee is wasted or full of thoughts of malice or vice. Abide in me as the branch abides in the vine. It abides all the time, every moment. Before me is an electric plug. The moment I disconnect the cord, the light goes out. What I got the last minute does not help. I may still be a little warm, but I am no longer a-light. 'Apart from Me ye can do nothing'—say nothing, be nothing, help nothing. So I must keep plugged in every second. Hard, but essential. Think Thy thoughts, God, here all day—Thine, not mine."

If you have ever met Dr. Laubach, you know what happens in the person who keeps plugged in. In his quiet voice and steady love, God speaks with power and compassion. God can do the same miracle in any person who abides in Him. It is a strenuous adventure to tackle, but richly rewarding!

One day, on board ship, he writes, "Wherewith Jesus wander, what would He do if He were on this ship? Would He remain on the first class deck? . . . Now, Father, here are my feet, to walk where Jesus would go, where Jesus would go in me. Here are my lips, here my heart, my love, to be made beautifully Christ-like by Thine own self . . ." You, reader, can start practicing this abiding, plugged-in life, now. That is the way God planned for you and me to live!

The Rector will conduct a healing Mission in the Church of the Ascension, Mount Vernon, N.Y. Sunday night, February 28th-March 1st, inclusive. He will be the speaker at the World Day of Prayer Service in the Feasterville Community Church, Friday, March 4th at 8 P.M.

ASH WEDNESDAY

The Rector will conduct the Litany Service at 10:30 A.M. Bishop Armstrong will preach at 12:30 P.M., and the Rector will celebrate the Holy Communion at 5:30 P.M. Dr. John R. Hart, of the Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge will preach on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at 12:30 P.M.

Healing Services during Lent will be conducted on Thursdays at 1 P.M. and 5:30 P.M. Holy Communion will be celebrated every Friday at 1 P.M.

THE CHALLENGE OF LENT

The Lenten Season into which we are now entering is the most opportune time of year for the enrichment of our spiritual lives. It presents an opportunity for us to contemplate our responsibilities and obligations as followers of the Christ who trod the road of suffering, thru' clouds of misunderstanding and sorrow, and emerged victorious over sin and death.

Are you satisfied with yourself? Are you all you know you ought to be? Are you sometimes lonely, longing for the Divine Companion? Are you burdened with problems that need solution? Do you hunger and thirst after righteousness?

Then this Lenten period is your opportunity to enter into a deepening experience of fellowship with God through meditation, prayer, devotional reading, and helpful ministry to others. In "keeping Lent" you may discover for yourself the sources of joyful, peaceful and fruitful living. And the Lenten Season will culminate for you in a gloriously inspiring Easter.

THE SILENT MEDITATION: No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor and security and pleasure, and even life itself, for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost, as we gain in our likeness to Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: Be Still, My Soul ..... Whitlock

Be still, my soul, for God is near; the Great High Priest is with thee now; the Lord of life Himself is here, before whose face the angels bow. To make thy heart His lowly throne thy Savior God in love draws nigh. He gives Himself unto His own, for whom He once came down to die. I come, O Lord, for Thou dost call to blend my pleading prayer with Thine, to Thee I give myself, my all and feed on Thee, and make Thee mine. Amen.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer; Sermon by the Rev. A. Edward Chinn, Curate, St. Mark's, Frankford.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I have worn glasses to correct astigmatism for 18 years at all times, both for near and far vision. After attending the healing service at St. Stephen's I had a very complete examination by a competent oculist. He told me after this examination that my eyes were so very near normal, it was hardly worth mentioning any difficulty, and that I certainly didn't need to wear glasses now, even for reading or near vision. It is exactly one month since I talked with you in your office and attended the Thursday healing service. The literature you gave me on divine healing has given me much encouragement and help, and hope, to expect even greater things through Him. I am praying for the healing of a nervous condition that came on so suddenly in June, 1954. Please keep my name on the Prayer List.—P. A. L. (Denver, Colo.)

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D.D., Bishop of Erie, who will be our Lenten Noon-Day preacher March 7th-11th, and to the Rev. David E. Seaboldt, Rector, St. George's Church, Richmond, Phila., who will be our Saturday preacher.

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P.M.

The Rector will speak at a Neighborhood Lenten Meeting in Naugatuck, Connecticut, on Wednesday, March 9th, at 2:30 P.M. and at St. Michael's Church at 7:30 P.M.

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958 we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and parish house, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three year period coming.

We wish to express our grateful thanks to the anonymous donor whose check was received during the past week.

ALL SAINTS' HOSPITAL

Our Thanksgiving offering was divided up between the Episcopal Hospital on Lehigh Avenue and All Saints' Episcopal Hospital, Chestnut Hill. The following letter is from All Saints' Hospital: "Please accept our most sincere thanks for your contribution to All Saints' Hospital. It is gratifying to know of your interest in our Hospital. "I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: I Call To Thee ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest even while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace, of which Jesus said: "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this Thy gift. Amen.

Processional Hymn 407 ..... St. Hilda

The Venite, Prayer Book page 9; Chant No. 608, Hymnal

Psalm 68, Page 419

Te Deum Laudamus, Prayer Book page 10; Chants 613 & 617

Benedictus, Prayer Book page 11, Chant No. 640, Hymnal

The Anthem: Blessed, He ..... Franck

Blessed He, who, from earth's dreams awaking, turns his heart from worldly pride; who ev'ry other joy forsaking, of wealth the golden fetters breaking, treasures of heaven spreads around on every side. Then when the awful trumpet soundeth, let him rejoice! Blessed is He in whom God's grace and love aboundeth, Angels for him heaven's gates fling open wide.

The Sermon: "THE HYMN OF LOVE" ..... The Rector

Recessional Hymn 385 ..... Austria

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. George Sinnamon in memory of her husband, Dr. George Sinnamon; and by Mr. Walter B. Walker in memory of his brother, Landis Gordon Walker.

Chief Usher today is Mr. Elmer S. Carll.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer, Sermon by Mr. Arthur Comby.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote to you about a year ago requesting help and undergirding of your Prayer Fellowship. My problem was two-fold. My own poor relationship with God, and some understanding of how I should best serve. I sincerely feel that your Fellowship played an important part in the opening of my life to God and His love. Probably the greatest impact, that is immediate, came during the first week of September. Not only was my life changed, but so were the lives of five other people—radically changed—from bitterness, despair, emptyness and meaninglessness to a sense of wholeness, of purposefulness, of meaning. I will always be grateful for the knowledge that several thousand miles away, a group of Christians who knew me only by cheap words on flimsy paper cared and remembered. Thank you, each of you. You have given the cup of cold water, and in His grace, I shall continue to pass on that cup.

—W. S. (Berkeley, California)

A WAY OF LIFE

The nightmare of bubonic plague had descended on the little town of Oran. Every day people died by scores. The town was sealed off from the world—no one could leave; no one could enter. This tragic and beautiful tale (by Albert Camus) reveals the inside of people's souls; how differently they behaved in battling this terrifying plague. At first the doctor and the priest were far apart. The doctor had no belief in God, while the priest preached that everybody must blindly trust God or be forever damned. He preached a stern sermon, telling the frightened people that the plague was God's punishment for sinning people. But the months went by, and he began to see the tireless skill and devotion of the "disbelieving" doctor, and the courageous labor of many "out-siders." He began to understand that they were all serving Love—only calling it by different names. The doctor observed—"We're all working side by side for something that unites us—beyond blasphemy and prayers." Those gallant battlers against death began to feel their "togetherness." In the closing days, Father Paneloux preached again, and "he spoke in a gentler, more thoughtful tone than on the previous occasion, and several times was noticed to be stumbling over his words. A yet more noteworthy change was that instead of saying "you," he now said "we."

In the Acts of The Apostles we notice the word "we" used over and over again. "We made a direct voyage to Samothrace"; "we remained in the city some days"; "as we were going to the place of prayer . . ." Those passages are believed to be from the diary of Dr. Luke, a physician so surrendered to the way of Jesus that he did not write about what "I" did, but about "us," and what God did through "us."

When Jesus taught His disciples how to pray, the model prayer He gave them never uses "I" or "me" or "mine" or "My." It was always "we" and "us" and "our." Jesus taught that God had made just one family of men, bound together in the bundle of life. In other words, in the long run God would give victory only to those who are "family-minded."

Living in a small town or village, it is easy to understand this truth. One town has several outstanding citizens who give their whole lives for "us," for the community —and that place becomes a neighborly one. In another town, the leaders are self-seekers, and their town becomes embittered, a divided community where few move in. You can see mankind just beginning to learn this truth. They have banded together in the United Nations because they have begun to see that only "together," only by planning and working "for us" can there be peace.

Jesus has given us a "we"—and "us" way of life. It is the only way that forever has joy in it. It is the only way backed by the universe.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—In a specific sense sonship with God depends upon accepting Christ. The indwelling Spirit enables us to come into the possession of a power that brings triumphs over the temptations of life. With God we are always able. We can do all things through Him. Forgive us, O Master, whenever we have resisted Thy gracious invitations to us. When Thou dost approach us in the moments of this day, grant us receptive hearts. Thou art anxious to come into our hearts to become a living reality, a vital power. Amen.

Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness and wrath, and anger and clamor, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice. And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—Rejoice, rejoice with us and offer prayers of thanksgiving to God for healing our daughter, Marylee. The doctors gave her every test including the putting of a tube in her heart and found it to be normal, praise God! My wife and I don't know how to thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for the part you played. We first learned of her condition at Christmas and you can understand how we have felt ever since. It is now over and the ending could not be more perfect.

THE WRITTEN MESSAGE

A Belgian writer once said that life is like the messenger on the way to your door. In his hand is a letter, addressed to you. There is nothing you can do to change the message. It is written. But there is much you can do about the way you receive that message. In like manner there is nothing you can do to avoid some event in your life tomorrow: some deep hurt, an unexpected success, a crippling illness. But there is much you can do about your attitude. In fact, your attitude decides the "color" of the event, victory or defeat, resentment or gratitude. You can be bitter about the hurt, or you can, like the oyster, make a pearl out of this painful intrusion. You can get a swelled head over the success, or you can humbly thank God, for giving you the brains to succeed. You can whine over the illness, or let God transform it into a shining victory.

Many people get off on the wrong foot by asking the wrong question of God. They cry out, "Why, God, did this happen to me?" That is a small, self-sympathizing question; and God does not answer it. But other people ask the right question, "Father, what do You want me to make out of this difficulty, this joy?" My friend Leona asked that glorious question when her life became an hour-by-hour battle with agonizing pain—and just because she asked the right question, she got God's answer and he made her stronger than pain, a victorious child of God, a bracing memory for scores of friends.

In the story of "Anchorhold" you find a holy woman to whom hosts of people flocked for help. She was overflowing with joy and gratitude to God for using her life so richly. Then, one day, a new by-pass was made, which carried the traffic away from her cell by the Church, and left her isolated. No one stopped to see her anymore. She was soon forgotten; and she changed from the teacher of the mysteries of the spiritual life to the woman with the glue-pot to whom the children of the village brought their broken toys. She was so supple in God's hands that she could lay down the career to which He first called her, and take the lowest place. And she made of it a glorious and joyful place!

You will find that, at the beginning of His ministry, Jesus hoped that men would accept Him as their Rescuer from evil and sin and slavery. Then, in the Garden of Gethsemane, God gave Him a very different answer, a Cross He did not want, wrenched away from teaching the disciples He loved, to die an immediate and shameful death. He met that death with the courage that came from trusting His Father, and transformed a criminal cross into the sign of God's undying love. Even He could not change the time and place of His death; but, with God's grace, He could change the dying so that still, today, men see in it the greatness of God!

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary in 1958 we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and parish house, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three year period coming.

We wish to express our grateful thanks to Mr. Raymond Winter for his contribution toward this project.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. John Ellis Large, D.D., Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher, March 21st-25th, inclusive; and to the Rev. James T. Berger, Vicar, Cathedral Church of Christ, Roxboro, who will preach on Saturday, March 26th.

The Rector will preach at St. Peter's Church, 3rd and Pine streets, on Sunday at 5 P.M. Choral Evensong will be sung by the famous St. Peter's Choir.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Helen LeDent, Mrs. Sidney Miller, Mr. & Mrs. John A. Shimp, William M. Gill, Frances L. Marion, Mrs. John Pratt, Mrs. H. M. Reynolds.

The Prelude: O Man, Bewail Thy Grievous Sin .....Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Have I been so long time with you and yet hast thou not known Me?" It is not always easy to see God in Christ. Even long acquaintanceship and familiarity with the Gospel may blur our vision. We need a new revelation, a fresh approach every day, to behold the brightness of His glory. Lord, give us the grace of recognition, may we see Thee in every experience of our lives; no matter if the sun shines brightly on our path, or if the clouds of sorrow hang over it. May we never doubt Thy presence as a Living Savior. Amen.

The Anthem: God's Peace Is Peace Eternal .....Grieg

God's peace is peace eternal, here discords all our joys displace, we wage a war infernal, and gentle mercy finds no place. Life is our time of trial now, before the Judge we all must bow. God merciful and kind will shield us, and from the evil set us free; He knoweth when to sin we yield us, the path we follow recklessly. He will the poorest soul release, who turns from sin to heaven's peace.

The Sermon: THE HYMN OF LOVE—III, FAITHFULNESS, CHARITY, AND SELF-SACRIFICE .....The Rector

Recessional Hymn 449 .....Olivet

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. James H. McGrath in memory of her parents.

Chief Usher this morning is Mr. David L. German, Sr.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer; The Sermon by the Rev. A. Edward Chinn, Curate, St. Mark's, Frankford.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I attended your healing service in February, seeking help for others and with no thought of myself. I have had bursitis in my right shoulder for over a year—could not raise my arm above my head without pain. The next morning I reached out to turn off the alarm and was surprised at the ease with which the task was accomplished. This action had always been accomplished with pain. When I started to comb my hair, my arm moved free and easy. The pain has gone completely. As for the persons whose names I gave to your Prayer Fellowship, one has come through an operation for cataracts, and the other was my mother who had pain in the base of her head continuously since an auto accident many years ago. The pain has gone and her medicine discontinued. Please accept my sincere thanks for your help, and God bless you always.—V. V. F. (Washington, D.C.)

ADVENTURE OF PRAYER

The early Christians were so filled with enthusiasm that sometimes they prayed "in tongues"—in excited sounds that no one else could understand. St. Paul cautioned them against this. He urged them to prayer that was full of thought as well as feeling. He urged people to "Pray with the mind also," so that their God-given brains might be fruitful in prayer. I like to refresh you with Margaret Cropper's clear picture of thought-ful praying:

Prayer is being with God.

You can't choose at all about it, except just in choosing to be with Him.

Perhaps He will take you up on the mountain with Him.

Perhaps He will take you into the night with Him, or into the mist where you will not be able to see Him.

Perhaps you will be with Him in pain, or in exaltation, or in happiness, or in tiredness.

He just says: "Come to Me," and you will say, "I will," or "I will not."

You make no stipulations, that is not your part; you know that He wants you, and you know what kind of wanting that is.

You know that if you say you will not come He does not leave off wanting you, so you imagine what that means.

You know that if you come to Him He will ask you to help Him about the Kingdom, that He will in the end give you that work for it that no one else could do.

You know that He will bring you into the fellowship of His friends, and that you will be allowed to bring Him into the fellowship of your friends.

But, of course, you will also go with Him before His enemies; and the things that they say about Him will be said about you.

And you will also go among the people who don't care, whom He is trying to arouse to a sense of His love.

Quite often He and you will be left desolate with the doors locked before you and the people on the other side scornful and amused.

You will find that He will ask you to do things which you can only do if you forget about yourself and the sort of person you thought you were, or He may ask you to face death or complete shame as He does Himself.

And all the time you will fail Him so often that by and by you will have no self-confidence left, only a growing confidence in Him instead, because He does not fail you.

And prayer must be fearfully difficult because it isn't easy to be with God, although it is simple.

It means that some things must go, like pride, unkindness and self-indulgence, and self-importance.

But all the same it is a choice which the best part of you wants, so that the most glorious souls in all the ages do choose the Adventure of Prayer.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Very Rev. N. R. High Moor, D.D., Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher March 28th through April 1st. And to the Rev. Robert M. Wainwright, Rector of the Church of the Messiah, Gwynedd, Pa., who will preach on Saturday, April 2nd.

The Rector will preach at St. James' Church, Columbus, Ohio on Sunday at 8 P.M. He will preach at the Lenten Noonday services at Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, Monday through Friday. He will preach at the Ben Avon Methodist Church on Monday evening, Mt. Lebanon on Tuesday evening, Calvary Church, Pittsburgh, on Wednesday evening, and Mt. Hebron Lutheran Church, East Pittsburgh on Thursday evening.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Upon being asked to perform some service, our first question often is, "What shall it profit me?" The Apostle Paul reminds us that Godliness inevitably brings profit. In this world it assures peace, happiness and contentment; in the world to come, the greatest of all profits, life eternal. Dear Lord, help us to overcome the temptations of this day and to walk in the Master's footsteps, ever keeping in mind our ultimate goal: eternity. Amen.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer; Sermon by Mr. Arthur C. Comby.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—For several years I have brought to you and your Prayer Group problems pertaining to myself, my husband, and my son. After four years of struggle with a nervous breakdown, I am well on the way up—almost to the top. Your literature and your prayers helped far more than the expensive psychiatric treatment at the —— where God was never mentioned. I am grateful to God and you for the strengthening help given to me.—L. P. (Westhampton Beach, N.Y.)

THE LAST DAYS

The day came when Jesus took His disciples away to a quiet place, and told them, "Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem; and the Son of Man will be delivered to the Chief Priests and Scribes, and they will condemn Him to death."

Prepare for Holy Week by reading the account of that strange and wonderful march on Jerusalem, as Love attacked Hate, and Hate, for a moment, seemed to win. Start with your Bible reading, Matthew 20:17-19. Then see how patient Jesus was with the ambitious mother of James and John. Hear Him tell the Twelve that God's measure of human greatness is glad service to others. Notice Him pausing on His urgent mission, to restore the eyesight of two groping blind men. See Him ride into Jerusalem as the Man of Peace, rejecting all armed might, trusting only the power to love men out of their sins. Catch your breath as He comes into God's house, and His ears catch the harsh voices of greedy money-changers, and Love flames up in terrifying anger as He blasts those who spoil His Father's House. See Him telling His proud enemies that their chances of heaven were poor compared to common prostitutes who were still capable of penitence for their mistakes. And then listen to Him, one day, as He thought of the Holy City, and He breaks out with passion, "Oh, Jerusalem, Jerusalem! You murdered the prophets and stoned the messengers that are sent to you. How often have I longed to gather your children around Me like a bird gathering her brood under her wings—and you would not have it!" And later, when swords were suggested, He brushed them aside. They were not strong enough to capture the heart of man. Only Love could do this—so He went forward in the strength of Love alone.

You and I cannot resist a God like that. A God, with the thunderbolts in His hands, comes among us as a tiny Babe, heals and feeds men, tells them the redeeming story of the Father that loves them even as they are. Then He lets Hate and force do all they can against Him. Love is stronger, in the end.

You, yourself, cannot resist Him anymore; and do not want to. Like the man in the "Hound of Heaven" who was afraid of God and "fled Him, down the nights and down the years"; you find that you can never get away from His following Love with its "deliberate speed, majestic instancy." You have sought refuge in hectic pleasures, in the beauties of nature, in cleverness and money, trying to escape God. And then we find that our gloom is only "the shadow of His hand, stretched out caressingly" over us as He pleads,

"Ah, fondest, blindest, weakest,
I am He whom thou seekest!
Thou dravest Love from thee, who dravest Me."

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, D.C. on Sunday evening. He will preach at St. Luke's Church, Germantown, Wednesday evening.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, D.D., Rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's, Germantown, who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Saturday, April 4th-9th.

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and parish house, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three year period coming.

We wish to express our grateful thanks to Mr. & Mrs. August Albers for their contribution to this project.

The Prelude: Hosanna! .....Weinberger

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Glory of the Cross lies in its expression of the great Love of God and Christ for men. The shame and disgrace of the Cross were transformed into honor, because sacrifice was raised to the highest level. Its Glory is evident in transformed lives and in the blessedness and peace brought into hearts that have experienced its saving power. We thank Thee, Jesus Christ, for Thy supreme sacrifice on the Cross. Thou hast given us a better insight into the loving heart of our heavenly Father because of it. Grant unto us the power of the Cross as an experience in our lives, so that we may glorify Thy Holy Name. Amen.

SO GREAT A LOVE

For weeks Jesus had been preparing His disciples for these last days, telling them that His enemies would seize Him and painfully kill Him on a cross. No one likes pain. Jesus did not, we can be sure. But most people try to avoid pain. So, on every drug store counter in America are dozens of magic remedies to drive away pain.

But pain is part of the world that God created. We all know its value, its necessity, as a danger-signal to warn us if something is going wrong in our bodies. Women accept pain as a normal part of the joy of childbirth. As we grow older, we learn that the surest sign that someone loves us is that they are willing to suffer for our sake.

So Jesus rode up around the painful road to Jerusalem. The crowd jeered, not guessing that Love was on the march to meet Hate. He had tried living lovingly, and men's eyes were still blind. Perhaps now, by His dying lovingly, they might open their eyes and see the greatness of the Love of God.

Try to imagine the pain He endured that week. He knew that His mother and His brothers and sisters would be coming down for the Passover, as they always did—and they thought He was completely crazy. Here were His disciples to whom He had explained so patiently His way of compassion—and they were cheering wildly with the crowd, as if He were a warrior-king, come to break the Roman rule. Going into the House of God, He found men turning it into a thieves-kitchen of cheating business.

When one of His closest friends sold His life to His enemies for a purse full of silver, He suffered. Then the remaining Eleven took to their heels and left Him alone. When the bravest of them crept back, to keep as close to Him as he dared, and a little servant-girl pointed him out as a friend of Jesus, Peter cursed and shouted that he had never known the Man. Jesus must have ached with loneliness.

You might think that when those bitter Pharisees had seen Him nailed securely to the Cross, they would have had the decency to go home satisfied. After all, the Roman soldiers had dressed Him up as a king, and made brutal fun of Him by spitting in His face and knocking Him about. But His enemies had to stay and enjoy watching Him die, as they made sarcastic jokes about the helplessness of this would-be king, and Jesus looked down on their bitter fun, and out of an unconquered compassion, cried out, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." And then He died, having finished His task—to show men that Love is stronger than Hate, stronger than any other power on earth.

This He suffered for them. This He suffers, at your hands and mine. You know in what ways you give Him pain, as you resist Him and His way of Love. If you dare to stop, and look up to Him on the Cross where we have put Him, you will find that you will not want to resist Him anymore. You will want to surrender yourself to so great a Love!

Dear Dr. Price:—With praise to God, I want to thank Him for the gradual healing, over the past 12 weeks, from such pain in my left leg and thigh that I could not sit. The doctor thought it was due to a ruptured disc pressing against the nerve and was planning to operate. God intervened four times in preventing this and the doctor has released me. I am now able to walk, sit and ride in a jeep without difficulty. Thanking you and the Prayer Fellowship for your faithful prayers in my behalf.

The Prelude: Two Easter Chorales ..... Dupre
Christ Lay in the Bonds of Death ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Lord is the Almighty Victor because He conquered sin and death by His Death and Resurrection. Because of His Victories He promises us victory over sin and death. As He overcame, we can also overcome, and enjoy His fellowship eternally. Dear Lord, so often we grovel in the dust, defeated by our doubts, fears, anxieties and cares. Raise us up to a life of victorious faith in Thee, by Thy great power. May we, also, overcome, and be with Thee forever in glory. Amen.

Processional Hymn 85 ..... Easter Hymn
Christ Our Passover, Prayer Book Page 163; Chant No. 609, Hymnal
Kyrie 714 ..... Oldroyd
Anthem: Thou Hallowed Chosen Morn of Praise ..... Sowerby

Thou hallowed chosen morn of praise, that best and greatest shinest; Fair Easter, Queen of all the days, of seasons, divinest! Christ rose from death; and we adore forever and forever more. Rise, Sion, rise! And looking forth, behold thy children 'round thee! From East and West, from South and North Thy scattered sons have found Thee; And in thy bosom Christ adore forever and forever more. O ye who bear Christ's holy name, give God all praise and glory; all ye who own His power, proclaim aloud the wondrous story! The Love, the Wisdom, still adore forever and forever more.

The Sermon: "RISEN WITH CHRIST" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 91 ..... Victory

PARTAKERS OF HIS RESURRECTION

Shortly before the death of William Howard Taft, Henry Sloane Coffin was strolling with him in Washington. Dr. Coffin relates this story: "I ventured to ask him what he thought of the prospects of the League of Nations, then feeble and seemingly collapsing. He stopped abruptly, squared 'round to face me, and said: 'You ought to know that in this world the best things get crucified, but they rise again.'

Jesus repeatedly told His friends, weeks before Calvary, that He would be put to death and that He would rise again. This, He felt in His heart, and His Father assured Him, was His destiny—to show the open way through crucifixion to victory, through death to life, through darkness into light. They had trusted most of the other promises that Jesus made to them, but they had a hard time trusting this one. And when He actually died before their eyes, and His body was borne away to the tomb, all hope vanished—His promise had not come true. And then, two days later—as all men do eventually—they found that He never makes empty promises. You can count on Him, always and forever.

There are two great reasons why Easter Day is so radiant in its joy. One is that men find, by practical tests, that they can trust Jesus Christ. Every promise of His if they have believed and lived by comes true—they find that it really is happier to give than to receive, that the pure in heart do see God. They discover that only when they half-believe and half-practice His Word does defeat come instead of victory. Even in this turbulent and quarrelsome world, we find that the Master of men is the only One whose Word is surer than the rising of the sun. When they find Him saying, "In My Father's house are many mansions . . . I go to prepare a place for you", they are at peace. They are confident that their loved ones are in the hands of the Almighty Love.

But Easter Day is glorious also because we ourselves have a taste of resurrection. Once I was dead at heart, the sparkle gone out of life, the horizon heavily clouded; and then, in a moment of surrender, I trusted Christ to drive out my stubborn self-love; I was willing to let that self-concern die—and out of that death rose to new and glorious and radiant living. "Die and become . . ." wrote Goethe. We become "partakers" of His "Resurrection." That is just what Jesus meant us to be, sharers in His rising out of death into life.

It is as we grow older, perhaps, that Easter becomes the mightiest Day of the whole year. For we have just begun to grasp that Spring rises out of the death of Winter when the touch of the sun warms the earth to life; and that life rises out of the apparent death of beloved people and glorious causes, when the touch of Christ warms the dead bones into life more glorious than ever. Professor Henry James was once asked, "Why do you believe in personal immortality?" And he answered, "Because I'm just getting fit to live." He was 62 when he wrote that; and he knew that a good God would make of his physical death a doorway into the abundance of life!

The Rector will speak at the Mid-Week Worship Service of the First Baptist Church, Phila., on Wednesday at 7 P.M. He will speak to the Minister's Association of Chester and vicinity on Friday at 4:30 P.M.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Parish which legally falls on Monday, April 18th is postponed until Sunday, May 8th. The time is 12:30 P.M. and the place is the Community House.

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and parish house, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three years coming.

We wish to express our grateful thanks to these contributors to this Fund: Mr. & Mrs. James Ashbrook; Mr. & Mrs. R. W. Fay.

Mr. James O. Lyman, Vestryman, has resigned as Scoutmaster of St. Stephen's Troop No. 2. Mr. Lyman has served as Scoutmaster for the past 14 years with great distinction. The Troop has received yearly recognition as one of the outstanding Troops of the metropolitan area of Philadelphia. We are grateful for all that he has done for us.

Mr. James McCausland has succeeded Mr. Lyman as Scoutmaster. We welcome him to one of the oldest Troops in the city and pledge him the support of a fine Troop Committee of our parish.

The Prelude: "Abide With Us" ..... Weinberger

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—God speaks to us not only in Holy Writ but also through the wonderful book of nature. In this He reveals His power and His beauty. It is true that change and decay at times seem to mar this beauty; but even out of change and decay there comes new beauty to glorify the Creator. The beauty of God expresses itself in His handiwork. O Lord, our God, who hast made Thy name excellent in all the earth and who hast set Thy glory above the heavens; open our eyes to behold the expression of Thy glory in the beauty of nature. Amen.

Praise to the Holiest in the height, and in the depth be praised. In all his words most wonderful, most sure in all his ways. O loving wisdom of our God! When all was sin and shame, a second Adam to the fight and to the rescue came. Praise to the Holiest, praise be to the Holiest.

Dear Dr. Price:—A few months back I was much troubled with a disease known as psoriasis. I wrote for prayers that I might be healed. I am happy to say that within the past few weeks I have not been bothered with this ailment, and I am grateful to my heavenly Father. May God continue to bless the healing ministry of St. Stephen's.

—N. P. (Buffalo, N. Y.)

Mrs. Edna L. Wenrich, who was one of the oldest members of our Parish, was promoted to the higher life on April 4th. Services were held in St. Stephen's Church on April 8th. Mrs. Wenrich was a member for seventy years and taught in the Sunday School for many years.

CONQUERING LOVE

In those days that followed the first Easter, Jesus' friends were filled with amazement and praise. He had been stronger than Hate. He had even conquered death! Now they remembered that He had promised to rise from the dead. Now they knew they could depend on His promises, and confidently obey His commandments.

Shortly before He died, He had given them a special commandment, that "you love one another as I have loved you." They had wondered whether they could possibly love as God does. But now they began to trust Him completely, and they tried to obey the new commandment. They found that, if they kept them in their hearts, then the power of God's Love was in them, working and redeeming and healing.

Some of you twentieth-century disciples will wonder whether you can care for others with so tremendous a love; whether the every day person can do this. Then listen to the true story of two plain people, like you and me. It took place out in a mid-West city a few years ago.

Max Ellerbusch runs an instrument-making firm which has a fine reputation. It is exacting precision work, so he trains his own workmen. One day the telephone rang and he and his wife heard the dreadful news that their five-year-old son, Craig, had been killed by a hit-and-run driver, a high school boy named Kiser. A few days later Mr. and Mrs. Ellerbusch attended his trial for manslaughter. Suddenly Mr. Ellerbusch stood up in the court room. Quietly he explained that he and his wife were not interested in the prosecution of this boy. They had put a big "investment" of hope in their small boy, and they would now like to see this high school boy have the chance to finish that investment. Would the Court put the boy on probation, in their care? He could come and live with them, and be their son. He would be trained to do skilled work in the instrument business. Mr. Ellerbusch waited for the Court's decision. The judge looked down at the boy, and said, "The people who have the greatest complaint of all are willing to help. These people can forgive you, but they can't forget the little one. It's up to you to bring them some consolation. It depends on how much guts you have." Young Kiser swallowed hard, cleared his throat, and managed to say, "Mr. and Mrs. Ellerbusch are the kindest people I ever met in my life." He is living with them now, being transformed by the Love of God shining through those two plain people who are obeying Jesus' special commandment.

It may be that there is someone who greatly needs the love of God, shining through you. Just let Him!

The Rector presented Miss Anna B. Jones and Mrs. Elizabeth B. Bellmeyer for Confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on April 11th.

The Annual Convention of the Diocese of Pennsylvania will open Monday, May 2nd, at 4 P.M. in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse Square.

At 8 P.M. a Mass Meeting will be held in the Church. Everyone is welcome to attend. The address will be made by Bishop Hart.

Tuesday, May 3rd Convention will open at 9 A.M. and will last until late in the afternoon.

St. Stephen's Delegates are the Messrs. Raspin, German and Carll; and the Alternates are Messrs. Hay and Heins.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing at St. Mary's Church, Williamsport, Penna. on Sunday evening, April 24th, through Tuesday, April 26th.

HORSE SENSE OR HARNESS-RACING GAMBLING?

Let's face it. This is a moral issue. Gambling, from a Christian point of view, is morally wrong; being contrary to basic religious principles. History bears out the fact that dishonesty and fraud are very much a part of the gambling business. But it must be clearly understood that legalized gambling is not only a matter of private morals; it is also a matter of public welfare. Gambling in its very nature affects more than the gambler. It pauperizes families, corrupts governments, destroys legitimate business and adversely affects the entire community.

On April 26th you have the opportunity of voting NO to the question which will appear on the ballot. Do you favor the location of a Harness-Racing plant with parimutuel betting in this county?

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Miss Eda M. MacPhee and Miss Mary Louise Seltzer.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "The Glorious Day Is Come" } "Christ, The Lamb Of God" } .....Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The stream of life flows softly on. Our days are quickly spent. Happy childhood days and the carefree days of youth speedily fade into life's Noon. Then comes the mellow afternoon, when the golden sun melts into lovely eventide. Should God's mercy spare us for the eventide of life, there will be light for the trusting child of God. Loving Father, who carest for Thy children throughout their entire journey of life, grant that light may be ours at eventide. We can peacefully depart from these scenes if our eyes behold Thy salvation. Amen.

Processional Hymn 345 .....Dominus Regit Me

Kyrie, Hymnal, No. 708 .....Willan

The Anthem: "Isaiah, Mighty Seer" .....Willan

Isaiah, mighty seer, in days of old the Lord of all in spirit did behold high on a lofty throne, in splendor dight with flowing train in panoply of might. Above the throne were stately seraphim; six wings had they, these messengers of Him. With twain they veiled their faces, as was meet, with twain in reverent awe they hid their feet, and with the other twain aloft they soared, One to the other called and praised the Lord: "Holy is God, the Lord of Sabaoth! Behold His glory filleth all the earth!" The beams and lintels trembled at the cry, and clouds of smoke enwrapped the throne on high.

The Sermon: AN IMPOSSIBLE NECESSITY .....The Rector

Dear Dr. Price:—In the late May I wrote to you about my son Tom, aged 19 and daughter Brenda, aged 13. Tom was having great trouble with final exams as Freshman at U. of A. We are happy to say that he made good grades on all exams. My daughter was rapidly losing her hearing. Her hearing appears almost normal. We are so grateful. It is wonderful to know and believe "More things are wrought by prayer than the world dreams of."—Mrs. W. F. W. (Birmingham, Alabama).

IS YOUR FLAG UP?

"Living just behind an R.F.D. box", says a friend of mine, "is a very illuminating experience. It teaches us, day by day, 'give and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over . . .' You learn that those who deeply care about others, and write to them out of warm and loving hearts, seldom find their boxes empty after the R.F.D. man has gone by.

"If you should drop along the route just ahead of our R.F.D. mailman some morning, you would notice that, on some of the boxes, the little flag was standing up straight, as if to say, 'I have letters for the world, this morning—please stop and pick them up.' On the other boxes, the flag lies horizontal—'nothing going out, this morning.'"

That R.F.D. flag is a sign that tells what kind of people live in the house behind. If, day after day, the flag is up, it advertises out-going hearts concerned for the world outside that household. It is a sign that these people are not imprisoned in their self-centeredness, but their spirits are free to range across the miles, and care about distant friends and loved ones. Often that up-standing flag indicates people who are letting Jesus Christ send a word of cheer, or encouragement, or forgiveness, through them.

There are some boxes where the flag is seldom up. Somehow those people have become imprisoned in loneliness and despair. The smallest territory in the world is a human life bounded by itself. One feels compassion for them. They miss that glowing moment of going out to gather in the day's harvest of friendship and love!

One reason people love Jesus was that His "flag" was always up! Always His love was reaching for those hungry for comfort and help; and feeding them. Even in His dying, His unconquerable Love reached out in tenderness to His mother, to a common thief, to His brutal enemies. His flag was up until He breathed His last breath.

Jesus' two great commandments mean that we are to keep alive to God, alive to the need of our neighbor, even if we do nothing else. It is a very simple way, once your feet are on it—and a very rewarding way. It is the way God meant us to live.

Is your flag up, this morning?

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and parish house, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three years coming.

We wish to express our grateful thanks for two anonymous gifts to this fund. Also Mrs. Marie Berger; and Mrs. Edward S. Morris in memory of her husband.

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening. He will attend the 60th Anniversary of St. Philips' Church, Brooklyn, N.Y., his former parish, on May 2nd, and preach in the Marble Collegiate Church, New York, on Wednesday, May 4th at 12 Noon.

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, May 8th at 12:30 P.M. There will be held the election to the Vestry. A color film will be shown and refreshments will be served. Everyone is urged to be present.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

The U. T. O. is a gift of Episcopal women to their Church beyond their regular pledged contributions, and is used to prosper the Church's Mission in ways that are above and beyond those made possible through the General Church Budget. It is used for needed Church building and reconstruction, the support of women Church workers throughout the Episcopal Church, and missionary work in the United States and abroad.

The Spring In-Gathering will be made by St. Stephen's women on Sunday, May 1st. The Diocesan Service will be held at Valley Forge Academy on Tuesday, May 17th.

Beautiful colored Christmas Cards of St. Stephen's Sanctuary, taken last Christmas, are now available and may be secured from the Afternoon and Evening Branches of the Women of St. Stephen's. The cost is $3.00 per box.

The WJMJ Broadcasting Station is currently presenting a series of programs on the subject, Love, by the brilliant Anglican author and speaker, Dr. C. S. Lewis. The programs are presented every Sunday at 6:30 P.M. Dial 1540.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are, indeed, unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the Presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy Presence wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clarly, and from the vision, to receive strength and peace. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—I am deeply interested in the progress of Spiritual Healing. Coming from a medical family and knowing from actual contact just how much can be done and is being done with God's help, I find that your two booklets—"Healing, The Gift of God" and "Healing of Nervous Disorders" to be very helpful to shut-ins. I carry several sets in my purse at all times and when the occasion presents itself they are most helpful. First, for their wonderful message; secondly, they are so light in weight and easy to handle by the patient. The most wonderful and rewarding feeling is that several months after you have given a set of these booklets to one person to find they have passed through several hands, and are back again in a hospital room you are visiting—all dog-eared from use.—M. B. (Jacksonville, Florida)

WINDOW OVER THE SINK

A few years ago, a bad fire almost totally destroyed the farmhouse of a widow in Vermont. The neighbors were very sorry for her, and the men of the country side near her home offered to build a house again for her, without any charge. But they thought that it would be a good thing if they asked her if there were any changes in the rebuilt house which she desired. She told them: "Thanks. I would like a window over the sink."

For years she had washed the dishes facing the blank wall. Now, at last, she would be able to look up from her work, out to the lovely Green Mountains of Vermont, to God's blue sky and His great white clouds. That's exactly what our Christian faith does for us. It puts a window over the sink. It puts outlook and up-look over our place of business, no matter what it may be. It gives us a vision while we work.

The people that Jesus loved and taught had lived like that widow—up against a blank wall. They were up against the rule of stern, hard-boiled Rome—a pretty hopeless prospect. Then they had found sudden hope in Jesus and His Kingdom, only to see Him die on the Cross, and bring them back to facing a hopeless wall. Suddenly they discovered that He had overcome death, to go on with the building of His Kingdom, with their help. He had bidden them to wait, and, in God's good time, the Holy Spirit would come into their hearts, and they would be filled with the power of God. On Whit-Sunday that happened—into their minds and hearts came God's own Spirit, the Spirit of Jesus, to live there, and work miracles, and transform people. With God in their hearts, they were no longer helpless. Anything was possible! There was a "window over the sink" for all the years ahead.

Perhaps you have a blank wall in front of you—the wall of long sickness, of old age, of loneliness, of failure, of self-pity, or fear, or "bad luck." You have worked and lived, up against that wall, for years. And suddenly Jesus comes by, and stops, and "With God all things are possible." Suddenly you believe Him. You see Him, in your imagination, doing miracles in the old days, through fishermen, tax-collectors, farmers, carpenters, house wives. And you know, deep-down, that He can do wonderful things through you.

So He cuts your window over the sink; and the blank wall is gone. All things are possible in your life, too; and you find yourself saying, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

The Rector will conduct a healing Mission in St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, Sunday night, May 15th, through Tuesday.

VESTRY OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

Mr. David L. German, Jr., Rector's Warden, Mr. Edwin S. Heins, Accounting Warden, Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Accounting Warden Emeritus, Mr. Frederick Schmid, Jr., Clerk of the Vestry, Mr. J. Lewis Armstrong, Mr. Elmer S. Carll, Mr. Charles K. Hay, Mr. David L. German, 3rd, Mr. Wilson C. Leithead, Mr. James O. Lyman, Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr., Mr. Hugo Hanson.

In all this controversy in which the Church is still involved, one thing which surprised me is the vociferous minority who believe that concern for humanity and social justice is politics and not Christianity. Something must be seriously wrong in the teaching of the Church schools and the communication of faith in homes and Church sermons if the people can grow to maturity and still hold such gravely heretical views. Anyone who has such a temporal and irreligious view of the Church's function and responsibility has not begun to understand the element of eternity in our most holy faith and sails uncomfortably close to blasphemy.—The Most Rev. Joost de Blank, Anglican Archbishop of Capetown, at the Biennial Synod of the Capetown See in December, 1958.

We wish to thank the Misses Sara and Amelia Bealmear for their Bulletin subscription.

The Prelude: Chorale in A Minor .....Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind thus far in its march upwards and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to recognize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

The Anthem: "Sing Praise to God Who Reigns Above" .....Whitlock

Sing praise to God who reigns above, the God of all creation, the God of power, the God of love, the God of our salvation. With healing balm my soul He fills, and every faithless murmur stills: To God all praise and glory! What God's Almighty power hath made His gracious mercy keepeth; By morning glow or evening shade His watchful eye ne'er sleepeth: within the Kingdom of His might all is just, and all is right; to God all power and glory. Then all my joyful way along I sing aloud Thy praises, that men may hear the grateful song my voice unwearied raises: be joyful in the Lord, my heart, Both soul and body bear your part! To God all praise and glory!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It was a most interesting and valuable experience for me to attend your healing service. One of my ailments was phlebitis, and I am happy to say that has been cured by God's power. I still have need of your prayers for my infected left foot, which is progressing nicely.—L. A. G. (Milton, Mass.)

SOMEONE TO LOVE

God does more than cut a window in your blank wall of hopelessness. He puts a view out there, beautiful and exciting. You see wonders going on, out your window—whether it be the transforming of the landscape from Winter's sleep to Spring's overflowing life, or the transforming of people from sleep-walkers to miracle-workers, how does He put this eternal Spring scene outside your window?

His greatest way is through His Word, the Bible. There you read of the mighty acts of God. You read it every day—as regularly as you work and eat and sleep. You read it with zest—as you eat your favorite dishes. Perhaps you are young enough in spirit to buy a wonderful new translation of the New Testament (like J. B. Phillips), and the old story becomes alive and real. You look out through the window of its pages, and see something that changes your whole life to new hope and new power.

For instance, you are reading the Gospel according to John. And you come to the moment when Jesus hangs on the Cross, nailed there by the soldiers, up against such a wall of hopelessness that He can cry out, "My God, My God, why did you forsake Me?" But now He looks out through His window over the sink, remembers His Father's faithfulness, and His power to work saving wonders through the power of love. He sees two of the loneliest people you can imagine, Mary and John. His mother, who has never quite understood her strange and wonderful Son, who even thought Him out of His mind, but kept on loving Him—now sees Him dying in apparent disgrace and failure. He sees John, that lovable, thoughtful young man who was Jesus' most intimate human friend; John, with all his hopes of the Kingdom in ruins, his best Friend dying a criminal's death. What could He do for those two heartbroken, lonely people?

"Jesus saw His mother and the disciple He loved standing by her side, and said to her, "Look, there is your son!" And then He said to the disciple, "And there is your mother!" And from that time the disciple took Mary into his own home." Do you see the wonder of what Jesus did? He gave each of the lonely people someone to love. He did not solve the problem in the world's way, by providing for each someone to take care of them. He met the deeper need of every child of God—someone for me to take care of, and love, and comfort.

If you are lonely—and discouraged about it—believe that God can do for you what He did for Mary and John. Look out your faith-window over the sink, and see that scene, with God meeting Mary and John's need. Then let God tell you, in your prayers, who needs you, needs some practical act of love on your part. As He looks down from His Cross, He will speak to you, as He did to the lonely ones of old, "Look, there is your friend, who needs you!"

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 105 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. THE SILENT MEDITATION:—To pray for the coming of God's Kingdom is to dedicate yourself to the task of bringing it about. TREASURES OF THE NIGHT

For many people the night-time is full of restlessness and fear. The hours seem to drag by on leaden feet. Every small anxiety grows up to night-mare heights. Every remembrance of failure and sin seems to crowd into it. Every ache and pain seems to grow to unbearable agony. So many people face the night as a blank, dark wall. You, too?

But, one day, you may be reading your Bible with special resolution. The night, behind you, has been rather long and painful. Reading Isaiah 45, verse 3, you find God saying to the prophet, "I will give you the treasures of the night"; and you wonder, are there treasures of the night? Later, you may be reading Psalm 63, and you find, ". . . when I think of Thee upon my bed, and meditate on Thee in the watches of the night; for Thou hast been my help, and, in the shadow of Thy wings, I sing for joy." Or you may be in that glorious book of the Spring-time of the Christian faith, the Book of Acts. Reading Phillips' translation, you come upon the story of Paul and Silas, thrown into jail, and locked in an inner cell, their feet securely fastened in the stocks:

"But about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God while the other prisoners were listening to them. Suddenly there was a great earth quake, big enough to shake the foundations of the prison. Immediately all the doors flew open and everyone's chains were unfastened." You read that exciting story until you find, at the end, that the jailor and all his family are converted. When God found Paul and Silas singing songs of praise at midnight, He could use those night hours to give freedom, not only to the praisers-of-God, but to the jailor and the other prisoners, who had listened. What a glorious "window over the sink" that Bible passage gives to every sleepless person!

For the night hours have their special opportunities. As Stanley Jones has put it, "I have learned to turn the wakeful period of the night into a listening post. I ask the Father if He has anything to say to me." And he goes on to tell how God invites the sleepless ones to give their burdens to Him, their problems for Him to solve in His way, their self-pity for Him to consume—and then, out of their thankfulness, to sing "songs at midnight", as Paul and Silas did.

It's amazing how your dread of the night-time dwindles. In fact, you half look forward to the next time. You are beginning to discover "the treasures of the night!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Drice:—About two years ago I had a severe virus, leaving me without the sense of smell and taste. The doctor said that often in cases like mine these senses never return and rarely will it happen that they are restored. You prayed for me at the Altar of St. Stephen's and I received instant healing which has lasted. I thank and praise God for His wonderful blessing to me.—Mrs. C. R. (Wenonah, N. J.)

At the U. T. O. presentation service at the Valley Forge Military School Chapel on May 17th Mrs. Ruth Leithead, our Parish U. T. O. Custodian, presented $282.98 from 65 contributors.

The Rector will speak at the 5 P.M. service at St. Philip's Church, 215 W. 133rd Street, New York on May 29th. This is the largest Parish in the Episcopal Church, with 3,572 Communicants.

St. Stephen's is having a face lifting! Instead of being a brown stone Church we find after sand-blasting that the stone is white! This has been part of a program of extensive repairs to the exterior of the Church which has been taking place this past month.

A new silk American Flag with fifty stars presented to the Church by Mr. Arthur C. Comby and Mr. Albert Sheehan will be dedicated on Sunday at the eleven o'clock service.

The ladies of the Military Order of the Purple Heart will sell their violets after the service Sunday morning for the benefit of the rehabilitation program of the combat wounded in our Veterans' hospitals.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Friendship is one of the most satisfying experiences of life. That is what our relationship to God should be. He would not have us approach Him as cringing slaves who fear an over-Lord, but joyously, confidently, as a man speaks to a friend, tried and true. He wishes to share with us His purposes for men. As we look forward to meeting a friend, so may our approach and friendship be with Thee, Thou Friend and Savior of our race. May our friendship ripen through the days and years to come, into a love that will cause us to do whatsoever Thou dost command us. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—Since attending your healing services I have found strength through Christ that I formerly wouldn't have believed possible. I have not found it necessary to have medical treatment for depression, nervousness and low blood pressure for almost three months. Previous to attending the healing services, I habitually resorted to drinking wine to calm my nerves in order to sleep at night. I now use prayer, with results I never dreamed possible. My mother has had a remarkable healing, too, since attending with me. Our whole family has had a rebirth, and we are attending Church every Sunday, after many years' absence. I shall always be proud to witness to the great help that faith in God and prayer has given us.

—Mrs. W. C. K. (Runnemede, N. J.)

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, at 7:30 P.M. Sunday evening.

The Annual Burd School Commencement will be held on June 12th, at 2:30 P.M., at the Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Ave., W. Phila.

THE MISERIES

Paul was on his way to Rome. His enemies had hauled him into court, hating this tower of strength who had turned from killing Christians to lifting up Christ as the Savior. They bring him before the Roman court, for they want a death-sentence. As in the case of Jesus, the Jews had to ask the Roman over-Lord to sentence people to death. Paul declares that he has committed no offence against the Jewish law, or against the Temple, or against Caesar, and appeals to the Emperor, to be tried in Rome. As a Roman citizen Paul had that right. The trip to Rome had been long and hard. Paul had gone through storm and ship-wreck, and had undergone the heavy burdens of loneliness, with no kindred spirit for a companion. The Phillips translation says:

> "A day later a South wind sprang up and we sailed to Puteolio, reaching it in only two days. There we found some of the brothers and they begged us to stay a week with them, so we finally came to Rome. The brothers there had heard about us and came out from the city to meet us, as far as the Market of Appius and the Three Taverns. When Paul saw them, he thanked God, and his spirits rose."

The older translation has it—"He thanked God and took courage."

The old Negro plantation expression for deep discouragement is, "I'se got de miseries." We all know the "miseries"—how we sink into self-sympathizing, resentful protest, sad shrugging of the shoulders, or just "enjoying trouble." One drifts into it so easily. But it isn't as easy to get out of it—to see through the blank wall of "miseries", until one learns the secret.

Paul reveals it. He had been discouraged and exhausted. Into his black gloom came a ray of light, a few welcoming Christian brothers, so Paul immediately "thanked God, and took courage." The way out of gloom is to thank God immediately. And any human being who has done some living, and can remember the years behind, can at least find real reasons to thank God by looking back. Most of us can find plenty of reasons for praising Him, just in the last day or two. God's goodness is so amazing. This becomes "A window over the sink" for many. As soon as they begin to feel the "miseries" coming on, they stop, and begin to remember real reasons for thanking God. In a very short time their spirits begin to rise, as St. Paul's did. They find so many reasons to thank Him for His boundless Love.

A wonderful way to end a day—in those last moments before you sleep—is to see how many reasons for thanking God you can find in the past day. Just name them over, as they come to you, and say, "Thank you, God," for each one. What is more, You will find yourself waking in the morning with His praise on your lips—a wonderful way to start the day!

THIS IS MY CHURCH

It is composed of people like me. We make it what it is.
It will be friendly, if I am.
Its pews will be filled, if I help fill them.
It will do great work, if I work.
It will make generous gifts to many causes, if I'm a generous giver.
It will bring other people into its worship and fellowship, If I bring them.
It will be a Church of loyalty and love, of fearlessness and faith, and a Church with noble spirit—if I, who make it what it is, am filled with these.
Therefore, with the help of God, I shall dedicate myself to the task of being all the things that I want my Church to be.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Chorale in B Minor .....Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—So much of religion is a mild assumption or a pious wish, and for that reason it never becomes a transforming power in our lives. When we know for a certainty that Jesus lives, and that He will make us live, then things begin to happen; and our lives begin to mount upward. Father, cleanse us of fear, timidity and uncertainty; and give us the great conviction that "the best is yet to come, the last for which the first was made." Make us to know that a glorious life is within reach of us all through Thy Son Jesus Christ. Amen.

Psalm 62, page 413

Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book page 11 .....Thiman

Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book page 15; Chant No. 645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "Praise" .....Rowley

To the Master of music and loveliness: Praise, power, dominion for ever. To the Lord of the Word of Creation be praise, power, dominion for ever. To the Master of movement, color and light: Praise, power, dominion forever. To the Builder, Designer, Creator, be praise. To the Theme of all song, Inspiration of love: to the Artist of life, to the Greatest and Least: Praise. For He is the greatest upon His high throne, And He was the Least as the Child of a maiden: Praise, then, to Jesus whose mother was Mary, and praise now to Christ who is God in the midst of us. Praise. Lord of all beauty, adoring we come to Thee: Give us Thyself both in time and eternity. Offering all that we are or can hope to be, Lord of all beauty, Praise, power, dominion forever!

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and parish house, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of teh pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three years coming.

We wish to express our thanks to Mrs. Scott P. Shaw for her recent contribution to this project.

JESUS' TONE OF VOICE

In one of Rudyard Kipling's best stories, "The Village that Voted the Earth was Flat", four distinguished men are out driving in the country and they are stopped by a local constable for speeding. Just as he tells them they will have to pay a fine, the squire of the village drives up, and pours out a series of sarcastic and insulting remarks. As the four men start back to the city, sizzling with indignation, one of them remarks, "It wasn't what he said—it was his Tone Of Voice!"

That is true. Actually, I can with a smile in my voice suggest to a friend that he go to regions more tropical than this one, and he will laugh with me. I can address the identical words, in anger, to a man, and he may knock me down! It is not what we say—it is our Tone of Voice.

In his Gospel, Mark says of Jesus, "For He taught them as one who had authority, and not as the Scribes." The Scribes spoke out of a parrot-religion, words learned by rote out of a book, with their proud, cool minds. There was no warmth for God or man in their voices. But Jesus spoke deep out of His heart, out of His glowing love for His Father, His powerful compassion for stumbling people. Even in His printed words, without the physical sound of His speech, we can still catch His passion of love for the littlest and humblest. So His tone of voice drew men close to Him,—as sheep respond to the shepherd's call. After Jesus had gone, crowds gathered around the disciples, because it was the Risen Jesus, in their hearts, who spoke to them. His voice, in them, "spoke with authority"; as it does today, through those who welcome Him into their hearts.

Your tone of voice comes out of what fills your heart. Because Jesus' heart was filled with a mighty compassion, His voice had healing power. In Kipling's story, the squire's voice was filled with arrogance and sarcasm, so it made the men very angry. "The Kingdom of God is within you." If Jesus is King over your inner world of plans, aims and desires, then your tone of voice will be His. At times you may forget to keep Him on the throne, and your voice will no longer sound like His, and you will hurt a friend, repel a stranger,—until He is back on the throne of your heart.

It is as simple as this—God means you to speak with Jesus' Tone Of Voice!

Dear Dr. Price:—It was over a year ago, in March, when I became ill at work. The doctors all said I had an intestinal virus. When in October, I became so ill that I could not work, I tried a new docotr who took a blood test and found I had 28,000 white count. My mother urged me to attend your healing service. It was a cold, rainy day and I was very weak, but I went. The next day the doctor took another blood test, and it came down to 18,000 white count. I had an emergency operation and the surgeon discovered that my appendix had been ruptured for about ten days to three weeks, causing peritonitis, and had formed a pelvic abscess as large as a baseball. He drained a pint of pus and continued to drain pus for four months. The doctor said I was fortunate to be alive. I believe it was through prayers that helped, as only God could have saved my life. As I prayed I tried to have the faith that would open a channel for God's healing. I am deeply thankful to God for these blessings.

—Evelyn O'Rear (Phila.)

The Rector will preach in Christ Church, Chattanooga, Tenn., Friday night, and at the University of the South, Sewanee, on Saturday, June 18th.

The Prelude: Devotion ..... Bossi

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—What will the day bring forth? Thus, we may well ask, in the face of the uncertainties of life. But life has its certainties also: God, for example, and His care of His people. He "restores", and He "leads". A path is sunny when these Divine Certainties accompany us on our way. O Thou Divine Shepherd of our souls, in all the uncertainties of life, Thou art our GREAT CERTAINTY. Restore unto our souls the knowledge of Thy Divine Goodness, and lead us ever on the paths of righteousness. Amen.

Blessed he, who from earth's dreams awaking, turns his heart from worldly pride; who every other joy forsaking, of wealth the golden fetters breaking, treasures of heav'n spreads around on every side. Then when the awful trumpet soundeth, let him rejoice! Blessed is he, in whom God's grace and love aboundeth, angels for him heav'n's gates fling open wide.

THE EPISCOPALIAN inaugurates a new era in Church Journalism.

A new page in the history of magazine journalism has been turned. Under authority granted by General Convention in 1958, the Church Magazine Advisory Board, appointed last year by the Presiding Bishop, has begun as publishers of the Church's officially sponsored national monthly magazine. A pilot journal called "The Episcopalian" has appeared in April, succeeding "Forth". The Episcopalian will attempt to be "a journal of contemporary Christianity" for the whole Episcopal Church.

For more than fifteen years, "Forth" has been published eleven times a year for not more than two dollars a subscription. During the same years printing and paper costs have risen spectacularly. Accordingly a new price schedule will go into effect on April 1st. The regular one-year subscription will cost $3.00; a two-year subscription, $5.00.

For these new rates The Episcopalian plans to offer its readers twelve issues each year instead of eleven, a larger magazine, and some color.

GOD'S LOVE NEVER FAILS

There are times when we think, "How many things we need!" We grow impatient over what we lack, and we are even doubtful about God's goodness. But Joel Goldsmith asks whether we are "those who must receive", or whether we are "that center from which the infinity of God flows out." He comes to the conclusion that "God's grace is our sufficiency in all things. We do not need anything in the world except His grace."

Can you credit God with enough wisdom to understand just what your needs are? Can you credit Him with enough power to provide for those needs? If you can say even a faint, "Yes" to those questions, then you can begin to understand that your one great need is to have God in your heart and mind. You must do your part, of course. Then, if you have welcomed Him in your heart, you can trust Him, you can leave all of your needs to Him.

But some sincere seeker says, "But I don't feel any sense of God's presence. I'm not sure that He is there." What then? Many have found that you feel God's presence only when you are honestly trying to do what pleases Him. If you can say to Him "Thy will be done", as Jesus did, then, and then only, will you begin to feel the certainty of His presence within you. You stop wanting others to supply your needs, looking to your neighbors or relatives to help you get the things you want. You just do your part and abide in Him, as Jesus taught in that marvelous 15th Chapter of John.

Joel Goldsmith continues, "Let us agree that we are the branch, Christ is the Vine . . . if we have a fruit tree which at the moment is barren and has no fruit on it, we do not ask anybody to fasten peaches, pears, or apples on our barren fruit tree. We do not expect that one tree in the orchard is going to supply another tree . . . Each tree bears the fruit from within itself. To a person who has never seen the miracle of a fruit tree, it must seem strange that from inside the tree, fruit comes forth through the branches. Reason would ridicule such a possibility. Here is an empty trunk; now how are peaches going to come from inside the trunk and hang themselves on the branches? It may be a mystery, but the fact is that it is a regular phenomenon of nature."

When you know that, that in the long run God's love never fails, then you are wealthier than those who are loaded with money. You have all that you need, for yourself and for others; and you always will—because God dwells in your heart.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Thank you very much for praying for me during my time of illness. Now I am completely recovered, and on the road to good health again. I had many closely compact carbuncles on my upper lip, just under the left nostril. It could have become very serious had it spread.—H. B. A. (Boston, Mass.)

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

The Prelude: Andante ..... Tartini

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our never-ending task of being Christian is to fill ourselves in unending measure of such qualities of the Spirit as strength in the inner man, faith in His dear Son, knowledge that comprehends the dimensions of Love; and Love itself that passeth all understanding. Dear Lord, We are overwhelmed when, as we behold the smallness of ourselves, we realize that we were meant to contain Thy fullness. Unto that end may we strive to be immersed in Thy Truth and Goodness, but not until we have emptied ourselves, so that Thou canst replenish our hearts with every grace of Thyself completely. Amen.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Ave Verum ..... Titcomb
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We live in the present. The past is gone and cannot be changed. If we are anxious for the morrow, we attempt to live the future today. Why add the burden of the morrow, to that of the day? "Cast all your anxiety upon Him because He careth for you." We confess, heavenly Father, that we often commit the folly of being anxious and worried. Renew a right Spirit within us and endow us with perfect trust. Give us assurance of Thy wisdom and goodness. For Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer and Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

Dear Dr. Price:—At the first Poconos "Faith At Work" Conference in 1956 you prayed with my mother and me. After I returned home a chronic eye infection cleared completely. I have had four wonderful years free of sickness. At the recent "Faith At Work" Conference I was again in your healing line. My mother and I both experienced a feeling of warmth like a healing light as you placed your hands on our heads. You mentioned it was a time of re-commitment. After the service we both were completely drained of energy. It was as if our lives had gone out, making way for Christ to live His life in us.—S. W. (Binghamton, N. Y.)

IMPROVEMENT FUND

To celebrate our 135th Anniversary we set out to air condition the Church and two office rooms, to clean the marble and paint the interior of the Church and Parish House, and to improve the lighting and tile the floor of the pews. To finance this project we asked our members and friends to underwrite the expense during the next three years coming.

We wish to acknowledge with grateful appreciation a gift toward this project from Mrs. Anne E. Weisman.

WHAT SHALL WE DO?

There come moments to every one of us when we are at our wits' end. Life has cornered us. Our backs are to the wall. We are helpless, confused, ashamed. We are stuck!

A moment like that once came to a crowd of men. They were "devout men," pillars of society. Peter, filled with God's Spirit, had told them that they were murderers. They had crucified God's own Son, sent by His Father to free mankind from the slavery of sin. They were "cut to the heart," sore with guilt, at their wits' end, and said to Peter and the other apostles, "Brethren, what shall we do?" They were stuck.

Stanley Jones points out: "Their question gathers up in itself all the cries from the heart of man since the dawn of creation as man finds himself caught between the moral law and his wrong actions. They saw as in a flash that, in being part of the crucifixion of Jesus, they had sinned grievously, were off on the wrong track, and had run straight into God."

Right now it may be that you feel cornered, hemmed in by your own sins. You may be asking, "What shall I do?" Old age has me by the throat,—what shall I do? That last illness cleaned out my savings—what shall I do? My wife and I don't get on, and I make life hell for her—what shall I do? I've been imprisoned in a wheelchair for 10 years, and I feel so sorry for myself that I don't really care about other people any more—what shall I do? I relish dirty stories and dirty jokes, and I know it isn't right—what shall I do? I spend long evenings watching TV, when part of those evenings should go to writing letters and doing chores for my wife—what shall I do? I enjoy passing on gossipy yarns about other people, and I told a mean one the other day that was not true at all—what shall I do?

That is why we have Churches. Because, in Jesus, we have the answer to every one of these questions. In Him is the answer to the age old question, "What shall we do?"

All through this coming winter we shall be letting Jesus speak to us, showing us His joyful, amazing secrets that give us the real answer. For those who keep close to Him, nothing is impossible. He alone can show us the fullness of life! He alone can tell us what to do!

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

St. Stephen's will be host to the 5th International Conference of the Order of St. Luke the Physician September 11th through the 14th. The Rector is the Warden of the Order of St. Luke, which is a non-Monastic Order for those within the Church who feel impelled to make the ministry of healing a part of their vocation. The Order embraces two classes of members: (1) Clergy members, including Bishops and Clergy who desire to promote the healing ministry as a regular part of the pastoral office; in the field of evangelism through parochial missions with an emphasis on healing; and by Clergy functioning as hospital Chaplains. (2) Lay Members, including those conscious of a special vocation or aptitude in this ministry and desirous of developing their talent, such as physicians, surgeons, psychiatrists, nurses, others who minister to the sick, and those able to make special contribution to the healing ministry.

The Rev. Lewis Maclachlan, Chairman of the Church's Ministry of Healing in the Presbyterian Church of England; Editor of "The Presbyterian Messenger" will be our headliner. Mrs. Emily Gardiner Neal, of Pittsburgh, author of "A Reporter Finds God Through Spiritual Healing" and "You Can Be Healed Now", will give three addresses. Mrs. Ethel Banks of San Diego, Editor of "Sharing" Magazine will be a speaker. The Rev. Clinton J. Kew, of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry, will give three addresses. THE SILENT MEDITATION:—A condition for Kingdom entrance requirements is the sharing of religious experience with others. Let this be today's resolve: "I shall speak with someone today concerning the value I have received from being a child of God. I will tell what the Lord has done for me." Our Father in heaven, we praise Thee for the holy voices through which Thou hast spoken to us. God's peace is peace eternal, here discords all our joys displace; we wage a war infernal, and gentle mercy finds no place. Life is our time of trial now, before the Judge we all must bow. God merciful and kind will shield us, and from the evil set us free; He knoweth when to sin we yield us, the path we follow recklessly. He will the poorest soul release, who turns from sin to heaven's peace.

HEALING CONFERENCE

We extend a hearty welcome to the members of the Order of St. Luke The Physician and to the many interested people who are attending our four day Conference on Spiritual Healing. We hope everyone will enter into the joy and inspiration of these days ahead. We are extremely indebted to the Leaders of this Conference. The Rev. Lewis Maclachlan has come to us from England. The Rev. Bernard Martin is our Chaplain from Switzerland. The Rev. Alex Holmes our Chaplain from Canada. Mrs. Emily Gardner Neal has written two inspiring books and is working on the third, is giving a series of important lectures. To Mrs. Ethel T. Banks, whose most able editorship of "Sharing" Magazine since its inception has made it the unquestioned leader in the whole field, we give a hearty welcome. The Rev. Clinton J. Kew of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry will give three important lectures. Pastor Leopold W. Bernhard, Chairman of the Lutheran Church's Commission on Spiritual Healing and Anointing will give two lectures. The Rev. William Beachy, M.D. of St. Luke's Hospital, Kansas City, Missouri, the Rev. John H. Parke, Newport Beach, California, the Rev. Canon Richard Lief, D.D. of Los Angeles, the Rev. Frank Downing of Baltimore and William S. Reed, M.D., Surgeon of Michigan will give lectures. To Mrs. Nelle Cook, who will be in charge of the "Books", and the many others whose contributions to this Conference are so important, we want to say, "Thank you."

WELCOME TO PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia is one of the great medical centers of the world and the home of the first hospital in America. The city is rich in historical tradition. The birthplace of freedom and liberty.

We sincerely welcome the delegates to this Conference and hope that inspiration and greater knowledge will be your reward for being here.

Members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the O.S.L., wearing their distinctive badge, will serve as ushers, and they are prepared to help our visitors in every way possible. They will have the registration cards, and name badges, the Breakfast and Supper tickets, the information for those who wish to be inducted into the O.S.L. on Tuesday at 5 P.M., etc.

The wash room facilities for women are in the business office of the Parish House and the first floor of the Community House. The men's wash room is in the basement of the Community House.

Most of the restaurants and eating places around the Church are closed on Sundays; for our out-of-town friends we would suggest Horn and Hardart Cafeteria on Market street near 12th, next to Reading Terminal. The dining room at the Ben Franklin Hotel, Chestnut at 9th, is very fine.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: I wish to report that since I asked for prayers for R.M. it has truly been a miracle! He has stopped drinking, his home and family life has been restored and he has improved in character tremendously, and also in his business. I cannot express my gratefulness for your Prayer Fellowship.—Mrs. P. B. (Worcester, Mass.)

Dear Dr. Price: An old friend of mine, Doctor Robert Ford Neal, passed through Dallas recently, and I could not help but note the tremendous impact upon his life and practice of medicine that has been made, according to his own enthusiastic confession, by his association with the Order of St. Luke. Bob suggested that I write to you concerning more information about the Order and its purposes and aims with a view toward possible association therewith on my part if I were accepted. For a number of years I have been very active in Christian Medical Society.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O God Our Help in Ages Past" ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men; He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He, who was pure, would have us watch our words and deeds, so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Processional Hymn 289 ..... St. Anne

The Venite, page 9 in the Prayer Book; Chant No. 609, Hymnal

Psalm 90, Page 453

Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book page 11 ..... Thiman

Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book page 15; Chant No. 645, Hymnal

Anthem: "O Lord Most Holy" ..... Franck

O Lord most holy, most mighty; O loving Father, Thee would we be praising alway. Help us to know Thee and love Thee; Father, grant us Thy truth and grace; guide and defend us. Rule Thou our wilful hearts, keep Thine our wandering thoughts; in all our sorrows, let us find our rest in Thee; And in temptation's hour, save through Thy mighty power, Thine aid O send us in mercy. Show us Thy favor, so shall we live and sing praise to Thee.

The Sermon: "The Golden Calf" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 393 ..... St. Catherine

Recessional Hymn 355 (Omit stanzas 4 & 5) ..... Coronation

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. Walter B. Walker in memory of his sister Margaret Sorrell Walker.

5:30 P. M.—Holy Communion & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

Words are inadequate vehicles to express to all the women of St. Stephen's Church our appreciation for the wonderful help and service rendered to our guests at the recent International Conference on Spiritual Healing. To Mrs. Madeline Keller and her fine group of workers who were responsible for the Tea and Reception in the Community House on the three afternoons of the Conference, and for the expert handling of over 150 people who attended the Supper on Tuesday night, and for the most important help given by members of the O.S.L. in the work of registration, ushering and information, we are deeply indebted.

You are invited to a House Tour and Garden Party in Society Hill where 15 homes will be open Sunday, Sept. 25th from two to six P.M. The cost is $3.00 and it is for the benefit of Christ Church Rectory.

TO KNOW THAT YOU'RE LOVED

In his book "Christian Maturity", E. Stanley Jones tells a story of Rags, a lovable airedale dog. After being missed for three days, someone heard his faint barking, and located him at the bottom of a 50 foot dry well. A man was lowered into the well, and Rags was found uninjured, but weak from hunger. As the man put Rags into a sack, something brushed against his leg. It was a large rabbit that had also fallen into the well. So the man put the rabbit into the sack with Rags, and the sack was pulled up—but the rabbit fell out. Once at the top, Rags eagerly welcomed the food and water they gave him. But when his master called Rags to come home with him, the dog would not budge. He kept looking down into the well. So someone went down and brought up the rabbit. Rags sniffed him happily, and then willingly trotted home with his master.

What made Rags so lovable? Simply because he was not content to be saved alone. There are people like Rags—and they are the salt of the earth. They are called Christians. They are not content to enjoy anything by themselves. Their joy is in sharing their treasures, their freedom, with others.

Christians learned this secret of joy from their Master. Looking up to Him, dying on the Cross, His enemies scoffed, "He saved others, Himself He cannot save." And they were right. It was not in the nature of Jesus to be able to save His own life. His deep desire was to share God's Love with others, and to pour it out to them until they would accept it and be refreshed. Then they could sing out, joyfully, "We know that we have crossed the frontier from death to life because we do love our brothers." They were no longer content to be saved, just themselves. Their lives were so radiant with Love that the old pagan world could not resist them and their Christ. Hosts of people were drawn to Jesus by their boundless capacity for Love.

Winfred Rhoades died last year. He was a warrior for Christ against sickness, and loneliness, and despair. In middle age he fell in love, with all his heart and mind and spirit, and for nearly twenty years, he and Edith lived richly together. He left behind him a sheaf of poems, most of it sonnet-tributes to her. And the greatest tribute he paid her was to her power to love, her apparently boundless capacity to bless him with her caring, her understanding, her sharing of all that is beautiful. He wrote of her, "To love is your distinction", and he portrayed her as saying, "I do not think that anyone loves more to love than I". One day, he pictured their dog, lying by the fire, saying a great truth in homely words:

"It's good to be fed,
It's good to be scratched,
It's good to be walked,
It's good to be loved—
And bestest of all
To know that you're loved."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price: I want to thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for all your prayers in behalf of my brother who is in the Norristown State Hospital. He is so much improved and is to be released this month. I feel it was just through prayer that he has been healed. I do thank God for blessing and healing him.—Mrs. D. H. (Danville, Pa.)

We extend hearty congratulations to Miss Carol Austin, a graduate of our Burd School, who was graduated from St. John's Episcopal Hospital School of Nursing, Brooklyn, on September 8th.

This past Summer the interior of the Community House and the Rectory in Cynwyd were painted and redecorated. The physical fabric of the Church is now in wonderful condition.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Howard Corning, Eva Hansen.

Christmas Cards, with a reproduction of St. Stephen's Sanctuary of last Christmas, are available. The cost is $3.00 per box of 20.

KEEP SCORE ON YOUR WORRIES

Some of us would do well to emulate the woman who realized that her fears were ruining her life, so she made for herself a "worry table." In tabulating her worries she discovered these figures:

40% — will never happen; anxiety is the result of a tired mind.
30% — about old decisions which I cannot alter.
12% — others' criticism of me, mostly untrue, made by people who feel inferior.
10% — about my health, which gets worse as I worry.
8% — 'legitimate", since life does have some real problems to meet.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant Communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit, and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. Make us faithful to all that is fine and noble. Amen.

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: He that keepeth thee will not slumber. Behold He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep. The Lord is thy Keeper; thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil, He shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve the going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

HEALING CONFERENCE

Despite the railroad srtike and hurricane Donna, there were six thousand people who attended the various sessions of the four-day International Conference on Spiritual Healing held in St. Stephen's Church Sept. 11th-14th, inclusive. There were 770 persons who registered. They represented 18 Denominations, 17 States, Canada, England, France, Switzerland, West Indies and Bermuda. 85 Clergy, 16 physicians and psychiatrists and 16 nurses attended. Sixty-five new members were inducted into the Order.

Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to Mrs. Madeline Keller and her devoted Committee who were responsible for the refreshments and reception in the Community House during the afternoons of the Conference when over eleven hundred people were served with an appetizing plate, and 175 were served with a dinner on Tuesday evening.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

We have been speaking of putting Jesus Christ at the center of our lives, as Lord, and serving Him as Master; and so living in His Way that everything fits, and makes sense. But someone asks, "How do I do this? It sounds grand, like learning to sing, but how do I do it? Isn't it something only a few gifted saints can master?"

The answer is found in the New Testament. There we find puzzled pagans exclaiming, "See how these Christians love each other!" And the Christians were run-of-the-mill people, house-wives and husbands, laborers, shop keepers. The pagans could not fathom where this amazing Love came from, this Love that could even have a loving concern for strangers and enemies.

John summed it up, "Beloved, let us love one another, for love is of God." That is where Love comes from—not from our small spirits, but by making room in our hearts for the Risen Christ, and letting Him love others through us. We no longer groan and strain and squeeze out a few drops of love. We have accepted Him as Lord of life; and we let Him love, even difficult people, through us, out of His infinite store of Love. But how?

First, by being honest, and acknowledging that we shall make plenty of mistakes. We shall forget, and trust ourselves, sometimes; and then fail, just as the early Christians did. But then, instead of being discouraged and sulky, we will quickly trust Him again, and sincerely let Him live and work and love in us.

Fenelon once put it practically and simply: "Cheered by the Presence of God, I will do, each moment, without anxiety, according to the strength He shall give me, the work His providence assigns me."

Elizabeth Gray Vining (who tutored the crown prince of Japan and wrote "Windows for the Crown Prince") says that she once memorized these words of Fenelon's. At moments of tension and anxiety she would repeat them, and thus find God's strength to go ahead in His power. Try this, yourself. It works, because it turns you away from your own weakness to God's power in you.

If you will discipline yourself to memorize Fenelon's words, and apply them to your living, hour by hour, day by day, you will find a new serenity growing within you. You will discover a new security in Him. The wrinkles between your eye brows will begin to smooth out. Your tense muscles will relax, and a new gaiety will come into your heart. "Beloved, let us love one another, for Love is of God!"

SUNDAY AFTERNOON BIBLE CLASS

Mrs. James Lewis' Bible Class in the Community House will begin the Fall season on Sunday, September 25th, at 4 P.M. Everyone is welcome to attend.

WEDNESDAYS AT ST. STEPHEN'S

The Fall Series of full length motion pictures for elderly persons continue throughout the year. There is no charge to elderly persons to see these pictures. A small charge is made for refreshments you purchase.

During the Summer months these fine motion pictures were well received, and many attended. We are expecting greater results this Fall, and hope all the elderly persons of St. Stephen's will attend.

"See you Wednesday at St. Stephen's—7:45 P.M."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—When I wrote to you for prayer help, I was desperate. A nerve disorder in my face was causing me so much pain. As soon as I heard from you, I began to follow your suggestion, setting aside a period three times a day for study, meditation and prayer. Gradually the pain began to disappear. At first it was so severe I had difficulty talking and eating and I could not bear for anything to touch my face. Today my face is entirely normal and my nerves are quieter, too. For over two years I have been under the doctor's care for high blood pressure and nervousness. My heart is full of gratitude for the help given me.—E. E. L. (Winona, Missouri).

There will be a Garden Party on Sunday, October 9th, from 2 to 5 P.M. at the home of Mrs. Robert Toland, Whitemarsh, for the benefit of the Episcopal Hospital. There will be a demonstration of Flower Arrangements. Donation $1.50.

You are invited to a House Tour and Garden Party in Society Hill where 15 homes will be open Sunday, Sept. 25th, from 2 to 6 P.M. The cost is $3.00 and it is for the benefit of Christ Church Rectory.

Christmas Cards, with a reproduction of St. Stephen's Sanctuary of last Christmas, are available. The cost is $3.00 per box of 20.

O God, Be Merciful To Me ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are, indeed, unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence whenever in need, and wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: Last Spring I wrote to you and told you that I did not have faith that God would heal me of my illness, because I thought that God wanted us to have afflictions to strengthen us. You didn't agree with me and gave my name to the Prayer Fellowship. I am happy to say now that my attitude toward God has chnged and I no longer believe that God wants us to be sick or have afflictions. I believe that the prayers of the Fellowship helped me to change my attitude. I did not understand what love will do and that God loves us, because I was never given any love, affection, or encouragement by my parents. I thought of God as a father, but as my own father is. That is not right, as I now realize. I believe now that God will heal me of all my imperfections and illnesses.—D. W. (Phila., Pa.)

BATTLE-GROUND OF LIFE

As you read history, you discover that the winning commanders are those who knew WHERE to attack.

The Scribes and Pharisees attacked Jesus because He broke their traditional rules about eating. They made their battle-ground of external churchly matters of washing and eating. Jesus said to them, "There is nothing outside of you that can dirty your soul. What matters is what goes on inside you—the pride and lust that grows within, and then comes out in hurtful speech or act." Jesus was teaching them that the great battle-ground of men is in their hearts and minds. It is within us that we win or lose the battle of life.

Hannah Hurnard puts it in Jesus' Spirit—"All sin begins in the thoughts . . . Love begins in the will." We are to follow Jesus, and become like Him, we must turn our attention inward, and ask God to help in overcoming our inner enemies. Paul writes, out of his hard-won experience, "For our fight is not against any physical enemy . . . we are up against the unseen power which controls this dark world . . ." (Phillips' translation).

It is so much easier to think that the enemy is something visible, external — a broken hip, which keeps me in bed; my difficult husband or wife; my lonely home on a distant road; my heavy, uninteresting job; my loss of a dear one; my blindness. These are all grievous difficulties, and hard to bear. But everyone of them has been joyfully overcome by those who knew that the battle is won or lost in the human heart. Those who believe that "Jesus is Lord", and live by that belief, find victory, and show forth that "with God, all things are possible."

I have been reading an account of Shackleton's fabulous antarctic expedition in 1915. It is a breath-taking story. All the outer forces of nature again and again seemed to combine to crush them. But Shackleton was a great leader. He knew that the real battle was within the spirit of a man—a matter of morale, thought, of knowing (like Elisha) that "those who are with us are more than those who are with them."

This is true of you. No matter what your enemy is, God is stronger! If you trust Him, and let Him be God, your inner life will be strong and joyful. You will be able to smile quietly in the face of your old enemy, and put him to flight. People will wonder how you do it. Perhaps they will ask you how you won the victory, and you will tell them the secret, and they will start on the highway of victory themselves!

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, tonight at 7:30 P.M. He will preach on Tuesday evening at the Bacon Memorial Church, Niagara Falls and conduct a Day Apart Retreat for 15 Denominational groups on Wednesday. He will conduct a Healing Service Wednesday evening in St. George's Church, St. Catherines, Ontario, Canada.

REPAYMENT

Some 80 years ago, a Scotsman of poor means was walking near his home when he saw a boy dangerously mired in a bog, and rescued him. The lad turned out to be the son of a nobleman, who offered money to the Scotsman. The Scotsman refused. The nobleman then offered to rear and educate the Scotsman's son and both shook hands on the bargain.

In time, the Scotsman's son graduated from St. Mary's Hospital Medical School. His name is Sir Alexander Fleming, the discoverer of penicillin.

During the war, the nobleman's son was stricken with pneumonia, but lived because of penicillin. He is Sir Winston Churchill.

During a fire in the night, the tenants of an apartment hotel rushed into the street with their most prized possessions. One woman noticed that the gentleman who lived directly above her was carrying a large covered bird cage.

"What have you there?" she asked curiously.

"That's my pet rooster," answered the man.

The woman gasped and fainted. When she revived she told her anxious neighbor, "I'm sorry I fainted, but you see, I've been under treatment by a psychiatrist for the past year because I kept hearing a rooster crowing!!"

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly pray: "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "All things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that Thy will for our lives may be revealed to us in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Amen.

Blessed are all they that fear the Lord, and walk in His ways. For thou shall eat the labors of thine hands: O well is thee, and happy shalt thou be. Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine upon the walls of thine house; thy children like the olive branches round about thy table. Lo, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord. The Lord from out of Sion shall so bless thee, that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperity all thy life long. Yea, that thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

Dear Dr. Price: — You will be glad to know that the intercessory prayers of your Prayer Fellowship for my son, Richard, have accomplished much for him. He has been discharged by Embreeville State Hospital as cured. While he was there it was a great comfort and encouragement to him to know that people he did not know were interested enough in him to pray for his recovery. May God continue to bless all of you.

—Mrs. E. B. (Malvern, Pa.)

THE GLORIOUS VICTORY ROAD

An honest person like yourself may say, "I want to follow Jesus Christ. But, when my special temptation strikes me, I forget about it, until it is all over. It happens again and again. What can I do about it?"

Fenelon, that great adventurer of the soul, tells us clearly what we can do about temptation. First, we can make ready for it, . . . "Be faithful to the light within us, in avoiding all exposure to temptation which we are at liberty to avoid. Second, to turn our eyes to God at the moment of temptation, and throw ourselves immediately upon the protection of heaven, as a child when in danger flies to the arms of his parents."

He goes on: "The habitual conviction of the presence of God is the sovereign remedy . . . Our life is a continual warfare, but Jesus Christ combats with us. We must let temptations, like a tempest, beat upon our heads, and still move on—like a traveler surprised on his way by a storm, who wraps his cloak about him, and goes on his journey in spite of the opposing elements."

This takes practice. Last Summer, a friend of mine, hoping to improve his golf, went to a golf teacher for instructions. This shrewd Scot looked at him and quietly asked, "Do you mind if I change your grip?" That meant changing the way my friend had taken hold of his golf-club for the past 50 years, but he said, "Yes," because the old grip did not give him victory. I find the Lord asking me about my game of life, "Do you mind if I change your grip on life—especially, the way you take hold of tempting moments?"

You know what your special temptation is. You also know that certain circumstances will always open the way for that temptation. It may be your talking with a certain person. You can then pray to God, "Help me to avoid that person unnecessarily." You know other people whose friendship strengthens you against all that is unworthy. Seek out those people. In this way you are arranging strong defences against temptation. When it does strike, you can learn immediately to turn your thought to Jesus Christ, and hold it there. When you do that, your towering temptation slinks off the battle-field.

Above all, train yourself in the constant companionship of God. Each day make it an unbreakable habit to spend 15 minutes, or more, with Him, and with His Word. I strongly suggest the use of Phillips' translation of the New Testament. He translates the familiar "Abide in Me, and I in you", thus: "You must go on growing in Me, and I will grow in you." Go into the day thus armed, and you will find yourself on the glorious Victory Road!

A SPECIAL DIOCESAN CONVENTION is called by the Bishop to meet in Holy Trinity Church on Monday morning, November 7th at nine o'clock. The purpose of this Convention is the election of a Coadjutor Bishop. From this parish, as from all parishes, the representation will be: three lay deputies who collectively have one vote, and the Rector as clerical deputy. All deputies are asked to vote with intelligence, with utmost devotion to the highest good of the Church, and under the influence of "The Holy Spirit."

Have you accepted your invitation to the Special Service of Thanksgiving to be held at Christ Church, Philadelphia, on Sunday, October 23rd, at 3:00 P.M., and to attend the tea at Old St. Paul's Church, at 225 So. 3rd Street? The tea will be served immediately following the Service, at Old St. Paul's.

There will be guided tours of the building and interesting exhibits showing the work done by Episcopal Community Services.

A free parking lot on 3rd Street between Chestnut and Walnut Streets midway between Christ Church and Old St. Paul's is available.

Those planning to attend the tea will please call WA 5-8110.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the Annual Appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year, under the able leadership of Mrs. Anna W. Hauger, the Benevolent Society sent 5,577 pieces of sewing to the following hospitals: Episcopal, 236; Jefferson, 5,341.

Five hundred dollars will just about cover the estimated cost for the Season 1960-61. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals which desperately need the finished articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith, and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and nurses and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors and nurses in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body, that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of fellow has a germ than what kind of germ has a fella."—Shattuck

"'Tis not the body, but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell

STATEMENTS BY LEADING AMERICAN DOCTORS

(In Emily Gardiner Neal's Book "GOD CAN HEAL YOU NOW")

Dr. Howard Craven, Washington, D.C.—"If we are to be honest, we have to face the truth that a large number of remarkable healings appear to be taking place without medical or surgical intervention. Many of these cannot be categorized as purely psychosomatic. Experience seems to justify the belief that spiritual healing completes the chain that welds the patient into an integrated, whole, happy, well, unit."

Dr. Albert Reissner, Brooklyn Psychoanalyst.—"More and more of us are becoming convinced of two things: First, that man is a trinity composed of body, mind and spirit; and, second, that the underlying cause of most disease is spiritual. We have observed that unless a healing of the spirit takes place, the cure of the body or mind is not apt to be either complete or permanent."

Dr. William Reed of Bay City, Michigan.—"Today there is a new awareness that in the close co-operation between the Church and medicine lies a new, great kind of care of illness that brings Christ into His proper place in the thinking and activities of both groups. We are learning through spiritual healing that Christ has a message for physicians which must be listened to."

Dr. Evarts Loomis of Southern California.—"I have noticed repeatedly in my practice that the extent of a physical healing seems to depend on the change in the spiritual life of the patient which goes with prayer and meditation. On several occasions when a patient was not making satisfactory progress, I have prayed with him either verbally or silently, whether he be Catholic or Protestant, in office, or hospital room. Almost invariably improvement has followed."

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, who conducted an investigation on spiritual healing several years ago, reported: "Christian Healing has passed beyond the stage of experiment, and its value cannot be questioned. Spiritual Healing no longer is the hope of the few, but the belief and practice of a large and rapidly increasing number of persons."

Dear Dr. Price:—Last year I wrote to ask that a friend of mine, critically ill with cirrhosis of the liver, be placed on your Prayer List. She is recovering. The doctors said they hadn't seen a liver the color of hers and said prayer must have saved her. During her convalescence a hospital Chaplain called on her from time to time and she told him what a useless and selfish life she'd lived and how differently she intended to live. This is the fourth changed life, including my own, in my close circle of friends. I've been to St. Stephen's Altar several times and am now working at the Church Farm School.—H. O. (Glen Lock, Pa.)

Members of the Parish are cordially invited to attend a Service of Thanksgiving celebrating the 265 years of Christ Church in Philadelphia and the 90 years of the Episcopal Community Services of the Diocese of Pennsylvania in Christ Church, 2nd Street above Market Street, on Sunday, October 23rd, at 3 P.M.

Tea will be served immediately following the Service at Old St. Paul's, 225 S. 3rd Street.

A free parking lot on 3rd Street between Chestnut and Walnut Streets is available.

Those planning to attend the tea will please call WA 5-8110.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing at St. Mark's Church, Islip, Long Island, Sunday night, October 16th through Tuesday.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Praeludium ..... Buxtehude
Sinfonia ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Christian religion is one of joyful hope, not of helpless resignation; of ardent expectation, not of gloomy despair. This assurance comes from having "reverence for Christ in our hearts as Lord", as the modern translations put it. All questions and doubts are answered in Him. Father of Our Lord Jesus Christ, we pray for that living hope which comes to us through the Resurrection of the Savior. Grant that through faith He may dwell in our hearts; and so enlighten our minds that we may help others to overcome doubts and fears. Amen.

Processional Hymn 280 ..... Stuttgart

The Venite, Prayer Book Page 9; Chant No. 608, Hymnal

Psalm 111, Page 482

Te Deum Laudamus, Prayer Book page 10; Chants No. 613 & No. 617, Hymnal

Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book Page 15; Chant No. 644, Hymnal

The Anthem: Lord, Who Is My Guide But Thee? ..... Schutz

Lord, who is my guide but Thee? who is my light, who is my guide? And there is none beside Thee that I desire. My soul and body, how did they fail! But God is my strength, forever comfort of my heart; and my portion, consolation and my portion.

The Sermon: "MIRACLES DO HAPPEN" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 158 ..... Puer Nobis

Recessional Hymn 567 ..... Dulce Carmen

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. Robert C. Thackara in memory of his mother, Mabel C. Thackara.

FOOD FOR DEVELOPMENT

Some people feel that their lives are set in hard circumstances. An elderly wife is tied to the grievous task of taking care of a very sick husband who is irritable and sometimes unappreciative. Or a young woman in her twenties, with two young children, is paralyzed below the waist by polio, and her husband takes that dark moment to desert her. Or a woman over eighty—the last of three unmarried sisters and a bachelor brother, who had lived happily together, is now left alone. You would not blame any of these three for feeling that life had dealt her a tough hand of cards!

As a matter of fact, these three are all cheerful, widely-loved people. They live with steady faith in God's grace. Like Paul, they have found it sufficient for all their needs. The elderly woman is looked up to by the whole community as her life gives testimony to the sustaining power of God. The paralyzed young woman conducts a magazine-subscription business, raises a sizable vegetable garden each Summer, teaches Sunday School, and is secretary of the local Council of Churches. The lone octogenarian goes faithfully to the Church she began attending as a girl, and her thankful heart shows forth that old age can be lighted with the beauty of Jesus Christ. The Kingdom of God is within us and no circumstance can defeat the life that is upheld by the grace of God.

The truth is that we can find strength in the circumstances that surround us, even if they are difficult. Howard Thurman has pointed out that the spiritual life is like a fertile egg whose embryo is surrounded by the exact nourishment needed for its development. It grows by feeding on what is right around it, thus building up the strength needed to take its way through the shell. So, likewise, this spiritual germ ("The spark of the soul within every human being") is surrounded by the exact food necessary for its development. This food consists of the circumstances in which our lives are set—the neighbors and friends, the opportunities and difficulties, the events of each day. It is hard to believe this at first, especially if your life has many difficulties. Test it yourself, by practicing it—and you will find it gloriously true.

When you start to drift into pitying yourself for some of the circumstances of your life, just picture yourself as an embryo chick. If God has the power to surround each barnyard embryo chick with just the food it needs, then He has the power to do this for you, and He has done so. The three people mentioned above accepted their circumstances with that faith, and, like hosts of every-day Christians, became glorious people. It works for everyone who faithfully tries it!

AN INTERPRETATION OF THE UNITED FUND

Most of us depend upon others whenever we wish to share our good fortune with those less favored. We seldom directly help individuals or families in trouble, nor provide guidance or education for those who could profit from either. This is not always what we would choose to do, but our complex society and our lack of knowledge or skill in offering our aid wisely compels us to this source of action.

In the community we can turn to over 250 agencies ministering to nearly every need of our neighbors that cannot be supplied by our Churches. We express our concern for these neighbors whenever we contribute to the United Fund Torch Drive. Without the money we give to the United Fund, many of our neighbors would suffer.

FORWARD DAY BY DAY for Late Trinity may be obtained in the Church vestibule or in the office. This issue begins the 26th year of this publication of daily readings which set out to stress the world-wide mission of the Church. "The Church is not simply a little society in our own town. Our parish is one small branch of a great body that is working all over the world."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—This letter is to thank you and your good people for helping my alcoholic son. He has put on weight and has not touched a drop since your prayers were requested. Words are inadequate to express my gratitude. Faith in God is all that is needed.—M. R. (Miami, Fla.)

The Rector preached in the Eastern Baptist Seminary Chapel on Wednesday, October 19th. He will speak to the students of the Women's Medical College on October 26th.

The Women of St. Stephen's, in both the Morning and Evening Branches, are going together, on Sunday, October 23rd, to lunch, the Special Service at Christ Church at 3 P.M. and the Tea afterwards at Old St. Paul's. They will meet in the Community House after Church. All women are invited to join them.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Antiphon I ..... Dupre
A Mighty Fortress ..... Buxtehude

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"I believe in God, and the life everlasting" is a most marvelous statement of faith. The two parts of it are inseparable; one is meaningless without the other. To doubt God's willingness or power to give us eternal life is to limit Him so that He is no longer God. We cannot fight the good fight of faith except we first "lay hold on eternal life." Eternal Father, we are Thine, now and in eternity; and those whom we have "loved and lost awhile" are both Thine and ours, if we are Thine. Strengthen us in a healthy hope of everlasting life through our confidence in Thee. Amen.

Processional Hymn 551 ..... Ein Feste Burg

Lord, who is my Guide, but Thee? who is my Light, who is my Guide? And there is none beside Thee that I desire. My soul and body, how did they fail! But God is my strength, forever comfort of my heart; and my portion, consolation and my portion.

THE UNRULY MEMBER

In our battles to establish Jesus as Lord of our lives, our tongues make a great deal of difficulty. For we are sometimes tempted to speak carelessly or harmfully of others. James, in writing to the scattered Jewish people, put it clearly: ". . . If a man can control his tongue, he can control every other part of his personality . . . The human tongue is physically small, but what tremendous effect it can boast of! A whole forest can be set ablaze by a tiny spark of fire, and the tongue is as dangerous as any fire, with vast potentialities of evil. It can poison the whole body; it can make the whole of life a blazing hell." (Phillips' translation).

A French peasant woman once confessed that she had told something that was untrue about her neighbor. The old, wise priest directed, "Your penance is to take a bag of feathers and place one on every door-step in the village. Tomorrow, go out and pick them all up, and bring them back to me." The next day she returned to him. "Did you place a feather on every door-step?" he asked. "Yes, Father." "Did you go out this morning, and pick up every one, and bring them back to me?" "I went out, Father, and tried to pick them all up, but most of them had blown away, and I could not get them back." The old priest's voice was quiet but stern, as he said, "Neither can you get back the untruths you tell about other people."

Amy Carmichael tells how she and two other missionaries laid down a rule for their conversation in the house where they lived together—"We write down as a law of the house that the absent are not to be discussed to their detriment; that no belittling stories are told of anyone; nor anything said about anyone unless it passes through the three sieves:

"IS IT TRUE?
IS IT KIND?
IS IT NECESSARY?"

God gives these three sieves to all who accept Him as Lord over their lives. Actually, you cannot keep Him on the throne of your heart unless you possess and use them. They are part of the basic equipment of every disciple of Jesus. As you learn to use them, you will find your talk being transformed into something close to the conversation of Jesus Himself.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It is with joy and thanksgiving that I report that my son, Philip, who had hepatitis and has been on your prayer list, has recovered and is now working a part of each day. I thank God for your Prayer Fellowship and their prayers.
—L. S. W. (Asheville, N. C.)

The Rector will participate in a Forum on Spiritual Healing in the Mount Airy Lutheran Seminary on Wednesday evening, November 2nd.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion on Tuesday, November 1st (All Saints' Day) at 12:15 P.M.

THE EPISCOPALIAN

THE EPISCOPALIAN is the name of the new Church magazine authorized at the last General Convention of the Episcopal Church. It has already met with enthusiastic support in many parishes, and there will undoubtedly be many people in St. Stephen's Church who will want to subscribe to it. A year's subscription is $3.00.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

Each Fall the women of the Church are asked to empty their Blue U. T. O. Boxes, and send the contents, either by check or in cash in the Blue Envelope on the alms basin. It will be helpful if it were placed there this Sunday.

The members of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing wish to thank all who contributed to their 22nd Annual Bazaar given on October 6th. The profit from the Bazaar and contributions totalled $2,098.65.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O What Their Joy" ..... Matthews
"Gaudeamus" ..... Titcomb

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from all conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace of which Jesus said: "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this gift. Amen.

Processional Hymn 126 ..... Sine Nomine
Kyrie ..... Stanford
The Anthem: "Let Saints On Earth In Concert Sing" ..... Titcomb

Let saints on earth in concert sing with those whose work is done; for all the servants of our King in heaven and earth are one. One family, we dwell in Him, one Church, above, beneath; though now divided by the stream, the narrow stream of death. E'en now by faith we join our hands with those that went before, and greet the ever-living bands on the eternal shore. Jesus, be Thou our constant Guide; then, when the word is given, Bid Jordan's narrow stream divide, and bring us safe to heaven.

The Sermon: "REMEMBERING THE SAINTS" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 124 ..... St. George
Sursum Corda ..... Stanford
Sanctus ..... Stanford
Communion Hymn 197 ..... Picardy
Gloria in Excelsis 739 ..... Old Scotish Chant
Recessional Hymn 599 ..... Vigiles et Sancti

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

Each Fall the women of the Church are asked to empty their Blue U. T. O. Boxes, and send the contents, either by check or in cash in the Blue Envelope on the alms basins. CLOUD OF WITNESSES

David had come over a rough, hard, road. Hunted by Saul, he had known dark and dangerous days. Then, at last, all the tribes of Israel came to him and made him their king. Swiftly he overcame the enemies of Israel, and reigned, secure and strong. Now he had time to think. He looked back over the years, and remembered that it was Jonathan, the son of Saul, who had led him out of weakness and peril into God's strength. "And David said, 'Is there still anyone left of the house of Saul, that I may show him kindness for Jonathan's sake?'"

We are in the Octave of All Saints' Day, when we look back over the years and remember those who opened for us the way of life. They are our saints, people who discovered for us the treasures of God. How rich your remembering is today, as you remember a wife or a husband with a rare talent for love; an uncle who opened your eyes to the wonder of God's creation in the wild-flowers or the stars; an aunt who made you feel at home with great music; a neighbor who loved you patiently through your awkward 'teens. You may recall parents whose faith steadied them when your brother was desperately sick; or a minister in whom you saw Jesus when you were a child. What wealth you have, "compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses"!

You may feel just as Albert Schweitzer did—"When I look back upon my early days, I am stirred by the thought of the number of people whom I have to thank for what they gave me, or what they were to me. At the same time I am haunted by an oppressive consciousness of the little gratitude I really showed them when I was young."

David suddenly remembered all he owed to Jonathan, and he felt like that, too. Then he saw a present opportunity for gratitude. He found Methibosheth, Jonathan's son, and made him a member of his household, and showed him great kindness, "for Jonathan's sake."

Each of us is surrounded by "so great a cloud of witnesses," as the writer of Hebrews reminds us. Some of them even revealed to us the Love of God, the way of walking joyously through each day with Him. They planted in us seeds that have grown and greatly blessed us. Wha tcan we do about it? We can, like David, do kindnesses "for Jonathan's sake." Perhaps it will be a letter to the son of that beloved uncle, telling him of some memorable, loving deeds of that great-hearted man. It may be a gift of money to someone hard-pressed, explaining that you do it because someone in their family so helped you, long ago. It could be a telephone call to a shut-in whose mother was the childhood neighbor who blessed your awkward years.

All Saints' Day will become doubly glorious when you have done something truly loving, "for Jonathan's sake."

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening, November 6th, at 7:30 P.M.

A Diocesan Convention meets in Holy Trinity Church on November 7th, at nine o'clock for the election of a Bishop Coadjutor. The Lay Deputies from St. Stephen's Church are Messrs. I. Smith Raspin, Lavid L. German, Sr., and Elmer S. Carll; the Clerical Deputy, the Rector.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We live in the present. The past is gone and cannot be changed. If we are anxious for the morrow, we attempt to live the future today. Why add the burden of the morrow to that of today? "Cast all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you." We confess, Heavenly Father, that we often commit the folly of being anxious and worried. Renew a right Spirit within us and endow us with perfect trust. Give us assurance of Thy wisdom and goodness. THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Whenever I pause and count my blessings, one of the paramount things for which I am grateful is your Prayer Fellowship. Four years ago when I first requested prayer for my mother, it was comforting beyond description just to know that a group of dedicated people had faith enough and were willing to share that faith in praying for God's help in meeting our needs. And God surely answered prayer. As far as our doctor knows, mother's cancer has not changed or caused her trouble, and at 83 she is still active and able to go to Church regularly, knit furiously and enjoy the company of her friends and family. All considered, we have so much to be thankful for.—B. N. (Oakland, Calif.)

STRONG IN GOD

Last week we were thinking of our "Jonathans" — those rare people who have blessed our lives in very special ways. The original Jonathan is vividly described as having a caring for David "passing the love of women."

David was an out-lawed man, fleeing from one hiding-place to another, as Saul tracked him like a wild beast. One day, when Saul was hot on his trail, David — discouraged and afraid — sought out Jonathan. At this crucial moment, what did Jonathan do? "He strengthened his hand in God."

How great a love that was! Jonathan might have suggested that he and David see each other as often as possible, to encourage each other. He might have made it so necessary to David's peace of mind. But, as Amy Carmichael points out, "He leaves his friend strong in God, resting in God, safe in God. He detaches his dear David from himself, and he attaches him to his 'very present help.'" He teaches David how to stand on his own feet—in God; so that David will grow in strength through all his life, even if he never sees Jonathan again. This is Christ-like love, love that disregards its own pleasure. Instead of grounding David's strength in a mortal friend, Jonathan grounds it in the Immortal God.

One of the strongest and most injurious temptations of life is possessive love — the love of a mother who wants to tie her son to her for life; the love of a husband who hugs a wife so close to himself that she misses the joys of wide friendship. How many people we know whose lives have been blighted by this selfish, possessive love — middle-aged men whose talents have never been free to grow and bear fruit; men and women who have lived hobbled lives because they have never found any strength beyond their own.

On the other hand, our hearts praise God for those truly loving people who found us in deep trouble, and who strengthened our hands in God. They taught us to look inward to find God's undergirding Spirit which He gives every one of His willing children. They also opened their eyes to see the beauty and compassion of God in people around us, whose lives have been given to Him to use, channels of His refreshing, redeeming love. These are our "saints", whose lives have become holy and shining to us, through the God who lives in them.

If you have someone whom you have kept tied to you, dare to release that person into God's guiding. Let that son, that wife, go; and if possible, tell them about the freedom of belonging only to God, the freedom of responding to His sure promptings. Let God give you the courage to let go of your grip on that person, then you will discover the high joy of watching that life expand, and blossom, and bear fruit as it never could have, tied to you. And the friend will, one day, say gratefully, "He strengthened my hand in God."

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission at All Saints' Church, Hershey, Penna., Sunday night through Monday night, November 13th & 14th.

LOYALTY SUNDAY will be held on November 27th. Once a year the Church calls her loyal members and gives them the opportunity to keep the Church strong by making a pledge for the financial support of the Church, in the Parish, in the Diocese and in the world. This is by far the best investment you can make in the future of the world today!

CHINESE PARABLE

A man went to market with a string of seven coins. Seeing a beggar who asked for alms, he gave the poor man six of the coins and kept just one for himself. The beggar, instead of being thankful, followed the good man and stole the seventh coin, also. Would you, to whom God has given six days, steal the seventh also?

WHAT IS TITHING?

Tithing is an open-hearted act of living gratitude. It is the result of a Christian decision to say, "Thank You, Lord", each day in a faithful way for the countless blessings which come from Him . . . including the precious gift of life itself.

The ancient Biblical Tithe was a straight ten percent of all that a person received. The modern Tithe asks each Christian person or family to give:

Five percent for the Lord through the Church as an act of self-giving—in obedience to the first and great commandment.

Five percent to charity for the needs of others—in Christian obedience to the second and great commandment.

Will you be a Tither?

THE SILENT MEDITATION: — Believers are living stones in God's Spiritual House. As the Priests of old brought their material sacrifices, we are to bring our spiritual offerings. Offering one's self, living a consecrated life, and doing good, are sacrifices acceptable to God. Dear Father, we thank Thee for the great Mediator who has made the believer His own priest. Grant that we may be living stones in the Temple of the Spirit, ever offering up spiritual sacrifices acceptable in Thy sight. We pray in Jesus' Name. Amen.

Sunday, November 27th is Loyalty Sunday, when every member of St. Stephen's Church is expected to attend the 11 O'Clock Service.

THANKFUL TO GOD

For many years the Scripture passage Deuteronomy 8 has been read in Church on Thanksgiving Day. For Moses was reminding the Israelites to "remember all the way which the Lord your God has led you these 40 years in the wilderness." So, as another Thanksgiving Day approaches, you will be remembering all the way He has led you. Like the Israelites, you will be saying, "Thank You, God!"

You will be grateful to Him for your Thanksgiving dinner, for "bringing you into a good land." You will thank Him for teaching you that "Man does not live by bread alone," but by His strong, loving companionship. You will thank Him for cherished loved ones, whose pattern of life reflects the tender compassion of their Father.

Most of all, you will be thankful for God Himself, the Giver of all the blessings. How He has showed us the victory-way through success and failure, through fair weather and foul, through Gethsemane and Calvary to Easter. Always, beyond the Valley of the Shadow, for those who trust Him, lies a triumphant Resurrection!

For those who do not know God, there is little thanks-giving. A Japanese student, after being brought up to believe in the Emperor Hirohito as the Living God, writes, "I fancied that I was ready to dash into flames for his sake, if need be . . . but our surrender ten years ago put an end to our dream, since the one in whom we put most faith had proved to be a mere nothing. Now most of us haven't been able to find anyone or anything to heartily believe in." No thanks-giving there!

But, when God came to earth in Jesus, He revealed the secret of life—to surrender our lives to His way of Love. Love is sometimes crucified, but never conquered. It rises out of old deaths into new power and joy.

I know an old, old lady. Nine decades have left her with little strength, unable any longer to delight herself in books and flower gardens and far views. Often she feels frustrated and discouraged, and then, suddenly, her wrinkled face will light up her old smile, and she will say, "I do love You!" You will catch the glory of Love she has followed down the long years.

St. Francis of Sales summed it up—"Great works do not always lie in our way, but every moment we may do little ones excellently; that is, with great love. . . . that bearing with troublesome actions and ways of our neighbors, those victories over our own tempers and passions . . . all this is more profitable than we can conceive, if heavenly Love only have the management."

This earthly life is good to the very end, "if heavenly Love only have the management." Now for a real Thanksgiving!

TITHING BRINGS MANY SURPRISES

There is nothing new about tithing. Many members of the Church tithe. I believe that almost all our Bishops and clergy tithe. Thousands of people in every Church and particularly in the Churches which have the most remarkable record of per capita giving, tithe.

The only factor which I know that sometimes prevents a person's becoming a tither is his fear that he will not be able to meet all his bills and personal obligations with the remaining nine-tenths. Actually what usually happens is that he not only is able to meet his personal obligations with the remaining nine-tenths but, when an appeal comes in, he finds that he's able to give promptly and cheerfully without having to squeeze the gift out of something else as is so often the case when one does not set aside a definite tithe.

One of the most telling facts about tithers is that I have yet to talk with one who is not enthusiastic about tithing. He usually is surprised that he did not adopt tithing as a method of giving earlier in his life.

A person who has practised tithing for many years says that if any Christian tithes, he will have six surprises. He will be surprised:

1. At the amount of money he has for the Lord's work.
2. At the deepening of his spiritual life in paying the tithe.
3. At the ease in meeting his own obligations with the nine-tenths.
4. At the ease in going from one-tenth to larger giving.
5. At the preparation this gives to be a faithful and a wise steward over the nine-tenths that remain.
6. At himself in not adopting the plan sooner.

If your Church becomes a tithing parish, there will be no worry about meeting the parish budget or being able to increase your giving to the Diocese or General Church.

—By the Rev. Gardiner M. Day, D.D.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Come, Savior of the Gentiles" .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION: — There is peculiar satisfaction in being equal to one's task. As Christians, however, we need to remember that our highest duties are found in the fellowship of service for the Master. The experiences of this fellowship teach us to say: "I can do all things thru' Christ, which strengtheneth me." Lord Jesus, Thy gracious promises encourage us to expect great things from Thee. We are weak and sinful and cannot do what we ought, except Thou give us strength. Therefore we pray that Thou wouldst give us a full measure of Thy enabling power. With humble, yet confident hearts, we ask it, Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: "He Comes To Us" .....Marshall

He comes to us as One unknown, without a name, as of old, by the lakeside He came; He came to those men who knew Him not. He speaks to us, He speaks the same word: "Follow! Follow thou Me!" and sets us to the tasks which He has to fulfill for our time. He commands, and to those who obey Him, whether they be wise or simple, He revealeth Himself in the toils, the conflicts, the sufferings which they shall pass through in His fellowship, and as an ineffable mystery they shall learn in their own experience who He is.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Some time ago I wrote to you and requested prayers. You sent me some helpful and inspiring literature. I have attended a number of your healing services and always left these services with genuine hope and comfort in my heart. I am a victim of Menieres Disease and have just been through 16 months of real distress, a maddening continuous noise in my ear, constant attacks of severe vertigo and almost total deafness. Suddenly the hearing in my left ear returned and the noise stopped and I haven't had it since. Life is certainly different. It is like living in another world. I do indeed thank you for your interest and for your prayers in my behalf. I also want to thank each person who prayed for me.—J. C. (Vineland, N. J.)

FINISHING OURSELVES

Two weeks ago we remembered the story of how Jonathan strengthened David "in God." Jonathan taught David to depend on the Living God, rather than a weak human friend. Amy Carmichael points out, "The next time we read of David's being in serious trouble, he had no Jonathan to strengthen his hand. 'And David was greatly distressed; for the people spake of stoning him . . . but David encouraged himself in the Lord his God.'" Long afterwards, when he was delivered from Saul, he sang one of his songs, "It is God that girdeth me with strength." If he had leaned on Jonathan, if Jonathan had made himself necessary to David, he would not have leaned on his Rock and proved the glorious strength of his Rock."

Human lives are like young athletes who are taught by an experienced coach. He teaches them all he can, all they are willing to learn — and then comes the day of the game. They go out on the field; and they are on their own. If he has taught them to think for themselves, to depend on their own God-given resources, they will give a good account of themselves, as David did in his hour of testing. What a wonderful testimony to Jonathan that was — when danger struck, David knew how to meet it in the Lord's strength. He "encouraged himself in the Lord his God."

For we human beings are very different from animals. A young animal gets from his ancestors the instinctive pattern of his life; and survives by obeying his instincts. But Dr. Hocking notes that "man's instincts are the least fixed, his brain the most unfinished at birth . . . Other creatures nature can largely finish; the human creature must finish himself."

Perhaps you remember Helen, the small girl with cerebral palsy, who was making wonderful progress, with God's help. This Summer she went to a C. P. Camp, and learned how to walk securely on crutches. One day, she took a bad tumble, and a visitor started to get up, to help her. Her mother raised her hand, signalling the person to stop. In a moment Helen got herself up off the floor, with a big smile, as if to say, "Wasn't that a bump!" And continued on her way. When she was out of ear-shot, her mother told the friend how the Camp leaders had told parents not to run to pick up their handicapped youngsters, or to give them pitying sympathy — just let them accept tumbles as part of learning to walk. They must navigate themselves. "The human creature must finish himself." "David encouraged himself."

Helen is learning to be independent of other people, to be dependent only on God. She is able to do this because her mother is willing to let go of her. So Helen is meeting life, on her own, just as "David encouraged himself in the Lord his God."

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 27th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when by attendance and by pledges, the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1961. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the annual rededication and pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

HOW DO PEOPLE GET STARTED ON TITHING?

The husband and wife agree, in a spirit of deeply shared gratitude to God, that they would like to be Tithers. They estimate how much they think they can give as a beginning Tithe. The beginning Tithe may be less than five percent, as long as it is a definite percentage, carefully thought out, and represents the return to God of a grateful proportion of what they are receiving from His bounty. They take this amount, whatever it is, and put it at the top of their weekly or monthly budget, so that God is placed First. When they make their annual pledge, they have the privilege of indicating that they are Tithers. At every Sunday Service, they offer a part of their Tithe. As they Tithe, they discover the many blessings of Tithing, including the ease and simplicity with which God helps them to do it. They wish that they had discovered Tithing long before!

Will you be a Tither?

W H Y ?

$3,000 for my convertible; $5,000 for a piece of sod; $10,000 I paid to be in a house; A dollar ($1.00) I gave to God.

A sum to entertain my friends in endless chatter, and when the world goes crazy mad I ask: "Lord, what's the matter?"

Yet there is one big question—and for its answer I now search: With things so bad in this old world, what's holding back my church?

LET GO AND LET GOD

Everywhere the shops are reminding us of Christmas gifts. We blink a bit, to think that Christmas is so close. Then we begin to think of our Christmas lists, and what we shall give to each person. Who will come first on your list?

It will be someone you love a great deal. Someone to whom you are very grateful for kindness, and friendship, and understanding. Probably someone who has been in your life, and in your heart, for many years. Who will it be?

Only God fits. He alone has done miracles for each of us all down the long years. He alone has believed in us when all others doubted. He alone has given of Himself and His Love without limit. His name comes first on every true Christmas list.

But someone asks, "What can I give God?" It is puzzling, at first. How can the Infinite Creator of the universe need anything from one of His small human creatures? You may find it hard to imagine anything you can give Him which could increase His joy.

But God made us different from all His other creatures in one important respect. They all obey Him, do what He means them to do, and they have no choice about it. They have to obey the instincts He placed in them. But we can choose. We can be wilful and stubborn, and do what pleases us. Or we can be responsive and loving, and do what pleases Him. We, alone, can choose. Apparently God craved for a creature that could respond to Him, and love Him, willingly. So He made man. And it makes a difference — a real difference — to God, whether we seek His will, and serve it; or stupidly rebel against it, and resist His wish.

Legend has it that on Christmas night St. Jerome dreamed that he wanted to give a gift to the Christ Child. First he offered his great works on the Bible; then his years of converting souls; then some of his virtues. But he could see that these were not what the Child really wanted. "Jerome; it is your sins that I wish for," said the Child. "Give these to Me that I may forgive them."

It really takes some doing in our hearts, to let go our pet sins (the ones we enjoy the most) and give them to God, and Let Go of them! To say to God, "I release this sin, this unloving way, to you to dispose of." You may hesitate before you make a gift as costly as that. Why not pray about it this week, make up your mind, with God's help. And, since this is what God most desires of you, this precious gift, is worth considering.

NO NATION IS AN ISLAND

The crisis in the Congo warns us that we are every one members one of another, and that what takes place in any farthest nation has meaning for us all. "No man is an island," nor is any nation. Disease and ignorance and chaos and disruption and unbelief cannot be walled off or shut out in our kind of world . . . Let us pray for the Congo, for the Christians there, the missionaries and the national Church leaders. Let us pray that the Lord may use even this crisis to His glory.

The Bishop Stevens Missionary Society, made up of students at the Philadelphia Divinity School, will present their annual dramatic production at the Divinity School on Friday and Saturday, December 9th and 10th, at 8:15 p.m.

This year's production will be Christopher Fry's A Sleep of Prisoners, a play concerning itself with personalities in conflict. The characters are prisoners of war who become aware of the feelings of others as love and hope combine to increase their human understanding. Tickets are $1.50 each.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening at 7:30 P.M., and he will speak to the Christian Businessmen's Committee at the New Century Club, Wilmington, on Tuesday, December 6th at 6:30 P.M.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Overture to "The Messiah" .....Handel
Air .....Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: — Various tests are applied as to who is a true Christian. Some insist upon pure doctrine, some upon simple honesty. St. Paul goes further; the Spirit of Christ must dwell in the true Christian. Christ is the Master. The disciple must seek to be like Him. We thank Thee, O God, for Thy Son Jesus who came in the flesh as a servant. Teach us to humble ourselves. Make us ready to love and sacrifice in His Name. May we walk humbly with Him, led by His Spirit.
Amen.

O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee up into the high mountain! O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength! Lift it up, be not afraid! Say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God! Arise, shine, for thy Light is come; and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Your letter and your literature came straight from heaven. It was exactly what I needed! Since I have been reading it and practicing it, I have not needed sleeping tablets. The wonderful part is, God is filling my heart with real love instead of resentment and bitterness. I saw the doctor yesterday and he said, "You are so calm and placid." That is a miracle, too, because my hands have given me great pain. Thank you far more than I can express.—P. C. E. (Los Angeles, Calif.)

CHRISTMAS DINNERS

Each year St. Stephen's Church donates baskets or the equivalent, to those who are unable to give their families the fullness of Christmas cheer with which others are blessed. Will you help with your generosity? Please use the special CHRISTMAS DINNERS Envelope.

LET GO OF IT

The Christian leaders in Ephesus always remembered the last time they saw Paul. He had asked them to come down to Miletus, that they might have fellowship together, and he might give them counsel. Just before he turned to go on ship board, he told them a great secret: "To give is happier than to receive." ("It is more blessed to give than to receive"—old translation.) Paul had learned, through suffering and hardship and danger, that the greater the gift, the happier is the giver.

Last week we ended with a big question to pray about — would we dare to give greatly to God, give our sins and ourselves into His loving care? In Romans St. Paul wrote, "Let us be Christ-men from head to foot, and give no chances to the flesh to have its fling!" (Phillips translation).

Stanley Jones writes: "There is no gloom in love . . . the loveless person is the joyless person, automatically . . . said a young woman, 'I love that man and if I can't get him, I shall be very unhappy.' She did not get him and landed in a mental institution. She loved him with the wrong kind of love. Had she loved him with God's kind of love, she would have surrendered him to God, and said, 'If it is best for me to have him, or if it is best for him not to have me, in either case I love him so much that I want his highest interest.' Then she would have been at peace. And she probably would have got the man. For a woman like that is worth having! . . ." Alfred Adler, the famous psychiatrist, said, "I suppose that all the ills of human personality can be traced back to not understanding the meaning of the phrase, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

Some of us are afraid to let Jesus Christ direct our lives. Once when I was hesitating at just this point of surrendering, a wise friend said, "When you give a fountain-pen to a friend, you put it in his hand, and you let go of it!"

Finally we reach a point where there is nothing we can rightly do except surrender ourselves to Him. We look back and see all the hurt our wilful blundering has caused in other lives. We see that, under God's direction, there is a chance that our lives can bless others, instead of cursing them. We begin to find the joy of depending on God's leading, the miracle of letting Him speak and work through us. We find out that it is happier to give than to receive. — So much happier that friends notice a new radiance in our faces.

As we live on this new, exciting level of surrender, we again notice in ourselves habits of mind, tongue and body that certainly are not pleasing to God, or helpful to those around us. Until we had begun to live a surrendered life, we had not noticed their harmfulness. So we find it necessary to make a new surrender, on this higher level . . . and so it will go on, the rest of our lives.

As soon as you have made this great new gift of yourself and your sins to God, you will find that the rest of your Christmas plans become simple and full of joy!

CONFIRMATION

There are two ways to become a member of this Parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of this Parish by asking the Rector of the Parish where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church. The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of instruction are now underway in the Rector's Study 10 A.M. Sundays. Attendance on these lectures does not commit you to Confirmation. Any who would like to know more about the Episcopal Church are welcome to attend. The Rite of Confirmation will be held on Sunday, February 5th.

"Money Giving is a very good criterion, in a way, of a person's mental health. Generous people are rarely mentally ill people. Stinginess is an illness. The more generous people are, the more mentally healthy."

The Rector will speak to the Long Island Clerical League on December 12th.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We are "Sons of God", for God in Christ has redeemed us. As we enlist in and for Christ's cause, we are His, and therefore must live up to this profession. This Sonship, in which we claim God as our Father, is a free gift of grace. As children of God we have confidence in, and dependence on Him. We thank Thee, Father, that we can, as Thy children, call Thee Father. Because we are sons we have in us all kinds of possibilities. Christ, our Brother, stands beside us as our Ideal. We need power to become "more like the Master." Grant us this strength; in Jesus' name. Amen.

Notes on the musical part of the Service:

The Selections marked (*) are the portions of Bach's Cantata No. 140. The congregation may remain seated during the musical numbers following the Lessons. We welcome to our service Miss Marie Pintavalle, violinist, a member of the congregation, and a graduate of Curtis Institute; and Mr. Charles Morris, oboist, who is a member of the Philadelphia Orchestra, and the husband of Barbara Morris, our Contralto Soloist. They are assisting in the presentation of the Cantata. The Soloists for the presentation of the Cantata are our regular Choir Soloists: Victor Sjostrom, Tenor; Leah Henzel, Soprano; and David Hicks, Baritone. The difference between what you read in Hymn No. 3 and what you hear from the Choir is due to the difference in two translations of the German text. The one from the Hymnal is by Catherine Winkworth, and the edition the Choir is using has a translation by Miss G. E. Troutbeck.

GIVE CHRISTMAS BACK TO GOD

Many of us have already found that we simply do not have time to do all that we planned for Christmas. There certainly is no use in getting fagged out. I remember a relative whom a friend of mine was sent to awaken, on Christmas morning, for she had the stockings hung by the fire. To his "Merry Christmas"! he replied, sourly, "Merry hell!" It isn't fair to get as exhausted as that, is it? But what will we do about it—there is more than we can do.

God's answer to that question was once given me, with lovable bluntness, by a friend. I told him that I could never get everything done that I needed to get done, each day. He smiled with compassion and he said, "Alfred, you must be trying to do a lot of things that God does not want done. For He is the most reasonable Friend in the universe. He never asks us to do more than we are able to, and He knows what we can do." So that was it! At first I did not like his answer, for it meant cutting out a lot of things I wanted to do and that God did not care much about. Little by little I tried it God's way; and found that my friend was right—I could get done everything that God considers important.

If you stop to think about the story of Jesus among men, you will suddenly realize that Jesus never said that He was "too busy" to answer some call of need. How He rebuked His disciples for suggesting that He was too busy to give some time to a handful of children! Jesus did not have time to keep all the fussy, churchly rules of eating, keeping the Sabbath, because these were not important to God. So He brushed them aside, and did what His Father considered really important, the things of love.

Sometime today will you let yourself down into a deep, restful chair, and relax, and say to God, "What is there in my Christmas plans that is not part of Your Christmas plan? What is there that You want me to do, especially, for Love's sake? What next?" If you will be quiet for a while, you will begin to find out—from God—that you can greatly shorten that long Christmas Card list of yours, sending only to those who will be deeply gladdened by your Christmas remembrance (and putting the others on a New Year's Card list). God will show you where to cut out needless chores and time-wasters. Don't be surprised if He reminds you of some very lonely soul, and even whispers to you something extra you can do for them to make their Christmas fantastically happy. I promise you one thing—you will have time to do every last thing God wants you to do, to celebrate His Son's Birthday.

A lot of us will be giving Christmas back to God. For us, now, it is the day in which, most of all, we seek to give pleasure to Him!

Dear Dr. Price:—A month ago I re-submitted the name of my son for your Intercessory Prayer Group for the healing of his nerves. I joyfully, and oh, so gratefully report that the healing and strengthening of his nerves is truly wonderful. He has recently been given a promotion in his work with great added responsibility, and his nerves have been more than equal to the demands. But, what is far more important, he has learned to put his hand into the hand of our Lord, to walk with Him each day. Thank you for your help.—G. T. S. (Portland, Maine).

Robert Keller, our valued Flag bearer has been awarded a trophy for the most improved player on the U. of P. Soccer Team.

THE GLORY OF GOD'S LOVE

The glory of Christmas is the down-to-earth Love of God! It takes your breath away! In Old Testament days the people preferred to remain safely at the foot of the mountain, while courageous Moses dared to go up unto Mount Sinai to meet with Him. And now, in a human baby, God comes to mankind, to grow into manhood among them, and let them see what He is like. Now, we know Jesus, know the character of the mighty God—infinitely tender and forgiving.

On the night in which He was to be born, His mother found the inn door closed against them; so He was born in a manger. He lived in Love, and died in Love. Then He rose from the dead as the Eternal, Loving Christ who forever knocks at the doors of men's hearts. He seeks a welcome, and will only enter where He is wanted. He would come in and live within your heart, and the Light of His redeeming Love may shine through the windows of your living. As Christmas Day comes again, I love to recall those precious people, of days gone past, who gladly flung open the doors of their hearts to Him; and I was able to see Love-come-down-to-earth, in them. They were all sorts and conditions of people, the same Christmas-Light of God's Love shone out through their radiant faces.

You don't have to be rich, or a Very-Important-Person, to give shelter to the Son of God. You may be living by yourself in a rented room, perhaps in a wheel chair; or in a house where you and your wife lived together many years. You may be struggling against poverty, or the rigors of a Northern Winter; or you may be handicapped by some physical infirmity. You may not consider yourself a very brilliant person. But all these circumstances make no difference to Jesus. He seeks humble hearts—both poor and rich—who welcome His coming to them, who want to clothe His Love in every day deeds of loving-kindness.

Margaret Henrichsen, in "Seven Steeples", tells a story of a young girl, down-Maine, who gave joy to our Savior one day shortly after Christmas. An old woman had died, a woman who had lived courageously, with no money for paint or new sills for her house; just barely enough for scanty food. Her daughter had returned to live with her shortly before she died. When Mrs. Henrichsen, and their minister, arrived at the house, the daughter had found the dress her mother had saved so carefully all these years "to be laid away in"; but she had found no clean slip to put under the dress. Then this young girl came in, whose own life had been hard, and who was really very poor. She heard the daughter's distress. Quick as a flash she said, "Why, I've got a good slip. It was given me for Christmas. I have it on, but it's clean." At once she pulled her dress over her head, took off the new taffeta slip — quite probably the only good one she had ever owned — and slipped her dress back on, as the undertaker drove into the yard.

It may be that God will give you some special chance thus to show the glory of God's Love, come down to earth!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Last July I had a personal consultation with you. I was facing an operation for a rupture of the esophagus that had enlarged to the extent that it was crowding my heart and lungs. My doctor had held the operation off for years because of its seriousness. As time went on it became progressively worse, and something had to be done quickly. You prayed and laid your hands on me and told me to turn my problem and fear over to God. When I left the Church my fear was gone, and as I walked up Market Street I knew I had taken a step in the right direction. I have had a wonderful experience since my consultation with you. On several occasions I was afire with the healing power, and was conscious that a change was taking place in my chest. The pressure has left my heart and lungs, and after fifty years of suffering and discomfort I am more normal than I have been in my life time. I thank God for His spiritual healing and I trust Him fully for complete recovery.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins".—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—A thankful heart looks not only backward, but also forward with confidence. The metal mirror may dimly reflect the image, or even distort it, but the perfect knowledge shall come when we see face to face. Our past and present experiences shall then appear in a new light. Heavenly Father, from Whom, for Whom and to Whom are all things, help us to realize anew that without Thee we can do nothing. Cleanse our hearts from all sin and impurity. Let us look forward hopefully to the fulfillment of Thy promises concerning those things that are to be. Amen.

The Prelude: Psalm XIX ..... Marcello
The Old Year Now Has Passed Away ..... Bach
Processional Hymn 366 ..... Engelberg
Kyrie ..... Stanford
The Anthem: "Darest Thou, Now, O Soul?" ..... Williams

Darest thou, Now, O Soul, walk out with me toward the unknown region where neither ground is for the feet nor any path to follow? No map there nor touch of human hand nor face with blooming flesh, nor lips nor eyes are in that land. I know it not, nor dost thou, O soul, all is blank before us, all waits undreamed of in that time and space, nor darkness, nor gravitation nor any bounds bounding us. Then we burst forth, we float in time and space O soul, prepared for them, equal, equipped at last. O joy! O fruit of all! Them to fulfill, O soul!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—About six years ago I asked your prayers for an afflicted child, Susan, a mongoloid whom the doctors said would never walk or talk. She began to improve almost immediately. She is still a retarded child but she walks and talks and plays like other children. We attribute this to the healing prayers. Personally, I think it is amazing.—E. L. B. (Phila., Pa.)

JESUS IS LORD

A modern prophet points out that the earliest Christian creed was simply, "JESUS IS LORD." As Paul wrote, in Romans, "If you confess with your lips that Jesus is Lord . . . you will be saved." You will be saved from yourself, from the sin of self-will, by putting Jesus at the center of your living. The disciples forgot, and stumbled, and fell, sometimes; but they remembered, and picked themselves up, and continued in His Way. When people "saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were uneducated, common men, they wondered; and they recognized that they had been with Jesus."

Stephen was like that. When he stood before his accusers, "his face was like the face of an angel." It must have been like that as Saul, the hunter of Christians, stood by, watching Stephen being stoned to death. For Saul could not get that face out of his thoughts and dreams, that Jesus-Christ-in-Stephen light of invincible love. That Face haunted Saul, day and night, until, at last, after the Damascus Road, he began to say, "Jesus is Lord." Then they changed his name, and called him Paul.

A Christian is one who says, "Jesus is Lord", and means it. At first we say, "I want Jesus to be Lord—most of the time." Then, as we discover the wonder of life when we do what He wishes, we begin to say, "I want Him to be Lord all the time." Moments come when we let Anxiety or Impurity or Fear displace Him on the throne, and we have to start over again. It's a rough struggle, at first, but we begin to want, sincerely, for Him to be the Lord of our lives. We begin to be so alive with love that an old friend may say, "What's happened to you, anyway?"

The early Christians did not waste their time and energy arguing over different ways of worship or ordaining ministers or Church government. "Jesus is Lord" was enough of a Creed for them. Even when they began that great debate whether a person could become a Christian without first going through the old Jewish rites, they quickly settled the matter. They gave Paul permission to accept gentiles without circumcision. They saw that all that matters is that "Jesus is Lord" in our hearts.

Once we stop the civil war raging within us, and accept Him as our Governor, everything that happens fits into God's plan for our lives. Try it, with new eagerness. Start in the morning by saying, "Jesus is Lord", and be ready to say it at any moment of temptation—to anger, or gossip, or worry. This is your battle-cry against all enemies of the Spirit—you announce, "Jesus is Lord here," and let Him take care of the situation, at every tight corner. Someone has advised, "Let God be God!" When we do let Him, we find the victorious Christian Way of Life, and we live with a song in our hearts!

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P.M. He will preach at the Church of the Epiphany, Norfolk, Va., on Tuesday evening, January 3rd.

STARR DAILY

Starr Daily will conduct a Mid-Winter Retreat at St. Stephen's Church, Saturday through Monday, January 7th-9th, inclusive. He will conduct a Day of Prayer on Saturday from 10:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M. He will speak on Sunday at 11 A.M. and 7:30 P.M. and on Monday at 3 P.M. and 7:30 P.M.

Starr Daily has a deeply spiritual message which has grown out of his vast experience; first as a member of the underworld for 25 years both in and out of prison, and, secondly, after a transforming spiritual experience in a prison, as an author, lecturer, and counselor; his ministry has touched those ranging all the way from the lowest to the highest in human privilege.

His books include "Love Can Open Prison Doors", and "Release", both of which describe his prison experience, and "God's Answer To Juvenile Delinquency", and his two latest: "You Can", and "Faith, Hope And Love."

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 733 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of our States, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It cost, this past year, $40.44 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year, at a total cost, in 1959, of $1,941.12. Last year we received $765.05 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family would give $2.00 per year the cost would be met. Of course a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way toward paying for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing, a slightly higher mailing rate, make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

THE SILENT MEDITATION: — The Bible, as the Word of God, is man's best guide for life. It shows us the pitfalls of life, it unmasks temptations and evil, and it points out the things that are pure and of good report. This Guide shows the way home to the Father's house. O God, we thank Thee for Thy Word. Without the guidance of Thy Word the way to Thee would remain unknown, and the solution to our problems of life would be left to a blind fate. Teach us to follow more diligently the leadership of Thy Word in all things. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: O Savior Sweet, O Savior Kind ..... Bach

O Savior sweet, O Savior kind, Thy Father's will has all Thy mind; From heaven Thou hast vouchsafed to come, with men, as man, to make Thy home. O Savior . . . Thy way to please Thee we would find; Whate'er we have, it comes of Thee, O let us ever near Thee be. Thee with tender care I'll cherish; live to Thee, die to Thee; Thus I shall not perish, but with Thee abide forever; joyfully, peacefully, where life endeth never.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—How we do thank God and praise Him for His healing power! Our daughter, Vivian, is so much better. She is now able to care for her three children. If you remember, her ailment was a kidney disease in which both kidneys were filling up with tumors, causing her feet and legs to swell, and her eye lids to puff shut. The X-ray showed tumors in both kidneys. Had they been in only one, they could have removed the one kidney and prolonged her life. But the doctors said nothing could be done as transplanting kidneys was in an experimental stage. How happy we were to read of your healing faith in Red Book Magazine and we are grateful for your prayers and her healing.—D. D. (Jeromesville, Ohio).

ALL-CONQUERING LOVE

One day a nervous teacher came to consult Starr Daily, the convict who had changed from crime to witnessing for Christ. She was so disheartened that she felt she should give up teaching. She had been assigned to a very difficult class. It had been dubbed "teacher-killer". Before she had even met that class, she was already on the brink of nervous prostration. They were "gangsters", "impossibles", "hoodlums", "rough-necks". She thought she'd better quit—now.

But Starr Daily thought differently. "You need to stay and conquer . . . This is a war, and, as the general, you must change your tactics, and introduce the element of surprise. You must make a successful counter-attack with an entirely new weapon, that will throw them off guard. Once, by the use of your new weapon, you have defeated their weapons, they will be ready and eager to polish apples for you." She asked, what on earth the new weapon might be.

"It is all-conquering love. Let your class room disciplining be applied only to yourself. For their bad you return your good. Do this and you'll be the master, and you'll be respected, honored, and loved."

She had been a Christian from birth, but this was the first time she had ever thought of practicing the teachings of Jesus in the difficulties of her profession. When she tried it, it worked (as all of Jesus' teachings do!). She taught herself to love and have compassion for the handicaps of their up-bringing. She recognized that God had made them and that there must be good stuff in them. She followed Jesus' simple directions. There are few people who can withstand the power of sustained love. The toughest-acting people often are the first to surrender to it.

When you stop to think of it, this makes sense. God's Son would teach only what works out best in the world His Father made. When you follow His way of love, you start in by letting love take charge of your thinking, your speaking, your actions. And then it is God, in your loving-kindness, that changes the other person. This is the most powerful weapon in the world.

People worry whether communism will win the world. Yet all we have to do is to take into our hands and hearts God's NEW WEAPON, and use it. Every day pour out your prayers, with good will, and with compassion; and start in with people you meet every day. Christians are very weak when they do not take Jesus seriously—in fact, they are not truly Christians. But when, together, they put all their trust in Him, and in His NEW WEAPON, nothing can stop them from transforming this world into the Kingdom of God!

CONFIRMATION CLASS

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Psalm XX ..... Marcello
Jesu, Priceless Treasure ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: — Amidst constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind this far in its upward march; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to realize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

Processional Hymn 280 ..... Stuttgart
The Venite, Prayer Book page 9; Chant No. 609, Hymnal
The Psalm 75, page 431
Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book page 11 ..... Thiman
Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book page 15; Chant No. 645, Hymnal
The Anthem: "Praise" ..... Rowley

To the Master of music and loveliness: Praise, power, dominion forever. To the Lord of the Word of creation be Praise, power, dominion forever. To the Master of movement, color and light: To the Theme of all song, Inspiration of Love: To the Artist of Life, To the Greatest and Least: Praise. For He is the greatest upon His high throne, And He was the least as the Child of a maiden. Praise, then, to Jesus whose mother was Mary, and Praise now to Christ who is God in the midst of us. Lord of all beauty, adoring we come to Thee: Give us Thyself in both time and Eternity; Lord we come adoring, offering all that we are or can hope to be, Lord of all beauty; Praise, power, dominion forever.

The Sermon: "CAN THE GOSPEL SAVE THE WORLD?" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 393 ..... St. Catherine
Recessional Hymn 489 ..... Sicilian Mariners

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. I. Smith Raspin in memory of her mother, Louise V. Sausser; and by Mrs. Elizabeth R. Fay in memory of Bernice Fewkes.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Elmer S. Carll.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P. M.—Holy Communion & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Thank God as I opened your letter in reply to my request for prayer, the pain stopped and it has not returned. Oh, how thankful I am for that relief. I pray often for your Prayer Fellowship. I hold the card to receive the power—it's a point of contact. God bless you all.—R. E. (Cambridge, Mass.)

Mrs. Anna W. Hauger, President of the Benevolent Society, reports that during the year 1960 there were 5,267 pieces of sewing completed for the Jefferson and Episcopal Hospitals and for the Visiting Nurses. $505.57 was disbursed, which included carfare for the sewers.

THE MAGIC POWER OF LOVE

Man is the creature with the built-in gift for friendship. Whether he realizes it or not, he has a deep craving for good will, a hunger to love and to be loved, a strong inclination to respond to loving-kindness.

A friend of mine was once asked to arbitrate a strike. He agreed to do this if the representatives of labor and of management would first have dinner together without mentioning the strike, or any of their differences. They agreed; and they kept their word like gentlemen. They began to talk about thier families and their recreations, all sorts of friendly topics of mutual interest. By the time dinner was over, they had begun to like each other. It did not take long, then, to arbitrate the strike. The atmosphere had been transformed by letting in the mighty power of love.

The twelve Disciples had been brought up in the "climate" of the Old Testament. At its highest points (as in the great love-story of Hosea) the Old Testament teaches people to trust the way of forgiving, redeeming love. But many other Old Testament passages taught "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth"; taught hate and revenge. Then Jesus came, and commanded, "You have heard that it was said, "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" but I say unto you, "Do not resist one who is evil . . . if anyone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles." The disciples saw Jesus living as He taught, even to loving His enemies from a lonely cross. They tried His way, and found it difficult. But they found, also, that it was the most exciting and triumphant way in the world!

As a result, John could write, with a joyful heart, "We know that we have crossed the frontier from death to life because we do love our brothers." (Phillips translation). They no longer thought of anyone as life-time enemies, but as possible friends. By hundreds people were startled by this new attitude, exclaiming, "See how those Christians love each other!" They were curious to discover the secret of this radiant living. And they learned that the Christians could love each other greatly and gladly, because they were so grateful to God for His love for them, shown in Jesus. "If God loved us as much as that, surely we, in our turn, should love one another."

You may be at odds with someone now. In your mind you keep mulling over his faults, and battling with his mistaken ideas. Then you bump into Jesus' command to you that you must have good will toward others. So you stop your fault-finding thoughts, and ask God to show you the truth about that person — the way He thinks about him. Before you know it, you are beginning to face some of the good points in him. And you are beginning to face your own faults and see how obnoxious they are, how vexing! You may even begin to feel sympathy for the other person. So you ask God's forgiveness, and ask Him to transform you into a person of deep-down good will. One wonderful day you find yourself really loving that other person.

There is no problem that cannot be solved by the magic power of God's love. If I carry out my own responsibility to love, God will take care of my enemies—and change them into friends.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report which each Parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This report is made for the calendar year. We would appreciate it if all our organizations would plan now to have such a financial report ready for the Rector not later than January 20th.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES FOR INQUIRERS

When did the Episcopal Church come to our country? Did Henry VIII really found the Episcopal Church? What does the Church teach regarding "Confession", "Repentance", "Forgiveness"? Where did our Prayer Book come from? How can we participate better in the services of the Church? These and many other questions will be answered at the Confirmation Instruction lectures held on Sundays at 10:00 A.M. in the Rector's study. Bishop Armstrong will visit St. Stephen's for the Rite of Confirmation on Sunday, February 5th.

The Rector will be the headliner at an Ashram Conference of the Evangelical Covenant Church of America at Williams Bay, Wisconsin, January 16th-18th.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

The annual appeal for contributions to the Greater Philadelphia Council of Churches is now at hand and a special envelope is enclosed herewith. The Council is responsible for a high degree of co-operative services and programs that no single denomination or Church is able to perform. The Council includes five departments through which forty services and programs are managed. Many present services need to be extended and other needs await further Christian co-operation. Your generous response is solicited.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Chaconne ..... Couperin
Jesus, My Joy ..... Dupre

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit. May we be able to worship Thee as we ought, with the right and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. Make us faithful to all that is fine and noble. Amen.

Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book page 11 ..... Thiman

Recessional Hymn 296 ..... Dix

*Blest are the pure in heart, for they shall see our God, the secret of the Lord is theirs, their soul is Christ's abode. The Lord, who left the heav'ns our life and peace to bring, to dwell in lowliness with men, their pattern and their King; Still to the lowly soul He doth Himself impart, and for His dwelling and His throne chooseth the pure in heart. Lord, we Thy presence seek; may ours this blessing be; give us a pure and lowly heart, a temple meet for Thee. Amen.

Flowers on our Altar today are provided by the Katherine Kennedy Fund in memory of mother, Blanche Virginia Hershey Kennedy.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr.

6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am deeply grateful to Him from Whom all blessings flow that I am well again. It is wonderful to have the terrible depression dispelled—to feel a real zest for living again. A miracle has happened. I know that the prayers of your wonderful Prayer Fellowship are responsible for my recovery, and I will be ever grateful for your persistence and patience. Deep and sincere thanks.

The Christian Herald Magazine of January has a featured article on "How Laymen, Clergy and Doctors View Faith Healing." St. Stephen's Ministry of Healing is included and the Rector answers nine serious questions submitted by the Editor. Copies may be had at 35 cents from 27 E. 39th St., New York 16, N. Y.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH?

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is being asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you and you need the Church. Confirmation Service will be held on February 5th at 11 A.M. Instruction Class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10 A.M.

CHRIST IN YOU

Would you like to have a part in the most exciting struggle since the beginning of time? In the olden days, before Jesus, men thought that their differences could be settled on the battle field. Some still think that! Then Jesus came, and revealed that all warfare is really settled in the hearts and minds of men; that mumder and anger and adultery win out in the human heart before any action takes place. It is within us that all battles are really decided.

Shortly before Mr. Khrushchev visited this country, he wrote an article, "Peaceful co-existence", in "Foreign Affairs." Back of all the bluster and double-talk, you find something that surprises you. He talks of peace a while, then waves his fist a bit; but he always returns to a peaceful solution. He writes, "The Socialistic nations need peace." They do, for only by disarmament can they release billions of rubles to build up their industrial strength, and wage economic warfare against us. They need peace to build up their population of workers. Mr. K. went to China after he left America, and they put out a startling military parade for him, reeking with power. After that, in every one of his five speeches, an apparently nervous Mr. K. pleaded with China for peaceful co-existence. Mr. K. may want disarmament just as much as we do (even if for a different reason). He may prefer a warfare of ideology, of propaganda, of the spirit. He may be shrewd enough to see that all warfare is settled, eventually, not on the battlefield, but by spiritual strength. He certainly can look back to the war-machines of the Kaiser and of Hitler, superior to anything else in the world when war began—but it was spiritual power that triumphed in the end. Mr. K. believes that communism is superior to our way of life, and challenges us to a war of ideology.

Actually, the culture that is strongest in spirit and mind always does win out, finally. This means that the greatest battle of all time has begun—God-denying, man-enslaving communism against the God-trusting, man-free way of Jesus Christ. Communism says that God is a fairy-story—Christianity that He is the Creator and Sustainer of the universe. Communism uses the individual as a cog in a machine of State—Christ declares each person to be a precious child of God, and not to be "used" at all. Communism compels men—God accepts only man's willing service. Communism glorifies hate—Christianity stakes everything on Love.

Elisha could see the invisible chariots and horses of fire, God's spiritual forces, and knew them to be stronger than anything human. It is your privilege to demonstrate, by your life, that God's inner strength, in you, is stronger than all hate and revenge; that God is always victorious where men let Him dwell in them, and work through them. "Nothing succeeds like success." If the world sees, in our land, hosts of men and women filled with the power greater than all atom bombs, the power even to love our enemies—then the world will be drawn to the Christian way. If the world can see Jesus Christ in you, in our nation, communism will fold its tent like the Arabs, and then silently steal away!

The Rector will speak to the Clerical Brotherhood at the Church House on Monday, January 23rd at 11:30 A.M. on the subject of Mental Illness.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

The Prelude: Invocation ..... Timmings
Lied ..... Vierne

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our never ending task of being Christian is to fill ourselves in unending measure of such qualities of the Spirit as strength in the inner man, faith in His dear Son, knowledge that comprehends the dimensions of Love; and Love itself, that passeth all understanding. Dear Lord, we are overwhelmed, when, as we behold the smallness of ourselves, we realize that we were meant to contain Thy fullness. Unto that end may we strive to be immersed in Thy Truth and Goodness, but not until we have emptied ourselves, so that Thou canst replenish our hearts with every grace of Thyself completely. Amen.

Psalm 139, page 514

Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book page 15; Chant No. 645, Hymnal

The Anthem: "Let This Mind Be In You" ..... Beach

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who thought it not robbery to be equal with God. But made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men; and being found in fashion as a man, He humbled Himself and became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross. Wherefore, God also hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name, that at the name of Jesus ev'ry knee should bow, of things in heav'n, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that ev'ry tongue should confess, that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Dear Dr. Price:—Some time ago I had a nervous breakdown. I am very thankful to your St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. You sent me some little books (which are a treasure for me), for praying at home. I am now on a full time job. I have not forgotten St. Stephen's Church. Deeply grateful.—L. T. (Chicago)

WINGS OF RELIGION

Old Isaiah looked to the Babylonians, and their gods, and thundered, "The things that ye carry about are made a load, a burden to a weary beast." As Dr. Coffin points out, he saw that these gods were just "things you lug about." Then he tells of the living God of Israel, who had taken the nation in His arms at its birth in Egypt, and had been carrying it ever since. "Yea, I will carry and I will deliver."

There is religion that is a burden, as with the Babylonians. When Israel changed their religion into a vast book of duties and rules, their religion became a burden, too. The crowds gathered around Jesus because the religion He taught was something to bear them up and deliver them.

We hold that the "Religion" of communism is a burden. It is so heavy a load that sometimes, as in Red China, the rulers have to relax it, and lighten the weight of it, lest the people throw it off. Any religion which is a burden is false religion.

But we had best look to ourselves. When our own religion gets too "churchy", and goes out for bigger buildings and larger budgets, it can be a heavy weight on the backs of the members.

But your religion can be WINGS, instead of a weight! There's my friend Ruth, for instance, who cannot walk because of cerebral palsy. Right now she is studying in a mid-West graduate school, training herself for a skilled profession,—going briskly to classes in her wheel chair. How? Because she knows, deep in her heart, that God can give her the power to overcome any handicap. She has found that He enables her to rise above difficulties with joy and praise, and to become a very happy, useful person. Her religion is WINGS; and she witnesses, every day, to its lifting power.

The communist rulers of Russia are troubled because one Christian group has grown from a hundred thousand to a half million members in recent years. They have good reason for anxiety, for genuine Christian faith gives wings to people. They can no longer be shut in, like barnyard fowls, by low barriers of force and cruelty. They find wings to escape! The communists may laught at our rockets, but not at our faith! Mr. K. himself did not quite dare to go to Church, when invited by our President.

So you can take part in this vast struggle between the Way of Jesus and the tin gods of Russia. You can witness, right where you are, among your special difficulties, that the faith you learned with Jesus is a lifting faith that bears you up, so that you live with a song in your heart!

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Armstrong will visit our Parish on Sunday, February 5th at 11 A.M. to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

There is nothing more important for the life of the Church than the training of its clergy. We face desperate needs in the areas of Missionary support and strategy, social concern, stewardship, the ministry of the laity, and evangelism. However, the advancement of each will largely be influenced by the training of future clergy.

Theological Education Sunday, January 29th, 1961, is the one time in the year when the whole Church will focus its attention on this cause. Every member of the Episcopal Church is urged to contribute to this cause through the special envelopes mailed to each family. We have eleven Theological Schools to support and this annual offering is the very life blood of the Schools. They are the most important single item in the income side of their budgets. Without a trained ministry, our Church would lack the leadership that it must have in order to do its work. Without the money, which neither the alumni nor the students have, the proper training cannot be given. St. Stephen's offering will be divided between the two Schools in which the clergy of this Parish have been educated, The Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, and the Philadelphia Divinity School.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Grace Church, Charleston, South Carolina, Sunday night, January 29th, through Tuesday, January 31st.

Mrs. Gertrude D. McKelvey devoted several chapters to the work of St. Stephen's' Ministry of Healing in her book "Finding God's Healing Power". The publisher is Lippincott, and the price is $3.50.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hatred and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee; in Jesus' Name. Amen.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

Last Sunday was set aside as the Annual Opportunity for us to support the Church program of Theological Education. The task of the Theological School is to train ministers to serve the Church and its people. Eleven Seminaries in the Episcopal Church are dedicated to that task. They enroll about one thousand men and graduate each year about three hundred. The training of these men to meet the need of the Church requires able faculties, adequate buildings, good libraries, and ample provision for scholarship aid. Throughout the country these Seminaries are calling for more financial help. Their success in training your ministers depends on your support. If you have not already responded to this call, please use the special envelope sent to each family.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening at 7:30, and on Wednesday night at St. Paul's Church, Levittown, Pa.

PRAYER EVANGELISTS

We now have 120 men and women in St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. They are our Prayer Evangelists. They are committed to a disciplined prayer activity that goes on around the clock—twenty-four hours of continuous prayers for persons in need of God's healing of body, mind and soul. Each person is thus lifted up in prayer twenty-four hours a day for a period of four weeks. Chronic cases are renewed for longer periods.

During the year 1960, 15,951 persons requested our prayers. We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing. We have members who get up at two, three, four, five in the morning to take part in this chain of prayers. We have business men who have a quiet time in the midst of their business day to hold up these needy persons for God's richest blessings of body, mind and soul.

Many people wonder what difference it can make to others when we pray for them. We only need to see what prayer is to answer that question, and the more we understand what it is, the more we realize that it would be just as short-sighted of us to ask what difference it makes to others if you love them, or if you are unloving toward them. We see that it makes a tremendous difference. If we have the feeling of unlovingness, we know that it means misery, and we can see the ill effect it has on others: love in the spiritual sense can make a tremendous difference, because it is a definite influence and a definite power for good.

How often we hear people say, "I am going to do so and so; do give me a thought." What difference is a thought going to make? All the difference in the world. Thought has a dynamic influence, and if the thought you give is a good one, it is going to be fruitful of good. But you say, that is a simple and easy way of getting things done, if all we have to do through life is to be giving one another good thoughts. You try it—try it for a day—try to hold nothing in your mind but good thoughts, and then sit down at the end of the day and look back, and just reckon up how many other thoughts forced their way through and you will see that it is not such an easy or simple thing as it at first seemed.

And spiritual thoughts, thoughts about others, about the world, about God, only come when our lives have been wonderfully transformed by Christ being in us. So in the same way, when we are praying for others and wonder what good it can do, what change it can bring, we only have to remember the infinite Love of God is the power behind. We pray for others, we pray for things that need changing in the world because the life-giving Holy Spirit of Christ is behind our minds and hearts. That is why it makes all the difference to others if we are praying for them or not.

We believe in prayer, that is why we pray. We unite with the Spirit of Christ so that He may speak to us, and make known to us those things which He wills to be made known.

The New Testament speaks about the good, acceptable and perfect Will of God. That makes clear the ministry of prayer—that the Good Will of God shall be done, that through prayer what is not good shall become good. Prayer is going to do that, as well as uplift the soul to Christ. We must all, in simple faith and trust and confidence, join in prayer for healing, perfect, complete healing of every disease, every sickness, every sorrow and every trouble, until this world is free as heaven is free, from all such things.

No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector, an average of 80 per week, are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported in the monthly meetings of the Prayer Fellowship, and in the weekly report to the members, all progress and cures are reported. There is no limit to what God can do through prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidence of His Love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . for, where two or three are gathered, in My name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of Prayer can never be over-estimated!

Dear Dr. Price:—It has been five years now since I first went to St. Stephen's Church to receive the laying-on-of-hands for the healing of inoperable cancer and only having a few months to live. I thank my God for all that has happened to give me faith in our Savior Jesus Christ. Thank you for all your wonderful prayer help.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith, that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life, as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence, wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat, help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

The Anthem: "Greater Love Hath No Man" ..... Ireland

Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it. Love is strong as death. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree, that we, being dead, to sins, should live unto righteousness. Ye are wash'd, ye are sanctified, ye are justified, in the name of the Lord Jesus; Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath call'd you out of darkness into His marvelous light. I beseech you, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

The Sermon: ABRAHAM LINCOLN ..... The Rector

Recessional Hymn 388 ..... St. Thomas

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mr. David L. German in memory of his parents, Dr. & Mrs. David L. German; and by Miss Jane Harper, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Daniel R. Harper.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Hugo Hanson.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It is with a great joy that I write to you. I attended your healing service recently, I was afflicted with a nervous ailment for over a year. When I received the laying-on-of-hands I felt something being released in my stomach and around my heart, and a wonderful peace and comfort came to me, and the nervousness left me. God answered my prayers. I want you to know that I rejoice to be able to come to a Church that does what Jesus says, "to heal the sick."—C. P. (Glenside, Pa.)

The Women of St. Stephen's, both morning and evening branches, will meet in the Church School room in the Community House after the morning service this Sunday, and after eating together in a nearby restaurant, they will attend the Episcopal Service in the Chinese Christian Church, 10th & Spring Streets, at 3 P.M. All are invited to join them.

A SENSE OF HUMOR

Will Rogers, the comedian and actor, was one of our great citizens. He had a wonderful ability to see through sham, and to make it laughable. A man once proudly remarked to Will, "I take pride in the fact that my ancestors came over in the Mayflower. How about yours?" Will, who had Indian ancestors, smiled dryly and drawled, "Mine met the boat."

He may well have learned this power from Jesus, who saw right through sham, and made it look so silly. He described the proud Scribes and Pharisees in cartoon-like words—"they are blind guides, and when one blind man leads another blind man, they will both end up in the ditch!" (Phillips' translation). One day He had been listening to James and John who apparently were loud and clamorous talkers; and He lovingly nicknamed them, "the thunderers!" Jesus always used His sense of humor with deep love. It may be that, because of the laughter in His eyes, a few Scribes and Pharisees saw how ridiculous they were, and changed their ways. He had made them chuckle at themselves.

One day in Washington a Senator rose to read into the "Congressional Record" one of Will Rogers' bits of shrewd wit. Another Senator loudly objected to the remarks of a "professional joker", being put into the "Congressional Record." Will Rogers commented, "Taking a dig at me, is he? They didn't want any outside fellow contributing. Well, he had me wrong. Compared to them, I'm an amateur, and the thing about my jokes is that they don't hurt anybody. You can say that they aren't funny or they're terrible or they're no good or whatever it is, but they won't do no harm."

Will Rogers was close to the spirit of Jesus. So will each one of us be, if we use our best talents with compassion, to tear down sham and pretense, without being hurtfully personal. All you need to do is to give yourself and your talents into the direction of Jesus, for Him to use—and then let Him use them. Your tongue will bless others, then. You will come into lives that are dark, and let in some of the light of His clean laughter and joy.

Today is Abraham Lincoln's Birthday. He, too, had learned from Jesus how to make people laugh at human frailty, in themselves and in others; how to meet impatience and criticism with a chuckle. A friend of mine grew exasperated with her small daughter, Elizabeth, one day, and exploded, "How stupid can people be!" Elizabeth smiled ruefully, and then, with a twinkle in her eye, replied, "Very stupid—but you'll have to love me just the same!" She was so secure in God's Love (through her father and mother) that she could laugh at her own mistakes; and then go ahead to please God by correcting them.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

The offerings of over 5,000 of the 7,400 parishes and missions brought the Seminaries of the Church $568,000 last year. The sum paid approximately 20% of the cost of educating each Seminarian.

Started twenty years ago by a group of Alumni of the General Seminary, it has mushroomed until it is now a vital source of income for all the eleven Seminaries.

It is not too late to make your contribution towards Theological Education.

Miss Marie Pintavalle, a valued member of St. Stephen's, was graduated from the University of Penna. School of Fine Arts on Feb. 4th, with the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts. This follows by two years her graduation from Curtis Institute in 1959, with the degree of Bachelor of Music.

ASH WEDNESDAY

The Rector will conduct the Litany Service at 10:30 A.M. He will preach at 12:30 P.M., and will celebrate the Holy Communion at 5:30 P.M. Dr. John R. Hart, of Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge, will preach on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at 12:30 P.M.

The Prelude: Supplication .....Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly say, when they pray: "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "all things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that they will follow Thy will for our lives, and reveal Thy will in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Amen.

Anthem: "BEHOLD THE LAMB OF GOD" ....."The Messiah", Handel

Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world . . . He was despised, rejected of men, a Man of sorrows and acquainted with grief . . . Surely, surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows, He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruished for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him.

6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—My heart is overflowing with gratitude. Not too long ago I placed D. E. on your Prayer List. He had bronchial asthma. Even the wheezing has ceased. I placed W. E. also on your List. His trouble seemed to be a deep nervous disorder causing extreme irritability. She is far less irritable. I have come to your Thursday services and have received so much spiritual benefit from them, and I surely have received strength for the pressures of life. May God continue to bless St. Stephen's and its wonderful healing mission.—V. E. (Chester, Pa.)

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Edward G. Harris who will be our guest preacher Monday through Friday, February 20th-24th. Chaplain Harris of the U. of P. has been elected to the Deanship of the Philadelphia Divinity School.

We welcome as our Saturday preacher the Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the Rev. J. Gardner Hodder.

LIFE IN GOD

The most sinister thing about modern life is that it is centered in man. Now that we can split the atom, and shoot satellites into space, we think we are big. Sometimes we even think that God is a little out of date.

An old Danish fable tells how a spider slid down a single thread from the high up timbers of a barn, and established himself on a lower level. There he spun his web, and caught flies, grew fat, and did very well. One Sunday afternoon, as he relaxed after a big dinner, he noticed the single thread that stretched up into the darkness above him. "How useless!" he cried, and he snapt the thread. But his web collapsed, and caught no more flies. The curse of modern life is man's decision that God does not matter, that man can manage, that man is the master of things. The most terrifying and sinister thing about modern life is that it is organized about man, instead of about God.

Now the Bible starts with, "In the beginning, God . . ." And it continues with the warriors and prophets and priests bidding the people to listen to God. The New Testament lifts us to Jesus, who bade men, "Follow Me!" St. Paul keeps saying, "I am determined to know nothing among you save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified." These Bible-writing men did not stop with listening to God speaking in their hearts. They also tried out His words by living them. They found out that the only way that life can work out victoriously is when it is centered in God.

Lent has just begun—the great Season in which Christians sit at the feet of their Master and learn. We seek God in books, in services of worship, in Sermons, in our individual "quiet times." We discover realms in our lives which we have never surrendered to Him—our friendships, our home life, our spending of money, or our recreation. We let Him into those areas. We invite Him to transform them into something that pleases Him. For the Gospel puts God as the very Center of every man's life.

O. William Law, in the 18th century, tells what a shock respectable Penitens had one day. He had lived free of scandal and in the communion of the Church—no murder or theft or adultery. He attended Church often, without giving much thought to what God's Church expects of a man. Then he begins to have doubts about his own goodness, and prays about it. Suddenly he cries out, "But the thing that now surprises me most is this: that I never intended to live up to the Gospel. This never so much as entered my head."

Will you join us, this Lent, in seeking honestly to live up to the Gospel, to put Jesus Christ at the center of your every day life?

The Rector has received a fine letter from Mr. Joseph Trimble who is a candidate for the sacred ministry from St. Stephen's Church, thanking the Rector and members of St. Stephen's Church Women for a gift of ten volumes of the Interpreter's Bible. He writes, in part: "Believe me when I say that I am at a loss for words to express to you and those very kind and thoughtful women of St. Stephen's Church the gratitude I feel for this very generous and helpful gift. It is not as though I were a member of long standing in the parish, or that I am even slightly known to these wonderful people, therefore I can only ask you to express my heart-felt thanks to them in my behalf." Joseph Trimble is in his senior year at the Cambridge Theological School and will be made a Deacon next June.

The Methodist Hospital, Broad and Wolf Streets is seeking volunteers who would be willing to assist in patient care, sewing, selling (gifts), secretarial work, maintenance and other phases of the hospital service.

The Rector will preach in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Trenton on Sunday night, February 19th. He will give the Invocation of the Annual Meeting of the Military Order of the Purple Heart at the Bellevue Stratford on Thursday evening, and will speak to the women of Plainfield, N. J. at Grace Church on Friday evening.

Blessed he, who from earth's dreams awakening, turns his heart from worldly pride; who every other joy forsaking, of wealth the golden fetters breaking, treasures of heav'n spreads around on every side. THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I want to tell you about my healing. It still amazes me and I thank God every day. In 1956 I had phlebitis and until this Summer I wore a tensor bandage. Your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for me. One morning, while on my vacation I reached for my bandage and something said to me, "You don't need that." I looked at my leg, and all the soreness and hardness was gone. It was soft and pliable. These words were the next thing that came to me, "That you may know that the Son of Man hath Power." I still marvel, and repeat the words, and thank God for my healing. You have certainly opened up a new world to me, and my thinking and believing.
—Mrs. W. E. M. (Kansas City, Mo.)

SOMETHING BIGGER

The people who have glorious lives are those who have fallen in love with someone, or some-thing; those whose lives are given to some great cause, or some humble human being. Jesus gave His life to His Father, responsive to Him through every waking moment. A mother gives herself to her children in down-to-earth caring. A cabinet-maker devotes his whole being to making graceful, sturdy furniture. The school teacher loses himself in the lives of his pupils. And all these are vibrant, colorful people, because they live with something bigger than themselves.

There is a story of Toscanini, the famous conductor. He was always very tough, very exacting, when he rehearsed his orchestra. The musicians must give their best in playing great music. Once they tackled Beethoven's 9th Symphony. They practiced it, over and over. At last the Concert Performance took place, and they played it with all the skill and passion they had in them. When it was over, they waited, tense and on edge, fearful of a scolding from the great man. But Toscanini did not scold. As the audience and the orchestra sat in silence, he stood with his arms out-stretched, his deep eyes burning with an inner fire, the light of a great rapture upon his face, and a spirit of utter contentment enfolding him. Suddenly he spoke, "Who am I? Who is Toscanini? Who are you? I'm nobody! You are nobody . . ." The crowded hall was hushed. The multitude waited in awed silence. Then, with a light on his face, as one who had seen a vision, he added, "Beethoven is everything—everything!"

Who are you? Who am I? Nothing! Jesus Christ is everything! We are but people who may let Him into our hearts so that the glorious music of His Gospel can be heard through us. That is our one chance to "amount to anything" in our short lives.

It takes humble willingness to be used by Him, day after day. Willingness to let Him discipline our living as the musicians let Toscanini discipline theirs. All musicians, athletes, doctors, scientists, willingly go through a stiff, life-long training, so that they can be used richly.

This we can do, under Jesus Christ. We can lose ourselves in His greatness, His loving-kindness, until He can use us to fill the world around us with His music. It isn't easy. But then, one day, someone says to you, "You've made me see what Jesus meant by love." Then all the Lenten discipline, the tough training, is worth it—when some needing person sees a bit of Jesus Christ through you!

We extend a hearty welcome to Mrs. Catherine B. Stillwell and Mr. Joseph G. Neiss into the fellowship of St. Stephen's Church through Confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on February 13th. Our 1961 Class whose names appeared in the February 5th Bulletin were all confirmed in the Bishop's Chapel also, due to the inability of Bishop Armstrong to come to us Sunday morning, February 5th.

The Rector will preach in The Reformed Church, Bronxville, N.Y., on Wednesday night, March 1st. He will speak to a Seminar Class in the Department of Religion and Philosophy at Temple University, Tuesday from 9 to 11 A.M.

St. Stephen's Church is privileged to have as its Lenten Noonday Preacher Monday through Friday, the Bishop of Easton, Maryland, The Rt. Rev. Allen J. Miller, D.D.
Our Saturday Preacher will be the Rev. Robert B. MacDonald, Rector of St. Simeon's Church, Philadelphia.

We wish to thank these Bulletin Subscribers: J. C. Adams, J. Lewis Armstrong, Mrs. C. E. Bell, Miriam Frederick, Gladys Given, Miss Madeline Magee, Misses Bertha & Kathryn McCormick, Mrs. W. A. 11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Repentance" ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor and security and pleasure, and even life itself; for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost, as we gain in our likeness to Thee. Amen.

Processional Hymn 59 ..... St. Flavian
Kyrie ..... Stanford
The Anthem: Father, Once More Within Thy Holy Place ..... Matthews

Father, once more within Thy holy place we bring the sins which, kneel, we confess, not worthy yet to look upon Thy face, yet loath to rise until Thy hand doth bless. We turn from sin to find a glad release; In Thy forgiveness there is strength to cope with all that robs the spirit of Thy peace. Father, once more within Thy house of prayer we kneel before Thee at the open way; And leaving both our hopes and burdens there, we wait till Thou shalt teach us how to pray. Father, once more within Thy house of praise, we bring our gifts from whom they came; we lift our hearts, and our hosannas raise to welcome Him who cometh in Thy name.

The Sermon: "ALTERNATIVE TO ABSURDITY" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 415 ..... Aberystwyth
Sanctus ..... Stanford
Communion Hymn 197 ..... Picardy
For Gloria in Excelsis, Hymn 211 ..... Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring Recessional Hymn 549 ..... All Saints New

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Wilson C. Leithead.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer; Guest Preacher, Mr. Albert Sheehan.

6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—The job position which I've been nearly five months in seeking has materialized! It is so exciting—and I know now with certainty the reason for delay. It was a time necessary for my own spiritual development and as I pursue the path of truth — the practice of the Inner Presence — I find confirmation of my convictions. Awareness, consciousness is the difference that makes life so exciting and creative. My heart-felt thanks for all you do.—W. M. (Alexandria, Va.)

RECIPE FOR BEING MISERABLE

A business man was struggling stubbornly against surrendering his life to God. One day he picked up a book, and this sentence leaped at him: "An infallible recipe for being miserable: think about yourself, talk about yourself, use "I" as often as possible. Mirror yourself constantly in the opinion of others; listen readily to what people say about you; expect to be appreciated." As he read this, he realized one of the real blocks between him and God. He was more concerned about what people thought of him than what God thought!

We, too, want to win the approval of other people. It pleases us to do so. But we do not find peace and happiness. Somehow the voice of God reaches us, and reminds us that there is no peace in self-centered living. God tells us, through Jesus, that we are happier in giving ourselves away than we are in hanging onto ourselves. Jesus told Nicodemus that he could only find joy by being "born again", by beginning a new life, directed by God's Holy Spirit. Once a man has heard that voice, he can never find peace until he obeys it.

C. S. Lewis ("Screw-take letters") tells of his own struggle, thru' atheism and self-will, in "surprised by joy." After a painful experience of "religion" as a boy, he lost his faith entirely. "Remember, I had always wanted, above all things, not to be "interfered with." I had wanted (mad wish) to "call my soul my own." But thru' all his inner turmoil, he kept hearing a still, small voice. God seemed to be pressing in on him from every side—thru' the book he picked up, the friend who came to see him, the thoughts that came to him in the silent watches of the night. "Was there, then, no escape? . . . I felt as if I were a man of snow, at long last beginning to melt . . . I rather disliked the feeling."

One night, alone in his room at college, he stopped turning away from God. He saw that what God wanted was "total surrender, the absolute leap in the dark. . . . I gave in, and admitted that God was God, and knelt and prayed: Perhaps, that night, the most dejected and miserable convert in all England." Little by little he discovered the warmth of God's forgiving love, the sheer joy of His freedom. He found that he was "born again" into a life where the wondrous God is the Center, and his small self had only to please Him.

Within each one of us lives the Still, Small Voice of the Spirit of the Living Christ. Again and again, that Voice reaches us, calls us to be His. We learn that no man can fight against the Love of God, and win. One can only say "Yes", and go forward into the peace that passes understanding, under His bidding.

So, through this Lent, we shall be concentrating on listening to the Still, Small Voice—following the risen Christ as the Apostles did, of old. He knows the way. It is the way of incredible joy and peace—the only way!

There will be a joint meeting of the Women of St. Stephen's Church at 1:30 P.M. Sunday, March 5th in the Community House. Miss Nadia Watson will show her interesting pictures of her trip to the Holy Land.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening at 7:30 P.M.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Virginia D. Arnold, Mrs. E. Bordner, Sallie Gehring, Mrs. Joseph Hardiman, Jane R. Harper, Frances Tinsley Kalich, Susie LeMar Morris, Mrs. John Pratt, Mrs. Scott P. Shaw, Mr. & Mrs. John A. Shimp, Frances L. Weir.

A cordial welcome is extended to the Rev. Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, Rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's, Germantown, who is our guest Preacher during the week of March 6th-11th, inclusive, at the Lenten Noonday Services.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O Thy Grievous Fall" ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest even while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace, of which Jesus said: "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this gift. Amen.

The Anthem: "Cast Me Not Away From Thy Presence" ..... Wesley

Cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of Thy Salvation, and uphold me with Thy Spirit. The Sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and contrite heart Thou wilt not despise, O God. Make me to hear joy and gladness, that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice.

MARCHING-ORDERS

Dr. Bonnell tells a true story of a young woman and a taxi driver. She herself had had a tough battle with alcoholism. One morning, on her way to a television studio, she called a taxi. As they proceeded, the driver said to his passenger, "New York is a hell of a city to be living in. Everybody is at everybody else's throat. It's confusion worse confounded."

The young woman replied, "I don't blame you, driver, for feeling that way. I used to think like that myself." "Why don't you think that way now?" he asked. "Well", she replied, "I have made a discovery that has given me the strength to be able to 'take' New York." The driver glanced back suspiciously, "What do you mean? Now don't start telling me that you've got religion." "I don't care how you describe it", she said quietly, "but I have something deep within me that keeps me calm and untroubled, even in New York." "What have you got?" he asked.

She answered, "Each day I read in my Bible where I left off the previous day. I read on until I get a verse that offers help for the new day. This I copy out and carry with me. I find it inspiring." She reached into her purse, took out a slip of paper, and, just before reading it, she said, "You spoke of New York being confusion worse confounded. Listen to this: "God is not the author of confusion, but of peace" (I Corinthians 14:33)". "Let me see that thing", said the driver, and reached back for the slip of paper.

He held it in his right hand as it rested against the wheel, and every now and then glanced at it. When they reached their destination, she paid him, and then passed him a tip. He brushed it aside, saying, "Lady, I couldn't take a tip from you. You have given me something this morning that is more important than all the tips I'll collect today."

What a dreadful mess our lives can be! Like the young woman's, when she was an alcoholic. Like the taxi driver's, until he learned how to go into each day with a password from God. Like yours, perhaps, last year; or even now.

One of our first steps in living a "born-again" life is to meet God each morning, and to get our Marching-Orders for the day in the verse of Scripture that "reaches" us. Each morning, copy it down, and carry it with you; and let it speak to you again and again. At first, you may forget to turn to your Marching-Orders often. But, as soon as you put your will into God's hands more deeply, you will find yourself turning instantly to Him and His special Word for that day. Little by little you will live your days to please Him, and find the matchless joy that comes from obeying Him who loves you most!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Many weeks ago I wrote you from our home in Mexico for your prayers for healing of my serious illness from amoebic dysentery, and the healing of my left leg which had been swollen and painful for five years. Not very long afterwards we found that, our work in Mexico being about complete, we would be returning to California ahead of schedule. In the rush to get away, this letter did not get written. However, I feel that we must not wait to tell you that the swelling has completely disappeared—and the pain is gone, and I made the long journey by automobile, more than two thousand miles, with no return of swelling or pain. We could not tell you how grateful we are to our Father, and to you and the wonderful group of Christians at St. Stephen's.—G. E. H. (Los Angeles, Calif.)

We extend a hearty welcome to Dean Moor of Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, who will be with us at our Noonday Lenten Services, Monday thru' Friday.

We welcome the new Rector of St. Timothy's Church, Roxborough, the Rev. Eugene E. Lefebre, who will preach on Saturday.

DINNER—AND MOTION PICTURE

The Prelude: Chorale Prelude .....Bingham
O World I Now Must Leave Thee .....Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—In a specific sense sonship with God depends upon accepting Christ. The indwelling Spirit enables us to come into the possession of a power that brings triumphs over the temptations of life. With God we are always able. We can do all things through Him. Forgive us, O Master, whenever we have resisted Thy gracious invitations to us. When Thou dost approach us in the moments of this day, grant us receptive hearts. Thou art anxious to come into our hearts to become a living reality, a vital power. Amen.

Cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of Thy Salvation, and uphold me with Thy Spirit. The Sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and contrite heart Thou wilt not despise, O God. Make me to hear joy and gladness, that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice.

Dear Dr. Price:—It has been almost a year since I first wrote you, and you and your wonderful Group began praying for my husband. He hasn't taken a drink since the 18th of last July. I am grateful each day, and pray that he will have the faith to keep his thinking faith-filled, and not become depressed. I am thankful for all that you have done for us.—C. P. C. (Cincinnati, Ohio).

TRADITION VERSUS LOVE

How does the still, small voice of Jesus deal with the traditions of the past?

When Dr. Ida Scudder went to India as a Christian doctor, she was up against many traditions. Strange superstitions about sickness. Called to a young woman in child birth, she found that her patient was literally dying of thirst. The ancient tradition forbade water for a sick person. The women of the household would not bring more than a thimbleful. So Dr. Scudder faced the husband—"Which shall it be? A dead superstition or a dead wife?" "What do you want us to do?" asked the young husband quietly. "Tell the women to bring me all the water I want," she demanded. She got it. The young mother pulled through.

Dr. Scudder dealt with tradition as Jesus did. She measured it by the divine yard stick of love. When a tradition was found wanting, by that test, she smashed it. So did Jesus—even if the tradition had been a step forward, beyond even more cruel ways of the past. Centuries before, Deuteronomy had taught, "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth." In the even harsher ages before, men had demanded death for the criminal who had put out another man's eye. So the new law in Deuteronomy had been a step forward, to limit men's vengeance to justice. But Jesus, thinking the thoughts of God, told us that cold justice is not enough. Rather, that the only way to stop anger and hate is with lovingkindness. Jesus declared, "Ye have heard that it hath been said . . . but I say unto you . . ."

So Jesus taught us to test tradition by God's measure. He Himself followed old ways, when they were good. He was a faithful Church-goer—"as was His custom". He quoted the old prophets sometimes as the givers of God's Truth. But always He measured old ways by God's values.

You and I must learn to read our Bibles as Jesus did, testing what we read, as He did. When we find (in Psalm 137)—"Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the stones." We remember how Jesus loved children; and we reject this vengeful old teaching. When we read in Hosea of the great-hearted husband who understood God's bidding that he still love his adulterous wife, we are grateful to an ancient prophet who miraculously had Jesus' Spirit. This testing does not mean, of course, that I can reject any Bible teaching I do not like. It does mean that I must reject every teaching which I am sure that God does not like!

It is thrilling indeed to take up the Bible, and to ask the Living Christ within you to lead you into its meaning; and then to go and live according to that!

The Prelude: Prelude and Fugue in E Minor ..... Bach
Ride On, Ride On in Majesty ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Have I been so long time with you and yet hast thou not known Me?" It is not always easy to see God in Christ. Even long acquaintance ship and familiarity with the Gospel may blur our vision. We need a new revelation, a fresh approach every day, to behold the brightness of His glory. Lord, give us the grace of recognition; may we see Thee in every experience of our lives; no matter if the sun shines brightly on our path, or if the clouds of sorrow hang over it. May we never doubt Thy presence as a living Savior. Amen.

LOVE DID IT

What a strange way to attack your enemies—to ride into the city on a peaceful donkey! Not on a great white horse of a conquering general, but on a drab little old gray donkey.

Stanley Jones tells the story of a bitter man who thought that all the world were his enemies. He was a test-pilot, an ex-alcoholic. "When he had given up alcohol, he had nothing to put in its place—nothing but hate. Before, alcohol had been his defense . . . Now hate became his defense. He would fight and hate. He did. He feared everybody and hated everybody . . . But he was such a good test-pilot that he kept his job." One day he took up a business man (also an ex-alcoholic) to test him for instrument flying. The pilot sensed something new and strange in his companion, so he asked to have a talk with him. The next day they sat and talked for six hours about Christ. The pilot wondered why the business man was so eager to tell him about Christ. So the business man explained,—"If I were to give you a machine-gun with which you could mow down your enemies, would you take it?" "Take it?" he replied, "I'd jump at it, if I could get rid of my enemies." "Well," said the business man, "it's the machine-gun of Love. A sure way to get rid of your enemies." The test-pilot later wrote, "Well, I opened my heart to it all. I let Love take me over. And do you know, I mowed down all my enemies. They are all gone. They are now my friends. Love did it."

It is so simple once you see it! Jesus rode into Jerusalem with never a sneer or a chariot—and challenged His enemies in the Temple. He flamed out so scorchingly against the evils in them that they nailed Him to a Cross. They never dreamed that He loved them—even while He hated their sham in religion. Even from the suffering Cross, He loved them, "Father, forgive them . . ." That made some of them very uncomfortable, I'm sure. And it has made the world uncomfortable ever since. The power of that Invincible Love gets under our skins. For Love is the toughest foe in the world to withstand. Love is the only "sure death for enemies," guaranteed By God Himself, for all time.

What does the still, small voice of Jesus say in your heart about hate and love? "This is My commandment, that ye love one another as I have loved you." It seems fantastic to dream that you and I can love our enemies into friends as God does. But that is what God has put us here for; and there is not much time left! In this 20th century, with its "population-explosion" over all the world, God is crowding us so close together that His way of love is the only intelligent possibility left.

Jesus attacked His enemies in the practical method of God. And Jesus is your Captain, with His headquarters within your heart!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—In January of this year I wrote asking for prayers for my sister, Amy Collins, of Kansas City, who had cancer. Today I received a letter from my sister and she says, "and now, what you have wanted to hear for so long. The last check up I had the doctor said, 'Now tell your sister you are cured.' Those words of joy seemed a new life. I know that your Prayer Group will be happy to hear the good news. How can we thank you!—Clementine Coleman (Larchmont, N. Y.)

THE UNDYING CHRIST

It does not seem possible—those bare, cold branches, pushing out buds again, awakened by the returning sun! You saw the dry leaves drop in the Autumn. The tree looked very dead. Nor did it seem possible to those first disciples that Jesus could be alive again, resurrected by the deathless power of His Father. They had seen Him die in a lonely death on Calvary. Yet, now, they saw Him alive, giving out new love and strength for them, filling them with unbelievable joy. Now they began to understand what He had done for them.

He had lived the life of a man on earth, a man willing to love people as God loves them—and to keep on loving them even when they hated Him, and tried to murder Him. This He had been willing to do—that men might SEE that God never stops loving, loving, never stops caring, no matter how mulish and stubborn we are. This is the Gospel—that God keeps on loving us as steadily as the sun rises every morning, shining on the just and on the unjust. This is the Good News—that God is like that; that His love for us is deathless. As Peter Marshall said:

"Thus the Gospel is not something to do—but something done.

The Gospel is not a demand—but a supply.

Not something you can do—but something that has been done for you."

So history began afresh. Now, with the Spirit of the Living Jesus, in his heart, a man need never know death. Like the Seasons in nature, our lives go through a succession of seed time and harvest, through all time. Just when our strength seems low, there always comes new power from within, from the Undying Christ.

Peter Marshall continues:

"The glorious fact that the empty tomb proclaims to us is that life for us does not stop when death comes. Death is not a wall, but a door. And eternal life which may be ours now, by faith in Christ, is not interrupted when the soul leaves the body, for we live on . . . and on. There is no death for those who have entered into fellowship with Him who emerged from the tomb. Because the Resurrection is true, it is the most significant thing in the world today. Bringing the Resurrected Christ into our lives, individual and national, is the only hope for a better world.

"Because I live, ye shall live also!"

That is the message of Easter.

So your Easter will be amazingly happy—you can think of your loved ones living on in His Shining Companionship, far beyond the power of death! And you will be happy, also, because you, yourself, can look forward with joyous confidence to tomorrow, and next year, and to eternity with Him and with them!

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—God speaks to us not only in Holy Writ but also through the wonderful book of nature. In this He reveals His power and His beauty. It is true that change and decay at times seem to mar this beauty; but even out of change and decay there comes new beauty to glorify the Creator. The beauty of God expresses itself in His handiwork. O Lord, our God, who hast made Thy name excellent in all the earth and who hast set Thy glory above the heavens; open our eyes to behold the expression of Thy glory in the beauty of nature. Amen.

*I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth; and, though worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God. For now is Christ risen from the dead, the First Fruits of them that slept.

Since by man came death, by Man came also the resurrection of the dead; for, as in Adam all die, even so in Christ, shall all be made alive.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 16th at 12:30 P.M. There will be held the election of the Vestry. A color Missionary Film will be shown, and refreshments will be served. Everyone is urged to attend.

AT THE MOMENT OF TEMPTATION

Shortly after the first Easter, the disciples found that they could have continuing fellowship with Jesus. Only now He was the Risen Lord! Now He could be with them anywhere, at any time. He could stand among them, and say, "Look at My hands and feet—it is really I, Myself!" (Phillips). Today, centuries afterwards, you and I can have His companionship, as they did, and learn to be like Him.

F. B. Meyer once told a friend that, when he was young, he was very irritable. An old man had told him that he had found relief from this same weakness by stopping, the moment he felt it coming on, and looking up to Jesus, asking, "Thy sweetness, Lord." The old man continued, "I pass this on to you because I have found it a certain and a quick way of escape. Take the opposite of your temptation, and look up inwardly, to Jesus. When you are sorely tried by someone, and tempted to be unkind, look up quickly and ask, "Thy kindness, Lord!" When you begin to feel resentful, look up and pray, "Thy sweetenss, Lord!" When you are about to explode in anger, pray, "Thy gentleness, Lord!" When moved to be rude, say, "Thy courtesy, Lord!" When you are weary and impatient after a long day indoors with your children, pray, "Thy patience, Lord!"

This really works. I know, for I have been working at it. It works if I am surrendered to the Lord Jesus, and eager to do His will. Such miracles result that your life sings with joy, because He can at last live and work through you. Let into your heart, He can overcome the old, unkind habits which were too strong for your human weakness.

It works IF you look up, and let Him in at the moment of temptation. That is absolutely necessary. It is as simple as that. You will find that you will have to surrender some cherished and sinful habits which you were not aware of. But this is not too great a price to pay for His Peace, His effective Love in us. For this is really living. This is life at its peak of joy. Look up—and live!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Since I had been a little child one year old, I had been very ill each Winter with severe chest infections, bronchitis or pneumonia—the former lasting almost throughout the Winter. I had grown to "fear" them and, sure enough, just as Job said, "The thing that I feared came upon me." Then I attended your healing service in New Orleans. I had to leave my bed to do it, as I was afflicted at the time with a bad bronchial infection. While I was at the Altar Rail, and you placed your hands upon me, I felt as though I had received a jolt—then all strength went from me and I was perfectly relaxed. I would describe the feeling as that of a rag doll, except that this description does not include the feeling of peace that came along with it. Then, after I returned to my pew, I felt the need to cough and it seemed as if my whole chest had loosened. That was the end of it. From then on it very quickly left me, and I passed this past Winter—for the first time in my life—free of this horrible drain on my strength and health.—Isophene H. Lamothe (New Orleans, La.)

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Upon being asked to perform some service, our first question often is, "What shall it profit me?" The Apostle Paul reminds us that Godliness inevitably brings profit. In this world it assures peace, happiness and contentment; in the world to come, the greatest of all profits, life eternal. Dear Lord, help us to overcome the temptations of this day and walk in the Master's footsteps, ever keeping in mind our ultimate goal: eternity. Amen.

Ye who have spent the silent night in deep and quiet rest, and joy to see the light that riseth in the East; now lift your hearts, your voices raise, your morning tribute bring, and pay a grateful song of praise to heaven's Almighty King.—And as this gloomy night did last but a little space; as heavenly day doth show its pleasant face, so let us hope, when faith and love their work on earth have done, God's blessed face to see above, heaven's better, brighter Sun.

Dear Dr. Price:—There are not many days that I don't thank God for you and your Prayer Fellowship, and for what happened to my granddaughter. It was the most specific answer to prayer that I ever saw. So I thank Him again and again. At that time, which was four years ago, you sent me some of your healing literature. You taught me how to pray affirmative prayers. Until then I did not know how to pray.

LOVE AND KINDNESS

In the days that followed the Resurrection, the early Christians made a life-changing discovery. When Jesus walked with them along the country roads, they had been afraid of nothing. Now, they found, He was with them still!

If they desired His companionship, He went with them, wherever they were going. These humble fisher folk were without the world's "advantages." So, at first, they were frightened when they were arrested and called up before Very Important People. But they found that it was just as Jesus had promised. They needed only to trust themselves to Him, and He would put the right words on their lips, and stout courage in their hearts. They found themselves speaking boldly, and refusing to keep quiet about the Great Good News. Jesus Christ, through these "common" people, turned the world upside down.

With that unshakable courage, grounded in Jesus Christ, still flashes out against all enemies. One man I know had his whole life clouded by fears and anxiety until he was 58. Then he came to know a company of people who made it their first business to keep daily company with Jesus. He found that, as soon as you come to love and trust Him, fear goes out the door. You become warmly interested in the needs of others. Because of this Christ-given concern, your concern for yourself shrinks. You find it enough that the Master is concerned for you; and your life marches forward into new victories.

An elderly Quaker lady returned to her Paris hotel room one night, to find a burglar rifling her bureau drawers, where she had considerable money and jewels. As she entered, alone, he brandished his gun at her. For many a lone woman, this would have been a night-mare moment. But not for this veteran friend of Jesus Christ. She talked with the burglar quietly, and with deep and genuine sympathy for him. She told him to help himself to anything she had, as he must have more need of it than she had, if he had to be stealing it. She even led him to some valuables which he had overlooked. Suddenly the man let out a low cry, and fled from the room, taking nothing. The next day she received a letter from him, saying, "I'm not afraid of hate. But you showed me love and kindness. It disarmed me." This is the courage of those who walk with Jesus.

Those who keep their minds and hearts in step with the Master, can face any "enemy" with steady eyes. As St. Paul wrote to his young friend, Timothy, "For God did not give us a spirit of timidity, but a spirit of power and love and self-control."

The Rector will speak to the women of Trinity Church, Swarthmore, on Monday, April 17th, at 10:30 A.M. He will speak to the students at Albright College, Reading, on Wednesday evening.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The stream of life flows softly on. Our days are quickly spent. Happy childhood days and the carefree days of youth speedily fade into life's Noon. Then comes the mellow afternoon, when the golden sun melts into lovely eventide. Should God's mercy spare us for the eventide of life, there will be light for the trusting child of God. Loving Father who carest for Thy children throughout their entire journey of life, grant that light may be ours at eventide. We can peacefully depart from these scenes if our eyes behold Thy salvation. Amen.

The Anthem: All Men Living Are But Mortal ..... Rosenmuller

All men living are but mortal, Yea, all flesh must fade as grass; Only through death's gloomy portal to eternal life we pass. This frail body here must perish ere the heavenly joys it cherish, ere it gain the free reward for the ransomed of the Lord. Therefore, when my God doth choose it, willingly I'll yield my life; nor will grieve that I should lose it, for with sorrows it was rife. In my dear Redeemer's merit peace has found my troubled spirit. And in death my comfort this: Jesus' death my source of bliss. Jesus for my sake descended, my salvation to obtain; Death and hell for me are ended, peace and hope are now my gain. Yea, with joy I leave earth's sadness for the home of heavenly gladness, where I shall forever see God, the holy Trinity.

Dear Dr. Price:—We have experienced a very wonderful prayer answer in the life of Elizabeth Stellwagon. The very large cancer growth that had cut off food from passing into her stomach has disappeared. She has gained weight and feels wonderful. Your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for her. We are all most grateful.

POWER OF LOVE

One day when Jesus was with His disciples, He asked them who they thought He was. Several reported what they had heard others say. But Peter blurted out, "You are the Christ, the Son of the Living God!" Jesus told them that He would found His Church on that great belief—and that the powers of death would not prevail against it.

Of course, the "powers of death" like to scoff at such a declaration. What have they to fear from a King with no atomic bombs, no secret police. They scoff at the Son of God—until, suddenly, they meet him!

Just this past year, the world watched the Kremlin tremble before the Son of God—in Boris Pasternak's great novel, "Doctor Zhivago." The hero of this book (and his friends) had first greeted the overthrow of the Tsar and the coming of Bolshevism with joy. But they quickly changed their minds as they saw the unspeakable brutality of the Soviet authorities. Doctor Zhivago says to a Bolshevik enthusiast, "Your leaders speak many words, but you forget the most important: that you cannot love by force." All through this memorable book, the power of love sings out, the only power that can give freedom and life.

The author of the book has not gotten as far as Peter in his belief about Jesus. Yet he says, "What you don't understand is that it is possible . . . not to know whether God exists, or why; and yet believe that man does not live in a state of nature, but in history; and that history, as we know it now, began with Christ, and that Christ's Gospel is its foundation . . . now you can't advance . . . without spiritual equipment. And the basic elements of this equipment are in the Gospels. What are they? To begin with, love of one's neighbor, which is the supreme form of vital energy. Once it fills the heart of man, it has to overflow and spend itself . . . It was not until after the coming of Christ that time and man could breathe freely." Communism has done its best to suppress Jesus Christ—but still He speaks out, and through a Russian!

Those shrewd men of the Kremlin, who like to think of themselves as men of power, had done their best to suppress this book. Russian Communist editors had refused to publish it, as their rulers ordered. But a pro-communist Italian editor came along, and persuaded Boris Pasternak to let him have the manuscript, for publication outside of Russia. The men of the Kremlin sent stern orders to the Italian not to print that book. He was so disgusted with their tyranny, that he broke with communism, and released the book for publication all over the world. Christ had been too strong for Moscow!

Jesus Christ is frightening the worldly Soviet leaders out of their wits. They know how to meet force with force. But, before Jesus Christ, they tremble!

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing at Christ Church Cathedral, Indianapolis, Sunday evening through Tuesday.

DON'T FORGET YOUR PASSPORT

Baptism makes us members of the Church. Confirmation admits us to the Holy Communion. But how do you establish that you are "a communicant in good standing" in your chosen congregation? How do you maintain your rightful place as a qualified citizen of your parish or mission, wherever it may be?

When you are confirmed, you become "a communicant in good standing" in the parish of your confirmation, entitled to vote, to hold parish office, and to all the other privileges you are entitled to in the Church. Your name is enrolled in the Parish Register as a communicant. There it will stay until you choose otherwise. When you leave a parish to go somewhere else (and we are forever moving somewhere), your duty is to ask your Rector for a "Letter of Transfer" to the parish into which you are going to move. Your new pastor then enrolls you as a communicant in good standing in HIS register and you are no longer a statistic in the old one. This procedure (1) prevents you from being counted twice, (2) entitles you to your full privileges in your new congregation and Diocese, and, (3) evidences the sincerity of your membership in the Church.

Our sincere "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Virginia Dietrich, Mrs. R. H. Dozier, Olga Benita Gamlile, Wayne R. Henry, Virginia D. Homeyard, Gertrude J. Johnson.

SHADOWS

My friend Birnie Warfield was preaching to a white congregation one Sunday on that wonderful verse from Genesis where God says to man, "I give you dominion"—dominion over earth and sea and everything in them—except other men! But you're not to have dominion over your brother. "You see," Birnie said to his friends, "I gotta be very careful because when I push you in any way, when I dominate you in any way, I am living contrary to God's plan."

Birnie had experienced the bitterness of other men's having dominion over him. As a Negro boy, he had known the agony of being knocked down and stepped on, many times. Within his heart had grown so deep a hatred that he could now say, "Yes, Yes, I can remember . . . A time when hate steamed up my eyes so I could see nothin'." He had found that as long as he brooded over it, and thought of himself, this hate was so strong that it blocked the way of God into his heart. He had found that the only way of victory was to turn resolutely toward the Light, the Light-giving Love of God. Then, only, did hate begin to diminish.

Birnie stepped back, so that the pulpit light was in front of him. As he looked at that light, he said, "I can't see my shadow now . . . it's behind me. That's all man has to do, turn back to God . . . There was a time when I had my back to God and the shadow in front of me was terrifying. Then one day I came face to face with one of God's truths that I could have learned right in my mother's kitchen."

He chuckled. "Mamma would mix up a batch of biscuits. You younger people won't know what I'm talking about. You buy your biscuits in cans and pop 'em into the oven." He slapped his thigh and a great laugh filled the auditorium. "Well, Mamma had to mix up our biscuits. We had an old temperamental wood stove. Wanted the wood just right, and dry. Gotta little green wood in," he grimaced, "and, woohwhee, would it smoke! Mamma would cut out the biscuits with the lid of the baking-powder can and pop 'em into the oven. Then she'd walk down to the back fence sometimes and talk with sister Harvey.

"If she gossiped too long, the biscuits would get a little burned, black, sometimes, around the edges. If the fire was resentful of green wood, they'd get done, but they would have no color.

"Honey," he said, with a twinkle in his eyes, "we are biscuits from the same batch of dough, God's dough. I got a little burnt—black—and you, you're just half-baked." When the laughter died down, his voice deepened with sincerity. "When you know this, you say of those who mistreat you, shut the door in your face, laugh at your efforts, 'You're my little brother, and you don't know any better.'

Honey, we gotta love our little brothers, no matter where you meet them, what color they are or where they live, turn your eyes upon Jesus. Put the shadow at your back. . . ."

Dear Dr. Price:—Our thanks to you and your prayer workers for your prayers for my sister, M.B., who is so vividly improved. She was at Friends' Hospital for 10 years—"Incurable" schizophrenia. She is now in Maryland where she feels wanted—with faith, hope and love. Thanks for this blessing to us.—D. H. (Pittsburgh, Pa.)

The Evening Branch of the Women of St. Stephen's have elected the following officers for the year 1961-62: Sarah Winn, President; Helen Downes, Vice President; Rita Clark, Secretary; and Gertrude Flossic, Treasurer.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

Each year in the Spring and Fall the women of the Episcopal Church, throughout the nation and in all its Mission Fields, join in the presentation of the United Thank Offering, generally and affectionately known as "the U.T.O." Because this is a significant and vital expression of the strength and purpose of the whole Church, it is important that every communicant should know something about it.

This is not just another appeal for funds for the Church's program, but rather it is a great religious movement which began towards the close of the nineteenth century when one lone devoted Church woman became concerned over the small amount of the offering presented at the corporate communion held during the first Triennial Meeting of the W.A. She felt that had the delegates and visitors known of the purpose of this great service of Thanksgiving, they would have been more generous in their response. Accordingly, she asked that two objectives for which this money could be used be listed in Church papers in advance of the Triennial Meeting.

This was done and the offering in 1889—slightly more than $2,000.00, was used to build Christ Church in Anvik, Alaska, and to send a Missionary to Japan. What began as an offering made by those attending the Triennial Meeting became an offering from women throughout the whole Church, who became deeply aware of God's blessings in their lives when they expressed an "outward and visible sign of the inward and spiritual grace" of thanksgiving. So it was that the women began the habit of dropping a coin in a small box with a spoken prayer whenever they became aware of gratitude to God for some blessing in their life. At intervals they took the accumulated contents of the box to offer at the Church.

Thus began the practice which most of us know so well—of presenting our "Blue Boxes" each Spring and Fall to be sent to the Triennial Meeting and thence reach out to all the world. Now thousands and thousands of women have learned to value this day-by-day giving with prayer as a significant part of their Christian discipleship. The sum of money which flows from the Blue Boxes into the life of the Church runs into millions of dollars every third year, to be spent for doctors, nurses, missionaries, medicines and the many, many other uses so badly needed by our missionary program.

This year the Spring In-gathering at St. Stephen's Church will be held at the 11 O'Clock Service on Sunday, May 7th.

The Diocesan Presentation Offering of all the parishes will be held at the Chapel of the Valley Forge Military Academy, in Wayne, on Tuesday, May 16th, at 10:30 A.M.

We are, indeed, unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. For many, many years Philadelphia's homes and families have enjoyed a Sunday that is free from the sale of liquor at open bars and taverns. We do not want to change this. But the first entering wedge has come! 94 hotels in this city want Sunday Liquor Sales. If this is passed, it is but a question of time before the 3,318 bars, taverns and tap rooms will be open seven days a week. An Open Sunday for liquor sales can raise your taxes. It can downgrade your city for the benefit of profit seeking people. Our present liquor control laws are satisfactory. Let's keep them that way. For your City, your homes and your family vote "NO" on the Sunday Liquor Question on May 16th. This is Question No. 2 on the ballot.

GIVERS ARE RARELY ILL

(The following paragraphs are from the book, "A Psychiatrist's World", by Karl Menninger, M.D., published by Viking Press.)

"Money giving is a very good criterion, in a way, of a person's mental health. Generous people are rarely mentally ill people. On the other hand, let's not get critical of some of our stingy friends. Remember that stinginess is an illness. Some don't dare give even if they have money. They might run out. You can't take it with you! I don't know how many hundreds of my patients are now asleep in the graveyard, leaving behind them far more money than they could handle, far more money than their children could amicably divide, causing endless trouble and worry and oftentimes injury.

"I remember I said to a man, 'What on earth are you going to do with all that money?' He said, 'Just worry about it, I suppose!' I said, 'Well, do you get that much pleasure out of worrying about it?' 'No, but I get such terror when I think of giving it to somebody.'

"This man had many millions. But he still lived as if he were threatened by poverty as in his difficult childhood days. He had grown in many ways and had prospered, but some of his attitudes had not grown. The restrictions he had put upon opportunities to be generous, to enjoy gratitude, to find satisfaction, to find pleasure in fertilizing and furthering the work of other people—all this he denied himself. He was a miserable, unhappy man. (That was why I was seeing him.)"

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Chaconne .....Couperin
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is invincible hope that has brought mankind thus far in its march upwards and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God, and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to recognize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

The Anthem: Sing Praise to God .....Whitlock
Sing praise too God who reigns above, the God of all creation, the God of power, the God of love, the God of our salvation; With healing balm my soul He fills, and every faithless murmur stills; To God all praise and glory! What God's Almighty pow'r hath made His gracious mercy keepeth; by morning glow or evening shade His watchful eye ne'er sleepeth: within the Kingdom of His might all is just, and all is right; to God all power and glory. Then all my joyful way along I sing aloud Thy praises, that men may hear the grateful song my voice unwearied raises: Be joyful in the Lord, my heart; both soul and body bear your part! To God all praise and glory!
The Sermon: "FOOTPRINT ON MOUNT OLIVET" .....The Rector
Offertory Hymn 356 .....King's Weston
Recessional Hymn 103 .....In Babilone

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Some ten days ago I wrote for the help of your Prayer Fellowship when X-rays showed that I had bronchial pneumonia—two large spots on right lung, and the left lung was completely cloudy. Because of the crowded hospitals here and the long drawn out process innvolving many tests, we waited another week. The second examination proved that the condition was completely healed. I told my doctor about talking with you and his answer was: "Mrs. Earle, the trouble with most people is they underestimate the power of prayer. I have seen miracles happen." When I asked what I should do now, he answered: "Just keep your prayers and your thinking up." My husband and I offered a prayer of thanksgiving, giving God all the glory.

—Mrs. V. M. Earle (Eastchester, N.Y.)

STRENGTH TO CARRY ON

Sometimes the load gets too heavy for us. We say, "I can't bear it. It's too heavy." When we feel like that, it is a sure sign that we are trying to get along without God. He never intended us to carry great burdens with our own strength. He meant us to learn that only in His strength can we carry any load He intends us to bear.

After all, Jesus Himself did not try to meet life with His own strength alone. He said, very clearly, "I do nothing of Myself." By keeping His inner Spirit always open and responsive to His Father, He found the power to meet life's daily tests. If He had to depend on His Father, how much more do we!

Abraham Lincoln carried as heavy a load as any Chief of State ever has—his own country torn by strife and bitterness, the future uncertain, the present very dark. But Lincoln did not try to shoulder that staggering burden by himself. He profoundly believed in prayer, just as his Master had. It is recorded that a gentleman with an appointment to see him at 5 A.M. arrived 15 minutes early. Hearing a voice in the next room, he asked the attendant, "Who is in the next room? Someone with the president?" "No, he is reading the Bible and praying." "Is this his habit so early in the morning?" "Yes, Sir, he spends each morning from 4 to 5 in reading the Scriptures and praying." No wonder Lincoln stands out as our greatest American. Prayer was his first concern for each day—before any other business of State.

There are many ways of meeting God in the morning. You can read your Bible and some modern book of God's Good News, and then have quiet communion with Him. You may stop, on your way to work, to pray in some hallowed Church. You may wait until that moment when there is release from the morning's house work, and take your time with Him then. You will find your own best way, your own best time—as soon as your heart says, with your Master, "I do nothing of Myself."

St. Stephen's Boy Scout Troop, No. 2, won first place in the Liberty Bell District First Aid Contest held on April 9th at Lit Brothers Auditorium.

YOUNG PEOPLE

Thirty-eight members of the Youth Fellowship Group of Faith Congregational Church, Springfield, Mass., with the Assistant Minister, the Rev. Richard W. Albin, visited St. Stephen's Church on Sunday, April 30th. They attended the 11 O'Clock Service and stayed until 1:30 P.M. while the Rector spoke to them about our Healing Ministry. Dr. Mary P. Hitner, Mr. Arthur Comby and Mrs. Florence Master (of Media, Pa.) gave personal witness to the power of God's healing. On Monday from 10:30 A.M. to 11:45 A.M. the Rector answered their questions in a session at the Philadelphia Divinity School.

A BOX — A PRAYER — A COIN

A coin dropped with a prayer into a United Thank Offering Box becomes a miraculous thing. It is a woman's personal energy reduced to portable form and endowed with powers the woman herself does not possess; it can go where she cannot go, speak with languages she cannot speak, lift burdens she cannot touch with her fingers, save lives with which she cannot directly deal, so that a woman busy at home or at work all day downtown can at the same time be building and equipping Churches, hospitals, and schools, keeping them in good condition and supporting their personnel, all over the world.

"The Outgrown Shop" at 210 So. 13th Street, Phila. is a thrift shop operated by the volunteer organization of the Junior League. It is crowded full of values. Prices begin at 1 penny for the penny-wise shopper. May 23rd, 24th, 25th are the dates of the Spring Clearance Sale of men's, women's and children's clothing and household articles. Doors will be open 10 to 4:30 and until 8:30 on Wednesday night.

Dear Dr. Price:—I cannot begin to tell you the value and inspiration my husband and I received from our interview with you a month ago, and also from the healing service in St. Stephen's Church. You gave us so much to meditate upon and to put into practice in our daily lives. We thank God for your help in bringing us closer to Him. I would greatly appreciate having the prayers in my behalf continued. I feel greatly indebted to all the wonderful people who are praying for us. I feel there has been a noticeable improvement in the condition of my eye. We are looking forward to the time when it will be possible for us to return to Philadelphia and have the great privilege of worshipping in St. Stephen's.—Romayne Lyon (Dayville, N.Y.)

FILLED WITH THE HOLY SPIRIT

One day Jesus and His disciples were off in a quiet place. They had been asking Him questions. He was telling them of the powerful Presence of God where a few come together for His sake.—"For wherever two or three people come together in My name, I am there, right among them!" (Phillips).

That was a promise. It still holds good today. Many of us know its truth, from experience. Two or three people who all love God and humbly seek His guiding—find that God is alive and present with them. That is why sincere prayer-groups transform so many lives.

Henry Drummond tells us of a little boy who asked, "What does God do all day?" How would you answer that question? Many people never dream "that God is engaged in any particular work in the world, any more than it occurs to a little child that his father does anything except to be his father." Drummond explains that God has a purpose for mankind, "A purpose beyond each person and his needs—a purpose which embraces every man and woman born, every kindred and nation formed . . . which regards their welfare in every part, their progress, their health, their work, their wages, their happiness in this present world." And when two or three meet together to let God carry out His purpose through them, their horizon becomes as wide as His love. Their concern is to let His saving love loose through their prayers, through their lives. And, just because they are committed to Him, He can be with them, and can do His miracles through them.

This is the simple explanation of Whitsunday, "the day of Pentecost." The Scripture tells us that "they were all assembled together", as His humble and eager servants, the fellowship of those who loved and obeyed Him. And, because that was their reason for gathering, "they were all filled with the Holy Spirit . . ."

It is impossible to be a Christian for long, by one's self. The Way of Jesus is living with others in His manner of life. Therefore each one of us deeply needs a little company with whom to meet, once a week or so, "in His name," in His Spirit. If you are a shut-in, such precious fellowship may meet at your bed side. If that is not possible presently, your choice fellowship may be invisible, kept real and living by letters written to and fro.

Wherever two or three meet thus, Jesus keeps His promise—and comes to meet with them, the glorious, risen Christ!

We have been informed by the City of Philadelphia that the property of St. Stephen's Church has been certified by the Historical Commission as historically significant.

Our usual Memorial Day Patriotic Service will be held next Sunday, May 28th at 11 A.M.

The Rector presented to the Bishop for Confirmation on Monday, May 8th, in the Bishop's Chapel, the following: Mrs. Adeline Keller, Mrs. Olga Ludwig Carlile and Mrs. Catherine Mary Pearce. Hearty congratulations.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Matthew's Church, Wheeling, West Virginia, Sunday evening through Tuesday, May 21st - 23rd.

The Prelude: In Paradise ..... Mulet
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Friendship is one of the most satisfying experiences of life. That is what our relationship to God should be. He would not have us approach Him as cringing slaves who fear an over-lord, but joyously, confidently, as a man speaks to a friend, tried and true. He wishes to share with us His purposes for men. As we look forward to meeting a friend, so may our approach and friendship be with Thee, Thou Friend and Savior of our race. May our friendship ripen through the days and years to come, into a love that will cause us to do whatsoever Thou dost command us. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Once again I am writing to extend my gratitude. Being upheld and sustained through the faithful prayers of your devoted group continues to strengthen me during my illness. Lately light has broken thru' my vision at intervals, though it does not stay but for a brief period of time. I have been completely without sight for about four years. Thanking you again for the wonderful assurance of unwavering faith, Dr. Price. May God be with you all.—E. P. (Middleboro, Mass.)

LOVE IS THE ANSWER

Jesus was so practical. He knew that men's sickness of mind and body can be healed—and that love is necessary for this healing.

The Master taught this, thousands of years ago. Yet, in our day, leading doctors are just discovering this truth. Dr. Carl Menninger, noted psychiatrist in charge of the Menninger Clinic, is one. After years of hard study, he came to the conclusion that his patients were all sick because of lack of love. Either they had not loved, or been loved—or both. They were sick because of the deficiency of love in their lives. So he reorganized his mental hospital around love. Dr. Menninger called his staff together and explained his conviction that the patients all had one great need in order to get well—love. From that time on, all contacts with patients must be loving, caring contacts; and this applied to everyone who worked in the hospital, from the top doctors to the lowliest attendants and electrician. After six months they took stock to see how this was working out, and found that the expected hospitalization time had been cut in half. Jesus is so practical!

There was Mrs. Brown, a patient who for three years had sat in a rocking-chair, and had never said a word to anyone. The doctor called in a nurse and said, "Mary, I'm giving you Mrs. Brown as your patient. All I'm asking you to do is to love her until she gets well." The nurse tried it. She got a rocking-chair like Mrs. Brown's, sat along side of her and rocked, and loved her, morning, noon and night. The third day, the patient spoke and in a week she was out of her shell—and well!

It is high time that we take Jesus seriously, and follow His teaching. If you want help on the meaning of real love in daily living, read that 13th Chapter of First Corinthians, over and over, for a week or so. Here are bits of it:

"This love that I speak of is slow to lose patience—it looks for a way of being constructive. It is not possessive . . . It is not touchy . . . Love knows no limit to its endurance, no end to its trust; no fading of hope. It can outlast anything. It is, in fact, the one thing that stands when all else has fallen." (Phillips).

If you and some other person are at odds, then try Jesus' answer, with patience and resolution. It always works, bringing light and hope. It often produces miracles of restored understanding and affection. No advice to the other person, remember—just love them, honestly, prayerfully; and see what happens. Jesus is so practical!

The Prelude: Invocation ..... Timmings

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—So much of religion is a mild assumption or a pious wish, and for that reason it never becomes a transforming power in our lives. When we know for a certainty that Jesus lives, and that He will make us live, then things begin to happen; and our lives begin to mount upward. Father, cleanse us of fear, timidity and uncertainty; and give us the great conviction that "the best is yet to come, the last for which the first was made." Make us to know that a glorious life is within reach of us through Thy Son Jesus Christ. Amen.

Processional Hymn 266 ..... Nicaea

Kyrie ..... Stanford

The Anthem: In The Year That King Uzziah Died ..... Williams

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high, and lifted up, and His train filled the temple. Above it stood the Seraphim: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly. And one cried unto another and said, Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of His glory. And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him who cried, and the house was filled with smoke. Then said I, woe is me! For I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of Hosts. Then flew one of the Seraphim, having a live coal in his hand which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar; and he laid it upon my mouth and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin is purged. Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, here I am, send me.

YOUR PLACE OF POWER

You may say, "I know Jesus is right, that love is the answer", and mean it. But you may not have gone deep enough within you to see what love really means, and what it may cost. You may not ~~have~~ faced the changes that will have to be made in you before you become truly, whole-heartedly loving.

James Martineau, inspired teacher and preacher of the 19th Century, is very helpful here. He points out that everyone—except Children—has a sphere in which he is appointed to rule, in which he will either bless or curse the life of another. What we are, and what we do, makes a vast difference to every person who loves us dearly—with them we have the power of a king or a queen. To our children we bring either sunshine or darkness of night, depending on whether we are centered in them or in ourselves. Those who have to do something for you every day—like your milk-man, or your postman—are also under your "rule", for your indifference or your scowl starts their day, while your smile or your gratitude sends them on their way rejoicing. There is a sphere, therefore, in which each one of us has tremendous power.

Martineau asked a searching question, "How is it with you in your place of power?" In the place where you work, you are under orders and are not powerful. You do what you are told because you have to, to earn your living. But in your place of power you can be hurtful or helpful, wounding or healing, hateful or love-ful. Martineau says, "How is it with you in your place of power—among the servants whom you govern, the children whom you train, the companions who place you at their head? Do you take liberties there, as if there were nothing to restrain you? Do you grant exemptions to yourself—exemptions of sloth, exemptions of temper, exemptions of truth?" He concludes that "to souls baptised in Christian nobleness, the largest sphere of command is but a wider empire of obedience", a sphere in which we most need to obey God's will, and let His Love through us.

I will always remember Mrs. S., an elderly woman, who had a painful illness for which no cure could be found. She lived by herself in a small apartment. Her son Gilbert lived some 25 miles away, close to his work, with his wife and four children. He was a hard-working, warm-hearted husband and father and son. Mrs. S. knew that if he realized how much pain she had, he would come frequently to see her, even though he became worn out doing it. This was her place of power—to bless or curse! So she carefully hid her pain from him, and when he came occasionally to see her, concealed it so well that he never knew it. So, in her place of power, Mrs. S. let God's Love rule her. She met Christ's test. How is it with you in your place of power?

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—As you closed the laying-on-of-hands service on May 18th you said, "Go, and know that God is healing you." So, I said "Good-bye, cane"; and have walked ever since without it. How happy I am to be finished with that cane. I am so grateful to the Father for His healing.—H. C. W. (Detroit, Mich.)

The Annual Burd School Commencement will be held on June 11th, at 2:30 P.M., at the Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Avenue.

The Prelude: Rejoice Greatly, O My Soul ..... Karg-Elert

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—What will the day bring forth? Thus, we may well ask, in the face of the uncertainties of life. But life has its certainties also: God, for example, and His care of His people. He "restores", and He "leads". A path is sunny when these divine certainties accompany us on our way. O Thou Divine Shepherd of our souls, in all the uncertainties of life, Thou art our GREAT CERTAINTY. She has returned to college and is living a completely normal life. God has certainly helped her in many ways and I am grateful.—G. W. (Montgomery, N. Y.)

BEGIN WITH YOURSELF

Jesus had one ray of real joy on the last night of His life on earth. As He sat at supper with His disciples, He said, "One of you will betray Me." And, in Matthew's story, "they were sorrowful, and began to say to Him, one after another, "Is it I, Lord?" What progress they had made—not to try to blame someone else, but each to look into his own heart, to see if the sin might be there. Jesus must have been encouraged!

Of course they slipped, sometimes. In the last appearance of Jesus to His disciples (as recorded by John), Jesus had three times asked Peter if he loved Him, and then bidden him to "feed My sheep." Apparently Peter was a bit vexed in having his love for his Master thus questioned. Turning his head, he saw the disciple John, and with a touch of irritation, asked, "Lord, what about this man?" And Jesus answered, ". . . what is that to you? Follow Me!" Peter, begin with yourself.

Martin Buber writes, "The essential thing is to begin with one's self . . . Everything depends on myself, and the crucial decision, I WILL STRAIGHTEN MYSELF OUT." That is the clear teaching of Jesus—why try that speck out of your brother's eye? Get to work on the bulky obstruction in your own eye, which makes you blind to the truth. Begin with yourself!

Sometimes a married couple gets at odds, and each is ready to blame the other. After all, it's much more comfortable to think that the other person is to blame, isn't it! Then, sometimes, by the grace of God, one of them starts to ask God about this prickly situation, and listens to God's voice. Suddenly the one praying says, "Is it I?" This is an uncomfortable question, and it has most uncomfortable answers, but there is healing in them. Before you know it, this person is saying to the other, "You know, I should not have spoken to you angrily, as I did, and I'm sorry for it." You know what happens next. The other is so surprised and so humbled, that the answer comes back, "I provoked you; and I'm sorry I did. Will you forgive me?"

Jesus' teaching is so practical—and so simple. But it is not easy! It takes inner fortitude to face one's own sins. Not one of us enjoys that. But it is the way that works out for peace and good will. With God's help, it brings heaven into a home, a friendship, or a town. With God's help, when each nation faces its own fault, it can bring peace into the world.

The Prelude: Chorale in B Minor .....Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man might commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee; in Jesus' name. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Please remove my name from your Prayer List. I am fine now, and can carry on knowing what God heals is healed, perfectly and permanently. If I could only tell you how much deep down peace and comfort comes to the person being prayed for—but I just can't find the words to express my deep gratitude. I can only try to pass it all on to others. God bless you, your work, your healing Church, and your Prayer Group.—E. C. (Moorestown, N. J.)

SECRET OF PRAYER

Jesus' friends were expectant. They did not know that this was going to be the day of Pentecost. But He had bidden them to stay in Jerusalem "to wait for the Father's promise." God always keeps His promises. As they met together, waiting, they "devoted themselves to prayer." It is to praying people that the Holy Spirit comes. Jesus had given His disciples the secret of prayer. He had first told them that the only two great spiritual laws are to love God and to love people. When the disciples asked Him to teach them how to pray, He gave them what we now call "The Lord's Prayer", and said that this is the loving spirit in which we must pray if our prayers are to be effective.

As you read over His Prayer thoughtfully, you find that it never says, "give me", or "forgive me." It is all "we" and "us" and "our". There must be love in prayer. Just as you cannot construct an aeroplane that will fly without obeying the law of gravity; so you cannot make prayers that will leave the ground and reach God without obeying the law of love.

There was an interesting conversation which took place in the house of a Pharisee. A woman came and anointed Jesus' feet with precious ointment. Now the Pharisees and Jesus knew that this woman's life had been far from correct. The Pharisees proudly scorned her as "a sinful woman." But Jesus knew that, even in her sinful way of life, this woman had usually obeyed the law of love, had been genuinely concerned for other people, truly kind and self-forgetful. So Jesus looked straight at those chilly-hearted Pharisees, saying, ". . . her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much." The Pharisees were very angry; but the woman went away with a great peace in her heart. Because she had been full of loving-kindness, her prayers had reached God.

Test your own praying by this law of love. Selfish praying does not reach God. For instance, if we pray for a job we want, without thinking that our getting the job means that someone else loses it. If we pray for peace of mind, when we should ask God to give us the courage to make friends with someone we have hurt, and ask them to forgive us. When we pray resolutely in the Spirit of Love, miracles do happen. Pray for God's Love to come through you to build up the confidence of some scared friend, or to use you to help someone to escape from the sticky fly-paper of self-centeredness. This adventure is more exciting than any TV "Western." This is prayer that is overflowing with God's saving power, through you!

Jean V. D. Price was graduated from Harriton High School, Bryn Mawr, on June 14th. She will matriculate in Susquehanna University in September and major in music.

The Rector is preaching today, June 18th, at St. Mark's Church, London at 11 A.M., and at St. Giles' Church in the evening. He will lecture at the 5th International Conference on Healing at De Henzenberg, Hattem, Holland, June 20th-23rd.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Joseph Trimble who will assist at the Holy Communion at 9 A.M. and preach at the 11 A.M. Service. The Rev. Joseph Trimble was ordained to the Diaconate at St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia, on Saturday at 10 A.M. He is a member of St. Stephen's Church and has had a distinguished educational career at the University of Penna. and the Harvard Theological School. He is to be an assistant at St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill.

WHAT BECAME OF THE APOSTLES?—Few know the manner in which the twelve Apostles came to their end. According to legends, this is what happened:

JOHN died of extreme old age at Ephesus.
JUDAS ISCARIOT, after betraying the Lord, hanged himself.
PETER was crucified, head downward, during the persecution of Nero.
ANDREW died on a cross at Patrae, in Achaia, a Greek Colony.
JAMES, the Bishop of Jerusalem, was thrown from a pinnacle of the Temple and then beaten to death with a club.
BARTHOLOMEW was flayed alive in Albanapolis, Armenia.
JAMES, the elder son of Zebedee, was beheaded in Jerusalem.
THOMAS, the doubter, was run through with a lance at Coromandel, in the East Indies.
PHILIP was hanged against a pillar at Neropolis, a city of Phrygia in Asia Minor.
MATTHEW was slain by the sword in Ethiopia (Abyssinia).
THADDEUS was shot to death with arrows.
SIMON died on a cross in Persia.

The Prelude: Preludio .....Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our never-ending task of being Christians is to fill ourselves in unending measure or such qualities of the spirit as strength in the inner man, faith in His dear Son, knowledge that comprehends the dimensions of Love; and Love itself, that passeth all understanding. Dear Lord, we are overwhelmed when, as we behold the smallness of ourselves, we realize that we were meant to contain Thy fullness. Unto that end may we strive to be immersed in Thy truth and Goodness, but not until we have emptied ourselves, so that Thou canst replenish our hearts with every grace of Thyself completely. Amen.

Cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation, and uphold me with Thy Spirit. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and contrite heart Thou wilt not despise, O God. Make me to hear joy and gladness, that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice.

LAST ISSUE OF THE WEEKLY BULLETIN FOR SEASON

With this issue of St. Stephen's Weekly Bulletin we close the present Season. The Bulletin is not published during the months of July and August. Our next issue will be that of September 3rd, 1961.

LOVE AND CARING

Back in the dim and distant past there was a great famine. In Egypt there was a man who had expected it, and had stored up vast supplies of grain. When the famine descended, the word spread far and wide, and "all the earth came to Egypt to Joseph to buy grain." It is an exciting story of rich treasure ready in time of need.

We sometimes forget that there has been a chronic famine of loving-kindness on the earth for many ages. This is one reason that Jesus came, to bring what men craved most deeply—love and caring. He taught them to be the instruments of His peace and kindness. The world was so surprised and delighted that men cried out, "See how those Christians love each other;" and then looked more closely, to find out how they did it. Pagans were drawn to Christianity because the Christians out-lived and out-loved the rest of the world.

A man and his wife one day went to an orphanage to find a child to adopt. They had never been able to have a child of their own. They wanted one very much. But, never having had one, they did not understand what makes a child "tick." They were afraid that the youngster they chose would not want to come and be their child. Finally they found an eight-year-old boy who was just the kind they wanted. Anxiously they began to tell him all the things he could have if he lived in their home. The boy looked at them, all mixed up, and said, "Why do you tell me about all these things? All I want is someone to love me."

So many, many people are spiritually starving for love. They seek somewhere, someone who has a great store of love which they can share. It could be someone in your neighborhood, in your Church—even in your home. Someone who is hungry to be loved just as they are—ornery, imperfect, discouraged. Someone whose spirit will die unless it is fed by the life-saving vitamins of compassion and understanding.

You may be thinking, "There are such multitudes of people who need love that I can do little about it." But would you say that to Jesus? Can you say that to His Spirit in your heart? Rather, you can give Him great joy when you say to Him:

I'm only one.
But I am one.
I cannot do everything,
But I can do something.
What I can do, I ought to do—
What I ought to do, I will do!"

The Rector is speaking in Berlin, Germany Sunday through Wednesday, and will fly from Frankfort to Johannesburg, South Africa on June 29th, where he will conduct Healing Missions in eight cities including Johannesburg, Pretoria, Port Elizabeth, Kimberley, Durban and East London during the month of July. He will return to America on August 3rd when he will join his family on vacation in Kennebunkport, Maine. He will lecture at Chautauqua, August 14th-18th, inclusive.

The Rev. Andrew Mayer will continue to serve St. Stephen's Church and conduct the Sunday and Week-day services through the week of July 16th. The Rev. Dr. Percy Stockman of the Seaman's Church Institute will conduct the services during the last two weeks of July. The Rev. Robert Stetler, of St. Alban's Church, Roxboro, will be responsible for the services during the month of August.

A LITTLE PRAYER — Worth Memorizing

Give unto us, O Lord, the spirit of brightness and of courage.
Let not any shadow oppress our spirits, lest our gloom should darken the light by which others have to live.
Help us to play the man, and so to help others to face courageously whatsoever tomorrow may bring them; for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Prelude: Fantasia ..... J. S. Bach
Adagio ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men; He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He, who was pure, would have us watch our words and deeds, so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

Words are inadequate vehicles to express to all the women of St. Stephen's Church our appreciation for the wonderful help and service rendered to our guests at the recent International Conference on Spiritual Healing. To Mrs. Madeline Keller and her fine group of workers who were responsible for the Tea and Reception in the Community House on the three afternoons of the Conference, and for the expert handling of over 150 people who attended the Supper on Tuesday night, and for the most important help given by members of the OSL in the work of registration, ushering and information, we are deeply indebted.

The Rector was a speaker at the Brotherhood of St. Andrew Provincial Conference held at the Conference Center at Radnor on September 2nd.

TWO UMBRELLAS

George Toregenersen once observed that, wherever you find a shining Christian character, you will always discover—in the background—someone "with two umbrellas."

He tells the story of a young Philippino student who came to this country to study at a mid-Western University. On the first Sunday morning, in his new dormitory room, he was awakened by a heavy rainfall. He was just about to close his eyes for some more sleep, when a fellow student appeared in the doorway, an umbrella on each arm. He offered to show the young Philippino the way to his Church, and then go on to his own. The young Philippino had never found Christ in his own Church, though he still attended it. As the two students started down the street, the foreigner thought, "If this fellow-student of mine has such a faith and such an interest in my spiritual life, surely I ought to find out what his faith is like." So he began going to his friend's Church, and did find Christ there. He became a famous Bishop of that Church back in the Philippine Islands. He bears witness to his debt to the friend with two umbrellas.

These two-umbrellas people are the life-changers, the givers of strength and loving-care and kindness. They are forever reaching out beyond themselves to shield someone else from the weather, to guide another thru' storm to a place of safety. Stop for a minute, now, and shut your eyes, and remember the two-umbrellas people who have blessed your life . . . because they valued you so much, you learned to value yourself more. Because they shared their treasure with you, you became rich. Because they let God put His shoulder under their load, they had strength to carry a part of your load. Through them you have caught new glimpses of the wonder of Jesus; new tastes of the goodness of life flavored with God's compassion; new love of great music; new hints of the marvels of God's created world.

When Jesus commanded, "Love your neighbor as yourself," He was simply telling us to be "two-umbrellas" people. Jesus taught His friends to invite others in out of the storm, under God's protection. And they came and stood at the door of people's lives, with an umbrella on each arm. So our two-umbrella life-savers taught us that, no matter how the storms blow, it is "what's-on-the-inside" that counts!

Dear Dr. Price:—Five months ago I enlisted the prayer help of your Prayer Fellowship, as I was suffering from gangrene in my fingers, and the doctor was planning amputation. Thank God my fingers are healing very nicely and I am grateful to you and your Prayer Group.—E. B. (Philadelphia)

THE WARDEN IN SCOTLAND

Arrived at the Renfrew Airport, Glasgow, on Tuesday Noon, June 6th, and was met by our Scotish Chaplain, the Rev. Andrew Gordon and a fellow clergyman of the Church of Scotland. We went to the Manse of the Rev. Allen Robson of the Kelvinside (Botanic Gardens) Church of Scotland where, at 8 P.M., we talked to a dozen clergymen on the subject of Spiritual Healing. On Wednesday morning we went sight seeing in Glasgow and visited the Episcopal Cathedral and the Iona Headquarters in Glasgow. I was disappointed that we did not have time to visit the Island of Iona. In the afternoon I met with a fine group of lay people in the Kelvinside Church and talked about the O.S.L.

In the evening we had a laying-on-of-hands service at the Kelvinside Presbyterian Church. Wednesday night is the regular healing service in this Church. I made the address. Those who desired the laying-on-of-hands sat at the end of the pews while I went up and down the two aisles ministering to them. Each one had a card with his name and the nature of his problem written on it.

Thursday morning two of the ministers drove me to Edinburgh where we met with a fine group of clergymen of the Church of Scotland. After lunch we met with a group of lay people at the Healing Centre in Ainslie Place. In the evening I had a lecture in the Palmerstone Place Church and a question and answer period in the Parish House following the service. The Services in Scotland were well attended. One lady said she was impressed with my lecture but she said she was "too orthodox" to pray for healing. Calvinism prevented her.

I left Edinburgh by train on Friday morning, and arrived in Birmingham, England, at 5 P.M. My most unique experience in Scotland was to find a hot water bottle in my bed in the month of June! I had left Philadelphia in 90 degree temperature and it was now 45 degrees in Scotland.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit, and the true motive. Lord, Who is my guide but Thee? Who is my light but Thee? And there is none beside Thee that I desire; my soul and body, how did they fail! But God is my strength, forever comfort of my heart, and my portion; my consolation and my portion.

Dear Dr. Price:—Peg Jefferson whom you prayed for in 1956 and who was critically ill with cancer is now doing a full time job caring for her husband and four girls. What had been considered "a hopeless case" now seems to be arrested. After several years of suffering, operations and the reassuring and helpful role of your Prayer Fellowship, she is once again able to live a fairly normal life.

SALT

A teacher of mine one day pointed out that Jesus never commanded us to be the sugar of life. Rather, "Ye are the salt of the earth." What's on the inside of each of our lives must be salty.

That surprises us a bit, does it not? We thought that Jesus wanted us to make life sweet for other people, as sugar sweetens our morning cup of coffee. But He did not say, "Ye are the sugar of the earth." A Christian, He said, is a salty person.

What is it that salt does? Salt brings out the flavor of whatever you are eating—rice or bread or meat. Some people even put a pinch of salt in a pot of coffee, to bring out its rich taste. Now this is what Jesus did for people—He came into their lives, and brought out the delicious flavor they could have in their lives, right where they were. He did not bid Zacheus to take up a new kind of work, in the 19th Chapter of Luke. He showed him how his dreary, stale job could be changed into a fresh and delicious way of helping people. In the 5th Chapter of Mark, Jesus healed the demoniac, and did not invite him to come along—He said, "Go home to your friends, and tell them how much the Lord has done for you." He sent him right back to the familiar town, to share the good taste of life lived under God.

There are hosts of people whose spirits suffer from "diabetes"—too much sugar in their lives! When a doctor discovers this physical disease in a patient, he puts him on a sugar-free diet. Too much sweetness can be fatal, to a man's spirit as well as to his body. And sugar chokes the flavor of whatever is eaten. Too much of it in coffee can smother the fragrance, and result in a sort of sticky syrup. Too many sweet words, to some person who has been helpful, turn out to be sticky sentimentality. Too much pleasure-seeking gums up our inner lives so that we no longer can taste the wonderful, tart flavor of difficulty and hardship. Too much luxury dulls our appetite for living. Sugar is dangerous!

Jesus bade us to be filled with the salt-power that gives relish to other people's living. Real concern for the needs of others is a salty quality in you that makes life taste good for everyone around you. Filled with the self-giving way of salt you become a true Christian—the salt of God's earth.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Grace Church, Utica, N.Y., on Sunday night, through Tuesday, September 24th - 26th, inclusive.

The Prelude: Kyrie Eleison .....Karg-Elert
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are, indeed, unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confidence and faith that we know God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy Presence whenever in need, and wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.
Processional Hymn 535 .....Festal Song
Kyrie .....Wyton
The Anthem: In The Year That King Uzziah Died .....Williams

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high, and lifted up, and His train filled the temple. Above it stood the seraphim: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly. And one cried unto another and said, Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of His glory. And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke. Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts. Then flew one of the seraphim, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the Altar; and he laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin is purged. Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I, send me.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I know what God can do because my husband was prayed for by you when you were here in January, 1961, and was instantly healed as he lay almost without hope in Mercy Hospital, with a staph infection in the ureter tube, following the removal of a kidney stone. Through this healing he also came to know Christ as Savior—Praise the Lord—and my sincere thanks to you for your prayers for him and now for my friend.—Mrs. J. D. P. (Miami, Florida).

The Rector will conduct a healing service in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P.M. He will conduct a "Day Apart" program in Bacon Memorial Presbyterian Church, Niagara Falls, Tuesday evening and all day Wednesday, Oct. 3rd and 4th, and preach in St. George's Church, St. Catherines, Canada on Wednesday night.

MISS DOROTHY KERIN

It was back in 1912 that London newspapers carried headlines proclaiming: "The Twentieth Century Miracle." That told the amazing story of the instantaneous healing of a young girl, Dorothy Kerin, whom no less than twenty-eight doctors had in turn pronounced to be dying of an incurable general tuberculosis which had kept her completely bed-ridden for five long years until her emaciated body had become a mere skeleton of skin and bones. All that medical skill could do had been done and therefore nothing but death was expected by the small group of relatives and friends that had gathered around her bed when the end was visibly near. As they watched, they saw a great light all around her bed and then she was raised by unseen hands to a sitting position, and they heard her say: "Do you hear? I must get up and walk. I am well." Thereupon, she got out of bed and stood before them restored to health and by morning, after eight hours' sleep, all flesh had been restored to her body and her doctor could not believe his eyes.

This incredible happening of this twentieth century is no fairy tale; it has every kind of medical evidence to corroborate it. Dorothy Kerin has herself told the story in her book, 'The Living Touch.' "My healing," she wrote, "came from God alone; to Him be the glory. There was no earthly intermediary. What our Lord did in Galilee 2000 years ago, He can and does do now." In this same little book we are told that God brought Dorothy back for a great and privileged work and that through her prayers and faith, the sick would be healed, the sorrowful comforted, and faith given to the faithless.

The story of the stages through which her great ministry has passed has been brought up to date by James Davidson Ross in his biography 'Dorothy: a Portrait.' The call to her life work came in 1929 and in the following years she founded Chapel House, Ealing. To this original Home of Healing, seven other houses were added over a period of years as her ministry became known to an ever-wider circle of sick and suffering people. Her work at Ealing was spiritually sponsored by the then Archbishop of Canterbury, and medically by the late Lord Horder, for Dorothy has always been a loyal daughter of the Church and worked in close harmony and understanding with the medical profession.

During the war Miss Kerin adopted nine children, four boys and five girls, her choice in every case being, she believes, divinely guided.

In 1948 the Home of Healing moved to Burrswood, close to the little village of Groombridge in Kent. It is a State Registered Nursing Home with a dedicated staff of trained nurses and workers. The Bishop of Coventry is the Warden of the Burrswood International Fellowship and recently consecrated the beautiful new Church of Christ the Healer. Two of Miss Kerin's dedicated staff are the Countess of Ypres and Princess Marina Chav-chavadze, who will be attending her services in New York. Also connected with her work has been Baroness Ravensdale, the daughter of the late Lord Curzon.

Two years ago Miss Kerin addressed 2000 people in the Bethlehems Church in Stockholm while there for a mission under the auspices of ministers, pastors, and doctors. Last year Miss Kerin was in Geneva to speak in two French-Swiss churches, the English Church and Emmanuel Episcopal Church. All the services were crowded to hear her God-given message of hope and spiritual power which made a living impact. The Healing Presence of the Divine Physician is felt when she speaks or during the Laying on of Hands.

It will be a great privilege to have this distinguished English visitor with us on her first visit to America. She is due to arrive in the Queen Elizabeth, October 3rd and to be in this country until November 1st. She will be accompanied by her secretary, Miss Dorothy Arnold. Her program which will include speaking engagements in ten Eastern cities and churches, has been arranged by Dr. Alfred W. Price, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia and Warden of the Order of St. Luke, with the assistance of Mrs. Walter Hoving of New York and Mrs. Aymar Johnson of E. Islip, Long Island, secretary of the International Council for Christian Leadership, Washington, D.C.

Miss Kerin will speak in St. Stephen's Church on Saturday, October 7 at 2 P.M. and on Sunday at 11 A.M. and 7:30 P.M.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly pray: "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "All things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that Thy will for our lives may be revealed to us in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Amen.

Bless thou the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless His Holy Name . . . and forget not all His benefits. Who forgives all your iniquities, who heals your diseases; who redeems your life from the pit. Who crowns you with love and mercy. As a father pities his children, so the Lord pities those who fear Him. For He knows our frame, He remembers that we are but dust.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Our thanks to God and to your Prayer Fellowship for Dr. J. D. His doctors say he has made a miraculous recovery from tumor of the brain. He returned to his office on September 5th and has been working every day. Oh, for more Christian doctors who understand God's merciful love.—A. B. B. (Adams Run, S. C.)

FLOW OF LOVE

There came a day when Jesus and His disciples were traveling through Samaria. Now there were hard feelings between the Samaritans and the Jews. Jesus sent some of His disciples ahead to arrange for hospitality. But when the Samaritans learned that they were a company of Jews on their way to Jerusalem, they could find no room for them in the village. This angered hot-headed James and John (whom Jesus had nick-named "the sons of thunder"!) They asked Jesus if they might pray God for a scorching flame from heaven to burn up these unfriendly people. But Jesus, looking them straight in the eye, said, "No." He would have no part in angry "getting even."

Glenn Clark has pointed out, "Anger and worry, those twin off-spring of the thought of self, have blocked more prayers, ruined more Churches, . . . than all the other vices put together. Anger is the sign that we do not love God, for "in as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me . . ." Anything which affects the flow of love toward God blocks the perfect flow of prayer."

Therefore, if we hope to be the instruments of God's love on earth, we must not let angry resentment get a foothold in our hearts. Such a hatefulness blocks our lives —just as grease sometimes blocks your sink-drain. Jesus wasted no time being angry with that inhospitable Samaritan village. He turned away patiently, and went on to the next town. He was keeping His heart clear, to be the channel of God's saving love, at Jerusalem.

When you are angered by someone, you need to turn your thoughts quickly to God, and keep your thoughts on Him until the anger-temptation has passed. God may overcome the anger by reminding you of some lovable qualities in the person you are mad at. Or He may remind you of some of your own short-comings. Or He may simply indicate to you what Jesus would do, in your place. God will always take care of that temptation, if you will let Him.

The exciting miracle is that, the moment you let God into your heart, He pours in His love so abundantly that the anger is crowded out. Because you have surrendered yourself to God's leading, He can overcome the temptation with His infinite power. You are now "free"—free from anger, free to see God, free to let Him use you to save others with His unfailing compassion!

Our deep sympathy is extended to Mrs. Harry J. Hauger in the release of her dear brother.

The Rector will speak to the members of the Guild of St. Barnabas at St. Timothy Church, Roxboro, on Tuesday evening. He will preach in the First Presbyterian Church, 21st and Walnut Streets, on Thursday at 7:45 P.M.

We extend a hearty welcome to Miss Dorothy Kerin, one of England's greatest Mystics, who will give three addresses in St. Stephen's Church: On Saturday, October 7th at 2 P.M. and on Sunday, October 8th, at 11 A.M. and 7:30 P.M.

On Sunday, October 15th we celebrate St. Luke's Day in St. Stephen's Church, with a service at 11 A.M. when we will have as our guests the doctors and nurses of our mid-city hospitals. A card with the information is available for those who would like to invite their medical friends to the service. These cards are in the vestibule of the Church.

AN INTERPRETATION OF THE UNITED FUND

Most of us depend upon others whenever we wish to share our good fortune with those less favored. We seldom directly help individuals or families in trouble, nor provide guidance or education for those who could profit from either. This is not always what we would choose to do, but our complex society and our lack of knowledge or skill in offering our aid wisely compels us to this source of action.

In the community we can turn to over 250 agencies ministering to nearly every need of our neighbors that cannot be supplied by our Churches. We express our concern for these neighbors whenever we contribute to the United Fund Torch Drive. Without the money we give to the United Fund, many of our neighbors would suffer.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith, and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and nurses, and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors and nurses in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body, that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato.

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of fellow has a germ than what kind of germ has a fella."—Shattuck.

" 'Tis not the body, but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell.

A WONDERFUL WAY TO LIVE

Allen Boone was camping out in the south-west desert of our country, with Little Beaver, his Indian friend, and Dan, the "desert rat", who prospects for gold and loves God's outdoor world. Boone writes:

"One of the desert's most dreaded citizens paid us a visit today—a big, diamond-backed rattle snake. Dan, Little Beaver, and I were lying on the ground in the cool of the day cat-napping. Happening to look in the direction of one of the pack-saddles, . . . I rubbed my eyes and looked again. From 'round the end of it came the snake. And what a snake! It must have been the heavy-weight champion of them all. It moved into the open, formed itself into a nest, and posed there for many minutes. Then it started toward us slowly, gracefully. Within inches of Little Beaver's bare feet, it stopped, raised its head (but without coiling or rattling) and looked us over, appraisingly.

"Little Beaver and Dan watched the snake with drowsy but calm interest. To them it was simply another desert friend crossing their trail and pausing to say "Hello!" The inspection of us was through . . . then, evidently satisfied, . . . it lowered its beady-eyed head, glided around us leisurely, moved down the trail, and disappeared into the desert. Not once did it look back. Not once did it show the least fear. Its confidence in our good will was absolute."

Allen Boone goes on to say that poisonous snakes seem to take pleasure in biting white men, but rarely do they harm the Indians. White men wear high boots, carry guns, and watch where they step. The Indians wear light moccasins or go bare-footed; and pay almost no attention to the snakes. The white man regards the snake as an enemy; the Indian looks on him as a fellow creature—and the snake knows the difference. The Indians and the snakes are at peace with each other; there is no trouble between them. Apparently God meant snakes and people to live together as fellow-creatures; and the Indian understands this, and carries out God's will.

Albert Schweitzer, the great physician of Africa, believes in "reverence for life," and practices it. He feels a deep kinship with all living creatures—human and animal. God made them, and God made him. So there is friendship between them, and Dr. Schweitzer lives as the instrument for God's love for all His fellow-creatures in the jungle, both man and beast. Once we understand that God meant us to live at peace with all God's creatures, we become effective instruments in His hands. We stir friendship in all we meet, because our hearts are full of His caring for all that He has made. It's a wonderful way to live!

STATEMENTS BY LEADING AMERICAN DOCTORS

(In Emily Gardiner Neal's Book, "God Can Heal You Now")

Dr. Howard Craven, Washington, D. C.—"If we are to be honest, we have to face the truth that a large number of remarkable healings appear to be taking place without medical or surgical intervention. Many of these can not be categorized as purely psychosomatic. Experience seems to justify the belief that Spiritual Healing completes the chain that welds the patient into an integrated, whole, happy, well, unit."

Dr. Albert Reissner, Brooklyn Psychoanalyst.—"More and more of us are becoming convinced of two things: First, that man is a trinity, composed of body, mind and spirit; and Second, that the underlying cause of most disease is spiritual. We have observed that unless a healing of the spirit takes place, the cure of the body or mind is not apt to be either complete or permanent."

Dr. William Reed, of Bay City, Michigan.—"Today there is a new awareness that in the close co-operation between the Church and medicine, lies a new, great kind of care of illness that brings Christ into His proper place in the thinking and activities of both groups. We are learning thru' Spiritual Healing that Christ has a message for physicians which must be listened to."

Dr. Evarts G. Loomis, of Southern California.—"I have noticed repeatedly in my practice that the extent of a physical healing seems to depend on the change in the spiritual life of the patient which goes with prayer and meditation. On several occasions when a patient was not making satisfactory progress, I have prayed with him, either verbally or silently, whether he be Catholic or Protestant, in office, or hospital room. Almost invariably improvement has followed."

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, who conducted an investigation on Spiritual Healing several years ago, reported: "Chrsitian Healing has passed beyond the stage of experiment, and its value cannot be questioned. Spiritual Healing no longer is the hope of the few, but the belief and practice of a large and rapidly increasing number of persons."

The Prelude: "Prelude" .....Buxtehude
Sinfonia .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Christian religion is one of joyful hope, not of helpless resignation; of ardent expectation, not of gloomy despair. This assurance comes from having "reverence for Christ in our hearts as Lord", as the modern translations put it. All questions and doubts are answered in Him. Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, we pray for that living hope which comes to us through the Resurrection of our Savior. Grant that through faith He may dwell in our hearts; and so enlighten our minds that we may help others to overcome doubts and fears. Amen.

O sing unto the Lord a New Song, all the whole earth. Sing . . . and magnify His name; proclaim His salvation from day to day. Declare His honor unto the heathen, and His wonders to all peoples.

Dear Dr. Price:—You will be glad to hear that my son-in-law, R. D., of Mexico, New York, was able to return to work Monday after being idle four months with a nervous breakdown. When I submitted his name to your Prayer Group everything possible had been done by the doctors without avail. Another series of shock treatments were prescribed, although former ones had proved useless. One week after submitting his name to Your Prayer Fellowship the miracle of healing had happened. Hope this letter may give you a glimpse of the gratitude in a mother's heart.—D. N. T. (Cicero, N. Y.)

SURRENDER

Sooner or later in life we discover the joy of yielding ourselves to some vocation of person or cause. A boy becomes fascinated with bugs and beasts, forgets himself and is on his way to becoming a happy scientist. A young woman falls in love with a tall young man, forgets herself, and finds her delight in this lovable person. You become a member of a Church that is radiant with God's loving-kindness, and you forget yourself in the joy of drawing others into that joyful fellowship.

Sooner or later each one of us faces the biggest choice of all—whether we will bend our wills to obey God. As King Hezekiah wrote to his people, "Oh people of Israel, return to the Lord, . . . do not be stiff-necked as your fathers were, but yield yourselves to the Lord." Three centuries later, Paul wrote to the Romans, "Do not yield your members to sin, as the instruments of wickedness, but yield yourself to God, . . . and your members to God as instruments of righteousness."

What holds us back from surrendering our wills to God? Simply that we like to do what pleases us. We think that we shall be happiest that way. So we hang onto ourselves, being afraid to give ourselves away to God. Jonathan Edwards had a tough struggle, and, finally, one day in 1723, wrote, "I have given myself, all that I am and have, to God . . . now henceforth I am not to act in any respect as my own. I've given myself clear away." One of the most deeply happy men I have ever known was Doctor Wilfred Grenfeld. He had given himself away to God, and given up the bright prospect of medical practice in London; and had become God's physician along the storm-beat shores of Labrador and Newfoundland. In giving himself away he found the glorious happiness of being used by the Infinite God to bring health and life to a lonely, forsaken people.

Look back over your years and recall those people who were always joyful, no matter what their "luck" or their circumstances. I think of a mother with nine children, who, keeping close to God, has love and wisdom for every one of them; a young man who faced a long, long illness with unwavering courage, finding his strength in God. These people who were outstanding for their joyfulness, first yielded their wills to God.

It does not take long—just a moment of courageous, honest decision. Surrender is the door that opens into the full glory of human life under God. "Yield yourselves to God!"

The Rector has been elected President of the Board of Managers of the Galilee Mission. Mr. I. Smith Raspin is the Treasurer of this Board.

The Rector will preach in the Park Methodist Church of Bloomfield, N. J., Sunday at 5 P.M. He will preach in St. John's Church, Palmerton, Penna., Tuesday evening, October 24th.

Mrs. Holly Coors, daughter of our Vestryman, Mr. Hugo Hanson, has an inspiring poem in the October issue of "Sharing" Magazine.

A CALL TO PRAYER AND ACTION

The Rector asks every member of St. Stephen's Church to use the following prayer daily at the noon hour:

"THY KINGDOM COME . . . in my life and in our home; in our parish, and in the whole Church; in America and in all the world. Amen".

Our hearty "Thank You" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Mattie Bright, Louise Costello, Mrs. Mildred B. Fishburn, Eva Hansen, Isabella Pareton, Mrs. N. E. Pincin, Wilhelmina Sachs, Nicholas L. Todd, Mrs. Eleanora Valentine.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"I believe in God, and the life everlasting" is a most marvelous statement of faith. The two parts of it are inseparable; one is meaningless without the other. To doubt God's willingness or power to give us eternal life is to limit Him so that He is no longer God. We cannot fight the good fight of faith except we first "lay hold on eternal life." Eternal Father, we are Thine, now and in eternity; and those whom we have "loved and lost a while" are both Thine and ours, if we are Thine. Strengthen us in a healthy hope of everlasting life through our confidence in Thee. Amen.

SECRET OF HAPPINESS

Do you want to be happy? That is a foolish question, of course. All the world longs to be happy, and so few really are. Yet the plain secret of happiness is clearly written, and richly illustrated, in a well known Book within our reach.

Dr. Frank Laubach is today revealing that secret, in two hundred and sixty-two languages, in most of the countries of the world. He reports that the teaching of illiterates is proving to be a wonderful way to bring people to Christ. You sit down beside the illiterate, your heart overflowing with love for him, knowing that you are the first educated man who has ever looked at him except to swindle him. You tell him that you want to teach him to read and write. Mystified by your kindness, he explains that he has no money to pay you. Then you say to him, "I do not want any pay. I have learned this from Jesus. He spent all His time helping people, free of charge. From the moment He awoke in the morning, until He closed His eyes at night, He was looking around, asking whom He could teach, or heal, or encourage, or defend, or save. I think that is a beautiful way to live. If we were all like Jesus, this world would be a paradise. So I thought that I would try helping people just because I love them. And I've discovered the secret of happiness! When I am teaching you, it makes my heart sing. When I have finished teaching you, I want you to go and teach your neighbors. And don't take any money for it, and your heart will sing! Brother, we have found the secret of happiness."

So, by this simple picture-language method, ten million people a year are escaping from the ancient bondage of ignorance. This makes them very happy; but they are happiest when they practice "Each One Teach One". When they teach another illiterate to read and write, they have the delight of giving him freedom. Jesus once said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," or, as Phillips translates it, "To give is happier than to receive."

If the world could learn that simple secret of happiness-through-loving-kindness, it would become a neighborly world. This would transform life more deeply than all the atomic secrets. If we professing Christians would trust Jesus Christ enough to live by His secret from dawn till dark, we would become radiant with joy. And unbelieving people would be drawn to Him, as illiterates are drawn through Dr. Laubach.

Think of it—you have a secret, happiness-through-giving. Every man, woman, and child you meet this week longs for that secret. Live by it faithfully, and your heart will sing, and your joy will be contagious beyond belief!

Dear Dr. Price:—I want to report on Anne A. who is a Mongoloid. Her progress is amazing since your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for her. She will soon be nine months old and she is doing all the things a normal child is doing at her age. The doctors admit they are surprised at her progress. She has still a slight Mongoloid appearance that is rapidly disappearing.—Mrs. W. E. B. (Birmingham, Ala.)

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

Each Fall the women of the Church are asked to empty their Blue U. T. O. Boxes, and send the contents, either by check or in cash in the Blue Envelope on the Alms Basin. It will be helpful if it were placed there this Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Meckling will be on "leave of absence" for four weeks during which time he will be at Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C. for an intensive course in Orientation to the deaf. The Rev. A. Edward Chinn, Rector of All Saints' Church, Torresdale, Pa., will be in Charge of Mr. Meckling's Church Services during his absence.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

Beautiful Christmas Cards, with a reproduction of St. Stephen's Sanctuary of last Christmas, are available. The cost is $3.00 per box of 20 cards.

We wish to say "Thank You" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Janie S. Claytor, William A. Johnson, Jr., Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

The Prelude: O What Their Joy ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from all conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace of which Jesus said, "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this gift. Amen.

Processional Hymn 126 ..... Sine Nomine
Kyrie ..... Oldroyd
The Anthem: Let Saints On Earth In Concert Sing ..... Titcomb

Let saints on earth in concert sing with those whose work is done; for all the servants of our King in heaven and earth are one. One family, we dwell in Him, one Church above, beneath; though now divided by the stream, the narrow stream of death. E'en now by faith we join our hands with those that went before, and greet the ever-living bands on the eternal shore. Jesus, be Thou our constant Guide; then when the word is given, bid Jordan's narrow stream divide, and bring us safe to heaven.

SAFELY THROUGH THE DARKNESS

Because we are in the Octave of All Saints' Day, I like to recall the letter which John Todd wrote to his aged aunt, who had let him know that she was very sick, perhaps unto death, and was a bit troubled about it. To this faithful Christian soul he wrote:

"You remember that it is 35 years since my father died, and left me, a little boy 6 years old, without a mother or a home, with nobody to care for me. Then you sent word that you would give me a home and be a mother to me. At length a day was set when I was to go to you, ten miles off. What a long journey it seemed to me, and how disappointed I was that, instead of coming for me yourself, you sent old Caesar, the great black man. How my heart sank when I was told I was to ride on the horse behind him. But he told me, 'Kape was gentle to little boys', and that you said I might bring my little dog with me.

"Before we got to your house, I began to feel tired. My legs ached and I was tired of taking hold of Caesar. Then the darkness came on and I felt afraid. Then we had a long piece of woods to go through. I had heard of bears and tigers and Indians, and wondered how many might be in the woods. 'Caesar, ain't we almost there?' I asked in terror. 'Yes, when we get through these woods we shall see the light in the house.' 'Won't they be gone to bed?' 'Oh, no, they'll be all ready for us.'

"But I trembled and the tears ran down my face, and I wondered why I could not have somebody with me besides black Caesar. But at last, after winding and turning, and going up hill and down hill, a long, long, way, we came out of the woods, and the stars shone, and I was told which light was in your house. And when we got there, you came out and took me in your arms, and gently led me in; and there was the blazing fire, the bright light, and the table spread, and supper ready for me. And that was my home. My eyes filled with tears as I think of it. How you soothed me, and warmed me, and heard me say my prayers, and stayed with me until I was fast asleep.

"Now you see why I have recalled this to your memory. Your Heavenly Father will send for you—a dark messenger, it may be. He will carry you safely through the darkness of the way. He will not drop you, nor leave you, for he is a faithful servant. There the door will open, and your dearest Friend, the Lord Jesus Christ, will meet you and take you in, and the supper will be waiting, and the fires of love burning, and the light and glory of His presence seen. What a welcome you will receive! . . . My prayers will be with you until you are out of sight, and then I shall look forward to meeting you again.—Ever yours most gratefully, John Todd."

Dear Dr. Price:—Words cannot express my gratitude to God for the miracle of my third set of teeth which have been appearing steadily, since my visits to your healing services. Some of my good second teeth are being pushed out and are putting up strong resistance, thus causing me great pain. Please pray for the relief of this painful condition, and accept my gratitude for this most unusual experience of God's healing power.—Elise Kaessler (New York).

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D. C., Sunday evening and he will speak to the Women of Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, on Tuesday, November 7th at 6:30 P.M.

The members of the Hard of Hearing Congregation wish to thank all who contributed to their 23rd Annual Bazaar, given on October 5th. The profit from the Bazaar and contributions totaled $2,425.34.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We live in the present. The past is gone and cannot be changed. If we are anxious for the morrow, we attempt to live the future today. Why add the burden of the morrow to that of today? "Cast all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you." We confess, heavenly Father, that we often commit the folly of being anxious and worried. Renew a right spirit within us and endow us with perfect trust. Give us assurance of Thy wisdom and goodness. VALUE YOURSELF

Leslie Wetherhead recalls an Edinborough weaver who repeatedly offered this unusual prayer: "O God, help me always to keep a good opinion of myself." And he goes on to point out that Jesus bade us to love our neighbors as ourselves; to value ourselves highly, since God made us, and God loves us. We may think of ourselves as trifles, but "when the King picks up a trifle, it is a trifle no longer!"

In the same way, when an ordinary man lets God pick up his life and use it, that life becomes radiant with God's wonder. In the hands of a master, strange and unpromising instruments come alive. Norman Cousins tells how, deep in the African Jungle, he saw the famous Dr. Schweitzer sit down to play the evening hymn on an ancient, battered old piano. "It must have been 50 years old. The keyboard was badly stained; large double screws fastened the ivory to each note. One or more of the strings were missing on at least a dozen notes. The felt covering the hammers was worn thin and produced pinging effects. And Dr. Schweitzer was one of the world's great interpreters of Bach, a man who could fill any concert hall in the world. The best grand piano ever made would be none too good for him. But now he was about to play a dilapidated upright virtually beyond repair. And he went about it easily with the dignity that never leaves him. The amazing and wondrous thing was that the piano seemed to lose its poverty in his hands. Whatever its capacity to yield music was now being fully realized . . . his being at the piano strangely seemed to make it right."

Each of us can reach the high destiny God intended for us. All He requires is that we think highly enough of ourselves to remember that we were fashioned by Him. If we will put ourselves into His hands to use, all our possibilities for harmony will be drawn out of us by Him. Like Albert Schweitzer at the hopeless-looking piano, God knows what is in us that He can bring out!

That was the chief difference between Judas and Peter. Both failed our Lord completely — gave in to their fears and desires, and betrayed Him. Judas forgot that he was of God's making and took his own life. Peter remembered that God had made him to be an instrument from which He could draw glory and healing and peace. Peter put his life back under the hands of the Risen Lord and lived with miracle-filled power.

Before you can truly love your neighbor, you must learn to value yourself. God has need of the melody of your life to cheer the discouraged and give hope to the lost. Just let the King pick up your life, for "When the King picks up a trifle, it is a trifle no longer!"

Dear Dr. Price:—I attended your healing service in 1957. I had had X-rays of my stomach which, several doctors agreed, showed the presence of an ulcer and another condition that would require surgery and removal of part of the stomach. My ulcer was gone exactly 14 days after that service and the surgery for the other condition was not necessary. Belated though this is, I hope you will accept my deep gratitude for your part in bringing to me God's healing power and guidance.—F. H. (Los Angeles, Calif.)

There will be a Vestry Meeting in the Rector's study following the Sunday morning service.

The Rector will speak to the Women of St. Paul's Church, Englewood, N. J. at a luncheon on November 15th.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Veteran's Organizations participating in the Annual Patriotic Service today.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Believers are living stones in God's Spiritual House. As the Priests of old brought their material sacrifices, we are to bring our spiritual offerings. Offering one's self, living a consecrated life, and doing good, are sacrifices acceptable to God. Dear Father, we thank Thee for the great Mediator who has made the believer His own Priest. Grant that we may be living stones in the Temple of the Spirit, ever offering up spiritual sacrifices acceptable in Thy sight. We pray in Jesus' Name. Amen.

BREAD OF THE WORLD

The Thanksgiving Altar decoration this year will not be of flowers, but of bread: breads of various national cultures represented in the Melting Pot of Philadelphia. There will be Jewish Challa and Bagels; Italian grissini and spoletti; Swedish knacherbrod and kommisbrod; German pumpernickel; French brioches and croissants; Irish soda bread; Greek frotzola, Italian Kosher egg rolls, Euphates bread from the Near East; Scotch scones; Japanese rice biscuits; Chinese fortune cakes; and American white and whole wheat bread, and hot dog rolls. Worshippers are urged to take a bit of bread home for their own family tables.

A GREATER THANKFULNESS

When Thanksgiving Day dawns, you will find people thankful for such different reasons! If our affairs have prospered, our Thanksgiving dinner will be shining with thankfulness for food, and home, and loved ones. If we are old, and Brother Body is not doing very well, we can be thankful for good care. The original Thanksgiving Day was an expression of gratitude to God for the Pilgrims' first harvest. God's generosity in food and health and prosperity we can thank Him for, easily.

But the writer of Psalm IV was grateful for something beyond prosperity. "Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more than in the time when the corn and the wine increased." He is talking about "a greater thankfulness." Some of us prosperous Americans have forgotten that there is a "greater thankfulness." Psalm IV, Amy Carmichael says, was written when David fled for his life from Absalom, perhaps, soon after the harvest and the vintage were over. Absalom was rich with corn and wine, while David had little or nothing. She comments, "It was in every way a hard time for David, and it was not surprising that many said, 'No help for him in God' and 'who will show us any good?'" We all know times when the voices within and the voices without talk like that. But David's faith breaks through, and he can honestly say, "Thou hast put gladness in my heart more than when the corn and the wine increased!" It is not difficult to be glad in our hearts when we have what we want . . . but God asks for something more than this. God yearns for us to find our joy, our sure safety, in Him. So God must have been greatly pleased with David, whose heart sang because, in his hour of want and danger, he found his security in God.

Some of you will readily understand David this Thanksgiving Day. You have been traveling through a dark valley—the loss of one very dear to you, the heavy burden of old age and illness, rough going in your business, loneliness, far-from-home people. You will quietly look back to other, more abundant Thanksgivings, and remember that the abundance came from God. Behind the turkey and the cranberry sauce, the gathered family and the comfortable home—behind it all was God, your Father. You will suddenly know that the same God travels through the dark valley with you, giving you invincible security of spirit. He will see you through that dark valley. He always does. No darkness, no enemy can overwhelm you, walking with Him.

You can see why this thankfulness is really greater. Those who can be thankful only for prosperity are forever threatened by adversity. But, once you accept God's Companionship as the richest possession, and you travel humbly and obediently with Him, then nothing can rob you of your deep safety. Then your Thanksgiving Day will end as David's did, with "I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep; for Thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety."

THE THANKSGIVING DAY OFFERING goes to the Episcopal Hospital which serves this Church in many ways, in which we have two endowed beds, and in which the Rev. Jerry E. Carpenter of this Church is Chaplain.

Robert D. Keller, our valued Flag Bearer, is for the third year, a leading halfback on the U. of P. varsity soccer team. He is a mainstay of the Quaker squad and, according to Coach Charlie Scott, he is a "tremendous competitor!" Robert is expecting to graduate this Spring from Pennsylvania.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Christ Church, Waterloo, Iowa, Sunday evening, Nov. 19th, through Tuesday, the 21st.

HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICE

Thursday, November 23rd, at 11 A.M. Choir; Sermon by the Rector.

HOW DO PEOPLE GET STARTED ON TITHING?

The husband and wife agree, in a spirit of deeply shared gratitude to God, that they would like to be Tithers. They estimate how much they think they can give as a beginning Tithe. The beginning Tithe may be less than five percent, as long as it is a definite percentage, carefully thought out, and represents the return to God of a grateful proportion of what they are receiving from His bounty. They take this amount, whatever it is, and put it at the top of their weekly or monthly budget, so that God is placed First. When they make their annual pledge, they have the privilege of indicating that they are Tithers. At every Sunday Service, they offer a part of their Tithe. As they Tithe, they discover the many blessings of Tithing, including the ease and simplicity with which God helps them to do it. They wish that they had discovered Tithing long before!

Will you be a Tither?

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Come, Savior of the Heathen ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There is peculiar satisfaction in being equal to one's task. As Christians, however, we need to remember that our highest duties are found in the fellowship of service for the Master. The experiences of this fellowship teach us to say: "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me." Lord Jesus, Thy gracious promises encourage us to expect great things from Thee. We are weak and sinful and cannot do what we ought, except Thou give us strength. Therefore we pray that Thou wouldst give us a full measure of Thy enabling power. With humble, yet confident hearts, we ask it, O Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: He Comes To Us ..... Marshall

He comes to us as One unknown, without a name, as of old, by the lakeside He came, He came to those men who knew Him not. He speaks to us, the same word: "Follow, Follow Me!" and sets us to the tasks which He has to fulfill for our time. He commands. And to those who obey Him, whether they be wise or simple, He will reveal Himself, in the toils, the conflicts, the sufferings which they shall pass through in His fellowship, and, as an ineffable mystery, they shall learn, in their own experience Who He is.—CHORALE: "O Morning Star . . ."

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 26th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when by attendance and by pledges, the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1962. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the annual rededication and pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

YOUR MIDDLE NAME

Perhaps you never knew that your middle name is "Moses." No? But I think that you will find that it is!

Pharaoh saw that the people of Israel were having a population-explosion. They were increasing so fast that he was afraid that they would rise and overcome the Egyptians. So he ordered the Egyptian mid-wives to drown every Jewish boy-baby, and only let the girls live. There came a day when one Jewish mother had a boy-baby she thought was so sturdy and wonderful that she hid him for three months. Then, when she could no longer conceal him safely, she made a little basket for him, and put him where Pharaoh's daughter was accustomed to come down to the river to bathe. Pharaoh's daughter was so taken by the baby that she had him cared for by a Hebrew woman. Then, one day, when he had grown up, she adopted him as her own son, and she named him "Moses" (which means "Removed"), for, she said, "I removed him from the river."

As you look back over your life, do you not find many places where the love of God, through some human being, "removed" you from a hopeless situation; and lifted you into life? Have you not, at times, found yourself as helpless as that baby in the bulrushes? Then some unexpected powerful aid took hold of you and rescued you from your trouble. Most of us can trace this rescuing hand right through our lives. This is what is called "Grace"—the wondrous Love of God, who comes to our aid when we have nowhere else to turn. I recall those moments in my own life with humble gratitude.

How many experiences you can recall, when God came into your helplessness and lifted you out of despair into confident hope—because you trusted the wonder of His Love.

Isn't it a glorious thing to have "Moses" for your middle name!

THE DIOCESAN UNITED THANK OFFERING SERVICE will be held in Holy Trinity Church Wednesday, November 29th, at 8 P.M. Bishop Malcolm E. Peabody will be the speaker. For the dinner at $1.50 reservations must be made at the Church House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I went forward at your healing service a few months ago for what the doctor thought was cancer. When you laid your hands on my head, I felt very hot and I experienced a spinning sensation in the pit of my stomach. My constant prayer was that God would heal, and I thanked Him for the faith I had and to help my unbelief. He healed me then, for the next Sunday, just four days before I was to go to the hospital my body regulated itself and I haven't been like this since I was a teenager. The doctor performed the biopsy and it was negative.

—Mrs. J. T. H. (Wilmington, Del.)

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. John's Church, Larchmont, New York, Sunday night through Tuesday, November 28th.

HOW LONG IS OUR GROCERY LIST?

Today there are	12,000,000	German Refugees
" " "	50,000	Greek Refugees
" " "	20,000	Dutch Refugees
" " "	20,000	Tibetan Refugees
" " "	4,000,000	Indian and Pakistani Refugees
" " "	40,000	Cuban Refugees

And countless others.

For every one dollar put in the Milk Can on the steps of St. Stephen's Church four hundred pounds of government surplus food is distributed among these starving people. Last year $1,349.77 was obtained for this good cause by way of the Milk Can.

LILIAN JEFFRIES HAY

The Parish of St. Stephen's rejoices in the faithful Christians who have lived and worked in our fellowship. We remember them before God with gratitude. Nevertheless, it is with profound grief that we now add to their number Miss Lilian Jeffries Hay, Christian woman, an inspiration to all, whom we shall sorely miss. In her quiet way she was a power for good in our midst.

In so far as any human being can earn a spiritual reward Miss Hay merits entrance into "the land of light and joy, in the fellowship of Christ's Saints."

THE RIGHT CHRISTMAS PRESENT

One day last Summer I went into a grocery store in a little Maine town. The country-man ahead of me was making a most interesting purchase: books of matches and a bottle of lighter-fluid. So I said to him, with a grin, "You look to me like a good, regular Maine Republican!" He looked thoughtfully at his purchases, and smiling, replied, "You're right, son—if the lighter doesn't work, the matches do!" He and I went off, chuckling. The Maine people are famous for being very cautious in little ways.

But the true native isn't that way about God. You can't be cautious about God. It doesn't work if you try to sit on the fence, trusting God and some other power, like prosperity or selfishness. You need to put your whole trust in God, if you want His Grace, His miraculous aid which enables you to do anything He wants you to do.

Already we are looking forward to Christmas. Some of us may be thinking that we do not have adequate resources for Christmas—not enough money to get the presents we've thought of for our loved ones; not enough sparkle or caring to make Christmas glorious for others. But St. Paul reminds us of God's promise: "My Grace is enough for you: for there there is weakness, My power is shown more completely." (Phillips).

Into our doubts come those ringing words, "My Grace is enough for you." His resources are certainly adequate to make Christmas shining and glorious, if we'll trust Him. So we begin to ask Him to help us with our Christmas presents, and miracles always begin to happen. He reminds us of a box of old letters, and in it we find a letter that was written many years ago, from a young man who wrote glowing words about a young woman he had just met—whom he married a little later on. They are celebrating their 30th Anniversary in January. So we spent four cents and sent them that letter for their Christmas present; and it is precious to them beyond anything money could have bought. His Grace is sufficient, isn't it! So we go through our Christmas list with God, lifting up each person in prayer, and asking Him that we can give them that which would make them happy.

How exciting it is to be able to have the infinite resources of Almighty God at work on picking the right Christmas presents—precious gifts, bringing great joy. Yes, His Grace is sufficient for us!

We wish to thank the following Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Patsy Bowden, Louise W. Braun; Mae E. Dunn, Ruth M. Muirhead, Mrs. Hilda Shultz, Mrs. George J. Ulrich, Mildred Maxham, Mrs. Elaine D. Kerr.

TITHING BRINGS MANY SURPRISES

There is nothing new about tithing. Many members of the Church tithe. I believe that almost all our Bishops and clergy tithe. Thousands of people in every Church and particularly in the Churches which have the most remarkable record of per capita giving, tithe.

The only factor which I know that sometimes prevents a person's becoming a tither is his fear that he will not be able to meet all his bills and personal obligations with the remaining nine-tenths. Actually what usually happens is that he not only is able to meet his personal obligations with the remaining nine-tenths but, when an appeal comes in, he finds that he's able to give promptly and cheerfully without having to squeeze the gift out of something else as is so often the case when one does not set aside a definite tithe.

One of the most telling facts about tithers is that I have yet to talk with one who is not enthusiastic about tithing. He usually is surprised that he did not adopt tithing as a method of giving earlier in his life.

A person who has practised tithing for many years says that if any Christian tithes, he will have six surprises. He will be surprised:

1. At the amount of money he has for the Lord's work.
2. At the deepening of his spiritual life in paying the tithe.
3. At the ease in meeting his own obligations with the nine-tenths.
4. At the ease in going from one-tenth to larger giving.
5. At the preparation this gives to be a faithful and a wise steward over the nine-tenths that remain.
6. At himself in not adopting the plan sooner.

If your Church becomes a tithing parish, there will be no worry about meeting the parish budget or being able to increase your giving to the Diocese or General Church.

—By the Rev. Gardiner M. Day, D.D.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: An Advent Psalm ..... Weinberger

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Various tests are applied as to who is a true Christian. Some insist upon pure doctrine, some upon simple honesty. St. Paul goes further; the Spirit of Christ must dwell in the true Christian. Christ is the Master. The disciple must seek to be like Him. We thank Thee, O God, for Thy Son Jesus, who came in the flesh as a servant. Teach us to humble ourselves. Make us ready to love and sacrifice in His name. May we walk humbly with Him, led by His Spirit. Amen.

Processional Hymn 402 ..... Munich

The Venite, Prayer Book page 9; Chant No. 609, Hymnal

Psalm 50, page 401

Te Deum Laudamus, Prayer Book page 10; Chants No. 615 & 619, Hymnal

Benedictus, Prayer Book page 14; Chant No. 640, Hymnal

The Anthem: "O Thou That Tellest . . ." ..... Handel

O Thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee up into the high mountain! O Thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength! lift it up, be not afraid! Say unto the cities of Judah, behold your God! . . . Arise, shine, for thy Light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

The Sermon: "TWO PARABLES" ..... THE RECTOR

Offertory Hymn 253 ..... Luebeck

Recessional Hymn 400 ..... Graefenburg

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—In the last few years my name was on your Prayer List. This is the 10th year of a cerebral hemorrhage attack which was to give me four hours to live . . . but which I believe prayers and medical skill pulled me through. God bless you and your associates for your inspiring ministry.—Rev. A. E. Smith (Bismarck, N.D.)

The Rector will speak to the clergymen of the Diocese of Newark, N.J., on December 11th, in Boonton, N. J.

WHAT GOD IS LIKE

As you read your Old Testament, you will be reminded that, in those days before Jesus, people did not know what God was like. Even after the great Prophets and Priests, at the end of those Old Testament days, men were still groping in the dusk, trying to discover the Character of God.

Then came His great Act of Grace, of amazing Love—God made Himself known in the down-to-earth life of Jesus. Now, when a child asks his mother what God is like, she replies, "He is like Jesus." But how about all the adult people in our world who do not know Jesus Christ and have no knowledge of God? How is God going to make Himself known to them? In John 14, Philip asks Jesus to show them the Father. Jesus patiently explains once more that, once a man has seen Him, he has seen the Father. The character of God was made clear in Jesus. Then Jesus went on to say something which must have startled His friends: "I assure you that the man who believes in Me will do the same things that I have done; yes, and he will do greater things than these . . ." In other words, God would make Himself known through the lives of those disciples. Or, to bring it up-to-date, God can make Himself known to people through you — THROUGH YOU. Through what you think, what you are, what you do!

If you want a memorable Christmas, just ask God what He wants you to do in making His Love known. If there is anyone you need to forgive—then see them, and forgive them, or, if they are far away, write your forgiveness to them. The healing, forgiving God will make Himself known through you. Is there a child who is lonely and fearful, needing the warmth of God's caring to make him blossom in joy—then the right picture-book, with a few heart-warming words of love written by you on the fly-leaf, can make the life-saving God known to that child. Is there a lonely woman, telling herself that no one really cares whether she is alive or dead? You might part with some treasured little possession and send it to her, and God will become known to that woman. This is a venture. It is costly. But it has always been costly when God made Himself known, on Calvary long ago, or through you, in 1961. Costly — and precious!

Out in Ida Scudder's Hospital, in India, a Mohammedan woman, recovering from a sudden acute attack of malaria, wondered at the beauty of the Hospital building. But, even more, she wondered at the patience and kindness of those who took care of her. As her doctor appeared on her morning rounds, the woman seized her hand and demanded, "Why didn't you lose your temper with me that time I went out of my mind? Tell me, I want to know!" It was not the doctor who answered, but the Hindu woman in the next bed. She sat up with glowing face: "Don't you know why? That's what their God is like, 'long-suffering and slow to anger.'"

YOU can let someone else see, at Christmas, what your wonderful God is like!

Mrs. Wilson Leithead, the United Thank Offering Custodian for St. Stephen's Church, reports that there were 88 contributors to the Fall In-Gathering which amounted to $243.25. The Diocesan offering was $32,000.00.

The Prelude: Overture to "The Messiah" ..... Handel

THE SILENT MEDITATION: We are "Sons of God", for God in Christ has redeemed us. As we enlist in and for Christ's cause, we are His, and therefore must live up to His profession. This sonship, in which we claim God as our Father, is a free gift of grace. As children of God we have confidence in, and dependence on Him. We thank Thee, Father, that we can, as Thy children, call Thee Father. Because we are sons we have in us all kinds of possibilities. Christ, our Brother, stands beside us as our Ideal. We need power to become "more like the Master." Grant us this strength: in Jesus' Name. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I want to report on the amazing progress made by Jean Hubbell for whom your Prayer Fellowship offered prayers. She was very badly burned, developed gastric ulcers and pneumonia and had a history of three mental breakdowns. She has recovered without any mental trouble after a year when one skin graft followed another. Now she is better mentally and physically than she has been for 15 or 20 years —even the cataracts were cured. Only God could do that. We are so grateful.

CHRISTMAS CRECHE

If, right now, you were in Provence, in the South of France, you would find the children of each family getting out their Christmas Creche and arranging it on a table in the best room of the house. The tiny figures in these simple Manger-scenes are the "santons" (little saints), little clay figures of those on the way to the Manger.

These little statuettes of Mary, Joseph, and the Child, the Wise Men and the Shepherds are fashioned from hand-made moulds and brightly painted. You may be surprised to find that the group of pilgrims at the Manger does not stop with the familiar people found in every Creche. They include all the people in the village. There is a small boy, very eager; a plodding fisherman; the parish priest in black; the young woman with her baby; an old couple, heavy with years; a farm-boy hurrying; a woman riding a donkey; a basket-maker busy at his trade.

Each of these people is bearing whatever he has to give, to the Christ-Child. The boy his duck; the fisherman, his catch; a farmer, some hens; the farm-boy, some fruit and vegetables; a baker, a basket of his fresh bread; a garlic dealer, some of his pungent vegetable. Every last one in the village has something to give, and each comes to offer it to Jesus. The knife-grinder will offer his tools to Jesus, that his knife-sharpening may be honest and good. The mother offers her baby to Jesus, that he will grow up belonging to the loving Master. The drummer offers his drum to Jesus, that he may drum to the glory of God! There is great joy in each home of Provence as the children carefully and reverently arrange the little figures. For they can see that each of the travelers to the Manger, young and old, truly has something for Jesus, something precious to Him, that he can give. So they are thinking, "What have I that would make Him happy?"

No matter how young or old YOU are, no matter what your circumstances, you have some treasure that would give Him great delight. It could be your thoughts, as you sit in a wheel chair or lie in a bed, or on watch on board a vessel at sea—give Him your thoughts that they may be ruled by His loving Spirit. It might be your day's work, that it may be done in the Spirit of Jesus as He worked in the carpenter-shop. It could be your house-hold work—each day you would do first what would most please Him, and thus make your home a place of gentle, strong kindness. It might be that you would give Him your friendships, that they would be filled with His patience and compassion, His healing concern.

Just ask Him, in your prayers, what you have that would give Him the most joy. As with the "santons", every last one of us has something which would be treasured by Him!

German, Jr. has made available a block of tickets for the benefit of St. Stephen's Churchwomen, evening and day branches, for the Philadelphia Shakespeare Festival Company's "Twelfth Night" production, scheduled for January 4th, 5th and 6th at the "Plays and Players", 1714 Delancey Street. THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Sanctify them through Thy Truth: Thy Word is Truth." (John 17:17). We should rejoice in knowing that Christ prays for His people. These words are His prayer, uttered on our behalf. In this prayer He seeks God's favor for us that we may be endowed with Divine Light and Wisdom to do God's will. Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the intercessory prayer of Thy Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ. Help us to pray with Him this prayer which gave Him strength and power to do Thy will. Teach us to say, with Him: "God, I sanctify myself." Amen.

Bear through the night your light, your well-trimmed light; speed forth to join the marriage rite. Hear Thy praise, O Lord, ascending from tongies of men and harps and psaltery. CHRISTMAS EDITORIAL

A Merry Christmas to all our readers, is the earnest wish of St. Stephen's Bulletin. May the Spirit of Christ rest upon your homes and in your hearts, and fill to overflowing any voids caused by trouble or sorrow. Christ was a Man of sorrows; He bore all the suffering that is common to man, and much that we can never know. But He was also the living expression of God, and God means victory, and joy, and eternal life. Let us make our Christmas a joyful celebration of God's great gift of His Son. We can do all things through Christ who strengthens us.

WATCHNIGHT SERVICE

Sunday, December 31st, 1961, at 11 P.M.—Hymns; Prayer; Address by the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, followed by the Holy Communion.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—When you were in St. Catherines, Ontario, I attended your healing service in St. George's Church. I am 34 years old and I have cancer that has eaten away most of the vital organs in my mid-section as well as in the spine and lymph gland. I am what they call "a terminal case." When I attended your service I also had a growth in my head and also in my breast. The doctor had told my husband I could not live beyond the new year, as the growth in my head was growing so rapidly. Well, that growth is completely gone and there is no cancer now in my head or breast. The doctors say it is truly a miracle. The other cancers have stopped progressing after nearly three years of treatment. I always believed I would get well, I never once doubted it, because I know "all things are possible with God." I was sure you would like to know of this great and wonderful thing that has happened to me as you were the instrument through which the miracle was worked.

—N. M. (St. Catherines, Ontario)

THREE WAYS OF GIVING

"There are three kinds of giving: grudge giving, duty giving, and thanksgiving. Grudge giving says, 'I hate to', duty giving says, 'I ought to', and thanksgiving says, 'I want to'. The first comes from constraint, the second from a sense of obligation, the third from a full heart. Nothing much is conveyed in grudge giving, since 'the gift without the giver is bare'. Sometimes more happens in duty giving, but there is no song in it. Thanksgiving is an open gate into the love of God."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Psalm XIX ..... Marcello
Jesu, Priceless Treasure ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly pray: "Thy will be done", are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "All things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that Thy will for our lives may be revealed to us in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Amen.

Processional Hymn 16; Stanzas 1, 2, 5, 6 ..... Yorkshire

The Venite, Prayer Book page 9; Chant No. 609, Hymnal

Psalm 146, Page 522

Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book page 11; Chant No. 626, Hymnal

The Anthem: Come, All Ye Who Weary ..... Elmore
Come, all ye who weary, life's pilgrimage dreary, now hasten, your fears cast aside. In manger so lowly, by Mary so holy, the Christ Child, your Savior did hide. The Magi who sought Him (their rich gifts they brought Him) did follow His star, ever bright; with cattle attending (His love never ending) He lay there that hallowed night. But hasten, nor tarry; the gift that you carry, be sure that He'll cherish alway. The Babe in the manger, no longer a stranger, will bless you and guide you each day.

The Sermon: "THE STRAIT GATE" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 21 ..... St. Louis

Recessional Hymn 28 ..... Regent Square

Flowers on our altar today are provided by special funds and are in memory of James Carrigan, long time Verger of St. Stephen's.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

WATCHNIGHT SERVICE

Sunday, December 31st, 1961, at 11 P.M.—Hymns; Prayer; Address by the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling, followed by the Holy Communion.

LOOKING INTO THE NEW YEAR

Certainly we stand and look off into the New Year!

Shall we expect it to be a land flowing in milk and honey? Or shall we expect "Giants" to be awaiting us, "stronger than we"? Or shall we declare, as Caleb did, "let us go up at once, and occupy it; for we are well able to overcome it"?

The practicing Christian will give neither of the first two reports, I believe. Whether it be a prosperous year or not we leave with God. Whether there be giants and night-mares ahead, we can also leave to Him. But a practicing Christian has experienced the boundless goodness of God, and he will declare that, no matter what awaits us, "we are well able to overcome it." In other words, we know that God always gives us sufficient resources to meet evil, and dark days, victoriously. Some of us may have to go through a Calvary—but there is always an Easter, beyond. God never runs short of miracles!

Amy Carmichael recalls that, when she was a child, she wished that she could touch something that Jesus had touched, or seen something that He had seen. Suddenly, to her delight, she thought "but I can see something that He saw. He saw the very same moon and stars that I see . . . But how much more wonderful it is to think that we have, for our own use, the very same sword our Lord used when the devil attacked Him. We have the same Book that He had, and we can do as He did." So she counsels us to let the great words of prophet apostle and saint deep into our hearts, especially the words of Jesus Himself. Then, when the devil attacks us, we shall be able to fight back victoriously, using God's word faithfully and confidently, just as Jesus did. Miss Carmichael pictures the Bible as "Our Sword which never grows dull or rusty, but is always keen and bright. So, once more, I say, let us not expect defeat, but victory! Let us take fast hold and keep fast hold of our Sword, and we shall win in any assault of the enemy."

We can go into each day, each week, armed with the mighty power of God's Word for us that day. Those who start each day with their Bibles, carry some great Word into the day, go armed with the bright, keen Sword of a victor.

We can look into the New Year with quiet and joyful trust in God. "Let us go up at once, and occupy it; for we are well able to overcome it"!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks for your healing ministry. When hope was so dim and the doctor's reports discouraging, I came to your Altar for healing, and immediately my son's condition improved and he has been discharged from the mental hospital, and is now happy, full of life, and will return to college in mid-year. God is wonderful! Jesus is the Great Physician and Psychiatrist. What seemed impossible to man is possible with God. Doctors said it would take four to ten years and ten thousand dollars to heal my son. I had faith in the Great Psysician, and a miracle happened. I am so thankful for your healing ministry.—M. H. (Phila., Pa.)

Miss Marion Slatcher has a very telling letter to the Editor of "The Witness" Magazine of December 21st, published under "Backfire", which deals with the use of nuclear weapons.

Our Choirmaster-Organist, Mr. John Henzel, conducts a Program of Music Appreciation on Station WFLN, AM and FM, every Thursday at 1:30 P.M. This is sponsored by the Philadelphia Board of Education.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Florence Baratelle, Mrs. Evelyn Burkley, Mrs. Catherine Stillwell.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report which each Parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This report is made for the Calendar Year. We would appreciate it if all our organizations would plan now to have such a financial report ready for the Rector not later than January 10th.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—A thankful heart looks not only backward, but also forward with confidence. The metal mirror may dimly reflect the image, or even distort it, but the perfect knowledge shall come when we see face to face. Our past and present experiences shall then appear in a new light. Heavenly Father, from Whom, for Whom and to Whom are all things, help us to realize anew that without Thee we can do nothing. Cleanse our hearts from all sin and impurity. Let us look forward hopefully to the fulfillment of Thy promises concerning those things that are to be. Amen.

The Anthem: Through The Dark The Dreamers Came ..... Daniels

Through the darkness the dreamers came, Melchior, Balthasar, Caspar, following the flame of a Star, Via, Via, De profundis Via.

But the way did not seem shadowy or long; it was brightened by a dream and a song: "Gloria, in excelsis Gloria."

It was worth the journeying to the weary end; for they found their dream; A King and a Friend; Maxima, Gloria Die Maxima!

GOD'S WORLD

To little children, every day is fresh and exciting—a new day! How can 1962 be a fresh and Happy New Year for you?

You need only to be child-like, claiming God as your Father—God Whose deep desire is to fill your life with His treasures. Not with some of the trinkets that you have been asking of life, but with His own great gifts which are precious beyond belief. What are they?

First—each morning He calls us out to live in His world. To rejoice in a dark pine against a crimson sunset. To see His handiwork in the beauty of sky and sea and land. To praise Him for each new sunrise which puts to flight the darkness of the night. What a treasure—to move through life among His handiwork.

Second—He surrounds us with people who have Him in their hearts and deeds, channels of His infinite and gentle love. What a joy to know these rare people, whose friendship is as trustworthy as the daily rising of God's sun.

Third—He holds up before us the golden opportunity to offer our lives to Him each morning, that we may be usable to Him. How wonderful that we can respond to Him all through this day, all through this year—to be employed by Him to bring joy to the heavy-hearted, comfort to those wracked by pain, forgiveness to the unforgiven, sure love to the insecure.

What a memorable year 1962 can be! Your hands carrying out God's desires—becoming the hands of God. Your feet traveling to someone who is lonely—becoming God's feet. Your heart reaching out in tenderness and healing, to become God's heart.

It is a large and rather terrible world. But it is still God's world, and He is stronger than all terrors, and can mould it into a brotherhood. God, in you, can work miracles and make this the Year of our Lord, 1962, and draw the world into His abiding peace.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I have attended a number of your healing services in St. Stephen's Church. My hearing has been absolutely cured. I can now hear every word you say. It's unbelievable, but I am being cured of cancer also. If I lived nearer your Church I would come every Thursday because these services are "soul refreshers"—make you feel so close to God. I thank you.—L. B. (Cape May, N. J.)

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report which each Parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This report is made for the Calendar Year. We would appreciate it if all our organizations would plan now to have such a financial report ready for the Rector not later than January 10th.

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscriptions to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 733 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of our States, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members, but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It cost, this past year, $40.44 a week to print and mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year, at a total cost, each year, of about $1,940.00. For the year just about over, 1961, our receipts toward expenses of publishing the Weekly Bulletin will come to something like $750.00.

If every family would give $2.00 per year the cost would be met. Of course a great many on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way toward paying for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing, a higher mailing rate, make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

The Prelude: Adoration ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Bible, as the Word of God, is man's best guide for life. It shows us the pitfalls of life, it unmasks temptations and evil, and it points out the things that are pure and of good report. This Guide shows the way home to the Father's house. O God, we thank Thee for Thy Word. Without the guidance of Thy Word the way to Thee would remain unknown, and the solutions to our problems of life would be left to a blind fate. Teach us to follow more diligently the leadership of Thy Word in all things. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

To the Master of music and loveliness: Praise, Power, Dominion forever. To the Lord of the Word of creation be praise, power, dominion forever. To the Master of movement, color and light: Praise, power, dominion forever. To the Builder, Designer, Creator, be praise. To the Theme of all song, Inspiration of love: to the Artist of life, to the greatest and least: praise. For He is the greatest upon His high throne, and He was the least as the Child of a maiden; Praise, then, to Jesus whose mother was Mary, and praise now to Christ who is God in the midst of us. Praise. Lord of all beauty, adoring, we come to Thee: give us Thyself both in time and eternity. Offering all that we are or can hope to be; Lord of all beauty: Praise, Power, Dominion forever!

Recessional Hymn 300 ..... Winchester New

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. I. Smith Raspin in memory of her mother, Louise V. Sausser; and by Mr. & Mrs. Robert W. Fay in memory of their friend, Bernice Fewkes.

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. David L. German, Sr.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Since 1959 I have been a benefactor of your healing ministry. My right arm was as good as paralyzed from bursitis and with all due respects to certain great physicians at the world-famous Lahey Clinic, I found no relief from pain or better use of my arm after almost seven months of treatment. I could not even shake hands with you when I entered your study. When I left the Thursday healing service, I discarded the sling and have been free from the painful malady ever since.

—C. W. Y-Q (Boston, Mass.)

PRAISE THE LORD!

We all like to win. But there is something even more exciting than winning—something more than conquering.

Bryant Green tells (in "Christians Alive") of an aunt of his, a most unusual woman. She was plain to look at, and her talk was loaded with pious expressions. But she had a Bible Class of London Policemen who came with eager regularity. She spoke, one afternoon, to a group of plush young socialite women, and they hung on every word she spoke. Why?

One day she was hurrying for a train in Paddington station, London. Just as she reached the gate, the gateman slammed it in her face. As she came to a very sudden stop, her face broke into a grateful smile, and she exclaimed, "Praise the Lord!" A half-hour later she was back for the next train. The gateman recognized her, and eagerly inquired, "What was it, ma'am, that you said when I slammed the gate in your face?" "I don't recall saying anything," she replied good-naturedly. "Well," he insisted, "it sounded like 'Praise the Lord!'" "Oh, yes," she laughed, "it probably was that. You see, when I miss a train, or something like that, I've found that the Lord always has a reason for it; so I just praise Him, and wait to find out what it is." "If you wouldn't mind missing another train, I'd like to talk with you," he continued. "Gladly," was the cheerful reply. So she missed the next train, and she and the gateman went out to a quiet corner of the waiting-room. She told him how she had learned to live every hour of the day in God's love, and how wonderful life is when it is filled with that love, the strongest power in the world. Then the gateman told of his marriage, almost on the rocks; and of his troubled, defeated life. To make a long story short, he learned from her that there is more joy in the companionship of the Loving God than there is in dominating your wife, or getting the better of anyone in life. So he became more than a conqueror, also; and his marriage became Christian, fused into unity by the companioning Love of God.

The most awful fate in life is separation—separation from other people by my selfishness, separation from God by my self-will. I can get my way in life for a time, become "successful," a conqueror, near the top of the ladder. But there is no security there—someone is always climbing up from below to pull me down. Conquerors are never really safe.

But, once you know the Love of God, you can lose trains without dismay, because God's Love stays with you, and you find a gateman who needs God. What can separate us from that Love? Nothing! Even each defeat opens a door to some adventure of discovery. What a glorious life this is—to be "more than conquerors!"

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Psalm XX ..... Marcello
Devotion ..... Bossi

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amidst constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons of God and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind this far in its upward march; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God, and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to realize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

The Anthem: Blest Are the Pure in Heart ..... Thiman

Blest are the pure in heart, for they shall see our God; the secret of the Lord is theirs; their soul is Christ's abode. The Lord, who left the heavens our life and peace to bring, to dwell in lowliness with men, their pattern and their King; still to the lowly soul He doth Himself impart, and for His dwelling and His throne chooseth the pure in heart. Lord, we Thy presence seek; may ours this blessing be; give us a pure and lowly heart, a temple meet for Thee. Amen.

The Sermon: "ON HAVING A SENSE OF HUMOR" ..... The Rector
Recessional Hymn 542 ..... Duke Street

They both are well physically and very happy together with their two children. Their lives are completely changed, as well as their dispositions.—R. C. (Wellesley, Mass.)

TESO

In modern alphabetical terms TESO means Theological Education Sunday Offering, now a major source of income for the support of the eleven Theological Schools in the United States. By proclamation of the Presiding Bishop in 1958, this falls on January 28th this year. The leaflet enclosed in this Bulletin shows pictures of the Rector's School in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The offering from St. Stephen's Church will be divided between the Cambridge School and the Philadelphia Divinity School. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

LOCKED DOORS

Charles L. Allen writes of a man who puts his keys into one of his shoes each night when he goes to bed. The next morning, that shoe is the last thing he puts on. He takes out those keys, holds them in his hand, and says something like this, "Lord, this day I will come to certain doors that are locked, but I shall use these keys to open those doors. And may I remember this day that there is a key to every situation, a solution to every problem. May I never surrender to one of life's locked doors. Instead, may I use the keys of the key-ring of prayer until I find the right key and the door will be opened."

In order to pray victoriously, we must remember one thing—God, being infinitely and wholly loving, can only give us what is needful and precious to us. No good father can give hurtful or trashy gifts to his children. It is not in God's nature to give anything but the best.

Several times Jesus promised that God will answer our prayers; will give us the key that opens the door of our problem. He expects that we will pray as He has taught us in "The Lord's Prayer" (Matthew 6,-9-15). We are always to pray saying "We" or "Us" or "Our"—always to include the needs and the welfare of others. Our prayer must be in a forgiving spirit. Our prayer must begin by humbly, gratefully bowing before God with ready obedience. Our prayer must be in tune with the coming of His Kingdom among men. We are able to pray in that Spirit. Jesus would not have commanded us to do so unless it were possible. All that is required of us is the willingness to pray in that loving, humble, grateful Spirit. And we can be willing—in fact, we better be, if we want to find the glory of answered prayer!

After all, there is a key to every situation—God's key. Even to the situation in which you find yourself this minute. Before we can pray victoriously, we have to be very quiet, and remember what God is like—like Jesus! Then we need to ask Him for His KEY, His answer to our need, for His answer is always the best, even though it may call for some changes in us!

Before He can answer my prayer to reconcile my friend and me, I will have to give up my self-righteousness, my attention to my friend's mistakes; and look at my own. We can establish contact with God only when we are in tune with Him, just as I can only listen to the concert broadcast when I tune in on the right wave-length. Once I choose the right wave-length in prayer, and approach God humbly and thankfully and obediently, then I find the exciting adventure of answered prayer.

THERE IS A KEY TO EVERY SITUATION!

The Prelude: Andante ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy, and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit. May we be able to worship Thee as we ought, with the right and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. Make us faithful to all that is fine and noble. Amen.

The Anthem: Eternal Ruler of the Ceaseless Round ..... Malin

Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round of circling planets singing on their way; Guide of the nations from the night profound into the glory of the perfect day. Rule in our hearts that we may ever be guided and strengthened and upheld by Thee. We are of Thee, the children of Thy love, the brothers of Thy well-beloved Son; descend, O Holy Spirit, like a dove into our hearts, that we may be as one; as one with Thee to whom we ever tend; as one with Him, our Brother and our Friend. We would be one in hatred of all wrong, one in our love of all things sweet and fair, one with the joy that breatheth into song, one with the grief that trembleth into prayer, one in the power that makes the children free to follow truth, and thus to follow Thee.

PRAYER EVANGELISTS

We now have 130 men and women in St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. They are our Prayer Evangelists. They are committed to a disciplined prayer activity that goes on around the clock—twenty-four hours of continuous prayers for persons in need of God's healing of body, mind and soul. Each person is thus lifted up in prayer twenty-four hours a day for a period of four weeks. Chronic cases are renewed for longer periods.

During the year 1961, 17,869 persons requested our prayers. We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing. We have members who get up at two, three, four, five in the morning to take part in this chain of prayers. We have business men who have a quiet time in the midst of their business day to hold up these needy persons for God's richest blessings of body, mind and soul.

Many people wonder what difference it can make to others when we pray for them. We only need to see what prayer is to answer that question, and the more we understand what it is, the more we realize that it would be just as short-sighted of us to ask what difference it makes to others if you love them, or if you are unloving toward them. We see that it makes a tremendous difference. If we have the feeling of unlovingness, we know that it means misery, and we can see the ill effect it has on others: love in the spiritual sense can make a tremendous difference, because it is a definite influence and a definite power for good.

How often we hear people say, "I am going to do so and so; do give me a thought." What difference is a thought going to make? All the difference in the world. Thought has a dynamic influence, and if the thought you give is a good one, it is going to be fruitful of good. But you say, that is a simple and easy way of getting things done, if all we have to do through life is to be giving one another good thoughts. You try it—try it for a day—try to hold nothing in your mind but good thoughts, and then sit down at the end of the day and look back, and just reckon up how many other thoughts forced their way through and you will see that it is not such an easy or simple thing as it at first seemed.

And spiritual thoughts, thoughts about others, about the world, about God, only come when our lives have been wonderfully transformed by Christ being in us. So in the same way, when we are praying for others and wonder what good it can do, what change it can bring, we only have to remember the infinite Love of God is the power behind. We pray for others, we pray for things that need changing in the world because the life-giving Holy Spirit of Christ is behind our minds and hearts. That is why it makes all the difference to others if we are praying for them or not.

We believe in prayer, that is why we pray. We unite with the Spirit of Christ so that He may speak to us, and make known to us those things which He will to be made known.

The New Testament speaks about the good, acceptable and perfect Will of God. That makes clear the ministry of prayer—that the Good Will of God shall be done, that through prayer what is not good shall become good. Prayer is going to do that, as well as uplift the soul to Christ. We must all, in simple faith and trust and confidence, join in prayer for healing, perfect, complete healing of every disease, every sickness, every sorrow and every trouble, until this world is free as heaven is free, from all such things.

No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector, an average of 80 per week, are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported in the monthly meetings of the Prayer Fellowship, and in the weekly report to the members, all progress and cures are reported. There is no limit to what God can do through prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidence of His Love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . for, where two or three are gathered, in My name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of Prayer can never be over-estimated!

Dear Dr. Price:—The latter part of 1958 I appealed to you and your Prayer Group to pray for the healing of a friend, E. L., afflicted with cancer. Today Mrs. L., in spite of the doctor's fears that she was doomed to death, is living a happy and busy life, due to prayers on her behalf. Now I am appealing to you again for two people. . . .

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our never-ending task of being Christian is to fill ourselves in unending measure of such qualities of the Spirit as strength in the inner man, faith in His dear Son, knowledge that comprehends the dimensions of Love; and Love itself, that passeth all understanding. Dear Lord, we are overwhelmed when, as we behold the smallness of ourselves, we realize that we were meant to contain Thy fullness. Unto that end may we strive to be immersed in Thy Truth and Goodness, but not until we have emptied ourselves, so that Thou canst replenish our hearts with every grace of Thyself completely. Amen.

Kyrie ..... Oldroyd

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—This is to report on the progress of my 14 year old daughter, Julie, who is suffering from a medically incurable blood condition. Ever since our conference with you in April in the Cathedral in Indianapolis, she has made truly amazing improvement. Her mental attitude has completely changed, and she has steadily gained in strength, although the doctors had predicted otherwise. When you saw her she was almost completely house-bound, and had difficulty walking to the Altar. Now she is up and dressed every day, meals at the table, gained five pounds, goes for outings, and even takes walks. She has been taking a strong drug which the doctor felt would have to be increased. Two weeks ago, he was able to discontinue it. You can see, we have so much to be thankful for!—M. F. (Indianapolis, Ind.)

THEY RISE AGAIN

Henry Sloane Coffin was once walking with William Howard Taft in Washington. Dr. Coffin asked the ex-President what he thought of the prospects of the League of Nations, then clearly feeble and apparently collapsing. Mr. Taft stopped abruptly, squared around to face his companion, and said: "You ought to know that in this world the best things get crucified; but they rise again."

Puzzling as it may seem, that is true. The great figures of history are largely those who have suffered deeply. Read St. Paul's account of what he had been through (in II Corinthians 11, 21-33)—". . . countless beatings, . . . ship wrecked, . . . danger, . . . cold and exposure, . . . anxiety." Yet, out of this life of constant hardship, his voice rises exultingly with, ". . . My grace is sufficient for you", ". . . more than conquerors." Looking down through history, you find the same story. The shining figures are those who have come through great suffering—St. Francis of Assisi, Joan of Arc, Martin Luther, John Wesley, The Pilgrim Fathers, Abraham Lincoln, Mahatma Gandi.

It is not difficult to see why the finest people suffer the most. If you love others with all your heart, you will rejoice greatly in their prospering, and you will also be wracked with pain when they come upon rough and hurting days. Someone has said than when you have children of your own, you "give hostages to fortune". It is certainly true that life can hurt you more (as well as bless you more) because you care so much about the victories and defeats of your children. We are willing to accept crucifixion—pain in the life of love, for the joy of it is richer and stronger than the pain!

Beyond this, however, is a fact that is harder to accept. The finest lives seem to get beaten, as if the pleasure-loving world is against those who live for the more arduous way of love and self-giving. Savonarola dies in flames. Stephen is stoned to death. Lincoln leads the North to victory in war, but the hand of an assassin prevents him from binding up the wounds. Woodrow Wilson, champion of the League of Nations, dies a lingering death, his hopes smashed by little men. Above all of these, Jesus hangs on the Cross, the sign (in His day) of those who have lost in the battle of life.

But the glorious fact remains—that genuine love is always victorious in the end. It is victorious because it is God's way of life, and He backs it up with His infinite power. Beyond every cross lies an Easter. ". . . in this world the best things get crucified; but they rise again."

— MEMORIAL —

A beautiful Chancel Prayer Book, in memory of Miss Lilian Jeffries Hay, will be dedicated by the Rector on Sunday, February 4th at 11 A.M. This memorial, given by a number of her friends, is beautifully inscribed in polychrome lettering by Mr. James Ashbrook. It will be in use on the Prayer Desk near the pulpit.

Mrs. George Bridgman has remembered St. Stephen's Church in her will, along with the Episcopal Hospital, Memorial Hospital, Roxboro, and Children's Heart Hospital. At the death of a life tenant, St. Stephen's will receive one-fifth of the residuary estate of a half million dollars, or one hundred thousand dollars.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P.M. He will lead a Forum Discussion on Spiritual Therapy at Temple Medical College on Monday evening at 6 P.M. He will preach in the Marble Collegiate Church, New York, on Wednesday at Noon.

— THE GOOD LIFE —

The Episcopal Church has a new radio Program Series, THE GOOD LIFE, which is on Sundays at 8 A.M. over Station WJMJ. This is series of 15 minute interviews with prominent women (Eleanor Roosevelt, Margaret Mead, Lily Dache, Catherine Marshall, Margaret Chase Smith, etc.) with the aim to help the modern woman realize her own potentialities and to grow as an individual and in her faith through honest exploration of the problems she faces in her daily life.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hatred and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee; in Jesus' Name. Amen.

O God, when Thou appearest darkness flies, Thy light and Thy glory shine forth on the earth, and Thou art exalted above all gods, We worship Thy glorious name, O Lord God Almighty. Thou only art my rock and my salvation, and my defence, and I shall not be moved; my glory, my refuge, the rock of my strength. O Lord of all power and might. O praise the Lord, all ye people, and praise Him all ye lands; His merciful kindness endureth forever. Praise Him in songs of joy, we praise Thee, O Lord our God, we worship Thy glorious name . . . SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Tomorrow is the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, who has been called the "spiritual center of American history."

As you read Matthew's account of the temptation of Jesus, you see that it was a time of tremendous inner struggle for Him. He had just come from His baptism by John the Baptist, when He accepted His task to carry out God's purpose. His Father was to stand above all other "gods;" was to be worshipped and obeyed. As soon as any life undertakes to be God's servant among men, the struggle is under way! In Jesus the battle was so terrific that it drove Him out into a lonely place in the hills, where He could meet temptation with His Father's strength. In each of His three temptations, He closed the matter by proclaiming God's desire was His own choice. In the wilderness He overcame the lesser, more pleasant gods; and cast in His lot as the humble slave of the One Almighty God.

On the long train-trip from Springfield, Illinois, up to the White House, Abraham Lincoln again and again told the crowds that "Reliance on the Divine Will was the nation's real strength and that the American people and the President were instruments in the hands of the God of history." (William J. Wolfe—"The Almost Chosen People.") When small men came to Lincoln seeking to use God to back up their wishes, Lincoln reminded them that his concern was not to get God on his side, but to get himself—and his nation—on God's side. William Wolfe comments, "Lincoln's battle was to read 'signs of the times', to learn what the will of God actually demanded in the conflicting events of his day."

What a grand way for us to spend Life—each one of us to "learn what the will of God demands of us, and our land, in the conflicting events of our day." Abraham Lincoln was "led up into the wilderness" day after day, as he took an hour or so each morning to be alone with God, and learn His will for him in the day just ahead. This is the spring-board for all spiritual victory—take time, first, to see how you can best please God. How you do it, how long, and where—these are important details for you to work out with God. But, whatever your exact way, do it, you must! You will need to be willing to change some of your habits of mind and body; to let God root out some habit of pleasing yourself without regard for Him. Jesus found it a tough struggle—so you need not be surprised if you do, also.

The point is—look at what God did with the life of Jesus, Who put His Father first. Look at what God did with the life of Abraham Lincoln, "the humble instrument of the Almighty." Think of the love and joy; think of the joy and peace in your heart as you find what God can do with you, right where you are, as His willing servant.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote you last month about the condition of my spine and my fear that I would not be able to continue teaching, a work which I love. Dr. Price, that fear has left me and I praise the Lord for His healing which has taken place. It seemed that when I prayed for God to bless you and your Prayer Group, I was actually lifted up. When I thought of 130 persons in Philadelphia praying for someone they didn't know it did something for me which I can't properly express.

—A. S. (Aberdeen, Ohio)

The Rector will speak to the Clerical Brotherhood of the Diocese of Pennsylvania on Monday at 11:30 A.M. He will speak to the Lancaster County Methodist Ministerium on Tuesday morning. He will have a Retreat with the Kensington Ministerial Association in the Cathedral in Roxboro on Wednesday morning and he will speak to the Young Couples Club of the Abington Presbyterian Church on Thursday night at 8 P.M.

The Prelude: Benedictus ..... Reger

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the Presence of the Lord in all the trials of life, as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy Presence, wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat, help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

The Anthem: Blessed Are All They That Fear the Lord ..... Sowerby

Blessed are all they that fear the Lord, and walk in His ways. For thou shall eat the labors of thine hands: O well is thee and happy shalt thou be. Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine upon the walls of thine house; thy children like the olive branches round about thy table. Lo, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord. The Lord from out of Sion shall so bless thee, that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperity all thy life long. Yea, that thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

BROTHERHOOD SERVICE

The Corporate Communion and Breakfast of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be held on Saturday, February 24th at 8 A.M. Men of St. Stephen's will go to St. Peter's Church, 3rd and Pine Streets. Bishop Loutit of South Florida will address the gathering by radio.

THE TOUCH OF JESUS

You remember King Midas, whose touch would change anything into gold. Reading the Gospel, one finds that Jesus' touch was even more amazing. It brought new health and hope. Further more, He could touch any event—such as the nasty, dirty incident of the smug men who dragged the adulterous woman before Jesus—and transform it into something beautiful beyond words. He was stronger than "the world". As St. John puts it, "For whatever is born of God overcomes the world; and this is the victory that overcomes the world, our faith."

One way to please God is to learn this touch of faith, so that we can touch men's fears and griefs and ills with His transforming power. This does not mean that we are to go about chattering to people about Jesus. It does mean that we are going to let Him into our hearts every time we meet a person in need—and let Him touch their need through us.

So we shall need to start each morning by inviting Him to dwell in our hearts and minds all through that day; and work in us, and through us. So long as He is living within us, nothing can ever dismay us, for nothing is stronger than He! We may have to go through a dark and scarey valley, but He lights the way through. We may have to endure pain, but He undergirds us with fortitude. Always He is able to transform tragedy into glory, despair into hope, defeat into victory. You can form this habit of a few minutes at the beginning of every day, to invite Him to travel through that day with you.

Stanley Jones tells a story of a Japanese prisoner, awaiting sentence of death:

"When the day of his execution came, he was given Communion by the Pastor. He was calm and collected—and happy. As he ate his last food on earth (a cake baked him by the Church) at the foot of the scaffold steps he said to the officials, 'I'm sorry I have to eat this alone. I wish I could give you some.' Then he witnessed to Christ before them all with great simplicity and power—the only calm person in the midst of a jittery group of officials." He walked up the scaffold steps singing, "Nearer, my God, to Thee"; refused putting the black cap over his eyes, (saying, 'I'm not afraid') and died singing that great hymn. At his memorial service, his parrot (which had sat on his shoulder as he walked the jail yard, singing hymns) joined the congregation in singing "Nearer, my God, to Thee." Here conversion changed stark tragedy into unspeakable triumph.

Jesus at work in you can change the tragedies and hurts of every day living into shining victories.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I have great reason to praise God and to thank the Prayer Fellowship of St. Stephen's Church. Thanks to a member of your Church, Mrs. Nora Mitchell, a precious soul, I met on the train while returning from San Diego, who sent me literature from St. Stephen's. I requested prayer help for a duodenal ulcer of many years standing, as well as prayers for my alcoholic husband. I never weighed more than 90 to 100 pounds. Through your prayers my husband was led to go to Church and to the Altar and ask God to heal him of gambling and alcoholism, and He did. My health began to improve from that moment. This world can never measure the power of prayer. Many thanks to your Prayer Fellowship for the wonderful blessings that have come to us since Easter, 1960.—Mrs. H. A. W. (Mingo Junction, Ohio).

St. Stephen's has received $731.93 from the Trust Estate of Romaine W. Thomas of Williamsport, Penna.

The Rector presented Miss Field Wehle for Confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on February 12th.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in the Church of the Advent, Birmingham, Alabama on Sunday night, February 19th, through Tuesday, and will be in St. John's Church, Decatur, Alabama on Wednesday, February 21st.

The Rector will participate in a Patriotic Service at Independence Hall on Washington's Birthday at 11 A.M., and the Annual Purple Heart Dinner at the Bellevue Stratford at 7 P.M.

Mr. Henzel will conduct the Bartram High School Concert Choir in a Concert of Sacred Music tonight at 8 O'Clock in St. Mark's Church, Frankford.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Peter I. Balise, The Misses Sara and Amelia Bealmear, Miss Barbara Bolton, Mrs. Joseph Coors, Jeanette Dunning, Howard M. Fermen, Dr. & Mrs. W. W. Harley, Earnest & Sophie Nelson, R. A. Rimmel, Clara Schmid, Mrs. Laurence P. Thayer, Mrs. Emma Wolf.

The Prelude: Prayer ..... Boellman

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly say, when they pray: "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "all things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that we may direct our lives to follow Thy will for us. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Amen.

The Anthem: "Psalm 86" ..... Holst

To my humble supplication, Lord, give ear and acceptation; save Thy servant that hath none help nor hope but Thee alone. Send relieving gladness to my soul opprest with sadness, which, from clog of earth set free, winged with zeal, flies up to Thee. Bow down Thine ear, O Lord, hear me; for I am poor and needy; preserve my soul for I am holy O Thou my God, save Thy servant that trusteth in Thee. Be merciful unto me O Lord; for I cry unto Thee daily. Rejoice the soul of Thy servant for unto Thee O Lord do I lift up my soul. Thou Lord art good and ready to forgive, and plenteous in mercy unto them that call upon Thee. Give ear O Lord unto my prayer and attend to the voice of my supplication. I will praise Thee O Lord my God with all my heart and I will glorify Thy name for ever more. To Thee, rich in mercies' treasure, and in goodness without measure, never failing to help those who on Thy sure help repose. Heavenly Tutor, of Thy kindness, teach my dullness, guide my blindness, that my steps Thy paths may tread which to endless bliss do lead.

BEARERS OF HIS CROSS

"I suppose that this is my cross," says an acquaintance, with a sigh, referring to an aged mother who is a bit difficult, or some slight physical handicap. This person hasn't the faintest idea of what Jesus meant by a cross.

Jesus, as He turned His steps toward Jerusalem told His friends that He was going there to take up His cross. By that He meant that He was going in great love to confront His enemies, and to give His life that men could see the mighty Love of God. His life meant a good great deal to Jesus—so much that He sweat blood in the Garden of Gethsemane, before He could say "Yes" to God, and be willing to leave His disciples, and the joy of teaching them the wonderful ways of God. Taking up His Cross meant going forward to give away His life. "If any man would come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." Taking up your cross, therefore, is not bearing irritating pin-pricks, but being willing to endure agony for others. We are not to dodge around, seeking to evade our cross, until it blocks the way in front of us. We are to go forward and take hold of it, as Jesus did when He set His face to go up to Jerusalem.

Perhaps you have not even "seen" your cross, your great opportunity for the working of God's will through you. Perhaps you are a woman who deeply craved children of your own, and have never been married. Deep within you, it has lurked as a bitter disappointment, like a strong acid. I know a woman who—at thirty or so—faced this cross of hers, and took hold of it. God promised her a more wonderful family of children than she could ever have had through her own body. Today she is in charge of a Sunday School of hundreds of children. Every one of them loves her, and learns the secrets of Jesus through her. She is one of the most richly happy people I've ever known. She took up her cross.

There are all sorts and conditions of crosses—being severely paralyzed by polio; failing to become a noted preacher; being sorely tempted by alcohol; being heavy with years and illness; being pregnant out of wedlock; suffering because of the color of your skin; being saddled with a task beyond your human powers. I know people with these exact crosses. They have taken them up, and are bearing them victoriously. Because Jesus took up His Cross, you and I know the greatness of the Love of God; and we want to please God, and do His will.

Thomas A'Kempis once wrote, "Jesus hath now many lovers of the heavenly Kingdom, but few bearers of His Cross . . . If thou bear the Cross cheerfully, it will bear thee, and lead to the desired end, namely, where there shall be an end of suffering . . . If you bear it unwillingly, thou makest for thyself a burden and increaseth thy load . . . If thou cast away one cross, without doubt thou shalt find another, and that, perhaps, a heavier one." So, good friend, dare to take up your cross—it leads to triumph!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—We took our young son to one of your healing services at a time when we were concerned with the effects that cerebral palsy had upon his leg. He did not have full capacity of it, as it was twisted slightly to the outside and caused him to stumble at times. The doctor attending him has made great progress in correcting his difficulties. The most noticeable progress was made in the correction of the twisted leg about two months after we attended your services. We humbly thank God for the blessings of life. God has such compassion upon His children. May the Lord give you the strength, faith and courage to carry on your ministry. God bless you.

—Mr. & Mrs. W. K. H. (Philadelphia)

The Rector will conduct Healing Services in the Jarrettsville, Maryland Methodist Church Sunday evening, and at Trinity Church, Oxford, on March 1st at 8 P.M.

GLAD GIVING

In Lent we are seeking to orient our lives with God's will—to live so as to please Him. Jesus once said that giving is happier than getting, or "it is more blessed to give than to receive." Why, then, do we make such a fuss about "giving up something for Lent"? In Jesus' mind, self-sacrifice is a joy—like that of the expectant mother who is giving herself to the forming of a new life within her. She does not go around feeling grim pride that she is suffering discomfort for the new baby. She goes about so radiant that she hardly thinks of sacrifice at all.

It is a doctor, Erich Fromm, who points out this truth vividly. He speaks of the common misunderstanding which assumes that giving is "giving up" something, or being deprived, or sacrificing . . . some make a virtue out of giving, as if it were a painful self-sacrifice, and, therefore, a duty. The real truth, he says, is altogether different —"for the productive character, giving has an entirely different meaning. Giving is the highest expression of potency. In the very act of giving, I experience my strength, my wealth, my power . . . I experience myself as overflowing, spending, alive, hence as joyous. Giving is more joyous than receiving, not because it is a deprivation, but because in the act of giving lies the expression of my aliveness."

So this year, we are not asking ourselves, "What will I give up for Lent?" But "What new ways can I find of giving myself and what I have?" Your mail may remind you of your chance to save starving people through some great mercy-enterprise. You will find yourself amazed that a few of your dollars may make the difference between life and death to a person on the other side of the earth. Because you are not overloaded with money, you will find it necessary to stop buying some small luxury or self-indulgence. You will do it gladly—with not a touch of grimness—because you find deep joy in being able to save life. It really is happier to give!

The teaching of Jesus is not preaching, "Do-gooder" idealism. Far from it—it is the simple, realistic truth; so simple that most people miss it. Children go through a stage when they think that the happiest way is to grab, to get what I can—but children (mostly) grow up and discover the more exciting joy of giving happiness to others. No one has ever been disappointed who sincerely tried out Jesus' statement that giving is happier than getting. God so made the world that giving is the surest source of abiding joy.

In Lent we can get a surer grasp on glad giving—and so please God who so loved the world that He gave . . . .

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D.C. Sunday evening and speak to the Ministers' Retreat of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Lima, Ohio on March 6th. He will be the preacher at the United Churchwomen of Woodstown, N. J. World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 9th.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Supplication ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor, and security and pleasure, and even life itself; for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost, as we gain in our likeness to Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: Blessed He ..... Franck

Blessed he, who, from earth's dreams awaking, turns his heart from worldly pride; who every other joy forsaking, of wealth the golden fetters breaking, treasures of heaven spreads around on every side. Then when the awful trumpet soundeth, let him rejoice! Blessed is he, in whom God's grace and love aboundeth, angels for him heaven's gates fling open wide.

THE WAY HOME

You may have heard of Trevor Huddleston, the courageous English clergyman in South Africa, who fearlessly insisted that Negro people must be recognized as God's children—not as "problems" but as people, fashioned by God Himself. After 15 years of Christ-like care for their needs, the government demanded that he leave South Africa; and he had to go. Among the many grateful letters he received on the eve of his departure was one from old Miriam, in Sophiatown, saying,

"We will miss that patting hand which reminds us of a certain King who had people who did not seem to know the way home. The King left his royal seat and came to live as one of them for 30 years, and for three years He tried to show them the way home. When He was satisfied that they knew the way, He left them . . . May heaven bless you, and if you do not come back to South Africa again, we will meet at Jesus' feet."

It is important to know the way home. In fact, it is necessary. So many people in this world have no idea what "Home" is. They think that they are strong and big enough to make a place that is safe and secure, themselves. They forget that, in this vast and mysterious universe, they are only very small children of the Creator of it all. They forget (or they have never learned!) that they can be truly at home only with the infinite and compassionate God.

One of the chief reasons for the turmoil of men's spirits is that they can find no feeling of being at home, of being loved and provided for as they were by a human father when they were young. Thus people buy thousands of copies of a book called "Peace of Heart" in hope that they may discover the secret. We all crave a place where we can come in out of the storm, sit by the fire, and find nourishment and rest before we go out again, refreshed and renewed.

Old Miriam knew the way home—knew that to live trustingly close is the only real home there is. In spite of all her suffering, Miriam knew how to slip into the companionship of her Loving Father, and be quiet, and renew her patience and her hope. She had learned the way home, from Jesus; by knowing Him, and obeying Him.

In these days any sincere Doubting Thomas can learn the way home—how to find the companionship of the God who is like Jesus. Since He is like Jesus, we can know Him and love Him so much that we will want to do His will. A child always wants to please the father he loves. It is urgent that you know the way home. For there are others who look to you to show them the way. What a Lent it can be, given each day to being at home with Him. Then, when we have surely learned that, when people follow you, they will not end up in blind alleys, but in the warmth and light of the closeness of God!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—The whole concept of this Prayer Movement has won my keen interest and utmost gratitude. The thoughts and prayers of all the people in your Prayer Fellowship who are total strangers have awakened in me an interest that has developed into a general quest into Christianity. (I am of Jewish background) and I have been very impressed with the Episcopal Church, and with the entirely new dimensions of Christian thought that I never thought I could ever feel.

Jesus, Lover of My Soul .....Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest even while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the Peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace, of which Jesus said: "Peace I leave with you, My Peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this Peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this gift. Amen.

Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sins of the world . . . He was despised and rejected of men; a Man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief. He gave His back to the smiters, and His cheeks to them that plucked off the hair; He hid not His face from shame and spitting . . . Surely, He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him.

PLANT YOUR APPLE TREE

Sooner or later, every Church member ought to try his hand at putting down on paper what Christ means to him. Margaret Applegarth points out that some may go about it in a round-about fashion—as Martin Luther did. When every authority in Germany was up in arms to silence him, he managed to write calmly, "Even if I knew that tomorrow the world would go to pieces, I would still plant my apple tree!"

That's a great springboard to start Lent from—No matter what happens, I will keep on planting apple trees for the generations to come.

But someone may say, "With the atom bomb in the world, and all the terrific tribulations man has devised, there may not be any generations to come! What's the use of keeping on?" Of course you can't prove it, but, with God in the picture there is always a wonderful future of some sort ahead. So I'd better do what I can; do my part—and leave the outcome in the hands of the Lord God. For there is nothing—according to the triumphant voice of Paul in Romans 8—that can separate us from the Love of Christ.

But can't tribulation separate us from His Love? St. Paul says, "No!" And Miss Applegarth points out that another great Christian hero, Martin Niemoeller, also says, "No!" in ringing tones. And he proved it by continuing to plant his tree even in the dark time when the Nazis were keeping him in solitary confinement, in the concentration camp, for eight long years. Separated from his congregation, maybe. But in no way separated from the Love of Christ. See him daily moving his table under the high windows of his cell. See him placing his chair on that table. See him climbing upon his chair to stand on tiptoe, in order to get as close as possible to the grating on the window above his head. See him waiting for the moment when the strange sound of shuffling would arise from the courtyard far below,—the crunch of feet on gravel which told him that now the prisoners were out for their daily airing. So slow and so silent that he could sense their hopelessness from the drag of their footsteps as they walked 'round and 'round in a circle, totally unconscious that they had been adopted as ground for a future orchard. Totally unaware that seeds were being planted at that very moment, as Pastor Niemoeller stood on tiptoe and began to whisper stirring passages from the Bible. Day by day he waited for this brief interval, searching for life-giving passages, practicing the art of learning to whisper powerfully enough to reach the scufflers, and yet not loud enough to attract the guards. He never was certain that they could hear him and the winged words—but, as soon as he began to whisper the good news, the shuffling on the gravel became less noisy; and it might well be that they were treading more lightly just so they could hear!

No matter what happens, God always provides a way in which you can plant your apple tree, and let the Love of Christ come through you to others. Let Him use your whispering voice to pass on the Good News, use you, to save the world. There will be peace in your heart as you repeat, "Even if I knew that tomorrow the world would go to pieces, I would still plant my apple tree!"

Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote you two months ago for prayer. My problem was liver deficiency anemia. I wish to express my heart-felt thanks to you and your Prayer Fellowship. Praise His wonderful name. Shortly after you started prayers for me, I felt a definite touch from the Spirit of the Lord. I knew I was healed, and praise His name. I have had wonderful health ever since. The literature you sent me was a source of great blessing and an immense help in producing relaxation and rest.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES FOR INQUIRERS

When did the Episcopal Church come to our Country? Did Henry the VIII really found the Episcopal Church? What does the Church teach regarding "Confession", "Repentance", "Forgiveness"? Where did our Prayer Book come from? How can we participate better in the services of the Church? These and many other questions will be answered at the Confirmation Instruction Lectures held on Sundays at 10 A.M. in the Rector's study. Bishop Armstrong will visit St. Stephen's for the Rite of Confirmation on Sunday, May 6th. The lectures begin Sunday, March 18th, at 10 A.M.

The Rector will preach in the Whatcoat Methodist Church in Camden, Delaware, Sunday at 7:30 P.M.

The Prelude: Repentance ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Have I been so long time with you and yet hast thou not known Me?" It is not always easy to see God in Christ. Even long acquaintanceship and familiarity with the Gospel may blur our vision. We need a new revelation, a fresh approach each day, to behold the brightness of His Glory. [illegible] the grace of recognition; may we see Thee in every experience of our lives; no matter if the sun shines brightly on our path, or if the clouds of sorrow hang over it. May we never doubt Thy presence as a living Savior. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It was a year ago that I wrote you in gratitude for what your wonderful Prayer Group did for me in bringing about God's cure for my hernia. Not only did the huge hernia completely disappear, but since then my locked hips (completely locked for 15 years) have loosened up so that I use my walker only when I go out. Best of all is the healing of the spirit. Friends tell me I even look better, and I know I have a lightness of heart and a peace that can have come only from God.

—E. E. Frame (Fruitland Park, Florida)

WEAPONS OF LOVE

What are Jesus' weapons of love, which He passed on to us? Read the Sermon on the Mount, and you will find a careful description of them, very different from the weapons of the world!

Eight weapons He gave us: Poorness of spirit (humble-mindedness); mourning (those who know what suffering means); meekness (claiming nothing for one's self); hunger and thirst for goodness; pureness of heart (cleanness and singleness of purpose); the merciful spirit and peace-making (eager, stubborn desire for peace); being persecuted (willingness to suffer for God, for people). What a strange arsenal that seems! But Jesus proved, in this world where you and I live, that His arsenal is mightier than any other. Those fiery young disciples watched Him with question-marks in their hearts, until they saw Him use these weapons of love to conquer Hate and Death, and, as their risen and triumphant Lord, win His throne in the hearts of growing hosts of believers.

They saw Rome set out with sword and chain and torch to wipe out the Christian faith, to overcome Jesus. But in three short centuries of terrible persecution, the weapons of the world grew dull with use, and, in 312 A.D., the Roman Emperor in desperation reached for the Christian sign, put it on the shields and banners of his armies, and made it the official religion of the Empire. The weapons of Jesus had proved stronger than those of Caesar.

In our own century we have seen Jesus' weapons overcome a great empire. In a swift thirty years, Gandhi taught his people to use Jesus' ways so faithfully that they won their freedom from the British Empire. They learned to be humble, to learn God's ways. They were willing to suffer to gain their freedom. They were meek, enduring for the sake of others. They struggled for that goodness, that discipline of spirit which can be patient in the face of provocation. Their lives were possessed by one clean hope. They wanted peace, not strife, and they were willing to be persecuted in order to witness to the rightness of their cause. Because they used Jesus' weapons they could not be subdued!

Jesus is not an impractical dreamer, as so many pro[illegible] believe. After all, He consulted the God who made the universe, and He certainly should know what will work in His world! History proves that Jesus was right. His weapons work, not only between nations, but in your family circle—with that difficult and stubborn teen-ager, or that mixed-up parent at his wit's end. They work with that shut-in whose spirit is imprisoned in self-pity, and with that weary nurse who is about to "blow her top" at the sick person.

Jesus knew. His weapons of love are guaranteed forever. Keep on loving that trying person—sooner or later understanding will grow. Be "poor in spirit," know that it is not your clever brain but God's infinite wisdom that gives the real answers. Keep on loving that frosty person—warm understanding will grow. Be practical—use Jesus' weapons alone!

The Rector is giving a series of addresses on Spiritual Healing in the Church of The Mediator, West Philadelphia on Thursday evenings during Lent.

We extend a hearty welcome to Dean Weaver of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, who will be our Lenten Noon-Day preacher Monday through Friday. A hearty welcome also to the Rev. Stanley A. Powell, Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, who will preach on Saturday.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH?

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is being asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you and you need the Church. Confirmation Service will be held on May 6th at 11 A.M. Instruction Class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10 A.M.

Corporate Communion for the Women of the Diocese will be held on Monday, March 26th at 8 A.M. in Christ Church, Second Street above Market. Bishop Stark of Newark will be the speaker. Breakfast tickets are priced at $1.00.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Samuel H. Burke, Mrs. Jos J. Hardiman, Mrs. Walter J. Hunt, Mrs. Clara Stephens.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: O Man, Bewail / Thy Grievous Fall ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—In a very specific sense sonship with God depends upon accepting Christ. The indwelling Spirit enables us to come into the possession of a power that brings triumphs over the temptations of life. With God we are always able. We can do all things through Him. Forgive us, O Master, whenever we have resisted Thy gracious invitation to us. When Thou dost approach us in the moments of this day, grant us receptive hearts. Thou art anxious to come into our hearts to become a living reality, a vital power. Amen.

Processional Hymn 335 ..... Caswall

Kyrie 708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: Cast Me Not Away ..... Wesley

Cast me not away from Thy presence, and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation, and uphold me with Thy Spirit. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and a contrite heart Thou wilt not despise, O God. Make me to hear a joy and gladness, that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice.

THE RECTOR

Offertory Hymn 337 ..... Rockingham

Sanctus 736 ..... Lutkin

Agnus Dei 712 ..... Willan

Hymn instead of Gloria, 211 ..... Jesu Joy . . .

6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—During your Mission of Christian Healing in Emmanuel Church, Boston, I brought a blind boy, Ray Flowers, from my parish in Medford. At that time his vision was 20-170 and he was just about to be declared legally blind so he could enter Perkins Institute for the blind in Boston. During the Mission his sight was restored, much to the amazement and gratitude of us all. He is now attending night school at Boston University.—Rev. Ira G. Zepp (Medford, Mass.)

THE WAY THAT WINS

"Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem" (Luke 18:31). "So, when Peter went up to Jerusalem . . ." (Acts 11:2). "When they came to Jerusalem, they were welcomed. But . . ." (Act. 15:4). Jerusalem was a place where the Master and His truest friends went, sooner or later, whether they wanted to, or not.

For, Jerusalem, is always the place where the enemies of Jesus are gathered. During His ministry, they were the Church "stuffed shirts", who thought that religion was a matter of proper customs and respectable conduct. They hated Jesus because He told men that this was all rubbish; that God's real religion is simply learning to be loving. He showed them how to give one's self in loving obedience to serve God; how to give one's self for one's neighbor in infinite kindness. Peter found the same kind of hostility gathered against him at Jerusalem. Guided in a dream by the wideness of God's mercy, Peter, the Jew, had sat down and eaten supper with the newly converted Cornelius, the Roman Centurion. But, back at Jerusalem, James and others stubbornly argued that Christians must continue under the ancient Jewish rules. Again, Paul and Barnabas announced to the people of Antioch that God had opened the door of faith to gentile as well as to Jew; and those two daring young men were summoned to Jerusalem to explain themselves to the shocked faithful at Jerusalem.

But see what Jesus and His men made out of their Jerusalem. Paul and Barnabas defended their wide-hearted Gospel with such confident good will that the old conservatives yielded to their risen Master as He spoke through those two. Peter, in his turn, told them with serene honesty that he had simply done what God told him to do, and "who was I that I should withstand God?"; and the opposition folded up. All true Christians who have gone "to Jerusalem" have been able to meet hostility with love because they could look back to Calvary. There they could see One who, nailed to a Cross, looked down at His tormentors and prayed, "Father, forgive them". Hate could not overcome God's Love in Jesus, or in any one of Jesus' men and women since then.

You may have your Jerusalem—the place where you must meet the enemy with only the weapons of love. Try Jesus' way, as Peter and Paul did. That Way always wins, if you are surrendered to Him. It is the only hope of our day. No towering stock-piles of guided missiles and stupendous bombs will ever bring peace. But God's Love, let loose through His people, could draw all men unto Him; and begin the Peace of God.

ABOUT CONFIRMATION

Ever since the days immediately following Pentecost—the 50th day after our Divine Redeemer rose again from the dead—the vast majority of Christians have been confirmed, as well as baptised. Today, possibly 75 percent or more modern Christians are confirmed persons having received the blessing for the most part from the hands of a Bishop in apostolic succession. Each candidate has been more or less carefully taught the fundamentals of Christian truth and life and has knelt in public to receive the "laying-on-of-hands" and the attendant blessing described in the New Testament. This has in each case signalized the beginning of the Christian's communicant life which is the only kind of life Jesus Christ intends that His people shall live.

SOCIETY HILL HOUSE TOUR

A tour of 17 Colonial Homes will be held on Sunday, April 8th from 1 to 5 P.M. Tour $3.00 including Tea at Nurses Residence, 8th and Spruce streets. Tickets may be obtained at the Nurses Residence on day of Tour or at any of the houses on the Tour.

He will preach in St. Paul's, Mt. Lebanon, on Tuesday evening; St. Stephen's, McKeesport, Wednesday evening and at the Church of the Ascension in Pittsburgh on Thursday morning.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Vexilla Regis" ..... Titcomb

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Upon being asked to perform some service, our first question often is, "What shall it profit me?" The Apostle Paul reminds us that Godliness inevitably brings profit. In this world it assures peace, happiness and contentment; in the world to come, the greatest of all profit: life eternal. Dear Lord, help us to overcome the temptations of this day and walk in the Master's footsteps, ever keeping in mind our ultimate goal: eternity. Amen.

I would beside my Lord be watching, that evil draw me not astray; for my sake He to die will undertake; His sorrow joy for me secureth. The griefs that He for us endureth, how bitter, yet how sweet, are they.

Dear Dr. Price:—It is with thanksgiving to God and your Prayer Fellowship who have been doing so much good in the world that I want to tell you that my daughter, Mrs. Lucille Crocker, whose name is on your Prayer List, is greatly improved. She has made so much progress since I last wrote you. You know she had cancer lesions in the spine and pelvic bones. At present she is able to be in her office at school the whole day. She has gained weight, looks better, walks very well and had great faith. Her physician told her yesterday that she has made wonderful progress and says it must be a miracle.

—F. A. (Cortland, N. Y.)

WHO IS THIS?

The dread day had come—and the disciples started into Jerusalem with Jesus. They were frightened, for they knew the savage enmity of the Temple authorities against Him. Yet they felt that He was doing something great. So they went with Him, singing their praises, and stirring others in the Passover crowd to find hope in this majestic, lonely Man, riding into the Holy City. Apparently the enthusiasm was loud enough to make many in the city curious, asking, "Who is this?" Of course most of Jerusalem was largely indifferent to Jesus' arrival. "Men still talk of the price of wheat and about the Roman occupation." But some were stirred. Who was this young Man? The commonest answer was, "This is the Prophet, Jesus . . ." It is still the commonest answer. Most people who have heard of Jesus think of Him as one of the great teachers and prophets of all time. But their lives are not changed by Him.

There were other answers. Hundreds of tea-tables in Jerusalem buzzed with excited talk that afternoon—many of them had heard of His miracles of healing, and of His fearless defiance of the Temple authorities. To these people He was just a thrilling conversation-topic—the next day they would be talking of someone else. Too many people today still think of Him as a rather interesting subject for tea-time talk.

A few thought of Him as someone who might be useful to them. One of the explanations of Judas' strange and tragic behavior is that he wanted Jesus to be the long-hoped-for Messiah of Israel, who would make that nation the top power in God's Kingdom on earth. It is possible that he betrayed Jesus in the hope that this would force Jesus' hand, make Him start an insurrection, and, with an armed force, begin Israel's glory. Many, many people today hope that Jesus will make their dreams come true. You and I have sometimes thought of Him as helping us to get our hearts' desires—someone we could "use" for our purposes instead of letting Him use us for His purposes!

But there were a few, like Peter and Mary Magdalene, who thought of Jesus as their Lord—and wanted to be used by Him in the building of His Kingdom. They had sunk their lives in Him, and in His mission. They were His servants, His tools, to be utilized as He saw best. They were willing to let Him fit them.

So, once more, the great question rings out, "WHO IS THIS?" Each of us must answer that question for himself!

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rt. Rev. Allen J. Miller, Ph.D., D.D., Bishop of Easton, Maryland, who will be our Lenten Noon-Day preacher during Holy Week.

Dear Dr. Price:—I was afflicted a few years back with negative thoughts and apprehensions, so many worries, but after a personal interview with you, being on your Prayer List for sometime and attending the healing services faithfully, I felt much better. Today, I am happy to say, all that has passed and I am like a new person with more vitality and self-confidence.—H. D. (Havertown, Pa.)

RISEN WITH CHRIST

The friends of Jesus had been feeling like death—their hearts burdened with despair. They had loved Jesus, and set all their hopes on Him. Now He was beaten, executed like a criminal—and dead. Then Easter Day dawned, and they were amazed to find that He had overcome death—and was still alive! They could go on with Him, their hearts alive and responsive to His unseen companionship.

The difference between "life" and "death" is not a matter of the beating of a physical heart. There are plenty of people whose physical hearts keep on throbbing as reliably as ever, but whose spirits are dead with boredom or discouragement or self-centeredness. Their physical eyes may see a glorious sunset, but their inner being does not "see" it or enjoy it at all. They may meet a friend that loves them dearly, but they are so absorbed in themselves that their hearts do not respond. God is about them on every side, but they plod grimly on, unaware of Him. A nine-year-old boy encounter a pretty girl, but find no interest in her. Then, one day, there begins to be an inward change in this boy. He begins to become a man—and he immediately begins to become aware of pretty girls. The self-centered person may suddenly realize what a sacrifice this friend has made—and, the next time, respond with joy and warmth. We discover that the glorious sunset is part of the handiwork of the Creator who has filled the world with treasures for His children—then we "see" the sunset, and praise God for it. The bored man may get converted, and learn that Jesus suffered and died to show us what the Love of God is like—certainly, the boredom vanishes, and he becomes alive to Christ, and to the wonderful plans Christ has made for his life. In every case, there is an inward change—and the changed life becomes alive to friendship, and beauty, and love, and God.

St. Paul, in his memorable letter to the Romans, pictures that inner change, called conversion, which makes life tingle with joy and love and freedom. St. Paul shows us that we must sink our lives in Jesus Christ, and become His loving and obedient followers. When we have done this, we are willing to become "dead unto sin" unresponsive to the old self-willed temptations. We are strong with the power of God now, for we have Christ in our hearts, and He enables us to resist sin, and respond to His big demands. We become "alive to God in Christ Jesus"—responsive to Him!

May your Easter be joyful in the knowledge that you have risen with Christ—and that He, dwelling in your heart, can keep on lifting you to newness of life, and love, and peace—forever!

Mrs. Bertha S. Martin, a valued member of St. Stephen's Church, and whose house was included in the recent tour, tells us that the Society Hill House Tour was an unqualified success. Nearly two thousand people made the tour.

THE SILENT MEDITATION: The stream of life flows softly on. Our days are quickly spent. Happy childhood days and the carefree days of youth speedily fade into life's Noon. Then comes the mellow afternoon, when the golden sun melts into lovely eventide. Should God's mercy spare us for the eventide of life, there will be light for the trusting child of God. Loving Father who carest for Thy children throughout their entire journey of life, grant that light may be ours at eventide. We can peacefully depart from these scenes if our eyes behold Thy salvation. Amen.

FOLLOW THOU ME

C. H. Robinson writes, "Monsieur Lepaux on one occasion confided to Tallyrand his disappointment at the ill-success he had met in his attempt to bring into vogue a new religion which he regarded as an improvement on Christianity . . . He asked Tallyrand's advice as to what he was to do. Tallyrand replied that it was indeed difficult to found a new religion, so difficult that he hardly knew what to advise. "Still", he said, "there is one plan which you might at least try. I should recommend that you be crucified and rise again on the third day . . ."

The glory of Easter shines on in our hearts—for here was the Risen One Who came from the side of God, went through the worst that men can do to One Who loves them, and held fast to that love right down to the gates of death! He showed us that the costly way of love leads to painful ways—but always to glory, in the end. God's whole universe backs up that way of life—sunrise overcomes night; Spring triumphs over Winter. Along the way of love, new life and strength always triumph over all deadness of heart and despair.

We don't have to fret and fuss over other people's following Jesus. Peter, talking with the Risen Christ, asked Him what John should be doing. And Jesus replied, rather bluntly, "What is that to thee—follow thou Me!" Our job is to fit our own lives into His plans for us.

Tallyrand was being sarcastic, of course, in his advice to his friend. Perhaps his sarcasm made Mr. Lepaux do some thinking. But, actually, Tallyrand was not far from the truth. You and I will not found a new religion. But, in carrying out our Christian faith, we shall be crucified many a time, and—every time we trust Him—rise from the dead! It works out that way when Jesus Christ lives in your heart and prompts your actions. This is what our strife-torn world needs so sorely—to learn the way of losing ourselves in loving God and others. People, losing themselves in happy service of their neighbors. Powerful nations, losing themselves in meeting the needs of their needy neighbor-nations. Jesus blazed the way, and left it in history for the world to follow.

You may have some difficult people in your household, your town. They don't seem to be doing their share. So, like Peter, you protest to Jesus. And He smiles back at you, and quietly replies, "What is that to you? Follow thou Me!"

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

Our Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House on Sunday, April 29th at 12:15 P.M. There will be held the election of the Vestry. IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Air" ..... Handel

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We, too, would now make this same declaration of an unbroken succession of Divine Deliverance, and, with Samuel, give our testimony to the enduring faithfulness and mercy of our Lord. "He who hath helped thee hitherto will help thee all thy journey through." Dear Lord, whatever hath befallen us by way of trial and sorrow—we have never lost confidence in Thee, even though in our weakness we would have had it some other way. Give us ever the assurance that all things work together for good unto those who love Thee. Amen.

Dear Dr. Price:—On December 26th, 1961 our daughter was given 30 to 60 days to live, due to cancer of the brain. At this time she is completely recovered and leading a normal life. This is due, in no small part, to the prayers and intercessions of your Prayer Fellowship.—Joseph A. Patenaude, Phila.

THE ORDER OF CONFIRMATION

Or The Laying on of Hands Upon Those That Are Baptised and Come to Years of Discretion.

The Sacrament of Holy Baptism and Holy Confirmation are always considered together. One is the sacrament of Christian re-birth, and the other is the crisis sacrament of adult Christian decision. Confirmation complements the work of the Holy Spirit regarding Baptism.

Since the early days of the Church, Baptism has been administered by Bishop, Priest or Deacon in infancy—usually within four weeks after birth. Confirmation has been traditionally placed at the age of discretion, "so soon as sufficiently instructed," when the person is mature enough to make a responsible decision to accept Jesus Christ as his personal Lord and Savior. Only the Bishop administers Holy Confirmation in the primitive Church.

In infant Baptism a child is not aware that any choices, decisions, or commitments are being made. Parents and God-parents make the vows and promises for the child, just as they make decisions about food, dress, training, and friends for their child until he is old enough to decide for himself. In this way, a child has a share in the life of Christ and in His Church from the beginning of his life. When the child is mature enough, he is asked to confirm the promises made for him at his baptism. It is from this confirmation of vows and promises that the Sacrament receives its name.

This arrangement seems so natural and right that people sometimes wonder why it is not the universal practice in all parts of the Church today. There is a reason. At the time of the Reformation, many Christian leaders felt that the abuses of power by the Pope and Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church could only be corrected by discontinuing the office of Bishop. Thus, within a few years all of the followers of Calvin, Zwingli and most of the followers of Luther had no Bishops. In all of Protestantism only the Anglicans and Swedish Lutherans maintained the historic Episcopate.

Those Protestant Churches without Bishops had to make a decision on what they should do about Confirmation. Some Churches chose to continue the Sacrament but changed the one who administered it. Thus in the Lutheran Churches it is the local pastor who confirms people. Other Churches felt that without the Bishop to administer Confirmation, the Sacrament would be meaningless. These Churches abandoned Confirmation. Yet without Confirmation, infant baptism did not contain the element of crisis and decision. So most Churches without the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation deferred Baptism until after adulthood.

The Episcopal Church, however, is richly blessed. It has the full three-ordered ministry of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, and the full Sacramental system, including Holy Baptism administered in infancy and Holy Confirmation administered by a Bishop in Apostolic Succession at the age of discretion.

Mr. & Mrs. I. Smith Raspin celebrated their 43rd Wedding Anniversary on April 23rd. They were married in St. Stephen's Church.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: The Blessed Christ is Risen .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are, indeed, unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow; unless we can say with confident faith, that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly we can experience the Presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy Presence wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision, to receive strength and peace. Amen.

The Anthem: All Men Living Are But Mortal .....Rosenmuller

All men living are but mortal, yea all flesh must fade as grass; only through death's gloomy portal to eternal life we pass. This frail body here must perish ere the heavenly joys it cherish, ere it gain the free reward for the ransomed of the Lord. Jesus for my sake descended my salvation to obtain; death and hell for me are ended, peace and hope are now my gain. Yea, with joy I leave earth's sadness for the home of heav'nly gladness, where I shall forever see God, the Holy Trinity.

The Sermon: "INTO ALL THE WORLD" .....The Rector

Offertory Hymn 351 .....Sleepers Wake

Recessional Hymn 599 .....Vigiles et Sancti

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wired you, asking your prayers for my nine months old grandson, Timothy Ives Scully, with a diagnosed case of spinal meningitis. He is now out of the hospital, completely cured, and as far as anyone can tell, without any damage. God is truly merciful. I would like to express my faith in your work and gratitude for your help.—M. C. S. (San Francisco, Calif.)

WHICH WAY TO TURN

One of the big decisions of life is WHICH WAY TO TURN.

Elizabeth Burns, in her autobiography, "The Late Lize," tells of a turning-point in her life. Her marriage had broken up, and her inner life was in a turmoil of self-pity and need-of-God. So she had gone West, to be with friends, in a beautiful spot in the Sierra Madre mountains. When she got there, they had been called away by an emergency. She could have the house, all to herself. But she had counted on the companionship and sympathy of friends. "This was the moment", she writes, "to determine whether to go on a binge of self-pity." She had just about made up her mind to shed a quiet tear for poor Lize, when something diverted her. "Above me sprawled a big avocado tree and from it swooped a humming-bird the size of a lapel brooch . . . It considered me for a landing-place, and almost came to rest on the tip of my boot. There it hovered, tiny, the most exquisitely jewelled object. I dared not breathe. Slowly I raised my eyes and everywhere was the beauty of God's creations, waiting to be enjoyed . . . I, who once had thought that to find happiness in the conquest of men and more men, was close to overwhelmed by the thrust of one small bird. It was a feeling identical to prayer; the swift awareness of man's glorious and everlasting indebtedness."

So, in a few moments, Lize Burns had TURNED — turned away from the peevish self-pity to joyous gratitude to God. She could have shut her eyes to that jewelled humming-bird, and turned her mind back to her own hurts, both real and fancied. But, in the weeks before, she had been coming closer and closer to God. She had been trying, more and more, to please Him. So, in this moment of decision, she wanted to TURN her thoughts away from herself to the glory of God. This is one of the prime secrets of life. We are helpless to "Make ourselves" into nobler people. We have to be transformed by the wise and mighty power of God. But we can decide which way we TURN — to sin and its lonely separation, or to God that we may be mouldable under His hands. We can surrender ourselves to be re-shaped, re-created by Him.

Lize Burns decided that she would TURN away from pleasing herself. So she turned her face to God, and gave herself into His directing. In that clear moment, she moved out of the power of sin, and into the freedom of God. So each one of us can TURN "to God from idols, to serve the true and living God."

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in All Saints' Church, Rochester, N.Y. Sunday night through Tuesday, May 13th - 15th.

On Sunday, May 20th at 3 P.M. the Rector will conduct a Memorial Service in St. Stephen's Church for the late Murray Cheston Boyer who was promoted into the higher life on March 8th, aged 90. An Altar Prayer Book or Missal will be dedicated in his memory.

RECTOR'S ANNIVERSARY

The Community House Auditorium was taxed to capacity for the Annual Parish Meeting on April 29th when the Rector celebrated his 20th Anniversary in St. Stephen's. Miss Arrah Lee Gaul exhibited 70 of her paintings including the portrait of the Rector. Mrs. Keller and her efficient Committee provided a fine luncheon with a huge birthday cake. The Rector was presented with a wonderful wrist watch, a summer surplice and an attaché case and brief case. Mr. Raspin presented a beautifully inscribed tribute scroll and all present signed their names in the booklet. It was a grand family occasion and the Rector is truly grateful for all the love showered upon him. He is eternally grateful that God has permitted him to serve this wonderful parish.

Mrs. Kershaw, of the Bishop's Committee for the Philadelphia Divinity School, will speak to the Woman's Aid of the Chapel for Hard of Hearing at their meeting on May 15th at 3 P.M. on the work of her Committee. One of the students of the Divinity School will show slides of the School. You are welcome. Guests are expected. Tea will be served.

Our sincere "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Walter Christy, Nan E. Pincin, Edward J. Van Dyke.

A Chancel Prayer Book presented by Mr. Arthur Comby in memory of his mother will be dedicated today.

The Prelude: O What Their Joy and Their Glory Must Be .....Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is invincible hope that has brought mankind thus far in its march upwards and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop Dear God, and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to recognize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

Lord, who hast made us for Thine own, hear as we sing before Thy throne. Alleluia! Accept Thy children's rev'rent praise for all Thy wondrous works and ways. Alleluia! Waves, rolling in on every shore, pause at His footfall and adore. Ye torrents rushing from the hills, bless Him whose hand your fountains fills. Earth, ever through the power Divine, seed time and harvest shall be thine. Sweet flowers that perfume all the air, thank Him that He hath made you fair. Burn lamps of night with constant flame, shine to the honor of His name. Thou sun whom all the lands obey renew His praise from day to day: Alleluia! Alleluia!

Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to report that Bertha E. Hochbaum has received her sight through the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship and is so thankful to God and to your Prayer Group. She was totally blind.—Howard M. Fermen (Phila., Pa.)

EYES TOWARD GOD

The King of Syria rightly feared the Prophet Elisha, and determined to be rid of him. So, one day, Elisha's servant got up early to do the chores, and found, to his horror, that the city was surrounded by an armed host, sent to capture his master. He rushed back into the house, panic-stricken, crying out to Elisha, "Alas, my master, what shall we do?"

This is the way so many people tackle life. They see, right in front of them, the enemy. They see the problem; and the more they think about the problem, the bigger and more frightening it becomes, and they cry out, "Alas, what shall we do?"

Elisha felt no panic, and startled his servant by observing, "Fear not, for those that are with us are more than those that are with them." Yet, not a handful of friendly soldiers in sight! So the Prophet talked quietly with the scared servant, and prayed, "Lord, I pray Thee, open his eyes that he may see." By this time the servant began to understand. The infinite, invisible forces of God were on their side, so why be frightened!

The Prophet refused to be fascinated by the power of the enemies he could see with his physical eyes. Instead, he turned his attention to the mighty sustaining power within him. After all, what gets your attention gets you! So Elisha, absorbed in the invincible, supporting power of God, was not alarmed by the outward forces hemming him in. Instead of battling the problem, Elisha turned to God. He was God-centered, rather than Problem-centered—and thus was filled with God's liberating strength.

In the long-run, the God-centered way always comes out on top. As Jesus was being nailed to the Cross, "Common sense" commented that His problem was now too desperate to solve—He was done for! But Jesus' faith, centered in God, still believing in the God to whom He had committed His life. Easter Day dawned—and, once more, "common sense" was wrong; and faith was right!

This does not mean that when we get into a jamb, we can suddenly call on God for immediate rescue, as a citizen calls the fire department. It does mean that, if we are putting our lives on God's side, and living for His purposes, He will always carry us through every jamb, victoriously. He may lead us through very dark valleys, and up rugged steeps; but He will never let us down if we are "given" to Him and His Kingdom.

So, when life gets grim for you, and you are tempted to cry out, "What shall we do?", just smile at the enemy, lift up your eyes to your God. His forces will always overcome the foe!

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—To pray for the coming of God's Kingdom is to dedicate yourself to the task of bringing it about. THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—In April I wrote asking prayers for N. R., a young mother with inoperable cancer, and a young Presbyterian minister who also had an inoperable cancer. Here is an excerpt from a May 16th letter to me: "You will be thrilled to know that N. R.'s doctor is amazed to report that the spots in her X-rays are growing smaller—it is a miracle. She has fought a good fight and has lived her faith, and God is richly honoring it." The following is from a letter just received from the father of the Presbyterian minister: "Our son looks better, the distention is receding and we are more than hopeful."—G. W. H. (Longboat Key, Florida).

THE TURNING POINT

This business of where you center your life is often the turning point—toward disaster or triumph.

Peter Marshall, in picturing the disciples at the Crucifixion, writes: "Then, in the awful words of Matthew:

"And, sitting down, they watched Him there." There, before their eyes, was being enacted the tremendous drama of the redemption of mankind . . . and they only sat and watched. They were unwitting actors in the supreme event of which the Prophets had dreamed . . . They were witnesses, standing at the crossroads of history. And they saw nothing!"

But, when Easter Day came, they discovered that, all the time, the invisible God had been stronger than all His impressive-looking enemies. All they had to do, now, was to put themselves squarely on His side; and leave the rest to God.

Before long they themselves were standing before the enemies of Jesus. The Temple authorities, alarmed over the wondrous healing of a cripple, were asking these humble men, "By what power or by what name did you do this?" With joy they answered that it was "By the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified." "Now, when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, . . . uneducated, common men, they wondered; and they recognized that they had been with Jesus. But seeing the man that had been healed, standing beside them, they had nothing to say in opposition." (New English translation).

So they sent Peter and John outside, and went into executive session, wrangling over what to do with these fellows. They could not come up with an answer, so they called the two back, and told them to shut their mouths about Jesus—no more witnessing that He was the answer to life! Peter and John listened quietly, and shot back: "Is it right for us to obey God or you? — you tell us! Anyway, we cannot stop telling men about the wonders we have actually seen Jesus do, and say!" Power came mightily to these men, for they raised their attention above the immediate problem to the limitless power of God!

When Katharine Marshall finished Peter Marshall's biography, there seemed to be something missing. Something central, that lighted up her husband's life, was lacking. She pondered and searched—until, at last, she had it! All the glory of his living was due to the greatness of God living within him—God welcomed into Peter Marshall's heart, and alive there. She had written the book as if Peter Marshall were the hero. He wasn't! The hero had to be God!

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—What will the day bring forth? Thus, we may well ask, in the face of the uncertainties of life. But life has its certainties, also: God, for example, and His care of His people. He "restores", and He "leads". A path is sunny when these divine certainties accompany us on our way. O Thou Divine Shepherd of our souls, in all the uncertainties of life, Thou art our GREAT CERTAINTY. Restore unto our souls the knowledge of Thy divine goodness, and lead us ever on the paths of righteousness. Amen.

Rule Thou our wilful hearts, keep Thine our wand'ring thoughts; in all our sorrows, let us find our rest in Thee. And in temptation's hour, save through Thy Mighty Power; Thine aid O send us; hear us in mercy. Show us Thy favor so shall we live and sing praise to Thee.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—I am so grateful to your Prayer Fellowship that I can't keep from crying. My husband has been healed of epilepsy by your prayers. He has not had any more of those terrible seizures and is good natured and smiling. I feel I am living in a new world. Unless a person has been through that nightmare, he can't realize what it is.—O. L. Coombe (Centereach, N. Y.)

LIFE IN HIM

Back in the early 19th century, a Monk named Ugo Bassi preached the Good News of God in Italy. One of his greatest sermons has been preserved for us—"The Sermon in the Hospital."

To these sufferers on their beds of pain, he spoke of the true Vine and the branches—the assurance of Jesus Christ that we can find life only in Him, just as the branches find life only when joined to the vine, the main trunk. He showed that the grape vine does not grow "like the wild trailing weeds, wither it willeth, flowering here and there . . . rejoicing in its own luxuriant life." Rather, ". . . as it grows, it is not free to heaven, but tided to a stake; and if its arms stretch out, it is but crosswise, all so forced and bound." Then, as the vine pushes out its shoots lavishly in the Springtime, ". . . the husbandman comes early, with the pruning-hooks and shears. And strips it bare of all its innocent pride, and wandering garlands, and cuts deep and sure . . . the bleeding limbs are hardened into wood; the thined-out bunches ripen into fruit."

Finally, "Then comes the vintage, for the days are right, and surely now in its perfected bloom, it may rejoice a little in its crown . . . but Ah! the hands are ready to tear down the treasures of the grapes; the feet are there to tread them into the wine-press, gathered in; until the blood-red rivers of the wine run over and the land is full of joy. But the vine standeth stripped and desolate, having given all . . . and next year blooms again . . . and so fulfills itself in love once more."

Ugo Bassi's Sermon gives a fresh understanding of the Parable of the Vine and the Branches—a fresh insight into life. For life is no merry-go-round, no happy-go-lucky picnic on a Summer's day. No, life as Jesus showed it forth means the training of our lives to be bound to His pattern; it means the cutting away of many harmless pleasures so that His strength may flow more surely into us and our fruitfulness. It means discipline—for love's sake, for His sake. It means, finally, that our pruned lives can only be strong and productive if we live in Him—joined to Him as a branch is to the main trunk of the vine. It also means that He promises a rich harvest from our lives, if we are willing to live in Him, letting God cut wherever He knows we need His knife. Those who accept the eternal truth of the vine and the branches have one incomparable joy which overshadows all the pain—their lives give abundant joy to many!

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. John's Church, Charleston, West Virginia, Sunday evening, June 17th through Tuesday.

In Newark, N. J. the Church has opened a store-front center for shoppers and business people. A bulletin available at the center says this: "The Episcopal Church is uniquely a synthesis of Catholic experience and of Protestant criticism of that experience. This explains that in the life of the Episcopal Church you will find people from many varied denominational backgrounds, and people of every national and racial origin expressing their love of God together."

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Credo" ..... Titcomb

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man might commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee; in Jesus' Name. Amen.

Processional Hymn 366 ..... Sine Nomine

The Venite, Prayer Book page 9; Chant No. 609, Hymnal

Psalm 116, Page 486

Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book page 11 ..... Thiman

Jubilate Deo, Prayer Book page 15; Chant No. 645, Hymnal

The Anthem: Blest Are The Pure In Heart ..... Thiman

Blest are the pure in heart, for they shall see our God, the secret of the Lord is theirs, their soul is Christ's abode. The Lord, who left the heavens our life and peace to bring, to dwell in lowliness with men, their pattern and their King; still to the lowly soul He doth Himself impart, and for His dwelling and His throne chooseth the pure in heart. Lord, we Thy presence seek; may ours this blessing be; give us a pure and lowly heart, a temple for Thee. Amen.

The Sermon: "HOW FAR WOULD JESUS GO?" ..... The Rector

Recessional Hymn 385 ..... Austria

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Frederick Schmid, Jr.

5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P. M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—About last November I wrote you and asked prayers for our son, David, who we had not heard from in several months and who seemed to have lost all sense of responsibility. Yesterday we had a letter from him telling us that he has a responsible job and, at least, he wanted to write. Thanks for your prayers.

LAST ISSUE OF THE WEEKLY BULLETIN UNTIL SEPTEMBER

With this issue of St. Stephen's Weekly Bulletin we close the present Season. The Bulletin is not published during the months of July and August. Our next issue will be that of September 2nd.

AS A CHILD

Jesus once called a little child, set him before the disciples, and said, "I tell you this: Unless you turn around and become like little children, you will never enter the Kingdom of Heaven." (New English translation). What did He mean?

A wise Christian doctor writes: "The most characteristic thing about a child is his glorious capacity for disobedience." Dr. Seabury does not mean that a child disobeys God, or nature. He means that a child rebels against stodgy, cautious customs that limit one's friends to "respectable" people; or taking care not to be crazily generous with one's possessions. A child loves lovable people on both sides of the tracks; and gives her expensive new doll away to one of them, with a warm and happy heart, if stuffy parents do not stand in the way. A child wants to disobey the old, close-fisted ways; wants the wide freedom of being as loving as God.

Jesus declared that we must take on the attitudes of a child if we want to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. "He Himself lived up to His own teaching, disobeying as steadily as a child does, the drab regulations of the day. . . . He dared to live as He taught. He sent His disciples to do likewise. So He broke the flint-hearted law that forbade healing on the Sabbath Day, and laughingly reminded the Scribes and Pharisees that their stupid law allowed them to work hard enough on the Sabbath to rescue a farm-animal that had fallen into a pit; but not to rescue a human child of God who had fallen into illness. He defied their heartless old regulations in such a courageous and lovable way that people began to say that Jesus was right; and the old ways, wrong. So the Scribes and Pharisees swore vengeance against this disobedient, upsetting Teacher people loved so much.

Dr. Seabury points out the wonderful freedom of living in Jesus' way. "Jesus was free, the child is free . . . no matter what the circumstances or their odds, they enjoy life. The child in the gutter looks up at the London fog and calls gleefully to his companion. They laugh and play as if their gutter were a street of gold. The same happiness bubbles in the little native babies in the African jungle, or in the South Seas. The free spirit of childhood brings them joy. They do not make prisons for themselves out of the act of living."

It's interesting to find psychiatrists "agreeing" with Jesus. Just recently there have been at least four notable books from these physicians of the mind, which "discover" Jesus' way of love is the way that the universe backs up, the most practical way there is! These highly trained men are beginning to obey One Who bade them to "turn around and become like little children"!

The Rev. Robert Stetler, St. Alban's Church, Roxboro, will be responsible for the Sunday Services in August as well as the Friday Communion Services. The Rev. Dr. Percy Stockman will conduct the Wednesday Noonday preaching service and the 5:30 P.M. Service of Holy Communion during August.

The Prelude: "O God Be Merciful To Me" ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and everlasting God, the Source of our life, the Strength of our pilgrimage, and the Goal of our journey; stir our spirits by Thy Spirit that we may worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. Make us sensitive to Thy Presence. Often we have forgotten Thee and turned aside from Thy ways. Touch our lips with the live coal from off the Altar; open our ears to the assurance of pardon; and kindle our hearts with eagerness to go forth as Thy messengers, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 155 ..... Melcombe.
Kyrie, Hymnal 708 ..... Willan
The Anthem: Jesu, Joy Of Man's Desiring ..... Bach

Jesu, joy of man's desiring, Holy wisdom, Love most bright; Drawn by Thee, our souls aspiring, soar to uncreated light. Word of God our flesh that fashion'd with the fire of life impassion'd. Striving still to Truth unknown, soaring, dying, round Thy throne.

Through the way where Hope is guiding, Hark, what peaceful music rings! Where the flock in Thee confiding, drink of joy from deathless springs. Theirs is beauty's fairest pleasure, theirs is wisdom's holiest treasure. Thou dost ever lead Thine own, In the love of joys unknown.

The Sermon: "THE LIMITS OF FORGIVENESS" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 455 ..... St. Peter
Sanctus, Agnus Dei ..... Willan
Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal 739 ..... Old Scotish Chant
Recessional Hymn 402 ..... Munich

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote for prayers a month ago for my mother who was sick and despondent. Her trouble was diagnosed as diabetes and a very bad skin condition. She had lost her desire to get better and wanted to go into a chronic hospital. I showed her your good letter and gave her your healing literature. Very shortly she suddenly became a new person with a will to get better. Her despondency left her, her skin condition cleared up and her diabetic condition, to the amazement of three specialists, suddenly improved. She reads your leaflets every day. What a wonderful change. Two weeks ago she wanted to set aside funeral money—she felt she would never be better. Today she is like her old self. God is good and we praise Him.

—M. B. (Edmonton, Alberta, Canada)

THE HIGHER LEVEL

Did you ever feel so utterly fagged in body and spirit that you knew you were licked? It's a great place to begin a new life!

I once knew a man who had night-mare moments like that, for many years. He kept coming to that grim place where you just know that you "don't have it".—Don't have enough brains, or patience, or talent, to win out. He would wallow onward, sluggish, hopeless, pitying himself, not doing the good that he wanted to, and doing evil he did not admire. Then, like Paul, he made a breath-taking discovery. Like Paul, he said, "Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God, through Jesus Christ!" He accepted Jesus Christ as his Savior. Through Christ's Spirit in his heart came strength from God sufficient for every need. Through trusting completely in God, he began to find that God can do anything needful, through him. He began to live by the Words "He is able . . ." He had worried his way through heavily-loaded days for half a century, and had his sleep broken through nagging anxieties. Suddenly, now, he found peace. He has not worried, once, in the last seven years. This new freedom gives him the joy and the gaiety of a child. Whenever he tackles a stiff task for God, he leaves the outcome in God's hands, with confidence.

You may ask, "Had this man never read the command of Jesus, 'Be not anxious . . .'?" He surely had, but he never dared to obey it until he learned that God takes care of every need, for every child committed to His Kingdom. Then it was, at last, that he ceased from his struggling and striving to win life's victories through his skimpy strength. He began to let God win the victories, and to give God the credit. Quite recently this man found a parable which tells the secret of this freedom from worry. Bryan Green (in "Christians Alive") tells it:

"The sea, it is imagined, was one day feeling discontented. Disillusioned, it hated living at its low sea-level when, above it, were drifting some delightful little white clouds scudding along before the wind. The sea grumbled to itself, "I don't see why I should be living down here at this low level. Why can't I live higher up, up where the clouds are?" So, in its anger and discontent, the sea began to lash itself into fierce high waves, flinging the foam of its spray high in the air, yet always it fell down again to the same low level of living. Then one day the sun smiled on the sea and said kindly, "You want to live on a higher level? then don't fret yourself, strain and struggle. Lie still, and look up." So the sea lay still—very still—and looked up. A warm wind arose, and the sun came down and carried some of the water up nearer to heaven, and presently there were seen some fresh white clouds, moving overhead."

Just be still, and look up—and your strength will come from God to live on that higher level.

— ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER —

We extend a hearty welcome to Miss Cherry Rhodes who succeeds Mr. John Henzel on September 2nd as St. Stephen's Organist and Choirmaster.

Miss Rhodes began her organ studies at the age of twelve with Berj Zamkochian, organist of the Boston Symphony. While studying in Boston Miss Rhodes gave numerous recitals in the North Shore area. Several of these, sponsored by the Bsoton Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, were broadcast over F.M. Radio.

Two years later Miss Rhodes was accepted at the Curtis Institute of Music where she is presently a student of Dr. Alexander McCurdy. When she was seventeen, Miss Rhodes was given the honor of performing as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra on the new Cyrus H. K. Curtis organ at the Academy of Music.

Last year she performed Bach's B Minor Mass with the Philadelphia Orchestra under the direction of Eugene Ormandy at the Academy of Music, and at Carnegie Hall in New York. Prior to this Miss Rhodes had made her New York debut at Riverside Church. She will be giving a recital at St. Thomas Church in New York on December 23rd of this year.

A Memorial gift of seventy-six dollars in lieu of flowers at the funeral service of Mr. Clifford Taylor has been given by his friends in Pittsburgh to the Literature Fund of St. Stephen's Church.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening and he will address the Clergy Conference of the Lutheran Church in Pittsburgh on Tuesday, Sept. 4th.

The Rector married his daughter, Evelyn Elizabeth, to Thomas Murray of Gladwyne on June 23rd. Her uncle, Edward J. Van Dyke, gave the Bride away and her sister, Jean, was the Maid of Honor.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

Prelude: O God, Thou Faithful God ..... Karg-Elert
Adorn Thyself, O My Soul

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, have mercy on all ignorant souls, and instruct them; on all deluded minds, and enlighten them. Have mercy on all broken hearts, and heal them; all struggling with temptation, and rescue them; all that are fallen from Thee, and raise them; all that stand with Thee, and confirm them. O blessed Jesus, who didst shed Thy blood for us all, shed Thy Holy Spirit on all, and heal them: for Thy pity's sake. Amen.

The Anthem: Strengthen For Service, Lord, The Hands ..... Healey Willan
Strengthen for service, Lord, the hands that holy things have taken; Let ears that now have heard Thy songs to clamor never waken. Lord, may the songs which "Holy" sang keep free from all deceiving; the eyes which saw Thy love be bright, Thy blessed hope perceiving. The feet that tread Thy holy courts from light do Thou not banish; the bodies by Thy body fed with Thy new life replenish.

7:30 P. M.—Address and Induction Service for the Junior Order of St. Luke by the Rev. Tracy F. Walsh, Chaplain of the Junior O.S.L.: "Seekers, Disciples, and Friends."
Address by the Rev. John H. Park, Rector of St. James Church, Newport Beach, California: "Spiritual Cleansing."

WELCOME TO PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia is one of the great medical centers of the world and the home of the first hospital in America. The city is rich in historical tradition. The birthplace of freedom and liberty.

October 24th, birthday of the United Nations, marks the 300th Anniversary of William Penn's landing in Philadelphia. Philadelphia is the nation's leading foreign tonnage port.

Astronauts may be going to the moon any day now. But did you ever stop to think that America's first flight into space or into the vast world of the forces of nature, was the ascent of Ben Franklin's kite from the Philadelphia Common? St. Stephen's Church was built on the exact site where his kite ascended.

Ben Franklin dared the lightning to prove the force of electricity, which it did. We remember Ben's advice in the precarious August weather of Philadelphia: "Dangerous, therefore, it is to take shelter under a tree during a thunder-gust."

St. Stephen's Church was the first electrically lit Church in the City. Some feel that its healing ministry may prove the most electric of all experiments at this location. In its larger context that ministry has helped to change the Church. And, by recalling it to the fuller work of Christ, it may help to change the world.

We sincerely welcome the delegates to this Conference and hope that inspiration and greater knowledge will be your reward for being here.

Members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the O.S.L., wearing their distinctive badge, will serve as ushers, and they are prepared to help our visitors in every way possible. They will have the Registration cards and name badges, the Breakfast and Supper tickets, the information for those who wish to be inducted into the O.S.L. on Tuesday at 5 P.M., etc.

The wash room facilities for women are in the business office of the Parish House and the first floor of the Community House. The men's wash room is in the basement of the Community House.

Most of the restaurants and eating places nearby are closed on Sundays; for out-of-town friends we would suggest Horn and Hardart Cafeteria on Market Street near 12th, next to the Reading Terminal. The Dining Room at the Ben Franklin Hotel, Chestnut Street at 9th, is very fine.

DR. CARL GUSTAVE JUNG

Among all my patients in the second half of life . . . every one of them fell ill because he had lost what the living religions of every age have given their followers, and none of them has been really healed who did not regain his religious outlook.

Practical medicine is and has always been an art, and the same is true of practical analysis. True art is creation, and creation is beyond all theories. That is why I say to any beginner: Learn your theories as well as you can, but put them aside when you touch the miracle of the living soul.

Personality is the highest realization of the inborn distinctiveness of the particular living being. Personality is an act of greatest courage in the face of life, and means unconditional affirmation of all that constitutes the individual.

We have in all naivete forgotten that beneath our world of reason another world lies buried. I do not know what humanity will still have to undergo before it dares to admit this.

HEALING CONFERENCE

We extend a hearty welcome to the members of the Order of St. Luke the Physician, and to the many interested people who are attending our four-day Conference on Spiritual Healing. Fullerton who comes to us from Dublin, Ireland; Bishop Herbert Spaugh, one of our valued Episcopal Sponsors, from Charlotte, N.C. The Rev. Tracy Walsh, Chaplain of the Junior O.S.L. Mrs. Ethel Banks, Editor of "Sharing" Magazine. Dr. William S. Reed, M.D., Founder of the Christian Medical Foundation, Henderson, Texas; Rev. Canon Richard Lief, Associate Warden, of Los Angeles. Dubble of Westminster, Maryland; the Rev. Jarvis S. Morris of Franklin Park, N.J.; Mrs. Donald Hibbard and Mary Light of Vancouver, B.C., will also participate.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Grant unto us, Almighty God, the peace that passeth understanding, that we, amid the storms and troubles of this our life, may rest in Thee, knowing that all things are in Thee, not beneath Thine eye only, but under Thy care, governed by Thy will, guarded by Thy love, so that with a quiet heart we may see the storms of life, the cloud and the thick darkness, ever rejoicing to know that the darkness and the light are both alike to Thee. Guide, guard and govern us even to the end, that none of us may fail to lay hold upon the immortal life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise .....Thiman

Immortal, invisible, God only wise, in light inaccessible hid from our eyes, Most blessed, most glorious, the Ancient of Days, Almighty, victorious, Thy great name we praise. Unresting, unhasting, and silent as night, nor wanting, nor wasting, Thou rulest in might; Thy Justice like mountains high soaring above Thy clouds which are fountains of goodness and love. To all, life Thou givest to both great and small; in all life Thou livest, the true life of all; we blossom and flourish as leaves on the tree, and wither and perish, but naught changeth Thee. Great Father of glory, pure Father of Light, Thine angels adore Thee, all veiling their sight; all laud we would render: O help us to see 'tis only the splendor of light hideth Thee. Amen.

A SURRENDERED CHANNEL

Sometimes we actually try to do what Jesus couldn't do! It's hard to believe that we could be so foolish—but we can be!

Birnie Warfield, the great Baptist preacher, learned this, some years ago. He was having a rough time in his Church. He had been working to put the nearby red-light district out of business, and his work was beginning to be felt. He had even sought to convert some of the women, and a few were wavering. His Christian resourcefulness and courage alarmed the forces of evil; and they were trying to put Birnie out of business. They even induced a few bird-brained members of the congregation to try to get their minister dismissed. It was tough sledding. Suddenly, to his dismay, Birnie began to feel the sources of his inner inspiration drying up. His sermons were becoming dull and wooden, his spirit, leaden and sluggish. One Sunday the sermon never got off the ground, it was so heavy. After the congregation had gone, Birnie slipped to his knees in one of the pews and, in a moment of clear insight, he poured out his heart in prayer:

"Lord, now I know what was wrong. I have been so busy asking You to bless me, to increase my wisdom, that I closed the door myself. I forgot to be just the pipe through which the water comes. I got busy asking You to make me the water. But You've shown me this morning. I see that I was trying to polish up the Birnie. Forgive me, O Dear Lord; do forgive me . . ."

Jesus Himself had said, "The Son can do nothing without the Father." He, the Son of God, had made it clear to His disciples that His part was to be the Pipe for the Grace of God. He had to depend on His Father. So many of us, like Birnie, have gotten mixed up. We have tried to out-do Jesus, to be more than a humble, surrendered channel. When we try that, we fall flat on our faces, don't we! Needless to say, God led Birnie to victory—to a cleansed neighborhood, to a congregation which knew that God spoke with authority through their pastor. Today, Birnie is more than ever the channel for God's redeeming Love, in that Baptist Church in Kalamazoo, Michigan.

"Do-it-yourself" religion always ends up in a blind alley. We have to turn back and offer ourselves as open channels for the Grace of God. If your spirit feels "dry" today, perhaps you have drifted into this common and disastrous mistake. Then take Birnie's prayer, above, and pray it with your whole heart — and leave the rest to God. There will come a great serenity into your heart, and your whole being will know that

Out of Winter shall come Spring;
Out of striving shall come peace;
Not by our power, but by the power of God."

BISHOP HART

The plans for the observance of the 20th Anniversary of Bishop Hart's Consecration as Bishop to be held on Tuesday, October 16th, are about complete. At 10:30 A.M. there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in Holy Trinity Church. Bishop Noble C. Powell of Maryland will preach. At 6:30 that evening there will be a Reception at the Sheraton Hotel preceding the Anniversary Dinner at 7 O'Clock. The Presiding Bishop will be the speaker of the evening. Applications for dinner tickets at $5.50 should be made through the Rector.

The enclosed envelope is for the purse to be presented to Bishop Hart at the dinner.

Dear Dr. Price:—My daughter, Erma, must undergo drastic surgery on Wednesday morning. Will your group please pray for her, and for her surgeons and those of the hospital staff and personnel in whose care she must be, that the outcome may be successful? Your prayers in the Fall of 1957, for Erma's twin sister, Norma of San Francisco (at a time when she had been a victim of more than a year of what was diagnosed as fear-neurosis — fear of cancer after what was a completely successful operation for a non-malignant growth), I am convinced, is what cleared her troubled mind. She has been in perfect mental and physical health ever since.

—H. H. Walker (Ashland, Wisconsin)

IN APPRECIATION:—Words are inadequate vehicles to express to all the women of St. Stephen's Church our appreciation for the wonderful help and service rendered to our guests at the recent International Conference on Spiritual Healing. To Mrs. Madeline Keller and her fine group of workers who were responsible for the Tea and Reception in the Community House on the three afternoons of the Conference, and for the expert handling of the great numbers of people who attended the Supper on Tuesday night, and for the most important help given by members of the O.S.L. in the work of Registration, ushering and information, we are deeply indebted.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty God, Giver of every good and perfect gift; teach us to render unto Thee all that we have and all that we are, that we may praise Thee not with our lips only, but with our whole lives, turning the duties, the sorrows, and the joys of all our days into a living sacrifice unto Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. The Anthem: Sing Praise To God Who Reigns Above .....Whitlock

Sing praise to God who reigns above, the God of all creation, the God of power, the God of love. The God of our salvation; with healing balm my soul He fills, and every faithless murmur stills: To God all praise and glory. What God's Almighty power hath made His gracious mercy keepeth; by morning glow or evening shade His watchful eye ne'er sleepeth: within the Kingdom of His might all is just, and all is right: To God all power and glory. Then all my joyful way along I sing aloud Thy praises, that men may hear the grateful song my voice unwearied raises; be joyful in the Lord, my heart! Both soul and body bear your part! To God all praise and glory!

The Rector will speak to a group of Episcopal Clergy at Calvary Church, West Philadelphia on Friday, September 28th at 5 P.M.

SURRENDERED PRAYER

So many people think of prayer simply as asking God for something. Sometimes it is this, of course—Jesus, in the Lord's Prayer, taught us to ask God for our needs. But, more often still, prayer is praising and thanking God, lifting up some struggler into His love, offering one's self to Him to use, or simply just being quiet to listen to Him.

After all, it is rather childish of us to tell God what we want, and expect Him to give us just what we ask. Who are we to know just what is best for us? Does not God know better? Besides, God often expects us to do something about our requests, before He can grant it—otherwise we would become very lazy indeed.

It was a famous doctor, William Sadler, who spoke strongly of people's neglect of prayer. He pointed out that, when we neglect prayer, we are "neglecting the greatest single power in the healing of disease; and that there are three steps in the art of prayer—1. Listen; 2. Learn; 3. Obey." As Isaiah said, "Hear, and your soul shall live."

So we learn to stop rushing into God's Presence with a head full of demands. Instead, we learn to be as quiet as a little boy in the presence of a master-fisherman. The small boy listens for those hints, those secrets of brook and pond which will lead him into the art of catching fish. That boy looks up with silent reverence to the fisherman —who—knows, his whole mind surrendered to the wisdom of his veteran friend.

Once we understand this necessity for silence, eager listening, we shall have less difficulty with our praying. We shall want to hear His voice, rather than our own—and we shall begin to learn His secrets, and be informed by His infinite "know-how".

Someone asked Kagawa, the heroic Japanese Christian, what was the first thing in prayer, and he answered, "Surrender!" It is the surrendered prayer that finds God, and His answers!

O.S.L. CONFERENCE

Close to 7,000 people attended the various sessions of the four-day International Conference on Spiritual Healing held in St. Stephen's Church September 9th-12th, inclusive.

Well over 700 people were registered. They represented 22 Denominations, 28 States, four came from overseas: Ireland, Haiti, and Australia. Canada was well represented. There were 120 clergymen, 18 doctors and psychiatrists, and 16 nurses. 75 new members were inducted into the Order, including 18 clergymen. 1100 attended the Social Hour periods in the Community House.

Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to Mrs. Madeline Keller who had the responsibility of the Social Hours and the Dinner on Tuesday night. 185 people enjoyed the dinner. 140 attended the Tuesday Breakfast and 120 attended the Wednesday Breakfast. Miss Hazel Bainbridge did a magnificent and flawless job in managing the ushers, offerings, healing services and Communion services.

Seven were inducted into the Junior Order of St. Luke. Some of the children came from as far away as Long Island.

A CLERGYMAN in one of our Eastern Churches had a very devoted Church worker who left to be married somewhere in the West. She received a telegram from him to be read at the wedding breakfast "Psalm fifty-five, verse 15." A Bible was found and the message was found and read out, to the horror of the guests and the mortification of the bride. What he meant was "Psalm fifty-five, verse fifteen" in the Prayer Book version. Don't look now, but when you get home, first read it in the Bible, then read it from the Prayer Book.

WHERE ARE YOU?

Whenever we think of the Church, our feelings about it are a composite of our own experience, our knowledge of its work, and our view of its necessity. We may be impersonal, guilty, or pleased, all depending upon our relationship to the Church.

But as Church members we must be concerned with its progress, and it is here we must be realists.

The fruits of extended research in the Episcopal Church, conducted in co-operation with the Metropolitan Insurance Company, and covering a period of 13 years, from 1943 to 1955, showed these sobering facts.

Nearly one out of every six persons baptized is never confirmed.

More than one out of every two people confirmed becomes inactive within a ten-year span of time.

In other words the Church, like the Red Queen, must run as fast as it can to stay in the same place.

And further the survey showed: The depth of an Episcopalian's commitment to the Church or church is entirely dependent on the extent of his or her involvement in corporate worship.

Is it any wonder clergymen—the vestry—and lay people are concerned about the individual person?

Where are you in this important revelation of where church people are?

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Thou loving and tender Father in heaven, we confess before Thee, in deep sorrow, how hard and unsympathizing are our hearts; how often we have sinned against our neighbors by want of compassion and tenderness; how often we have felt no true pity for their trials and sorrows, and have neglected to comfort, help and visit them. O Father, forgive this heavy sin and make us more truly Christ-like in our compassion.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I feel I must write and tell you of the help I received through the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship when I wrote you two months ago of my nervous problem and depression. I had already signed voluntary Commitment Papers to a mental hospital. I had not made my peace with God and didn't know how to go about it. I had become very neurotic and was quite sure I was going to die. No one could convince me otherwise. We had a rainy spell at this time and the storms seemed to be raging against me. Just before I received your letter telling me about the daily chain of prayers on my behalf the sun began to shine bright and I had a strong desire to go to the Chapel and pray that God would enter my heart and strengthen and heal me. He did just that and I made a remarkable recovery. I read your Meditations and prayers every day and I soon overcame all my neurotic fears, and, believe me, I had plenty of them.—Mrs. T. W. C. (Wichita, Kansas)

THREE FEET MORE

Some years ago the famous blues-singer, Ethel Waters, wrote her autobiography, calling it, "His Eye Is On The Sparrow." It was a deeply moving book, radiant with her belief that God had watched over her lovingly down the years; seen her through poverty; and opened the doors of opportunity to her. She spoke of God's love through her wonderful mother. She declared her belief that God would always keep His eye on her, His trusting sparrow.

It is not too difficult to write a book with such great faith when you are prospering and all goes well. But how about the day when, once more, the wheels of life drive heavily? Recently there came word that Ethel Waters is old, sick, and penniless. She had not saved any money out of those prosperous days. A reporter interviewed her; and she responded to his questions with a sigh:

"Where I come from, people never got close enough to money to get up a working acquaintance with it, so I didn't know how to keep it." The sixty-year-old ex-songstress admitted that she was dead broke. Then her face lighted up, and she told how she was living with good friends, and had never been happier. "I'm not afraid to die, honey", she said. "In fact, I'm kinda looking forward to it. I know that the Lord has His arms around His big fat sparrow."

This has been the experience of all deeply trusting people, from the great Apostle Paul, down to the distinguished blues-singer. God never forgets one of His sparrows. He does allow them to get themselves into painful and hard circumstances; but always He sees them through victoriously if they just keep on trusting.

You may be going through a dark valley, darker than you have ever known before. Then remember Ethel Waters. Remember Paul, constantly in trouble. Remember Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane. God did not forget them. He will remember you, and keep at your side.

Elizabeth Burns, in "The Late Liz", speaks of one of the blackest moments in her life, when she was reaching out for a gift of God which would have flooded her life with joy and peace. Suddenly she realized that God was not going to grant this prayer. She writes, "Into this stillness there popped a memory . . . that the ancient Greeks did not have street flares; each man supplied his own light by affixing tiny lamps to the toes of his shoes. These tiny lamps shed light three feet ahead so when he walked three feet, there was light for three more feet. And so on. Three feet, and three feet more."

The trusting child of God can be sure that there will always be light enough for "three feet more."

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Christ Church, Little Rock, Arkansas, Sunday night, September 30th through Tuesday, October 2nd.

We want to thank these recent Bulletin subscribers: C. Wilson Bates, Mrs. Patsy Bawden, Eva Hansen, Mary C. Kutzer, Miss Louise Sadtler, Nicholas L. Todd.

The Prelude: Kyrie Christe ..... Frescobaldi

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O Lord, whose mercy is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Thee, we confess with shame our broken pledges. We are troubled by the memory and burden of our offenses. We have done the things we ought not to have done and have left undone the things we ought to have done. We have been silent when we should have spoken, inactive when we should have served, and we have foolishly blundered in speech and act. Stretch out Thy hand of mercy. Speak the word of pardon. Forgive us the broken vow, the unkept promise, the unfulfilled purpose. And strengthen Thou our good resolves, that we may be worthy of our heritage as Thy sons and daughters. We ask in Jesus' Name. Amen.

Processional Hymn 267 ..... Regent Square
Kyrie, Hymnal 708 ..... Willan

O Sacred Feast, wherein Christ is received, the memory of His Passion is renewed in us, our souls are filled with grace, and the pledge of everlasting glory is given unto us. Alleluya.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I want to thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for praying for our daughter's recovery from cancer. Where once the nerve cancer had spread throughout her body and she was too far gone for surgery, she is now cured. She is now past two years and is once more a happy, lively child, thanks to prayer. My husband and I can never thank you enough for your prayers and concern.

—A. G. T. (Washington, D.C.)

SURRENDERED TO HIM

Dr. Fosdick once pointed out that some people "make goodness attractive". Others, by their self-righteousness, repel others from honest, generous living.

During our American Civil War, Charles Sumner was one of the leading advocates for the abolition of slavery. He had high ideals and great courage but he had a genius for arousing the wrath of his opponents, for making his cause and himself hated. Carl Sandburg writes, "He was perhaps the most perfect impersonation of what the South wanted to secede from. No other man in the Federal Government so thrust at the sin and guilt of the South while evading the issues of sin and guilt in the North."

Abraham Lincoln, on the contrary, walked humbly with God, and sought to draw all men to the cause of preserving the Union. He was alive with compassion for all who suffered—regardless of whether they lived in the North or in the South; regardless of skin or party or creed. He launched out on each day's work determined to serve God, and to please Him as much as possible. As a result, Lincoln drew a rising tide of men to the cause of the Union.

The Love of God, working in Lincoln was even able to transform Lincoln's enemies into friends. Seward had resented Lincoln's beating him out for the Presidential nomination. After he became Secretary of State, he often opposed Lincoln in the Cabinet, once resigning for a time. But, at the tragic moment of Lincoln's dying, Seward turned from the death bed to cry out, "Now he belongs to the ages." Lincoln had made goodness and compassion so attractive to Seward that he was willing to work under Lincoln's leadership.

There are few people who see us ordinary people, and are either drawn towards Christian faith, or driven away from it. The humble Fishermen—disciples of Jesus—lived so warmly and strongly in His Spirit that people were ready to worship them as gods. But the disciples protested, "We are only human beings, no less mortal than you. The Good News we bring tells you to turn from these follies to the Living God." They let God live so powerfully in them that people were attracted to Christ.

This is our greatest opportunity in life—that people will see Him in us, because we are surrendered to Him.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D.C. tonight at 7:30 P.M.

The meeting of the North Convocation will be held in All Souls' Church, 3226 No. 16th Street, on Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The Gold Star Mothers will have their Bazaar in our Community House on Wednesday, October 10th, 1962.

An account of the Healing Ministry of St. Stephen's Church appeared in the September 28th issue of Time Magazine.

AN INTERPRETATION OF THE UNITED FUND

Most of us depend upon others whenever we wish to share our good fortune with those less favored. We seldom directly help individuals or families in trouble, nor provide guidance or education for those who could profit from either. This is not always what we would choose to do but our complex society and our lack of knowledge or skill in offering our aid wisely compels us to this source of action.

In the community we can turn to over 250 agencies ministering to nearly every need of our neighbors that cannot be supplied by our Churches. We express our concern for these neighbors whenever we contribute to the United Fund Torch Drive. Without the money we give to the United Fund, many of our neighbors would suffer.

THE WOMEN OF THE PARISH

In St. Stephen's Church the women of the Parish are divided into two groups, those who are free to attend meetings in the day time, and those who are employed during the day. The meeting of the day group is held on the third Thursday at 10:45 A.M. and the evening group is on the first Thursday at 7:30 P.M. Miss Sarah Winn is President of the evening group and Mrs. Price the President of the day group.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Prelude and Fugue in C ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Almighty and most holy God, we confess to Thee with humble and contrite hearts, that we have often forgotten Thee, and Thy purpose for us. While professing to be Christians, we have neither wholly believed nor followed Christ. Increase our penitence, we pray Thee, and turn our wandering footsteps back into the path whereunto we are called, by the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: Be Still, My Soul ..... Whitlock

Be still, my soul, for God is near; the Great High Priest is with thee now; the Lord of Life Himself is here, before whose face the angels bow. To make thy heart His lowly throne thy Savior God in love draws nigh. He gives Himself unto His own, for whom He once came down to die. I come, O Lord, for Thou dost call, To blend my pleading prayer with Thine: to Thee I give myself, my all, and feed on Thee, and make Thee mine. Amen.

ONE-BY-ONE LOVE!

Charles Sumner was too often "a stuffed shirt", being most aware of his own importance. Entirely sincere in his concern for the freedom of the slaves, still he spoke out with a cold wrath and scorn which infuriated his opponents to fight all the harder against him and his cause.

Worse still, such a self-importance loses sight of people—of suffering human beings, one by one. Sandburg tells how the gracious Julia Ward Howe invited Sumner to meet some friends of hers at dinner. He said he wasn't interested, and, "really, Julia, I've lost all my interest in individuals." Her quick answer was, "Why, Charles! God hasn't got as far as that yet!"

Jesus assured us that God never gets "that far"; that He is forever interested in His human children, one by one. "Not a sparrow falls to the ground . . ." God in Jesus was interested even in outcast Samaritans, one by one. God in Jesus, on the Cross, reached out to a wretched thief who had the grace to recognize in Jesus the majesty of God.

How thankful each of us is to God for His one-by-one Love—for it includes me! No matter how hard life goes, we know that He will not forget us, that He is ever preparing new treasures for us.

Our New Testament passage today vividly pictures this Divine One-By-One Love: for the little daughter of the Ruler; for a sick woman in the crowd; for two blind men, and for a man governed by an evil spirit. Jesus incarnates God's Love for the humblest individual!

Most of us have little gift, and little opportunity, to witness to crowds. But we can channel His Love to particular people, weighed down with pain and guilt. There are some people whose only chance for God's saving Love is through you. What a magnificent opportunity—to be the agent of His infinite, One-By-One Love!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Two months ago my niece, M.H., attended your healing service and had a personal consultation with you. We praise the Lord for His healing touch on her body. She has had no epileptic seizures since then, her general condition and attitude are both greatly improved. We do thank you for your compassion and help through our Heavenly Father. I, too, went to the Altar Rail for prayer for a condition of coronary deficiency. I have no more heart pain and my doctor has had earlier prescribed medicine discontinued. For this, I too, thank and praise our wonderful Lord.—L. A. (Scranton, Pa.)

The Rector will speak in the First Baptist Church, Wildwood, N. J. on October 20th at 4 P.M.

THE CHINESE CHRISTIAN CHURCH AND CENTER will hold their Annual China Night at the Julia Westerman School Auditorium, 17th and Spring Garden Streets, on Friday, October 19th at 8 P.M. The Play is "Three Daughters."

On Sunday, October 21st we celebrate St. Luke's Day in St. Stephen's Church, with a service at 11 A.M. when we will have as our guests the doctors and nurses of our mid-city hospitals. A card with the information is available for those who would like to invite their medical friends to the service. These cards are in the vestibule of the Church.

FORWARD DAY BY DAY for the Season of Late Trinity (October 7th to December 1st) is now in stock in the Parish Office. Copies of these daily meditations sell for 15¢.

The Vestry of St. Stephen's will hold their stated meeting after the morning service this Sunday.

DOCTOR - CLERGY CO-OPERATION

The first step towards co-operation between doctors and clergy is the recognition of, and respect for, their different contributions to the well being of patient or parishioner.

Once when seriously ill a friend of mine asked for Communion. His doctor was afraid it would be too much for him, as he was too weak even to feed himself. However, he insisted. When the doctor came the day afterwards he found my friend very much better and said: "Well if Communion has that effect on you, you can have it every day!" His reply was that if he sought it for that, it would not have had such an effect.

The inner attitude and condition of a patient is primary. Doctor or priest are secondary, and it is for them to facilitate the integrity necessary to respond to and draw upon such resources as are available both physically and spiritually.

A further level of co-operation between doctors and clergy involves this field in which a spiritual ministry may have startling physical results. There is no need here to quote examples. They are wide-spread, and more clergy and ministers are realizing a responsibility for developing and extending a healing ministry. More doctors also are finding that results which go beyond what they have expected from their own approach do at times occur. Many doctors are skeptical, suspecting faulty diagnosis, or that the symptoms were hysterical or the cure due to suggestion. They have every right to be cautious in the interest of their patients. Clergy, ministers, or lay healers with a charismatic gift need to be careful in their claims if we are to win credence for the reality of further reinforcement through the spirit that can profoundly modify psychosomatic conditions, in organic as well as functional conditions. Doctor Alexis Carrel, however, won the Nordhoff-Jung Medal for cancer research, and therefore he is not likely to be mistaken in his diagnosis of cancer. Yet he claims to have seen cancerous sores disappear very rapidly under his eyes after earnest prayer. He said it seemed to involve a speeding up of cicatrization. He is convinced from his own experience that healing through prayer is a reality, and that prayer is "a most powerful form of energy one can generate."

STATEMENTS BY LEADING AMERICAN DOCTORS

DR. CARL GUSTAVE JUNG: Among all my patients in the second half of life . . . every one of them fell ill because he had lost what the living religions of every age have given their followers, and none of them has been really healed who did not regain his religious outlook.

DR. HOWARD CRAVEN, Washington, D.C.: "If we are to be honest, we have to face the truth that a large number of remarkable healings appear to be taking place without medical or surgical intervention. Many of these can be categorized as purely psychosomatic. Experience seems to justify the belief that Spiritual Healing completes the chain that welds the patient into an integral, whole, happy, well, unit."

DR. ALBERT REISSNER, Brooklyn Psychoanalyst: "More and more of us are becoming convinced of two things: First, that man is a trinity, composed of body, mind and spirit; and, Second, that the underlying cause of most disease is spiritual. We have observed that unless a healing of the spirit takes place, the cure of the body or mind is not apt to be either complete or permanent."

DR. WILLIAM REED, Henderson, Texas: "Today there is a new awareness that in the close co-operation between the Church and medicine, lies a new, great kind of care of illness that brings Christ into His proper place in the thinking and activities of both groups. We are learning through Spiritual Healing that Christ has a message for physicians which must be listened to."

DR. EVARTS G. LOOMIS, of Southern California: "I have noticed repeatedly in my practice that the extent of a physical healing seems to depend on the change in the spiritual life of the patient which goes with prayer and meditation. On several occasions when a patient was not making satisfactory progress, I have prayed with him, either verbally or silently, whether he be Catholic or Protestant, in office, or hospital room. Almost invariably improvement has followed."

DR. CHARLES H. MAYO, who conducted an investigation on Spiritual Healing several years ago, reported: "Christian Healing has passed beyond the stage of experiment, and its value cannot be questioned. Spiritual Healing no longer is the hope of the few, but the belief and practice of a large and rapidly increasing number of persons."

The Prelude: Two Choral Preludes ..... Willan

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Strengthen our hearts, O Lord, that we may rise to our full stature as Thy faithful sons and daughters. Make us brave. Give us courage—courage to think clearly about the meaning of life, even though understanding means bidding farewell to cherished illusions; courage to blaze the way for new truth, even though acceptance shatters the pleasant little world of make-believe; courage to love the right, even though that love means sacrifice and service and ceaseless longing; courage to fight the wrong, even though battle means wounds and weariness and heartache. So fill us with Thy Spirit, O Lord, that we may be more than conquerors through Him Who loved us and gave Himself for us. Amen.

Processional Hymn 126 ..... Sarum

Kyrie ..... Willan

The Anthem: Let Saints On Earth In Concert Sing ..... Titcomb

Let saints on earth in concert sing with those whose work is done; for all the servants of our King in heaven and earth are one. One family, we dwell in Him, one Church above, beneath; though now divided by the stream, the narrow stream of death. E'en now by faith we join our hands with those that went before, and greet the ever-living bands on the eternal shore. Jesus, be Thou our constant Guide; then, when the word is given, bid Jordan's narrow stream divide, and bring us safe to heaven.

Dear Dr. Price:—I, along with my mother and my fiancee, were among the many who were privileged to receive your blessings of healing at St. Paul's, Toronto, last May. Since that time amazing results have taken place. An arthritic condition in my knees has cleared up. I have gained 14 pounds, my fiancee and I have come to approach life with more togetherness and more mutual understanding; but, above all, my faith in God, Jesus and the Holy Spirit has increased immensely. I am very grateful for your ministry of healing.—J. A. L. (Toronto, Canada).

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D.C., this evening at 7:30.

CLOUD OF WITNESSES

Today is the Octave of All Saints' Day, when we remember that great "cloud of witnesses", those cherished people whose lives have spoken to us of God. We thank God for them! And some of them were not very talkative about God. Nor were they especially clever in arguing for Him and His way of living. But they followed that Way. They lived it. By watching them, we could see what God meant us to be. Remembering them helps us to get back on the Way.

Dr. Alfred Schweitzer came to a point where he had to decide how he could best witness to Jesus Christ. He had finished his training for the ministry, and then suddenly was made Head of the Seminary. But he found that he was expected to teach the fussy, complicated doctrines which had grown like weeds in the Church—and he did not believe some of them at all. He thought that they got so much in the way that people could no longer see Jesus. He could not honestly teach what he did not believe. What to do? He writes:

"I decided that I would leave the Seminary. Instead of trying to get acceptance for my ideas, involving painful controversy, I decided to make my life my argument. I would advocate things I believed in terms of the life I lived, and what I did. Instead of vocalizing my belief in the existence of God within each one of us, I would attempt to have my life and works say what I believed." So he has taught the love of God eloquently with his life; as he could never have done through doctrines.

In the lives of our own saints, we remember how God spoke to us through what they did, and what they were. A woman, crippled by polio, cheerfully doing all her cooking and house work for the family from her wheelchair. A wife, who had been unusually dependent on her husband for fifty years, at his death gallantly learning to do for herself in the spirit of adventure. A minister whose sermons were often mixed up and stumbling, whose life spoke of God through playing first base on the town baseball team, and through befriending broken lives forgotten by "proper" people. An uncle who turned from the open grave of a deeply loved wife, and asked if anyone had a ride home. You have your saints, who remind you how great God is!

For some people, YOU will become one of their cloud of witnesses. Now is the time to let God make your witness glorious!

The Prelude: In Peace and Joy I Now Depart ..... J. S. Bach
O How Blessed, Faithful Spirits, Are Ye ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Lord God, out of the mystery we have come. Across this little landscape of our life we wend our way. We come to Thee in utter sincerity, as eager questing spirits, that in this holy hour some revelation may be given. Make radiant the darkness, kindle our hearts with a flame of love, send us forth into the future in confidence and hope, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: Let Us Now Praise Famous Men ..... Williams

Let us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us. Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge. Such as found out musical tunes, and recited verses in writing: all these were honored in their generations, and were the glory of their times. And some there be, which have no memorial; who are perished, as though they had never been. Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth forevermore.

Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks be to our Blessed Lord for answering your prayers for my healing. Also for His guidance to the surgeons in the operation and therapy. A recent "check-up" revealed no signs of recurring tumors. It is a relief to feel peace and comfort and strength again and to be able to do a full day's work. I was told that you have a favorite expression "To turn everything over to our Lord; lock, stock and barrel"! And in the dark periods I did just that!—J. G. (Ohio).

PRO DEO

Followers of Jesus give a great deal of thought to the "Two Great Commandments." So did the lawyer who quizzed Jesus about them, and got the story of "The Good Samaritan" for his answer.

Jesus, in those two mighty commandments, was teaching a simple truth—if you love God, you will love His children in their need. You will love them for Him. Jesus made this clear in His great judgement-parable (Matthew 25:31-46). "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

In Allen Patton's wonderful and heart-breaking book, "Cry, the Beloved Country", the dark-skinned Mr. Kumalo asks Mr. Carmichael, one of South Africa's top lawyers, if he will take the case of his son, accused of murder. Mr. Carmichael answers, "I shall take it for you, Mr. Kumalo. I will take it 'Pro Deo', as we say." Mr. Kumalo is very grateful, but does not understand "Pro Deo." So he says to a well-educated friend, "I do thank God . . . but tell me I have one anxiety, what will it cost? My little money is nearly exhausted." The friend replies, "Did you not hear him say that he would take the case 'Pro Deo'"? "Ah, yes, you have not heard of that before. It is Latin, and it means, "For God". So it will cost you nothing, or at least very little." Mr. Kumalo still does not quite grasp the meaning. "He takes it for God?" And the friend explains, "That is what it meant in the old days of faith. Though it has lost much of that meaning. But it still means that the case is taken for nothing." Mr. Kumalo stammers "I've never met such kindness."

What a glorious opportunity rises before us—to do some costly kindness for someone each day "Pro Deo", "For God." Someone may be deeply resentful against you, and making things difficult—so you turn to God and tell Him that you will keep on loving that person, "Pro Deo". So, with God's help, you continue a deep concern for that difficult person. You show them "Calvary-Love" in your actions. You do it "Pro Deo"! This "Calvary-Love" is simple to understand—very difficult to live. It means that "the old man", your own self-will, must die in you as truly as the body of Jesus died on the Cross. You have to be willing to have your old demanding self die, so that your better self can live in response to God. Simple—and very tough! But glorious, because it is done "Pro Deo."

Possibly there is some decision in your life right now which has not been settled—a hard decision in which you are pulled two ways. The deep peace comes in your heart at last, when you decide to please Him, to take the loving way, "Pro Deo".

MARRIAGE SURVIVAL

A teen-age bride, a low-income groom, combined with differences in religion and the chances for the marriage to endure are about 50-50.

Professor Lee Burchinal of the University of Iowa and Loren Chancellor of the State's department of health, went to work on Iowa's records of marriage and divorce and came up with that interesting fact, among others.

Their research also shows that a marriage between a Catholic and a Protestant has a better chance to last if the wife is the Catholic and the husband the Protestant—why they didn't say.

When two Church-going Protestants of different denominations get married in Church it doesn't affect the chances of marriage survival, one way or the other. But if two Protestants who do not attend Church marry, the survival rate is much lower.

When two Roman Catholics marry, according to the Iowa records covering a seven-year period, the odds that the marriage will last are 24 to 1. This figures out at 96.2 percent.

But couples belonging to other Churches have high survival rates too—but only when the bride is over 20—that teen-age bride will knock all these figures down about 10%.

Lutherans are tops with 97 percent survival. Methodists are 95.6; Baptists are 95.4; Presbyterians, 94. No figures were given for Episcopalians but probably—like our giving to Missions—the figure is low.

Among couples having no religious affiliation only 35 percent of the marriages survived and this dropped to 16.2 percent when the bride was a teen-ager.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Timothy's Church, Roxboro, on the evenings of November 11th, 12th and 13th.

The Rector will speak to the Clergy of York, Penna. on Monday Morning, November 12th.

Thirteen Mennonite Ministers attending a Conference in Phila. attended the healing service on November 1st and the Rector spoke to them in his study for an hour on November 2nd.

The Rector was interviewed in the W.C.A.U. Radio Program "Today in Philadelphia" on November 6th.

The Prelude: Savior of the Heathen, Come ..... Bach
O Thou of God the Father ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—O God, we thank Thee for the sweet refreshment of sleep and for the glory and vigor of the new day. As we set our faces once more toward our work, we pray Thee for the strength sufficient for our tasks. May Christ's spirit of duty and service ennoble all we do. May there be nothing in this day's work of which we shall be ashamed when the sun has set, nor in the eventide of our life when our task is done and we go to our long home to meet Thee face to face. Amen.

Processional Hymn 1 ..... Stuttgart

Kyrie, Hymnal No. 708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: Come, Thou Redeemer of the Earth ..... Darst

Come, Thou redeemer of the earth, and manifest Thy virgin birth; let every age adoring fall; such birth befits the God of all. Begotten of no human will, but of the Spirit Thou art still the Word of God in flesh arrayed, the promised Fruit to man displayed. From God the Father He proceeds, to God the Father back He speeds; His course He runs to death and hell, returning on God's throne to dwell. Thy cradle here shall glitter bright, and darkness breathe a newer light, where endless faith shall shine serene, and twilight never intervene. All laud to God the Father be; all praise, Eternal Son, to Thee. All glory, as is ever meet, to God the Holy Paraclete.

I feel completely well and like my former self again. My husband and son have each conquered a good many of their former bad habits and are striving hard to understand each other and work together. I shall feel eternally grateful for this help and shall strive to keep my renewed health and peace of mind, and that of my family.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS

Each year St. Stephen's Church donates baskets or the equivalent to those who are unable to give their families the fullness of Christmas cheer with which others are blessed. Will you help with your generosity? Please use the special CHRISTMAS DINNERS envelope.

DOOR INTO FREEDOM

Today we are asking ourselves how we can best prepare for Christmas. The answer, for a Christian is simple—pray for the people on our Christmas list! To do this is to obey the fundamental law of Christ—"Thou shalt love." To do this is also to obey the basic law of effective prayer—as Glenn Clark puts it, "There must be love in prayer."

In other words, make a list of the people to whom you might give a Christmas gift. Then slowly, one by one, lift each name to God—seeing her in imagination as you pray for her. Do not ask God anything for this friend, now—just let Him speak to you, if He will, about each one. As you do this, the real need, the heart's desire, of each one will become clear, in God's light, and you can begin to fill in the gifts after each name. It will take a bit of time.

If you will write down simply for a letter, or a specially lovely Christmas card. These are people who will be happiest if you simply send them something of yourself—your love for them, your telling them a bit about yourself. What with others, God will direct you to a present which will satisfy some special need, or hope—something you might never have thought of, without God's help. Real prayer should move on to action. As Evelyn Underhill points out, "Each time you take a human soul into your prayer, you accept from God a piece of spiritual work with all its implications and all its cost—a cost which may mean for you spiritual exhaustion and darkness, and may even include vicarious suffering, the Cross."

Thus your Christmas list will be more things. It will include hard work, forgiveness asked, forgiveness given. It may lead you to a search among old letters, to find that one in which your friend's father said how proud he was of his child—what a Christmas present that letter will make! It may result in giving a book in which you share a new vision with your friend—for him, a new door to freedom.

This will be a costly list. In terms of money, it may cost far less (and leave you a tidy sum to give for those dying of hunger). But in terms of YOU, it will cost more. It is the costly gifts that bless people.

Trust God to fill out your Christmas list—then your Christmas will truly be the celebration of the Birthday of the God of Love!

I CANNOT TELL any man how much to give to the Church and charity in dollars and cents, for I do not know that much about any man; but I do not have the slightest hesitation in asking a man to give as God has given to him, which is the principle of proportionate giving, or tithing.
Stewardship—by the Rt. Rev. Richard Emrich, S.T.D.

CHURCH SEEKS TO MEET 1963 BUDGET

Members who were unable to attend the Chest of Joash Sunday, November 25th, are asked to mail their Pledge Cards to the Church this week after thoughtful consideration to the amount of their Pledge. Aside from the personal sense of satisfaction of fulfillment which comes from making a Pledge in Church at a worship service, Stewardship Sunday represents an expression of faith in the future of our Church by the congregation as a body. It is a day when we lay the cornerstone of our stewardship of giving, and collectively ask ourselves, "Are we adequately sharing our substance with the Lord?"

Members of the congregation are asked to closely re-examine their Annual Pledge to the Church. In order to maintain the services of our Church, we must have greater financial support from a larger number of members.

A very attractive Christmas Card with a colored reproduction of the Chancel of St. Stephen's Church is available. The cost is $3.00 per box of 20.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington tonight at 7:30 P.M.

The Rector will conduct a Seminar on Spiritual Healing at the University of Dubuque, Iowa, on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 4th and 5th.

I REJOICE that our Church is beginning to talk more freely about the obligation of proportionate giving, and of tithing as a minimum basis for such giving. I personally believe that tithing is a first step toward true stewardship, and leads on to greater and greater dedication of time, ability, and privilege.

Advance Notice of: CHRISTMAS SERVICES
Christmas Eve — 10:30 P.M. — Holy Communion and Sermon
Christmas Day — 9:30 A.M. — Holy Communion
11:00 A.M. — Holy Communion and Sermon

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—In September I had the privilege of a personal consultation in your office and you told me to start then thanking God for the healing of my daughter with a heart malformation. She was on your Prayer List also. The heart specialist had recommended that she should have a heart operation. Now after six weeks talking with you, we have the verdict from Johns Hopkins that the operation is not necessary. Needless to say, we are very happy.—Mrs. F. P. (Vienna, Maryland).

THE BOOK OF CHOICE

On this Bible Sunday, one remembers how Abraham Lincoln said, "In regard to this great Book, I have but to say, it is the best gift God has given to man. All the good the Savior gave to the world was communicated through this Book. But for it, we could not know right from wrong. All things most desirable for man's welfare, here and hereafter, are to be found portrayed in it." Lincoln lived by the Bible and his speeches were fed by it as a river is fed by springs. His greatest speeches, like the Second Inaugural, read like Scripture passages.

Part of the greatness of the Bible is that, and Doctor Tournier points out: "The Bible is the Book of Choice." From the choice of Adam and Eve to please themselves instead of God, to the last pages, wherein the Leodoceans refused to choose at all—"thou art neither hot nor cold,"—the Bible is the procession of choices. The great issue of life is shown to be the courage to choose rightly. Moses cries out, "I have set before you life and death . . . therefore choose life." Elijah protests indignantly, "How long halt ye between two opinions?" Jesus declares, "You cannot serve God and mammon."

We can see what is worth choosing (and what is not) by measuring it against the life of Him who was born in Bethlehem. He decided matters very simply, Himself—"Will this please God?" He built His life on the deep intent to say "Yes" to God. He dealt with people on the basis of what was genuinely and eternally loving. The great saints follow Him, testing their decisions by love of God, love of man.

You can make your Christmas glorious by letting it grow out of the well-springs of the Bible—by giving that which will give pleasure to God and to your friends. You might give some of your friends a New Testament—especially those who are beginning to seek God afresh. It could be the translation by J. B. Phillips, or the New English translation—both superb.

Try going shopping with Jesus in your hearts. Write your Christmas notes with His Spirit in the writing. If this sounds novel and strange to you, just try it—and find that a miracle or two will result. For, if you are letting Him be the Master of His own birthday, then He will work miracles, just as He did of old!

A Christmas of miracles — why not!

The Rector will conduct a Seminar on Christian Healing at the Yokefellow Institute in Richmond, Indiana, on Monday and Tuesday, December 10th and 11th.

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, United Thank Offering Custodian, reports that there were sixty-one contributors to the recent U.T.O. In-Gathering, with a total offering of $221.24.

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR PLEDGE?

What should be our standard of giving to God through the Parish? Put it this way—How much does a grateful heart give back to God? 50 cents a week spent on candy, gum and ice cream with five cents to God on Sundays means we are ten times less grateful to God than we are hungry for candy, gum and ice cream. $200 to God out of $10,000 means being 50 times more concerned with everything else in life than showing God gratitude in this special way. $350 to God through the Parish means that being grateful to Him is not quite as important as the family's cosmetics, hair care, tobacco and liquor.

So here are the two big questions for each of us: (1.) How much of what God permits me to have shall I—out of gratitude—give back to Him by giving away? (2.) Of what I give away out of a thankful heart, is my pledge to the Parish a responsible gift—or a tip?

Before the week is up, Mail in your Pledge to St. Stephen's Church.

A Sincere "Thank You" to these Bulletin Subscribers: Mrs. M. E. Burkley, Mr. John H. Glassey, Ross J. Griffith.

"'That clock will go eight days without winding' said the salesman proudly. 'And how long will it go if it is wound?' asked the purchaser. Not only clocks, but also people, need winding up. During the week, we are all too apt to "run down hill", not only physically, but perhaps more especially morally and spiritually.

We go to Church on Sunday, start off with new resolutions and fine ideals, then day by day we have to take the hard knocks that the world gives us with the result that we come out at the end of the week with our enthusiasm gone, discouraged and disillusioned, run down." THE RT. REV. W. A. LAWRENCE, D.D.

A FORGIVING CHANNEL

Christmas was approaching at Dr. Schweitzer's Hospital at Lambarene. One of the workers had asked the lepers if they would like to put on a Nativity Play for the visitors at the Hospital, and they had responded with shining faces. So they did, those lonely black people who had been cut off from life by their dread disease. It's a bit startling to think of those black African people playing the joyful Nativity for white men and women. For the white man had used his superior knowledge and power to capture the Africans and impress them into slavery. He had advertised a religion of mercy and compassion but there had been little of it in him.

So they played the ancient parts—Mary and Joseph, the kings, the shepherds. The baby Jesus was beautifully behaved and did not cry until the intermission, and then only briefly.

Norman Cousins was one of the visitors. He comments: "While I watched the lepers in the Nativity Play, I became conscious that the Play was saying something about a world large enough to hold both black and white. This was close to the original purpose of the Play, but original purpose in religion is not too often a remembered part of life. The actors, however, are clearly seen to reflect this original purpose, to which forgiveness belonged."

If those black men and women could sing forgiveness to white men in that Nativity Play, then is there anyone whom you cannot forgive, in your Christmas song? For each of us plays a Nativity Play by all that we do for Jesus' Birthday. He came to earth to let God's forgiveness through to guilt-laden mankind. He comes to earth again, through you, to offer His limitless forgiveness once more. All He needs is a forgiving channel. You need have no worry about missing your lines—you only need to let Him act through you. You don't need any money—He had none of His own, but He knows how to bless people without buying a thing! He never finds enough lives in which to play His Play. Perhaps, last year, you were not "available" for His use. This year, will you let Him use you?

"WANTED—LIVES IN WHICH I CAN COME AGAIN"—And the want-ad is signed by Jesus Himself. All He wants is you—in whom to show forth His great Love.

INCENTIVE: We have heard of a wealthy clergyman who died, leaving money to buy foam rubber cushions for the kneelers in his Church—but only for the front half of the Church.

We wish to thank these U.T.O. Envelope contributors: Marie P. Berger, Mrs. William B. Campbell, Mrs. Madeline Keller, Miss Nellie V. Miller, Mrs. Edith R. Stout.

TELLING OTHERS THE GOOD NEWS ABOUT OUR CHURCH

BY THE REV. GRESHAM MARMION, D.D.

The other day I gave a ride to a High School student who was going my way. We got to talking about religion. He was an earnest young man, and in the course of our conversation said that he was looking for a Church which would satisfy his great need for worship.

He had investigated another Church whose worship meant something to him, but he could not agree with some of their doctrines and felt that there was not enough freedom of thought given to their members. When he told me what he was looking for, I said to him, "I believe the Episcopal Church is what you are looking for. It has a service of reverent beauty, and it balances authority with freedom."

He said to me, "I did not know there was such a Church."

There are a lot of people like this young man. They are looking for what the Episcopal Church has.

So I ask this question: Do you ever talk with people about religion? Do you ever tell them what God has done for you through the Church? Have you ever said to anyone, "May I pick you up next Sunday and take you to my Church?" Have you ever?

You can't brag on your religion, but you can brag on the Church, because God gave you the Church. But He gave it to you, not only in order that she might minister to you, but that you might bring others to her. Have you ever done so?

Dear Dr. Price:—After the laying-on-of-hands by you, our child can now walk without aid. She is talking like a normal two-year-old. Up until that time she was just a "vegetable." Her speech was slurred and she had to be assisted in walking. Her mentality seems perfectly normal; whereas six weeks ago she was very dull and had no interest in her surroundings. She has improved 95%.

THE DELIVERER

Sometimes we feel trapped. We just cannot break free!

One Summer a vacationing family stopped to picnic at State Park. The adventurous four-year-old trudged out to explore. Finding a wooden platform with a trap-door in it, he managed to pull it open. But he leaned too far, and fell right into the Park garbage-pit! And the trap-door slammed shut above him. It was very, very dark; and very, very smelly, down there. He couldn't get out. So he shouted for help, and his mother heard the faint, mufiled little voice, and pulled him out. Sometimes we desperately need a deliverer!

So many of us find ourselves sitting in a very smelly darkness we have made for ourselves. It may be chronic self-pity that landed us helpless, in discouragement. Or it may be our hair-trigger inclination to resentment. There we are—in the dark, with the smell of our selfishness all around us. And we are helpless to get out—unless someone comes. The wondrous News of Christmas is that Someone did come! "Do not be afraid; I have Good News for you . . . Today in the City of David a Deliverer has been born to you—The Messiah, the Lord . . ." Christmas is the Birthday of the Great Deliverer.

There is no depth of hopelessness from which He cannot lift us. True, He sometimes leaves us with a physical handicap like polio, or blinded eyes; or confined to a wheelchair. But He does ALWAYS deliver us from the power of the handicap over us. Some people make a wheelchair look like a triumphant chariot! They are grateful to God for giving them the victory over their handicap.

To open the way for the Deliverer, you simply open your heart to Him; and you invite Him to come in and have His way there. You are tired of managing your own life, and you want Him to live there and work through you. You turn yourself over to His directing, and He goes to work. You find Him giving people deep happiness, through you. You find freedom from yourself. You call, and He comes—the Deliverer.

When there are enough people with room in their hearts for Him, then this tumultuous world will become heaven. It will be at peace, under Him. In the meantime, there will be a bit of heaven around every life where He is at work, every life like yours!

The Prelude: A Babe is Born in Bethlehem ..... J. S. Bach
A Lovely Rose is Blooming ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Most merciful Father, we have done little to forward Thy Kingdom in this world, to foster the brotherhood of man, and to establish love as the law of life. We have allowed self to blind us, pains to embitter us. We have forgotten that whatsoever is done to one of the least of Thy children is done unto Thee. Pardon our shortcomings; forgive our neglect; give us a pure heart intent on pleasing Thee. Help us in all our seeking to seek first Thy Kingdom and Thy Righteousness. And make us to come, as came Thy Son Jesus Christ, not to be ministered unto, but to minister. All which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Anthem: O'er Bethlehem's Plains ..... H. Alex. Matthews
O'er Bethlehem's plains a song! A Star! Three Wise Men journeying from afar! And through the heavens a song sublime! Of peace on earth, good will to men! The shepherds watching through the night, behold with awe the wondrous light! As through the skies the echoes ring of peace on earth, good will to men! Still at the Manger Throne we bend, to seek a Child, a King, a Friend. While echoes still the glad refrain of peace on earth, good will to men!

The Sermon: "PASSING OF THE OLD YEAR" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 20 ..... Divinum Mysterium

Recessional Hymn 22, 23 (Vs. 1, 2, 3, 7) ..... From Heaven High

STARR DAILY

We extend a hearty welcome to Starr Daily, who will give a series of lectures at St. Stephen's Church, Friday, January 4th at 7:45 P.M., Saturday at 10:30 A.M. & 9:30 P.M., and Sunday, at 11 A.M. and 3 P.M. He has a tremendously powerful Christian message which has grown out of his vast experiences, first as a member of the underworld for 25 years both in and out of prison, and secondly, after a transforming spiritual experience in prison, as an author, lecturer and counselor. His ministry has touched those ranging all the way from the lowest to the highest in human privilege.

WHAT'S NEW WITH YOU?

"What's new with you?" asked the postscript my friend found at the bottom of a letter. He picked up his pen and noted, "New is this day; New is my appreciation of II Corinthians 3:15-18; New is my appreciation of you; New are my geranium flowers; New are the lovely may flowers a friend brought me yesterday; with you, I rejoice in the newness of life." The man who wrote with such youthful enthusiasm was an elderly Pastor in a small Seacoast town. His wife was away, working; the Church needed painting; his wallet was slender. But he was full of the sense of the wonder and the newness of life. How come?

The secret lies in II Corinthians 3:15-18, in which St. Paul rejoices that the face of God is no longer veiled from our eyes; that, in Christ, we know what God is like. How great God is—"Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. And because for us there is no veil over the face, we all reflect as in a mirror the splendor of the Lord; thus we are transfigured into His likeness, from splendor to splendor; such is the influence of the Lord who is Spirit." (New English translation).

Today we look ahead toward the year of our Lord 1963. We can look with confidence, despite all the tumult and the brawling across the world. For, with God in our hearts, anything is possible! With God in residence, men may even catch a hint of the mighty Love of God in us.

1963 looks very inviting, when we look toward it expectantly, as wayfarers who will walk with God. Actually He does "make all things new". The birth of a child becomes His delicate handiwork. The death of a loved one draws us closer to His sustaining care. Every budding shrub becomes a burning bush. Every flock of geese, honking their way northward, bugles a new nesting-season. Even people look new, and deeply lovable, seen thru' the eyes of God. Thru' His compassion we see the heroism of every-day people—God's family, with a bit of their Father in each one. With His voice speaking within us, we suddenly realize how patient our children and our friends have been with our blunderings.

Without God, 1963 would look like the most night-marish year since Creation. With God, 1963 can be the most wondrous year since the dawn of time. God never stops working His miracles. He only seeks people through whom to work them. If you are available, no one will need to wish you a Happy New Year. With Him there are no limits to the wonders of 1963!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price: Almost two years ago I underwent surgery for a malignancy. A dear friend submitted my problem to your Prayer Group for God's healing. It was a tremendous experience, and the power of prayer sustained me and gave me healing and health through Christ Jesus.—L. M. C. (Merrick, Long Island)

PRAYER AT EVENTIDE

I bring Thee now, O God, the parcel of a completed day. For I have wrapped it in my thoughts, tied it with my acts, and stored it in the purposes for which I live.

As the evening falls and while I seek Thy face in prayer, grant unto me the joy of good friends, the curative power of new interests, the peace of the quiet heart.

Bestow upon me, Eternal Spirit, light as darkness comes—
Light not of the sun but of the soul, not for the eye but for the mind.
Light by which to judge the errors and the wisdom of the day's work.
Light for the path that the soul must find in the tangled ways of coming days.
And grant Thou again the healing touch of sleep. Amen.

The Prelude: The Old Year Now Hath Passed Away ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Grant unto us, Almighty God, the peace that passeth understanding, that we, amid the storms and troubles of this our life, may rest in Thee, knowing that all things are in Thee, not beneath Thine eye only, but under Thy care, governed by Thy will, guarded by Thy love, so that with a quiet heart we may see the storms of life, the cloud and the thick darkness, ever rejoicing to know that the darkness and the light are both alike to Thee. Guide, guard and govern us even to the end that none of us may fail to lay hold upon the immortal life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Processional Hymn 42 ..... Gloria
Kyrie, Hymnal #708 ..... Willan
The Anthem: I Wonder As I Wander ..... Appalachian Carol
Arr. J. J. Niles & L. H. Horton

I wonder as I wander, out under the sky, how Jesus the Savior did come for to die, for poor on'ry people like you and like I . . . I wonder as I wander, out under the sky. When Mary birthed Jesus, 'twas in a cow's stall, with wise men and farmers and shepherds and all. But high from God's heaven a star's light did fall, and the promise of ages it then did recall. If Jesus had wanted for any wee thing, a star in the sky, or a bird on the wing, or all of God's angels in heav'n for to sing, He surely could have it, 'cause He was the King. I wonder as I wander. . . .

Dear Dr. Price:—I wrote you in September for prayers because I was a victim of nervous exhaustion. I have now resumed work as a public school teacher and wish to express my appreciation for the work you are doing in encouraging people to seek God's will, which is healing, in their lives. Thank you for your work in Christ's name.

HAVE FAITH

In a desert store in Southern California is a letter written on a sheet of wrapping paper. It was found in a baking-powder can wired to the handle of an old pump—the only hope of drinking water on a long and seldom-used trail across the Amargosa Desert.

The letter reads: "This pump is all right as of June, 1932. I put a new sucker washer into it and it ought to last five years. But the washer dries out and the pump has got to be primed. Under the white rock I buried a bottle of water out of the sun, with the cork end up. There's enough water in it to prime the pump, but not if you drink some water first. Pour about one-fourth and let her soak to wet the leather. Then pour in the rest medium fast and pump like hell. You'll git water. The well has never run dry. Have faith. When you git water, fill the bottle and put it back like you found it for the next feller. (Signed) Desert Pete. P.S. Don't go drinkin' up the water first. Prime the pump with it and you'll git all you can hold."

Bruce Larson, telling this story in "Faith at Work", says, "Nowhere have I seen the principles of faith more clearly set forth . . . Desert Pete reminds us that after we trust him and risk our only bottle of water, we have to pump like the very dickens to get more water."

So, if we hope to meet life with courage, we must have faith. This means that, as in the Parable of Desert Pete, we need to trust Someone we have never seen. The thirsty traveler, after reading the letter on the pump had to decide whether this was written by someone he could trust. There was some evidence that you could trust Desert Pete, for he had taken a lot of trouble for the next traveler. So you trusted him, and pumped hard!

In the same way we need to trust God, whom we have not seen. But we know about Jesus, Who came and lived god-on-earth, so that we have some real knowledge of the character of the God Who is like Jesus. We have seen glimpses of this God, and His love, in people who let Him live in them. Yes, we do have some idea what God is!

At first, when you trust this God Who-is-like-Jesus, it seems like a risky business. Little by little, we find that we can depend on Him to keep His promises—we can be very thirsty and discouraged, but we do what He bids, and it works. He refreshes us, body and soul, and we are ready to go on again. Jesus promises, "The water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life."

— BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS —

It is time again for the annual subscriptions to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 735 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of our States, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members, but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It cost, this past year, about $58.50 a week to print and mail this publication. For the year just ended, 1964, our receipts toward the expenses of publishing the weekly Bulletin will come to something like $882.35.

If every family would give $2.00 per year, the cost would be met. Of course a great many on our list cannot afford to give anything, so a generous check or two from those who are financially able to do so, will help cover for those unable to contribute toward this expense. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing, a higher mailing cost, make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

We have on hand recent subscriptions received from the following, and wish to express our thanks: Sara and Amelia Bealmear, Mrs. James Fentress, Mrs. Edith Halligen, Mr. Charles E. Holmes, G. A. McKenna, M. Meek, Mrs. G. B. Street, Peter Wheeler.

The Dean of the Rector's Theological School in Cambridge, Mass. wishes to thank us for the sacrificial gift of one of our members of $70.00 which represents her year's savings of pennies. "You can imagine that we are always particularly thrilled to get this type of sacrificial gift."

Dear Dr. Price:—As soon as your Prayer Group begins to work I can feel a difference in my general well being. A great sense of depression has been helped. There have been fewer bouts of acute infection in my nephritis condition. The doctors are amazed at my improvement.—V. R. (Paris, France)

Raspin Memorial

All of us in St. Stephen's Church owe a great deal to Mr. I. Smith Raspin who was baptised, confirmed and married in St. Stephen's, and finally buried from this, the Church he loved.

We do hope that everyone will have a share in this Memorial gift. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

DARING FAITH

Can you compel anyone to become kind? Can you make your child, or your friend, or a fellow-member of the Church, do a kindness?

St. Paul's letter to his friend Philemon helps to answer this question. St. Paul is writing about a run-away slave, Onesimus, who had been Philemon's slave, had escaped, and found his way to Paul, who was in prison. Apparently he had been with St. Paul for some time, and, as Paul says, "had looked after me here in prison for the Gospel's sake." He had done far more than ministering to Paul's bodily comfort. Onesimus had become a down-to-earth Christian, sharing with Paul the greatest of treasures, eager obedience to the Living Christ. He and Paul had become so close that Paul speaks of him as "my child." Onesimus had become a friend in Christ, a daily joy and strength.

St. Paul did not have to send Onesimus back to Philemon. He could have kept the escaped slave, and never have written to Philemon. He could have said to himself, "Finders, keepers!" He could have reasoned, "Philemon would want me to keep Onesimus, so that he could care for me in prison." But Paul sends him back. Why?

Because a compelled kindness is no kindness at all. St. Paul says, "Although I could rely on my authority in Christ and dare order you to do what I consider right, I'm not doing that. No, I'm appealing to that love of yours. . . . I would do nothing without consulting you first, for if you have a favor to give me, let it be spontaneous and not forced on you. . . ." True kindness, with Jesus' quality of love, wells up freely out of the heart. It rises gladly and eagerly out of one's thankfulness to God. If we are forced to be "kind", then this is a duty, and no kindness at all!

The kindness that St. Paul hopes for, from Philemon, is that he will send back Onesimus to him, to care for him in prison, for St. Paul says, "I should have dearly loved to have kept him with me."

St. Paul was giving Philemon the chance to be kind as Christ is kind, freely and lovingly. He does not command. He exerts no pressure but love: "I am appealing to that love of yours." He appeals to the best in Philemon, and leaves him to say "Yes" or "No". This is daring faith—daring to believe that the friend will respond to love, to God, without pressurizing. This is Christ alive in man, offering Himself and His way to men, to accept or reject.

Not long afterwards, there was a Bishop of Ephesus whose name was—Onesimus. It seems altogether probable that this was the former run-away slave. Christ-like kindness has a way of working wonders!

PRAYER EVANGELISTS

We now have 135 men and women in St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. They are our Prayer Evangelists. They are committed to a Prayer activity which is a disciplined devotional work that goes on 'round the clock—24 hours of continuous prayers daily for persons in need of God's healing; body, mind and soul. Each person is thus lifted up in prayer 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. Chronic cases are renewed for longer periods.

During the year 1964 twenty-one thousand, seven hundred and ninety-three persons requested our prayers; people from all over the world. We are grateful to these Intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Why do we pray for others if God is no "respecter of persons", and His Good Will toward all men is impartial? Because the degree to which His power enters a given life varies with the disposition of the person for it. Prayer is a principal means of opening one's self to the power and love of God that is already there—in the depths of reality. He is always ready to guide, to bless, to make whole, to enrich, to comfort and to heal; such barriers as there are to His coming in us are not in Him, but in each of us. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I shall come in. . . ."

In Intercession we help to release His power and grace into the lives of others. We do not beg and beseech God to help and heal these needy persons, but pray that their capacity will be increased to receive God's healing, wisdom and guidance.

Mr. Hugo H. Hanson, a valued member of our Vestry, was honored at his retirement from the Hamilton Paper Company by his associates on December 30th. Mr. Hanson has 37 years of service, first as General Manager, then as President, and finally as Board Chairman. He formerly served as President of the Writing Paper Manufacturers Association, and director of the First National Bank of Conshohocken.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I requested prayers last July for a blood clot obstructing the vision of my right eye. The day after your prayers started my eye was so miraculously better that I read newspaper print easily for the first time. Also, for the first time, my vision was no longer distorted. Since that time it has continued to improve, to the extent that today there is little appreciable difference in my eyes. Besides this miraculous gift and benefit, whose greatness is beyond my power to express, there have been other benefits. The evidence of God's Love and the thought of your dedicated Prayer Workers has somehow eased the tensions and hostilities in my mind and I have developed a whole new outlook on life.—Mrs. Margaret Walker—(Sebring, Ohio)

GOD KEEPS HIS PROMISES

God keeps His promises! The Bible keeps reminding us of this. ". . . When the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy borders, as He promised thee." (Deuteronomy) "And the Lord gave Solomon wisdom, as He promised him." (I Kings). ". . . What He had promised, He was able also to perform." (Romans).

This is what so many of us have discovered. He promised that love pushes all fear out of one's heart. We trusted Him and His way of loving-kindness, and our fears shriveled up! He promised that, if we live today faithfully, tomorrow would be another day, and take care of itself—and this worked too. He promised joy and power and peace of heart to all those committed to Him—and that came true! God keeps His promises, faithfully.

Robert Frost in his poem "Stopping By The Woods On A Snowy Evening" writes:

"The woods are lovely, dark and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles I go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep."

I, too, have promises to keep.
Can I be depended on also,
To keep my promises?

Yes, If I am careful to promise only those deeds which I intend to carry out, and am able to. Promises must be sincere, and within my power to keep. Even so, can another person depend on my promises, really?

Yes, if God is dwelling in my heart, Guiding me to make the right promises. Actually, God needs each of us, so that He can make His promises through us.

A young man stands with his bride before the Altar on his wedding day. If he sincerely trusts God, then it is God who gives to the bride the assurance of love. It is God, in the young man's heart, who makes the promise. When the day comes that the bride is very difficult, the young man finds that he can simply let God have right-of-way over his ruffled feelings. He can let God keep His promise, in him, through him.

We are human, and weak. God made us that way, so that we should choose to accept Him as Master, and be His servants, carrying out His will. We can walk confidently through each day, sure of His power to use us for His purposes.

Then, God keeps His promises—through us!

The Prelude: Prelude and Fugue in G Minor .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION: O Thou loving and tender Father in heaven, we confess before Thee, in deep sorrow, how hard and unsympathizing are our hearts; how often we have sinned against our neighbors by want of compassion and tenderness; how often we have felt no true pity for their trials and sorrows, and have neglected to comfort, help, and visit them. O Father, forgive this heavy sin and make us more truly Christ-like in our compassion. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Last month I wrote to you asking that you continue prayers for my daughter, Cassandra, for another month. A recent physical examination showed no signs of the kidney disease for which prayers were asked. I wish to express my sincere thanks to you and the members of the Prayer Fellowship.

LOVE IS THE ANSWER

What do you do with a "Problem-boy"?

There was such a boy, Paul, in an excellent Kindergarten in New York City. He would tip over another boy's cup of milk, or say something very hateful. He was always causing turmoil and tears. The teachers finally told the principal that they just could not have him in their classes. So she took him in hers. She couldn't do anything with him. He disrupted everything. She decided to see his parents—perhaps to ask them to withdraw him from the Kindergarten.

At this moment the able young principal met a friend of the Rector at a religious conference. She told him about the problem-boy. The friend suggested that they be quiet for a while, to see if God had anything to say to her. After the quiet she reported, "God seemed to say, 'you do not love this boy enough.'" Suddenly she saw that this small boy was threatening her reputation as a successful teacher. It was her pride that was upset. Where there is pride, there is very little love.

The friend suggested that they be quiet again. "Did God have anything for you this time?" "Yes," she replied with a wry smile, "and I wish He hadn't. He seemed to be saying that I must see the parents and tell them, 'I'm very sorry. I have failed you and your boy. I haven't loved him enough.'" She saw the parents and made her apology. To her surprise, the mother burst into tears and exclaimed, "We have failed him, too. We, his parents, haven't loved him enough." So a penitent teacher and two penitent parents agreed that they would simply love this boy—treat him with warm encouragement and understanding. Not say anything different to him—but plain love him. This was on a Saturday.

On Monday, the young principal had a real surprise. From the opening until the end of the school, Paul gave no trouble, taking his part with the others. He was a different boy. At the end of the day, the principal telephoned the parents—"What did you say or do to Paul, to make him so different?" "We did not say or do anything—we just loved him." That was back in February. In early April the principal reported that Paul had gone on being a different boy. No problem at all! She decided that she had been the problem—she and the parents, who had not loved Paul enough.

It is so easy to sigh and say, "So-and-so is such a problem!" But God may be trying to tell you that you have pinned a problem-label on the wrong person. Dare to ask Him for the capacity to love that person into newness of life.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: O God, Thou Faithful God .....Karg-Elert
THE SILENT MEDITATION: O Lord, whose mercy is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Thee; we confess with shame our broken pledges. We are troubled by the memory and burden of our offenses. We have done the things we ought not to have done and have left undone the things we ought to have done. We have been silent when we should have spoken, inactive when we should have served, and we have foolishly blundered in speech and act. Stretch out Thy hand of mercy. Speak the word of pardon. Forgive us the broken vow, the unkept promise, the unfulfilled purpose. And strengthen Thou our good resolves, that we may be worthy of our heritage as Thy sons and daughters. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.
Processional Hymn 289 .....St. Anne

Psalm 148, Page 524

The Second Lesson: St. Mark 1: V. 35
Jubilate Deo, Page 15; Chant #646, Hymnal
The Anthem: Ye Holy Angels Bright .....Thiman
Ye holy angels bright, who wait at God's right hand, or through the realms of light stream at your Lord's command, assist our song, for else the theme too high doth seem for mortal tongue. Ye blessed souls at rest, who ran this earthly race, and now from care released, behold the Saviour's face, God's praises sound, as in His sight, with sweet delight ye do abound. Ye saints who toil below, adore your Heavenly King, and onward as ye go some joyful anthem sing. Take what He gives, and praise Him still thru' good or ill who ever lives. My soul bear thou thy part, Triumph in God above. And with a well tuned heart sing thou the songs of love: let all thy days till life shall end, Whate'er He send, be filled with praise. Amen.
The Sermon: REDEMPTIVE POWER FOR MAN'S BITTEREST PAIN—

5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Some time ago I wrote for prayers to save me from blindness. My vision had been rapidly deteriorating. It has now become better and I am able to continue my teaching, and I know that without your intercession, I would now very likely be sitting in darkness. Truly God does work miracles through you and your Prayer Fellowship. I am so humbly grateful.—H. W. B. (Riverton, N.J.)

WAR IN HEAVEN

What is heaven like? If you know, please tell me. I do not know, for I have never been there.

As Christians we turn to the Bible for knowledge of heaven. We do not find any blue-print, any exact map of heaven, telling us exactly the nature of this world beyond. We do find scores of glimpses into that world beyond the horizon. We find Jesus teaching us to pray. "Our Father which art in heaven." Heaven is where God is. Suddenly we realize that, wherever God is alive in a person, or this earth, there is a bit of heaven. Then there is something of heaven in your heart when you welcome God to live there.

Is heaven a beautiful place? Is it like an old-fashioned Sunday—best clothes, clean hands, no hurry and bustle, no toil and struggle? Are the souls of the righteous calm and serene, dwelling like firmly-rooted cabbages in that heavenly land? Or is heaven an advanced school, after we have graduated from this world—where we are still learning, still struggling and working at our lessons?

John, writing on the Island of Patmos, gives us the clue, as he says, "And there was war in heaven" (or, "Then war broke out in heaven"—New English Translation). This sounds more interesting than living a cabbage-like life. Warfare against the powers of evil sounds like something to look forward to; in fact, it sounds strangely like this exciting life on earth. So we read on: "Michael and his angels waged war upon the dragon. The dragon and his angels fought, but they had not the strength to win, and no foothold was left them in heaven. So the great dragon was thrown down, that serpent of old that led the whole world astray, whose name is Satan, or the devil—thrown down to earth, and his angels with him."

Heaven, therefore, becomes the place where there is conflict, and God prevails. Not a lazy June day in the sail boat, moved along by gentle breezes; but a strenuous Autumn day of gale and storm, where a close-reefed ship drives through the storm and brings its cargo to port.

Your heart can be heaven, friend. Your friends, even, will come to know that there is war in your heart, but that God's will prevails!

A MONDAY MORNING PRAYER

O God, I don't much want to go back to work today. All the same, whether I like it or not, I've got to go. Help me to take something of Sunday with me. Teach me that I can go to my work to worship You, even as I go to Church to worship You. Help me to do what I have got to do so well that I can take it and show it to You, and say: "This is my best." Help me to remember that Jesus was often so busy that He had no time to rest or even to eat, that people often broke in on Him when He wanted a quiet time, and that He never once complained. Help me to remember that He spent the first thirty years of His life in Nazareth working in the carpenter's shop, and help me to do as good a day's work as He did. This I ask for Your Love's sake, Amen.

WHY WE NEED EACH OTHER — The differences between people are real . . . Differences of disposition and training and association and experience seal the mind against some discoveries, and fit for others, even on the human and natural plane.

The same law of discovery operates in our relationship with God. Because of what you are, you will be sensitive to, and aware of, some aspects of the divine nature and some privileges of divine grace of which I am not aware. Because I am what I am, in my quest after God there will come to me naturally and inevitably some experiences which others are likely to learn only as I venture to disclose them. . . .

In a word, the limitations of our universal fitness, the deficiencies and endowments which characterize all of us as individuals, make us all dependent upon the discoveries of others and responsible to others for the communication of the insights and values which have come to us in our own pilgrimage.—Albert E. Day (An Autobiography of Prayer).

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Lord, Jesus Christ, Be Present Now" ..... J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION: Almighty and most holy God, we confess to Thee with humble and contrite hearts, that we have often forgotten Thee and Thy purpose for us. While professing to be Christians, we have neither wholly believed nor followed Christ. Increase our penitence, we pray Thee, and turn our wandering footsteps back into the path whereunto we are called, by the same, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
Processional Hymn 282 ..... Lauda Anima
Response to Decalog #708 ..... Willan
The Anthem: Judge Me, O God ..... Mendelssohn

Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation; O deliver me from deceitful and unjust men. For Thou art the God of my strength; O why dost Thou cast me from Thee? Wherefore mourn I because the enemy sorely oppresseth me? Send out Thy light and Thy truth, O Lord; O let them lead me, and bring me unto Thy holy hill, and to Thy dwelling place. And then will I go to the Altar of God, the God of my joy, I will praise Thee upon the harp, O my God. O my soul, why art thou cast downward, and why art thou disquieted within me? Hope in the Lord, O my soul, for I will praise Him who is the health of my countenance, and my gracious Lord and God.

The Sermon: THE SECRET OF A QUIET MIND ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 458 ..... St. Margaret
Sanctus, Hymnal #711 ..... Willan
Kneeling Hymn 436, Verses 1, 2, 3 ..... Pax Tecum
Gloria in Excelsis 739 ..... Old Scotish Chant
Recessional Hymn 493 (tune to 486) ..... Welwyn

Our Chief Usher this morning is Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr.

4:00 P.M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P.M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P.M.—Social Hour in the Parish House.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—This is a personal note long overdue to thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for your care and prayers for my cousin, Emily Platt Yaple. I can tell you that from the day I received your response to my call she was in a very different frame of mind, and did not require the eye operation she so much dreaded. She has traveled to friends and is now in California where she has gone for her retirement. Thank God.
—Virginia J. Barroll (Plymouth, Mass.)

St. Stephen's has sustained a great loss in the passing of William D. Smith. Mr. Smith was born in Wales about 59 years ago. 18 years ago he was appointed Verger to succeed James Carrigan. So we are glad to report, in deep appreciation, that he served this Church faithfully and well for those 18 years, in his capacity of Sexton, to use the present-day term. We wish here to express our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Smith in her loss.

THE RIGHT QUESTIONS

Why? Why is this man blind, asked the disciples. Was he being punished for his own sin or that of his parents? Jesus did not answer their question. He said that this man's blindness was an opportunity for showing the glory of God; and He healed the man's eyes.

The disciples asked the wrong question. Therefore, Jesus did not answer it. In such matters, "Why" is always the wrong question, like "Why did it storm on the day of the Church Fair?" God is the only mind big enough to answer such questions—it is useless for human beings to do so, for our thoughts are not wide enough to take in all the facts.

It is also the wrong question to ask, "Why did this happen to me?" When a great sorrow or catastrophe comes to any one of us, we do ask this question, at first, just because we are human. Then, if we are thoughtful and prayerful, we stop asking it. We discover that, as soon as I start complaining to God about my own misfortune, I lose touch with Him. Selfish praying is not answered because we can only talk effectively to the God of Love in His language, which He expects us to learn.

Helmut Thielicke tells us how to escape from this self-centered, fruitless "Why?" (He speaks out of the experience of the terrible suffering World War II).

1. Turn towards God, and ask Him, "What is Your purpose for me, in this suffering?"
2. Look beyond this dark moment of pain, into the days ahead; and remember that God always has the last word. If we find and do His will for us, we shall go forward into a victory, the victory of His purpose for us.
3. He puts us to work. Once we want to know His purpose for us, He shows us what to do about it. We stop working ourselves into a tizzy of self-pity, and lose ourselves in serving some urgent human need.

We must learn to ask the right questions. The wrong, self-centered questions lead to death—of hope and courage and faith. The right questions lead us into light. Jesus was always practical. After all, He was the Son of the Creator of the universe. He should know the right questions, if anyone does!

If you are bogged down in discouragement, start asking new questions, the ones that lead to life!

THE OLD TESTAMENT SERIES OF FILM STRIPS will continue on Sunday, Feb. 14th with the story of the Exilic Daniel, Man of Courage. Coffee and donuts will be served at 12:30 in the Community House, preceding the showing of the film. ALL ARE WELCOME.

ST. STEPHEN

In response to the many requests the Rector is giving herewith the information regarding the Reredos medallions depicting the account of St. Stephen in the Acts of the Apostles, either his words or his deeds.

Beginning with the top of the medallions in the Northernmost window, the subjects are: The Ordination of Stephen as a Deacon; 2nd, Stephen building up Christianity by his preaching. Then, by way of contrast, Solomon building the Temple made with hands. The lowest medallion represents Moses with The Law, whose customs Stephen was accused of overthrowing.

The Southernmost medallion represents the destruction of the temple which Stephen's teaching that GOD dwelleth not in temples made with hands was felt to predict. The 2nd represents the brotherly love of the early Church; the 3rd some priests, in commemoration of "The great company of the Priests" who were obedient to the faith. The 4th depicts Stephen making his defence before the Sanhedrin. The subject of the central window is the martyrdom of Stephen. The medallion above is "the heavens opened". Below is St. Paul, with his emblematic sword. In the center is the cruel stoning of the prostrate martyr. In the half circles on each side some of the mob are seen.

The final words of Stephen reflect almost literally the words of our Lord on the Cross. "Lord Jesus," he cried, "receive my spirit." And again, a few moments later, he cried, "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge". The blood of the martyrs became the seed of the Church.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 135 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The name will be kept on the Prayer List for one month unless re-submitted to us. Please report progress and whether you wish the name kept on the List after four weeks. IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Prelude on St. Columba" ..... Healey Willan

THE SILENT MEDITATION: O Lord our God, prepare us to worship Thee aright. Touch our lips with joyous gratitude, that the words of our prayer and praise may be acceptable unto Thee. Invade our hearts with new reverence and responsiveness, that even the silence may be filled with messages from Thee. Give us renewed confidence in Thy fatherly goodness, that we may remember that we are Thy sons and daughters; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Fairest Lord Jesus, Ruler of all nature, O Thou of God and man the Son; Thee will I cherish, Thee will I honor, Thou, my soul's glory, joy and crown. Fair are the meadows, fairer still the woodlands, robed in the beauteous garb of Spring: Jesus is fairer, Jesus is purer, who makes the woeful heart to sing. Fair is the sunshine, fairer still the moonlight, and all the twinkling starry host: Jesus shines brighter, Jesus shines purer, than all the angels heav'n can boast. Thee will I cherish, Thee will I honor, Thou, my soul's glory, joy and crown. Amen.

THANK GOD FOR YOURSELF

Do you ever stop, and give thanks to God for yourself?

There is a story of "The Little Hunchback" told by a missionary in a far country. The little man lived about seventeen hundred years ago, in a small village on the bank of the River Nile—with his body so twisted, and his face so ugly, that the children teased him and dogs barked at him. So he left his village and went out into the desert to live as a hermit. There were many hermits living in the desert in those days. Some of them had gathered in Monasteries. But the little hunchback wanted only to live by himself, away from people, and forget how he looked. Each day he watched the glories of sunrise and sunset, the beauty of the desert flowers, and praised God for it all, until his bitter heart began to soften.

Among all the holy men in the desert, the outstanding one was the great and wise Anthony. It was his habit to travel around, visiting the lonely hermits, giving them encouragement. One day he visited the Little Hunchback, and soon they sat down to supper together. The Hunchback asked Anthony to offer thanks before they ate, but Anthony replied, "No, my brother, for you are the master of this place, and it is you who must ask the blessing." Frightened at the thought of praying before this great man, the Hunchback obeyed, and thanked God for all the beauties of the desert, for the peace he had found, and for many, many blessings. After a pause, Anthony said, "You have forgotten one thing." "What is that, my master?" asked the Hunchback, surprised. "You have forgotten to thank God for yourself."

Then Anthony explained to the twisted Little Man that, even though he had been ashamed of his ugly body and face, he was as beautiful, in God's eyes, as the flowers of the desert; that he was God's beloved child, one of those for whom Christ died. He must begin to look at himself as God did. The Little Hunchback was amazed, but he began to pray as he had been instructed, and humbly thanked God for himself, and for God's great love for him. After a while God bade him return to his little village. He was surprised to find that the children no longer made fun of him. In fact, he became their friend, and made up wonderful games to play with them. So he lived with a glad heart in the little village where he had once been so unhappy. It was the same village. But he was a different man. He had learned to "Thank God for himself."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Louisa, our little 8 year old girl who had the inoperable brain tumor, has been healed! I just feel like standing on our roof-top and shouting to all what Christ has done. Dr. Braum has checked Louisa and could find absolutely no abnormality at all in any of her reflexes, no pressure in her eyes, and says we have a perfectly healthy daughter! When we returned from your healing service in Philadelphia, our Rector was so elated that he is starting a healing service here.

—Caroline Dargan (Myrtle Beach, South Carolina)

The Rector and Mrs. Price have returned from their mid-Winter vacation in Florida greatly benefitted in health and vitality. We were guests for three weeks at the Fairview Nursing Home in St. Petersburg, the most outstanding retirement and Nursing Care Center in the country. We had a week in Miami and a week in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The Rector is very grateful to the Rev. Andrew W. Mayer and the Rev. Eugene Lefebvre for their effective work in St. Stephen's during his absence.
